

upon Her Majesty with the following Address, which was read by the Right Honourable J. A. Stuart Wortley, M.P., the Recorder, and which Her Majesty was graciously pleased to receive upon the Throne :

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's faithful subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the city of London, in Common Council assembled, humbly approach your Royal Person to offer to your Majesty our most sincere congratulations on the recent birth of a Prince.

We desire again to express to your Majesty our feelings of loyal duty and affection, and the deep interest we take in all that concerns the domestic happiness of your Majesty, and of your Royal Consort.

As representatives of the citizens of this ancient city in the municipal councils of the corporation, we declare to your Majesty the unshaken loyalty of our fellow citizens, their firm reliance on the free institutions of the country and the just authority of the Crown.

We fervently pray that your Majesty may be long preserved to reign over a free, happy, and contented people, and that the Throne may be secured to your Majesty's descendants to the latest posterity.

Signed, by order of Court,

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer :

"I have received your dutiful and affectionate Address with feelings of the greatest satisfaction.

"I fully appreciate the loyalty of the citizens of London, and their warm attachment to the free institutions of this country.

"The welfare of my people engages my constant attention, and I derive my greatest gratification from the assurance that they are happy and contented."

They were all very graciously received, and had the honour of kissing Her Majesty's hand.

Buckingham-Palace, June 4, 1853.
