FRIDAY, JUNE 30, 1854.

Admiralty, June 29, 1854.

DESPATCHES, of which the following are copies or extracts, have been received from Vice-Admiral Sir Charles Napier, K.C.B., Commander-in-Chief of Her Majesty's Ships and Vessels in the Baltic:—

ENCLOSING Admiral Plumridge's Report of his proceedings in the Gulf of Bothnia.

No. 151. Duke of Wellington, Baro Sound, June 18, 1854.

SIR,
I BEG leave to enclose Admiral Plumridge's Report of his proceedings in the Gulf of Bothnia, from the 5th May to the 10th June, by which their Lordships will observe that he has destroyed forty-six vessels, afloat and on the stocks, amounting to 11,000 tons; from 40,000 to 50,000 barrels of pitch and tar; 60,000 square yards of rough pitch; a great number of stacks of timber, spars, plank, and deals, sails, rope, and various kinds of naval stores, to the amount of from 3 to £400,000, without the loss of a man. Admiral Plumridge has had to contend with innumerable rocks and shoals, incorrectly laid down in the charts, and met the ice up to the 30th May; nevertheless, though several of his squadron have touched the ground, I am happy to say they have received no damage that he is not able to repair with his own means.

2. The Rear-Admiral, their Lordships will observe, speaks in the highest terms of the captains, officers, seamen, and marines, and particularly of Lieutenant B. P. Priest, the first lieutenant of the Leopard, an old and deserving officer, and of Lieutenant Hammet, his flag lieutenant.

I have, &c.

CHAS. NAPIER, Vice-Admiral and Commander-in-Chief.

The Secretary of the Admiralty.

Her Majesty's ship Leopard, at Sea, 10th June, 1854—lat. 64° 1' N; long. 22° 41' E. At noon.

SIR,

IN obedience to your orders of 5th May, 1854, I proceeded with the squadron under my command to examine, as far as practicable, the Island of Aland, but not being able to procure a pilot, I found the hazard too great to proceed further in the execution of that duty; the reports of Captains Buckle and Giffard, numbered 1 and 2, will more fully inform you of the result and termination, for the present, of that service.

From thence I proceeded up the Gulf of Bothnia, and I have now the honour herewith to transmit letters and papers, numbered from 3 to 6, giving a detailed account of the squadron's proceedings up to the date hereof.

From the hindrances the squadron have encountered in this service, it has spread over a greater space of time than I at first contemplated; the intricacies of the ice, navigation, innumerable rocks, shoals, and the imperfect state of the charts as to soundings on the Russian side of the Gulf, together with the difficulties we experienced in disentangling the squadron, up to the 30th May, from the floes and fields of ice (of which we saw the last this morning), could not be surmounted in less time, or with less vigilance, by the officers in command, and that of the captain of my flag-ship, together with the constant perseverance and zeal evinced by Mr. George B. F. Swain, the master of the Leopard; which ship I may here observe, to the credit of these two officers, has led the squadron from leaving the Aland Islands.

I feel it incumbent on me to notice how sensibly I feel the zealous co-operation of Captains Buckle, Giffard, Glasse, and Scott, as well as the good arrangements of their ships' boats for service.

The letters from No. 3 to 6, show the names of the several lieutenants and boats commanded by Lieutenant B. P. Priest, of this ship, and seconded by my flag-lieutenant, L. U. Hammet. To them and the other officers, those subordinate, the seamen, marines, and their lieutenants (Davis, Lewis, and Thelwall), my thanks are fully due.

Any credit that may arise from such extensive damage having been executed, will, I trust, pardon me for thus bringing to your special notice the name of that steady, old, and deserving officer, Lieutenant B. Priest, who held the boat command from Brahestad to Uleaborg and Tornea.

I cannot refrain from again reverting to the ability and exertions of Captain George Giffard, feeling as I do that it is my duty to take this opportunity of bringing some of his merits before you.

I have, &c.

Rear-Admiral.

Her Majesty's ship Valorous at sea,
May 15, 1854.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report to you that in consequence of thick foggy weather, I did not reach Grisselhamn until noon of the 6th instant.

