It has been a source of proud gratification to the authorities of the town and all the inhabitants to find that the enthusiastic reception of your Majesty on your former visit to Preston, has induced your Majesty to honour our ancient borough by a second temporary stay.

We beg to assure your Majesty that we and the rest of the inhabitants of Preston at all times feel a lively interest in your Majesty's welfare, and that of your Royal Consort and Family, and pray the Almighty that your Majesty may long be spared to reign over a loyal and devoted people.

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of the Privy Council for Trade and Plantations have received, through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Consul-General, at Hamburg, inclosing a Notification issued by the Oldenburg Government, a translation of which is subjoined, relative to two New Beacons which have been erected on the Island of Wangeröoge, with the view of facilitating the navigation of vessels entering the River Weser.

By order,
James Booth.

(Translation.)

NOTIFICATION.

It is hereby made known for the information of the seafaring people, that for the more easily making the Weser Schlüssel buoy, marking the entrance to the Weser, two beacons have been erected on the north-west side of the island of Wangeröoge.

These beacons stand on two of the highest downs of the island, at a distance from each other of 750 feet in the direction N.E. $\frac{1}{4}$ E. and S.W. $\frac{1}{4}$ W., and both are in a straight direct line with the Weser Schlüssel buoy.

The south-western beacon, crowned with a 14 feet square \square head, stands 54 feet high, the north-eastern beacon stands 50 feet high, and has a round head of 14 feet in diameter.

Vessels coming from the westward and intending to make the first Weser Schlüssel buoy, upon having properly neared the island of Wangeröoge, must continue their easterly course until both beacons appear in a direct line, in S.W. $\frac{1}{4}$ W., as per compass, and so that the south-western is covered by the north-eastern beacon, and in 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms of low water they will see the first Weser Schlüssel buoy; or, if it should be drifted away, they will be, according to the above directions, close upon the position of the said buoy.

NOTIFICATION.

Of I. R. Central Maritime Government, which extends to Foreign Vessels, also the obligation to keep a lantern lighted at the foremast, whenever they are in Austrian maritime ports, roads, and anchorages, during the night.

By virtue of the s. 21 of the Regulation of the 25th January last, No. 8025, relative to signals in Austrian vessels by night, or in case of fog, all Austrian sailing vessels or steamers, whether of war or for trade, which may be at anchor in Austrian ports, unless they are close to a mole, or anchored in a line (in andana), are bound to keep lighted, from the moment of sunset to that of sunrise, a lantern with plain light (luce naturale) at the foremast, so as to be easily seen from all points of the horizon.

The above obligation, imposed with the view of preventing as far as possible the danger of running down, is now by this present notification with the said view, and in the way above mentioned, extended also to all foreign ships which shall be at night in the ports, roads, and other anchorages of the Austrian coast, in the same manner as is regulated for national vessels, under the penalty of a fine of five florins, convention money, to be recovered from the respective captain or master, for every violation of the above order, which shall for them be in force on the 1st day of July next.

The I. R. port and health officers are directed to provide, as well directly as by the functionaries subordinate to them, for the exact observance and fulfilment of the present regulation.

The light will be shown all around, and in clear weather will be visible seaward at the distance of 18 miles.

The Tower is circular, 92 feet in height from its base to top of the ball over dome, and will at mid-height be marked by one broad horizontal belt, coloured red.
