Admiralty, August 21, 1854.

DESPATCHES, of which the following are copies, have been received from Vice-Admiral Sir Charles Napier, K.C.B., Commander-in-Chief of Her Majesty's Ships and Vessels in the Baltic :

CAPTURE OF TWO TOWERS OF BOMARSUND.

No. 354.

*Bulldog, off Bomarsund,
August 16, 1854.*

1. AT four o'clock in the morning of the 13th instant the French battery, of four 16-pounders and four mortars, opened a splendid fire on the western tower, which commands the fortress of Bomarsund and the anchorage : a white flag was displayed in the afternoon, which led to nothing ; but on the morning of the 14th the tower was surprised by the Chasseurs. General Jones's battery of 32-pounders was finished in the night and ready to open ; but, not being wanted, was turned against the eastern tower, and on the morning of the 15th he opened his fire : the battery was manned by seamen and marine artillery from the four ships named in the margin,* under the direction of Captain Ramsay, of the Hogue, assisted by Commander Preedy, Lieutenant Somerset, of the Duke of Wellington, and the officers named in the margin ;† their fire was beautiful.

2. At six P.M. one side was knocked in, and the tower surrendered.

In the attack on the western tower the Chasseurs, with Minnié rifles, were employed so successfully, that it was difficult for the enemy to load their guns ; in the attack on the eastern tower we had no Chasseurs, and they were enabled to load their guns with more facility.

3. Our loss has been trifling, one man killed and one wounded, but I have to lament the death of the Honourable Lieutenant Cameron Wrottesley, R.E., who was mortally wounded by a cannon ball, and died twenty minutes after he had been sent to the Belleisle.

4. The enemy had 6 men killed ; 7 wounded, and 125 were taken prisoners. I have sent the latter to the Termagant.

5. The loss of the French at the western tower was also trifling.

6. Both batteries were admirably constructed and admirably fought, which accounts for the small loss. General Jones speaks in high terms of the conduct of the seamen and marine artillery, and the precision of their fire.

7. During the time the operations were going on, General Baraguay d'Hilliers was employed in establishing his breaching batteries against the great fortress, and the French and English steamers, as per margin,* supported by Trident (bearing the flag of Rear-Admiral Penau), Duperré, Edinburgh, and Ajax, kept up a well-directed fire from their shell guns, and very much damaged the fortress, whilst Captain The Honourable F. T. Pelham, of the Blenheim, kept up a beautiful fire from a 10-inch gun, landed in the battery we had driven the enemy out of a few days before. His position was one of great danger, but the battery was put in such good order by Captain Pelham, that the men were well covered, and he had no loss.

8. The General's breaching batteries will be ready by to-morrow, and they shall be well supported by the ships-of-the-line of both nations, and the steamers. The narrowness of the ground on which the General has established his breaching battery, very much circumscribes the space ; the greatest caution will be necessary to prevent firing on his troops, and the little space in the anchorage before Bomarsund, and the intricacy of the navigation, will prevent ships approaching the main fortress so near as could be wished ; but when the batteries are established acting in the rear of the fort, and supported by the shell guns in front, it cannot hold out more than a few hours.

9. I have put off to the last moment the departure of the mail, but I shall send an extra courier the moment the fort surrenders.

10. The western tower was fired either by accident or design, I do not know which, and blew up at 11 A.M. yesterday.

11. I am sorry to add that Lieutenant Cowell, Royal Engineers, Aide-de-Camp to Brigadier-General Jones, was unfortunately wounded in the leg by the accidental discharge of his pistol; he is now on board the Belleisle, doing well, but the loss of his services is much to be regretted.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) CHAS. NAPIER,
Vice-Admiral and Commander-in-Chief.

The Secretary of the Admiralty.

P.S. A return of the whole of the force landed, and of casualties, will be forwarded by the next opportunity, together with an inventory of stores and list of prisoners.

SURRENDER OF BOMARSUND.

No. 355. Bulldog, off Bomarsund,
SIR, August 16, 1854.