On landing to communicate, I found that the commandant was absent at Stockholm, but the officer in command, Captain Billbery, very obligingly afforded me all the information in his power, through the interpretation of Captain Fahnelyelm, the Director of the Electric Telegraph, which was to be in operation in about a week. No pilots for the Aland Islands could be obtained, and I believe they are not permitted to serve in our ships of war. The commandant observed that he believed there were not more than 1000 troops at Bomarsund, and that 300 of them had lately been relieved by 500 from Russia; he did not appear to know anything about the gun-boats. The only information I could obtain relative to the Aland Islands was, that the inhabitants appeared to be well disposed towards the English, and that they had declined taking up arms to oppose us. He was anxious to know whether their Post-boat, Eckero, would be intercepted by us. I replied it would not, unless it contained military despatches to or from the Russian Government, but that I considered it advisable that a passport should be obtained from the Commander-in-Chief, to be produced when boarded by our cruisers.

2. I proceeded next morning in the direction of Wardo Island and Bomarsund, but in the afternoon found myself near some shoals, with ice on some of the patches; I therefore anchored to sound, and a fog soon came on which prevented my moving until noon on the following day. On standing to the southward, on the 8th instant, towards Wardo Island, I observed a barque running to the southward among the islands, and on my steering to cut her off, she bore up. I therefore stood in cautiously, and finding a good channel close to some rocks and small islands, I proceeded in, anchoring in 15 fathoms, with Vulture in company, within a mile of the barque, in a good harbour formed by the Island of Saggo and numerous others. On sending the boats, the barque was found to be aground and deserted, in a small cove. Russian colours and a paper found on board proved her to be the Princess of Uleaborg, of 346 tons, with a cargo of salt (part having been landed), from St. Ubes, bound to Abo. Observing a boat pulling away from her, I sent a gig which brought her back, with the master, mate, and three men, the ship's papers and their private effects. I have sent her to Faro, with a prize crew of eleven men from the Valorous and Vulture, in charge of the second master of this ship. The village, consisting of half a dozen cottages, was deserted, with the exception of an old woman. I left a paper in the largest house, on which I caused the master of the captured vessel to state that the English would not molest them, or touch their property, but would pay for anything they had to dispose of, and this was likewise explained to the woman. We also found a cutter, of about 35 tons, deserted and empty, called the Alfred, which the master of the Princess said was a revenue vessel. The barque having been got afloat and brought out during the night, I started the following afternoon with the Vulture, towing the barque, and the cutter not being worth removing I directed her to be burnt.

3. While catting the anchor, three or four cables' length from where we had been lying, the ship touched on a sunken rock.

4. The prize parted company in the evening, and I proceeded with the Vulture in the direction of Bomarsund. The master of the Princess stated that he had been three weeks at Marsund, and that the Russians had 500 troops there and 1500 at different parts among the islands, but principally at Bomarsund. Some, he said, were in the vicinity of the spot at which we had captured his vessel, and several watch-fires which were kept up during the night on the adjoining hills, which are rocky and covered with pine-trees, supported the assertion, though we saw none.

Next morning, the Vulture in company, I proceeded in the direction of Bomarsund, but found the channels very intricate between the innumerable small islands and rocks, which did not correspond with any of the charts, and which appear to be far from correct. Having no pilot, I proceeded cautiously by the eye and lead, the water being perfectly smooth. About two P.M. I observed a part of the works of Bomarsund, which proved to be two casemated batteries, one of which appeared to have double loop holes below, and both with embrasures on the summit, with chimneys appearing between them, a sketch of which, as I observed it to be from our mastheads, was taken by Mr. Broadrick, mate, is inclosed herewith, the distance was about five miles from Bomarsund. I was led there by observing the mastheads of several vessels over the land. In standing cautiously towards them the ship touched the ground once, but I succeeded in anchoring, in company with the Vulture, about a mile from the vessels. We made out six or seven, and I sent in seven boats from the two ships; they found them deserted, six being small schooners, and the other was a brigantine,—all empty and scarcely of any value. The boats brought out the brigantine and two schooners, the latter had the appearance of being fitted for gun-boats; I therefore burnt them. The others were apparently unseaworthy, except the brigantine; but as she was very badly found, and not fit for a voyage to England, and belonging apparently to the poorer people of the place, whose good-will I consider it advisable to gain, I left her untouched. The lights of Bomarsund were visible above the trees of the adjoining island from the masthead, and with the assistance of a glass the sketch was accurately made.

