PARIS UNIVERSAL EXHIBITION OF 1855.

At the Council Chamber, Whitehall, the 12th day of September, 1854.

By the Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council appointed for the consideration of all matters relating to Trade and Foreign Plantations.

MY Lords have had under consideration the best means of apportioning the space placed at their disposal by the French Imperial Commission among the various intending exhibitors, in such a way as to secure the most complete representation of our national industry which that space admits of.

In compliance with Art. 9, of the Regulations of the Imperial Commission, my Lords forwarded, on the 15th August (the day appointed), a return of the applications received up to that date, representing 2,130 exhibitors, who had applied for 348,625 square feet of horizontal space, including the necessary addition for passages.

The Imperial Commission have announced their intention of allotting 15,000 square metres (162,000 square feet), including passages, to this country, a quantity exceeding by 62,000 square feet the amount allotted to France in 1851, and must therefore be considered as a liberal allowance. It is, however, obvious that the demands of the United Kingdom must be materially reduced, in order to bring them within the prescribed limits.

Up to this time no judgment has been passed upon the character of the applications, although it must be evident that one part of them is more likely than another to reflect credit upon our national industry; and that though there are probably few applications which do not include something of public interest and value, the general character of nearly the whole will be improved, if exhibitors should select only their most important productions.

To pass such a judgment is evidently beyond the competence of the officers appointed by my Lords to attend to the business of the Exhibition, and it is upon the exhibitors themselves, and the Committees formed to represent their interests, that my Lords must depend for undertaking that selection, which in other countries is generally exercised by functionaries appointed by the State.

My Lords have therefore directed —

- 1st. That the necessary allowance shall be made for passages.
- 2nd. That the net space shall be broadly divided among the various classes of manufacture.
- 3rd. That a small reserve be made for the completion of such departments as may be unrepresented by the demands received; and—
- 4th. The remainder subdivided among the various Committees, partly in proportion to the number and character of the applications that have been received, and partly in proportion to the scale upon which each kind of industry is carried on in a locality.

Each Committee will then be requested to make such a division of the space thus allotted among the intending exhibitors as will be most creditable to their district, or to the particular branch of industry which they represent.

The Committees to which the demands will be referred, will be as follows:—

- 1st. For Machinery and Civil Engineering.—The Council of the Institution of Civil Engineers.
- 2nd. Agricultural Machinery.—The Committee appointed by the Royal Agricultural Society.
- 3rd. Manufactures (Metropolis).—The Associate Committees for particular Trades.
- 4th. Manufactures (Provinces).—The Local Committees formed at Aberdeen, Arbroath, Belfast, Birmingham, Bradford, Derby, Dublin, Dudley, Dundee, Dunfermline, Edinburgh, Galashiels, Glasgow, Greenock, Huddersfield, Leeds, Macclesfield, Manchester, Norwich, Nottingham, Paisley, Preston, Sheffield, Staffordshire Potteries, Stockport, Sunderland, Trowbridge, Walsall, Wolverhampton.

H. C. OWEN, Captain R. E.,
Secretary.
