Guildhall, April 19, 1855.

THIS day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor and the Deputation of Aldermen and Common Councilmen of the city of London, waited upon His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of the French with the following Address, which was read by the Right Honourable J. A. Stuart Wortley, M.P., the Recorder, and which His Imperial Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously :

To His Imperial Majesty the EMPEROR of
The FRENCH.

The Address of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the city of London, in Common Council assembled.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the city of London, in Common Council assembled, desire to offer to your Majesty our heartfelt congratulations on the arrival of your Majesty and the Empress of the French in this country, as the guests of our Most Gracious Queen, and, on behalf of our fellow citizens and ourselves, we humbly tender to your Majesties the warmest expression of our gratitude for the welcome visit by which you have deigned to honour our city on this memorable day.

The attention of Europe and the world is already fixed on the attitude of dignity and united strength displayed by France and Great Britain in the present war, and the coming of your Majesty, invited by our beloved Queen, at such a time, will draw closer the bonds of mutual friendship and common interest so happily uniting the two countries.

The cordial alliance of two such mighty Powers, cemented and sealed by intimate and frank intercourse between their rulers, must sway the destinies of all; will abate the pride of our common enemies, increase the confidence of our allies, and give new vigour to our arms.

By the wise policy of your Majesty's reign all our ancient jealousies have been appeased, and the flags of France and England now mingle their colours alike in the Baltic and in the East; ranged together in a righteous cause, braving like hardships, and shedding their blood side by side in victory, the soldiery of our united armies and the seamen of our combined fleets, have learned to regard each other with the love of brave and generous comrades, second only to the love they bear their respective countries; and while such are the feelings of our heroes in the field, we rejoice that sentiments akin to these are growing daily and sinking deeply into the breasts of the people of these great and neighbouring nations.

None can doubt that the allied forces thus animated, led in perfect harmony by commanders of tried skill and valour, and guided by united counsels at home, will achieve by arms the just and unambitious objects of the present war; unless, as we may hope, the efforts of assembled statesmen shall yet avert the calamities of protracted warfare by the speedier negotiation of an honourable and enduring peace.

This cordial reception, therefore, of the chosen and puissant Emperor of the French, by the illustrious Sovereign who reigns over these realms, and lives in the hearts of the British people, we regard as the type of a close and lasting friendship between the two nations, and the happiest augury of a returning time when, undisturbed in the onward course of civilization, the nations of Europe may again lay aside the sword and resume their exalted rivalry in the works of beneficence alone.

We are earnestly anxious further to express to your Imperial Majesty the lively pleasure and respectful admiration with which we have seen you accompanied on this happy occasion by your illustrious consort, Her Majesty the Empress of the French. We tender to your Majesty the expression of our confident hope that you may ever find in the affections of domestic life the best solace and support which this world can afford under the cares and weight of the high destiny you are now fulfilling with such conspicuous power and moderation; and we fervently pray that life and health may, by the blessing of Providence, be vouchsafed to your Majesties for many years to come.

Signed by order of the Court,

H. A. Merwether.

To which Address His Imperial Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer :

My Lord Mayor,

AFTER the cordial reception I have experienced from the Queen nothing could affect me more deeply than the sentiments towards the Empress and myself, to which you, my Lord Mayor, have given expression on the part of the city of London; for the city of London represents the available resources which a world wide commerce affords, both for civilization and for war.

Flattering as are your praises, I accept them, because they are addressed much more to France than to myself; they are addressed to a nation whose interests are to day everywhere identical with your own; they are addressed to an army and navy united to yours by an heroic companionship in danger and in glory; they are addressed to the policy of the two Governments, which is based on truth, on moderation, and on justice.

For myself, I have retained on the throne the same sentiment of sympathy and esteem for the English people that I professed as an exile, while I enjoyed here the hospitality of your Queen; and if I have acted in accordance with my convictions, it is that the interest of the nation, which has chosen me, no less than that of universal civilization, has made it a duty. Indeed, England and France are naturally united on all the great questions of politics and of human progress that agitate the world, from the shores of the Atlantic to those of the Mediterranean, from the Baltic to the Black Sea, from the desire to abolish slavery to our hopes for the amelioration of all the countries of Europe. I see, in the moral as in the political world, for our two nations but one course and one end.

It is then only by unworthy considerations and pitiful rivalries that our union could be dissevered; if we follow then the dictates of common sense alone we shall be sure of the future.

You are right in interpreting my presence among you as a fresh and convincing proof of my energetic co-operation in the prosecution of the war if we fail in obtaining an honourable peace. Should we so fail, although our difficulties may be great, we may surely count on a successful result; for not only are our soldiers and sailors of tried valour, not only do our two countries possess within themselves unrivalled resources, but above all, and here lies their superiority, it is because they are in the van of all generous and enlightened ideas; the eyes of all who suffer instinctively turn to the west;—thus our two nations are even more powerful from the opinions they represent, than by the armies and fleets they have at their command.