We started next morning without meeting with any opposition, only a few of the people of the village being seen at a distance. The channels between the innumerable rocks and islands are so intricate, and so different from the positions on the charts, that I considered it unsafe to proceed further south than Wardo without a pilot, nor could I find the channel track by which I entered; fortunately, the water was very smooth and clear, and the rocks bold, so that I could steer through them by the eye and lead, which generally indicated the approach to shoal water.

5. On the 12th instant I met the Odin, and received the rendezvous from her, since which I have been drawn away to the N.W. by chasing several vessels which proved to be Swedes and Norwegians.

I have, &c.

Her Majesty's ship Leopard, off Uleaborg, June 1, 1854.

SIR, I HAVE the honour to forward the enclosed report, from Lieutenant Benjamin P. Priest (senior lieutenant of this ship), of the operations of the boats of the squadron under his command, sent into Brahestad harbour on the 30th ultimo; and have great pleasure in reporting the very good conduct of every officer and man employed; the boats having been away upwards of seven hours, immediately after clearing the ice in which the squadron had been blocked up for the previous twenty-four hours.

Lieutenant Priest deserves credit for the able manner he conducted the operations, and I beg leave to bring his services under your notice.

*Her Majesty's ship Leopard, off Brahestad,
May 30, 1854.*

SIR, IN obedience to your orders, I this afternoon proceeded with detachments of boats from Her Majesty's steam frigates Leopard, Vulture, and Odin, into the harbour of Brahestad, where I damaged enemy's property as follows:

Burnt on shore and totally destroyed, viz:

Four large vessels, building and nearly complete on the stocks, the largest being about 500 tons burden, and pierced for six guns.

Three detached stores of timber, fit for building ships of large scantling.

Two detached storehouses, containing some thousand barrels of pitch, tar, and oil, a large number of them marked with the imperial crown.

Burnt afloat and totally destroyed:

1 barque just launched, not masted, about 450 tons burden.

1 brig under repair.

1 topsail schooner.

2 fore and aft schooners.

5 sloops.

All in ballast.

As the inhabitants yielded immediately to our force, I was very careful not to damage the private houses; at the same time I satisfied myself by personal inspection, that there was no contraband of war within those storehouses, which were situated in the immediate vicinity of and inside the town, which I did not destroy.

Two large stores, on the outskirts of the town, were found to contain flour; these were not destroyed, as I had reason for supposing it to be private property.

All the officers placed under my orders, vied with me in preventing unnecessary alarm to the inhabitants; and I feel it to be my duty to report the alacrity, great steadiness, and good conduct shown by all the officers and seamen employed on this service.

It is almost superfluous to add that the royal marines under Lieutenants Thelwall, R.M.A., showed their admirable discipline.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to enclose the reports of the officers commanding the several detachments of boats of the squadron sent from this ship on the 1st and 2nd instant, after the ships had anchored within range of the town of Uleaborg; and I have much pleasure in again bringing the zeal and ability of Lieutenant Benjamin P. Priest, who commanded the principal force, to your notice.

All the officers and men engaged in this trying duty for nearly 12 hours (and during a snow storm of six hours' duration) conducted themselves entirely to my satisfaction, and the destruction of enemy's shipping and property has been very great.

From the enemy having sunk all their shipping, it was found that no vessels could be rendered serviceable to embark any of the valuable property without great loss of time, and it was burnt without a murmur or thought of prize money.

I take this opportunity to report to you the unwearied zeal and ability of Mr. George B. Swain, master of this ship, assisted by Mr. D. M. Jago, the master of Her Majesty's ship Odin, and their assistants, in sounding and buoying the intricate and shallow channels for upwards of 30 miles leading to this port, they being employed day and night for 48 hours, and having no plan of the place.