IN continuation of my despatch of this date, I beg you will inform their Lordships that, after sending away the mail, the fortress opened a heavy fire on Captain Pelham's battery, which had annoyed them much, and which he maintained all yesterday and to day, and it is wonderful how he and his men escaped. He had with him Lieutenant Close and Mr. Wildman, Mate, of whom he speaks highly. Seeing his position, I immediately ordered the ships and steamers named in the margin,* who were within range with their 10-inch guns, as well as the French mortars on shore, which had been playing on them some time, to give them a shot and shell every five minutes; and their fire was so well directed that the enemy held out a flag of truce.

2. I sent Captain Hall (of the Bulldog) on shore, who was shortly joined by Admiral Par-seval's Aide-de-Camp, and two of General Baraguay d'Hillier's Staff, and the troops in the fortress agreed to lay down their arms and march out.

3. After I had landed I was joined by the French Admiral and the Commander-in-Chief of the Army; the prisoners (about 2,000 I believe) were marched out and embarked in steamers, and proceeded to Led Sund, to Commodore The Honourable Frederick Grey, who will conduct them to the Downs to await for further orders.

4. I beg to congratulate their Lordships on the fall of this important fortress, which will be followed by the submission of the Garden of Islands, with so small a loss; and I am happy to say the greatest cordiality has subsisted between the French General and Admiral and myself, as well as between the soldiers and sailors of the two nations.

5. As soon as I can collect a list of the stores captured, it shall be forwarded to their Lordships, and a Commissary has been named for that purpose.

6. This despatch will be delivered by my Flag Lieutenant (Lieutenant John de Courcy Agnew), whom I beg to recommend to their Lordships for promotion.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) CHARLES NAPIER,
Vice-Admiral and Commander-in-Chief.

The Secretary of the Admiralty.

Northern Lighthouses.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

WHALSEY SKERRIES, SHETLAND—TEMPORARY LIGHTHOUSE.

THE Commissioners of Northern Lighthouses hereby give notice, that they are at present engaged in erecting a Lighthouse on the Out-Skerries of Whalsey, on the eastern coast of the Shetland Isles, and that until the completion of the permanent Lighthouse, a light will be shewn from a temporary tower, and will be exhibited for the first time on the night of Friday the 15th September, and every night thereafter, from the going away of day-light in the evening, till the return of day-light in the morning.

The following is a Specification of the Lighthouse, and the Appearance of the Light, by MR. DAVID STEVENSON, Engineer to the Commissioners:—

The Lighthouse is situated on the eastern part of the Island of Gruna, in N. Lat. 60° 25' 24", and W. Long. 0° 44' 20", the Bound Skerry of Whalsey bearing from the Lighthouse about E. by compass. The outer or seaward extremity of the Bound Skerry is about half a mile or thereby from the site of the Lighthouse, so that vessels in rounding the light must give it a wide berth.

The Whalsey Light will be known to Mariners as a Revolving Light, which shews a bright White Light once in every minute.

The temporary light will be exhibited from a tower of timber frame work, and is elevated about 108 feet above the level of high-water of ordinary spring-tides, and may be seen at the distance of about 16 nautic miles, and at lesser distances according to the state of the atmosphere. To a near observer, in favourable circumstances, the light will not wholly disappear between the intervals of greatest brightness.

The Commissioners further give notice, that by Order in Council, dated the 3rd day of July last, the following tolls are authorised to be levied in respect of the said Lighthouse; viz.:—

For every vessel belonging to the United Kingdom (the same not belonging to Her Majesty, her heirs or successors, nor being navigated wholly in ballast), and for every foreign vessel privileged to enter the ports of the United Kingdom upon paying the same duties of tonnage as are payable by British vessels which may pass or derive benefit from the light, the toll of two-sixteenths of a penny per ton of the burthen of every such vessel, for every time of passing or deriving benefit therefrom, if on a coasting voyage.

For each time of passing or deriving benefit on an oversea voyage, one penny per ton for every such vessel.

For every foreign vessel not navigated wholly in ballast, and not privileged in manner before specified, double the respective tolls above set forth.

Which tolls are liable to the following abatements on payment:—for a coasting voyage, ten per cent.; for an oversea voyage, twenty-five per cent.

By order of the Board,

Alex. Cunningham, Secretary.

Northern Lighthouse Office,
Edinburgh, 12th August, 1854.