I am deeply grateful to your Queen for affording me this solemn opportunity of expressing to you my own sentiments and those of France, of which I am the interpreter; I thank you in my own name, and in that of the Empress, for the frank and hearty cordiality with which you have received us; we shall take back with us to France the lasting impression made on minds thoroughly able to appreciate it of the imposing spectacle which England presents, where virtue on the throne directs the destinies of a country under the empire of a liberty without danger to its grandeur.

In Chancery.—Between Walter Long and Richard Penruddocke Long, Plaintiffs; John George Storie, Ann Boughton, James Williams, and others, Defendants; and between Walter Long and Richard Penruddocke Long, Plaintiffs; Samuel Sturgis and John Deacon, Defendants.

WHEREAS by an Order of the High Court of Chancery, made in these causes by His Honour the Vice-Chancellor Sir William Page Wood, Knight, and bearing date the 19th day of March, 1855, it was ordered that the Plaintiffs should be at liberty to insert in the London Gazette, and on the same or any subsequent day in two daily newspapers, published in the city of London, or in the county of Middlesex, a notice requiring the above-named Defendant, James Williams, within ten days from the date of such notice, either to nominate a Solicitor to act for him in these causes, or to appoint some proper place, situate within three miles of the Office of the Clerks of Records and Writs, in Chancery-lane, in the county of Middlesex, as the said Defendant's address for service upon him of any order, process, or notice of proceeding in these causes, and within the same time to notify in writing such nomination or appointment to Messrs. Boys and Tweedie, of No. 6, Ely-place, in the county of Middlesex, the Agents for the Plaintiffs in these causes. And it was ordered that publication of such notice, in manner aforesaid, together with service of a like notice upon Messrs. Wright and Bonner, at their offices in London-street, in the city of London aforesaid, and upon the Reverend Preston John Williams, at his residence at Bury, in the county of Lancaster, respectively, should be deemed good service of the aforesaid notice on the said Defendant, James Williams. Now, therefore, in pursuance of the said Order of the said Court of Chancery, we do hereby, on the part and behalf of the said Plaintiffs, give you the said Defendant, James Williams, notice, and require you, within ten days from the date hereof, either to nominate a Solicitor to act for you in these causes or to appoint some proper place, situate within three miles of the Office of the Clerks of Records and Writs, in Chancery-lane, in the county of Middlesex aforesaid, as your, the said Defendant's, address, for service upon you of any order, process, or notice of proceeding in these causes; and within the same time to notify in writing such nomination or appointment to us, as the Agents for the said Plaintiffs in the said causes, pursuant to the terms and conditions of the said Order.—Dated this 24th day of April, 1855.

BOYS and TWEEDIE, No. 6, Ely-place, Holborn, London, Agents for the said Plaintiffs.

Master of the Rolls.—Wednesday, the 18th day of April, in the 18th year of the reign of Her Majesty, Queen Victoria, 1855; between Thomas Thompson, Arthur Holt Thompson, and Infant; by James Thompson his father and next friend, and the said James Thompson, and Betty his wife, Plaintiffs; James Davison, and Frances Modley, Defendants.

FORASMUCH as this Court was this present day informed by Mr. Waller, of Counsel for Plaintiffs, that the Plaintiffs having filed their Bill, in this Court, against the Defendants, requiring them to appear to the same, it appears by the joint affidavit of Joseph Remer, the Plaintiff Arthur Holt Thompson, and Benjamin Walker, made in this cause, and filed on the 20th day of March, 1855, that the Defendant, James Davison, has been within the jurisdiction of this Court within two years since the Plaintiffs exhibited their Bill; but that, notwithstanding diligent search and enquiries have been made, his present place of abode or resort cannot be ascertained, and that there is just ground for believing that the said Defendant has absconded, and now absconds on purpose to avoid being served with a copy of the said Plaintiffs' Bill; it is therefore ordered that the Defendant, James Davison, do appear to the Plaintiffs' Bill on or before the 2nd day of June next. And it is ordered that the Plaintiffs do cause a copy of this Order, together with a notice thereof to the effect set forth at the foot of the General Order of this Court in that behalf, to be inserted in the London Gazette, within fourteen days from the date hereof, and in the newspapers published in Manchester and Liverpool, in the county of Lancaster, on or before the 1st day of May next.

Notice.—James Davison.—Take notice that if you do not appear pursuant to the above Order, the Plaintiffs may enter an appearance for you, and the Court may afterwards grant to the Plaintiff such relief as they may appear to be entitled to on their own showing.