Her Majesty's ship Leopard, off Uleaborg,
June 2, 1854.

IN compliance with your orders, I yesterday evening took under my command, the boats of Rear-

Admiral Plumridge's squadron, as per margin,* and proceeded up the river to Uleaborg.

Taking possession of the town of Uleaborg, I spent two hours in examining the buildings, of which none appeared to belong to the Russian Government, except the Cossacks' Barracks, situated in the very heart of the town; and as its destruction by fire would have involved the burning of a large number of private houses, if not of the whole town (containing several thousand inhabitants), I judged it better to spare it.

In thus acting I had the less reason to expect your disapprobation, as it was little better than a collection of hovels.

The storehouses within the town were for the most part cleared out; no naval stores were found in any of them, and as their burning would also have endangered the town, they were spared.

I next detached Lieutenant L. U. Hammet, (flag lieutenant) in command of a division to examine both the sides of a river, below the narrows, to recover any of the sunken vessels, if practicable in a short time; otherwise to destroy all the enemy's shipping and naval stores; impressing upon him your orders to be careful not to damage any private dwelling, a service which he performed with discretion and ability.

Proceeding myself with the other division to the island opposite to the town, I fired and destroyed all the ships building, together with the storehouses containing ship-building materials, and workshops, and continuing destroying as I passed down on both sides of the river, I rejoined Lieutenant Hammet and returned on board.

During the performance of this service, the men were exposed to great trials and temptations, both from the almost uninterrupted sleet, with very cold weather, and the large number of spirit stores open; yet, notwithstanding this their general behaviour gave me the greatest confidence in their devotion and daring, had the enemy shown opposition.

GRAND TOTAL.
8 gun-boats
8 smaller boats.
27 officers.
301 men.

Of the conduct and discipline of the marines under Lieutenant W. S. Davis, (R.M.A.) I cannot say too much in praise, exposed so much to temptation when sentries in the town.

All the shipping, boats, &c., were found scuttled and sunk; and as considerable time would have been required to weigh and load them, all were burnt and destroyed.

The whole service lasted nearly twelve hours, and the following list shows the loss which has been inflicted on the enemy, which, at a low estimate, cannot be valued under £200,000:

Burnt ashore and totally destroyed.

5 barques or ships, of from 300 to 400 tons, all nearly complete on the stocks.

8 schooners, sloops, and small vessels, hauled up on shore, and all damaged purposely, so as to render them unseaworthy unless extensively repaired.

A very large number of storehouses, containing sails, rope, shipwrights' gear, and other materials for fitting and building ships.

A vast number of stacks of timber, some of very large scantling.

Many stacks of deck planks.

Several heaps of spars.

A stack of crooked oak timber, apparently for stern and stem pieces of ships.

An enormous heap of unmanufactured pitch, extending over about 6000 square yards of surface, having an average height of about three feet.

8 stores facing the river, containing tar and pitch.

A large store at the back of this, containing tar, &c.

A large open space both before and behind those storehouses, containing barrels of pitch and tar. Calculating the contents, and taking the very lowest possible estimate, there must have been at least 30,000 barrels of pitch and tar on this portion of the banks of the river, as the conflagration was on each side of the river, and extended over a great length. Several storehouses containing salt were involved in their destruction. Eight storehouses on the right bank of the river were spared because their burning would have destroyed a private house. The contents, as far as regarded a small quantity of naval stores were taken possession of. There were many launches (most of them purposely scuttled and sunk) which were spared because they were reported to be the property of poor men.

Burnt afloat and partially destroyed.

2 vessels of about 300 tons, partially laden with tar.

1 vessel of 400 tons,	} both laden with pitch,
1 vessel of 350 tons,
1 cutter of 100 tons,	} tar, &c.
1 schooner of 150 tons,
1 brig of 300 tons, just launched and empty.

All the vessels had been scuttled and sunk purposely. They were burnt by us to the water's edge, and rendered quite unfit for their purpose without being almost rebuilt.

