War Department, October 10, 1854.

HIS Grace the Duke of Newcastle has this day received two Despatches, of which the following are copies, addressed to his Grace by General the Lord Raglan, G.C.B.:

Balakhava, September 28, 1854.

MY LORD DUKE,

IN continuation of my Despatch of the 23rd instant, I beg leave to lay before your Grace the names of the officers whose names have been brought to my notice by the Generals of Division, and the Heads of Departments.

Lieutenant-General Sir George Brown speaks in the highest terms of Lieutenant-Colonel Yea, of the Royal Fusiliers; Lieutenant-Colonel Chester, of the 23rd, who was unfortunately killed, and of Captain Bell, who succeeded to the command, and brought the regiment out of action, and Lieutenant-Colonel Blake, of the 33rd. Lieutenant-Colonel Saunders, of the 19th, who was severely wounded; Lieutenant-Colonel Egerton, of the 77th Regiment, and Lieutenant-Colonel Shirley, of the 88th; also of Lieutenant-Colonel Lawrence and Major Norcott, of the Rifle Brigade, each commanding a wing of that corps; Lieutenant-Colonel Lake, commanding the Artillery, of Captain Brandling, commanding a 9-pounder troop, of Horse Artillery, and Captain Anderson, commanding a Field Battery, and Captain Gordon, of the Royal Engineers; likewise of Lieutenant-Colonel Sullivan, and Lieutenant-Colonel Airey, of the Adjutant and Quartermaster-General's Department, and Captain Hallowell of the latter, and Captain Whitmore and the other officers of his personal Staff; and Captains Glyn and Mackenzie, the Brigade-Majors serving with the division.

Lieutenant-General His Royal Highness the Duke of Cambridge recommends Colonel the Honourable Francis Hood, of the Grenadier Guards, Colonel the Honourable George Upton, of the Coldstream Guards, and Colonel Sir Charles Hamilton, of the Scots Fusilier Guards; Lieutenant-Colonel Cameron, of the 42nd, Lieutenant-Colonel Douglas, of the 79th, and Lieutenant-Colonel Ainslie, of the 93d; Lieutenant-Colonel the Honourable Alexander Gordon, and Lieutenant-Colonel Cunynghame, the Assistant-Adjutant and Quartermaster-General, Captain Butler and the Honourable Arthur Hardinge, the Deputy Assistant-Adjutant and Quartermaster-General of the Division, and Major the Honourable James Macdonald, and the other officers of his personal Staff; also Lieutenant-

Colonel Dacres commanding, and Captains Paynter and Woodhouse of the Royal Artillery, and Captain Chapman of the Royal Engineers, and Lieutenant-Colonel Stirling, and Captain the Honourable Percy Fielding, the Brigade-Major of the division.

Lieutenant-General Sir De Lacy Evans eulogizes the conduct of Lieutenant-Colonel the Honourable Percy Herbert of the Quartermaster-General's Department, who was wounded, I hope not severely; Major Lysons of the 23rd, acting as Assistant-Adjutant-General in the absence from sickness of Lieutenant-Colonel Wilbraham, Captain Lane Fox and Captain Thompson, Deputy-Assistant-Adjutant and Quartermaster-General, and Captain Allix and the other officers of his personal Staff. He also praises the exertions of Lieutenant-Colonels Hoey, of the 30th, Lieutenant-Colonel Warren, of the 55th, and Lieutenant-Colonel Webber Smith, of the 95th, who was severely wounded; Lieutenant-Colonel Carpenter, of the 41st, Lieutenant-Colonel Haly, of the 47th, and Major Dalton, of the 49th, Lieutenant Colonels Fitzmayer and Dupuis, and Captains Turner and Swinton, of the Royal Artillery, and to these I may add Captain Lovell, of the Royal Engineers, Brevet-Majors Thackwell and Armstrong, the Brigade-Majors of the division.

I consider it my duty especially to recommend Captain Adye, of the Royal Artillery, the principal Staff officer of that branch of the Service, and Captain the Honourable Edward Gage, Brigade-Major of Artillery, and Major Tylden, Brigade-Major of the Royal Engineers, and Major the Honourable Edward Pakenham, and Captain Weare, who was wounded, of the Adjutant-General's, and of Captains Wetherall, Woodford, Sankey, and Hamilton, of the Quartermaster-General's Department.

Mr. Commissary-General Filder and Dr. Hall, the principal Medical Officer, were in the field the whole time, and merit my approbation for their exertions in discharging their onerous duties.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) RAGLAN.

His Grace the Duke of Newcastle,
&c. &c. &c.

Balakhava, September 28, 1854.

MY LORD DUKE,

I HAVE the greatest satisfaction in acquainting your Grace, that the Army under my com-