About 500 casks of tar were found in the river secured by spars. They were cut adrift after finding their burning impracticable.

Captain George Giffard,

SIR,
*Her Majesty's ship Leopard, off Uleaborg,
June 2, 1854.*

I HAVE the honour to report to you, that in obedience to your orders, I proceeded in the boats of this ship, named in the margin,* to the Island of Ulkonargaick, and on arriving off the north-east point, I boarded a large barque, which on examination proved to be scuttled, and rendered otherwise unseaworthy. I then proceeded on shore, and searched several storehouses and workshops, containing pitch, forges, and other materials requisite for ship-building, together with two vessels on the stocks, one nearly ready for launching, and a second in a less advanced state; also a wharf, built at some distance from the shore, on which were sheers, capstans, &c., for masting ships, the whole of which were disposed of in the following manner, viz. :—

Large storehouses, containing pitch—burnt.

2 blacksmiths' workshops, having two forges each—burnt.

1 large one-storied building, containing one launch, and apparently used for boat-building—burnt.

1 vessel ready for launching, extreme length 204 feet, breadth 36 feet—burnt.

1 vessel in frame, not measured—burnt.

1 barque lying at anchor, estimated size 600 tons—burnt.

I then searched the village on the adjacent island, but finding no stores contraband of war, I re-embarked and proceeded in search of three schooners, of which information was obtained from the pilot; and after pulling some distance through a creek to the south of the town, I met a division of boats under Lieutenant Hammet, by whom I found the vessel I was in search of had been destroyed.

SIR,
I PROCEEDED yesterday morning with the boats, as per margin* to Tornea, in execution of your orders.

A strong wind, with extraordinary rapids in the river, delayed us, and it was 7 30 P.M. before the boats arrived off the town of Tornea, 13 hours after leaving the ship; the garrison left on our approach.

Having taken possession of the town I found the storehouses had been cleared out, and their contents conveyed across the barrier to the Swedish territory, and that the inhabitants had destroyed the barracks and public buildings; the purpose for which I was despatched having been thus completed, I therefore returned on board, after being 20 hours in the boats, and have great pleasure in stating every officer and man behaved to my satisfaction.

June 10th, 1854.

SIR,
I BEG leave to transmit to their Lordships the accompanying letter from Rear-Admiral Plumridge, enclosing one from Captain Glasse, of the Vulture (which ship arrived here yesterday), giving an account of an unfortunate failure in an attack on Gamla Carleby, in the Gulf of Bothnia, by the boats of the Vulture and Odin.

2. I have expressed to Captain Glasse my disapproval of sending boats to attack a place so far distant from his ship, without any apparent object, which has led to the melancholy catastrophe on this occasion.

I have, &c.

The Secretary of the Admiralty.

Enclosure No. 1, in Sir Charles Napier's Letter
No. 152.

Her Majesty's ship Leopard,
Oreground, June 14, 1854.

SIR,
PREVIOUS to leaving the neighbourhood of Uleaborg, on the 4th instant, I gave Captain Glasse, of the Vulture, the accompanying order, and parted company from that ship and the Odin.

After having finished the service I went to perform at and near Tornea, with this ship and the Valorous, we rejoined the Vulture, and Odin, on the night of the 10th instant, at the previous appointed rendezvous (No. 6).

The accompanying letters, returns, and papers, I have received from Captain Glasse, detailing a failure in the service he intended to execute; the perusal of these letters and returns, has caused me considerable concern from the severe, and I am sorry to add very extensive, loss, sustained in officers and men killed and others wounded.

From what I am able to discern, it would appear to me that this serious catastrophe has resulted from surprise, and a subsequent want of suitable management.

Memorandum.
YOU will proceed off Old Carleby, taking with you the Odin.

After examining and operating, if practicable, on that place and its vicinity (where it is said they have a small screw steamer, which it is an object to obtain for the use of the squadron), you are then to rendezvous at Hallgrund Beacon, off Jacobstad; and as before directed, employ your force to the best advantage in its immediate neighbourhood, until rejoined by the Leopard, at Hallgrund Beacon (No. 1).

Sub-Enclosure No. 2, in Rear-Admiral Sir Charles Napier's Letter No. 152.

Her Majesty's ship Vulture, at sea,
June 10, 1854.

SIR,
HAVING in obedience to your orders proceeded off Old Carleby, on the morning of the 6th instant, the state of the weather obliged me to put to sea again; but, on the following day, the 7th, the wind moderating, we were able to return, and anchored abreast of Trullön Island, as near as we prudently could to the bar, in four fathoms water, the Odin in Company.

The boats, as per enclosed list (1), were dispatched under charge of the senior lieutenant of the Vulture, Mr. Charles A. Wise, with signals and directions for his guidance, as per enclosures (Nos. 2 and 3).

It is my painful duty to report that they were met in force by the enemy, and beaten off, with the loss of the Vulture's paddle-box boat.

Immediately on perceiving the attack, the reserve was ordered away, consisting of one paddle-box boat from each ship, accompanied by Captain Francis Scott, in his gig, who having gallantly volunteered his services, I readily entrusted with the charge of bringing the boats out of action, as I observed the fire of the enemy evidently proceeded from an overwhelming force.

The following day under a flag of truce, Lieutenant Wise proceeded with a letter to the Governor of Gamla Carleby; he returned without communicating, the flag not being acknowledged, and reported that a regiment of regular troops were drawn up during the time the boat remained off the beach, and apparently a second regiment, from the difference of their uniforms, employed throwing up breastworks, with embrasures.

From there being only thirteen feet water on the deepest part of the bar, and the impossibility of getting ships of the draft of water of the Vulture and Odin over, I considered our further operations there impracticable, and sailed at six P.M., for the rendezvous at Hallgrund Beacon, off Jacobstad, but the unfavourable state of the weather has prevented our employing our force in its immediate neighbourhood.

Enclosed is Lieutenant Wise's report (No. 4), as also the returns of killed, wounded, and missing from the two ships (5 and 6), and a copy of my letter to the Governor of Carleby Gamla (7), and of my sailing orders (No. 8).

I have, &c.

Her Majesty's ship Vulture, off Gamla Carleby, June 8, 1854.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report to you, that in obedience to your orders, I proceeded with the boats of Her Majesty's ships Vulture and Odin, named in the margin,* towards Gamla Carleby.

Having anchored the boats in line abreast, their guns pointed towards the beach, I landed in the gig with a flag of truce, for the purpose of communicating with some persons whom I observed on the adjacent shore. The flag was duly received, and I addressed one who styled himself the Burgomaster, demanding that all the property of the Emperor of Russia should be given up to me, and that on this condition, in compliance with Admiral Plumridge's notice, the town and private property would be respected. Not being able to obtain a satisfactory answer, and assistance in communicating with the Governor being denied me, re-embarked and directing Lieutenant Carrington to proceed ahead in a boat of light draught to sound, ordered the boats to weigh and form in two lines abreast, but before this was executed the enemy's fire from storehouses on our right, opened with field pieces and musketry, which was promptly returned by our guns and small arms.

The enemy being in great force and rapidly increasing—their position well chosen, and protected among wood and houses, behind which they were completely concealed, and from which they poured a most destructive fire—I deemed it expedient to withdraw the boats, and accordingly made the signal for the general recall.

I did not, however, accomplish this without the loss of the paddle-box boat of this ship, which was destroyed by the enemy's fire; and it is with sorrow I contemplate the severe loss of officers and men we have sustained. Lieutenant Carrington, of the Odin, fell while in the act of carrying out my orders. His boat, a cutter, was the object of the enemy's first fire, by which she had eleven struck down, and gave us first notice of their proximity. Mr. N. J. Morphy, mate, in charge of the Vulture's paddle-box boat, I observed encouraging his crew with great gallantry. Mr. C. F. H. Montague (mate), Odin, I am sorry to say fell mortally wounded while most gallantly doing his duty in the paddle-box boat of that ship. I have to add that the conduct of every officer and man was most exemplary. I cannot close this report without mentioning my approbation of the cool and praiseworthy conduct of Lieutenants Madden and Fellowes, who commanded the other two boats with guns.

Admiralty, 29th June, 1854.

With reference to the above Despatches, Lieutenant Benjamin Pentland Priest has this day been promoted to the rank of Commander.

AT the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 8th day of June, 1854.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England have, in pursuance of an Act passed in the session of Parliament held in the third and fourth years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to carry into effect, with certain modifications, the fourth report of the Commissioners of Ecclesiastical Duties and Revenues," duly prepared and laid before Her Majesty in Council a scheme, bearing date the eleventh day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, in the words and figures following, that is to say:

"We, the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, in pursuance of an Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the third and fourth years of your Majesty's reign, intituled 'An Act to carry into effect, with certain modifications, the fourth report of the Commissioners of Ecclesiastical Duties and Revenues,' have prepared and now humbly lay before your Majesty in Council, the following scheme for making further provision for the cure of souls in the new parish of Saint John the Evangelist, Limehouse, in the diocese of London.

"Whereas by a duly gazetted Order of your Majesty in Council, bearing date the eighth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, ratifying a scheme prepared by us under the provisions of the said Act, it was provided that there should thereafter be paid by the rector for the time being of the benefice or rectory of Saint Andrew Undershaft with Saint Mary Axe thereunto annexed, in the city and diocese of London, out of the revenues thereof, by equal half-yearly payments on the twenty-fifth day of March and twenty-ninth day of September in every year, to the Governors of the Bounty of Queen Anne, by their treasurer for the time being, but in trust for the perpetual curates, incumbents, or ministers for the time being of the new parishes and districts enumerated in a schedule to the said Order annexed (of which the said new parish of Saint John the Evangelist, Limehouse, is one), the annual sum of four hundred and seventy-five pounds, clear of all deductions except income or property tax, and that such annual sum of four hundred and seventy-five pounds, and each and every instalment thereof, should be charged upon all the tithes or the payments in lieu or in respect of tithes payable by virtue of the Act passed in the thirty-seventh year of the reign of His late Majesty King Henry the Eighth, chapter twelve, to the rector for the time being of the said rectory: And that the said annual sum of four hundred and seventy-five pounds should be divided and distributed in the manner in such Order mentioned, and so as, inter alia, to secure to the incumbent for the time being of the said new parish of Saint John the Evangelist, Limehouse, the annual sum of one hundred and seventy-five pounds.

"And whereas the Right Honourable and Right Reverend Charles James, Bishop of London, the patron of the said benefice or rectory, and the Reverend Frederick George Blomfield, incumbent of the same, are desirous that the annual sum of one hundred and seventy-five pounds, now payable as aforesaid, to the incumbent of the said new parish of Saint John the Evangelist, Limehouse, should be increased to the annual sum of two hundred pounds in manner hereinafter mentioned.

"Now, therefore, we humbly recommend and propose with the consent of the Right Honourable and Most Reverend John Bird, Archbishop of Canterbury, and of the said Charles James, Bishop of London, and Frederick George Blomfield, in testimony whereof, they have respectively signed and sealed this scheme, that the sum of four hundred and seventy-five pounds so as aforesaid charged on the said benefice or rectory of Saint Andrew Undershaft with Saint Mary Axe shall henceforth be increased to the yearly sum of five hundred pounds, and that thereupon the yearly sum of one hundred and seventy-five pounds so to be paid as aforesaid to the incumbent of the new parish of Saint John the Evangelist, Limehouse, shall be increased to two hundred pounds.

"And we further recommend and propose that nothing herein contained shall prevent us from recommending and proposing any other measures relating to the matters aforesaid, or any of them, in accordance with the provisions of the said first-mentioned Act or of any other Act of Parliament."

And whereas the said scheme has been approved by Her Majesty in Council; now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of her said Council, is pleased hereby to ratify the said scheme, and to order and direct that the same and every part thereof shall be effectual in law, immediately from and after the time when this Order shall have been duly published in the London Gazette, pursuant to the said Act; and Her Majesty, by and with the like advice, is pleased hereby to direct that this Order be forthwith registered by the Registrar of the diocese of London.
