WEST INDIES.

Sale of three fine and most fertile Sugar Estates in the Island of Saint Lucia.

Castries, Saint Lucia,
this 21st day of January, 1856.

WHEREAS the Commissioners acting, in Saint Lucia, in aid of the Commissioners appointed by or under the Act of Parliament passed in the 2nd and 3rd years of the reign of His late Majesty King William 4th, chapter 125, have in pursuance of the said Act, and by virtue of certain covenants made in that behalf, in and by two several indentures, bearing date the 9th day of November, 1843, entered upon and taken possession of three sugar estates or plantations, situate in the island of Saint Lucia, respectively called Bois d'Orange, Roseau, and Troumassé, all now or lately belonging to William Muter, Esq.; and whereas the said Commissioners in aid intend to exercise, in respect of those estates, the power of sale vested in them by the said indentures, and by the Statute therein recited of the 3rd and 4th years of the reign of Her present Majesty Queen Victoria, chapter 40. Notice is hereby given, to all parties concerned, of such the intention of the Commissioners in aid, and that, in consequence, pursuant to the said Statute, 3rd and 4th Victoria, chapter 40, and in virtue of the aforesaid indentures and of all other powers giving them authority in this behalf, the said Commissioners in aid will cause to be severally sold by public auction, before the Royal Court of Saint Lucia, at the Court House, in the town of Castries, after three outcries, which will respectively take place, the first on Monday, the 2nd day of June, 1856, the second on Tuesday, the 3rd, and the third and last on Wednesday, the 4th day of the said month of June, 1856, at the hour of noon, each day, the three hereinbefore mentioned estates or plantations, to wit:—

The Bois d'Orange Estate, situate in the Quarter of Gros-Ilet; the Roseau Estate, situate in the Quarter of Anse Laraye; and the Troumasse Estate, situate in the Quarter of Micoud; together with the buildings, live and dead stock, and all appurtenances of the said estates respectively, the whole consisting, according to the verbal processes of entry,—

As to the Bois d'Orange Estate.

First.—Of 413 acres of land or thereabouts, whereof about 120 acres are planted in canes, and the surplus being in pasture, provision grounds, and forest.

Second.—Of a principal dwelling-house, 42 feet square, built of wood and covered with shingles, with a wooden porch, and a coach-house attached thereto, in good repair; two pavilions built of wood and covered with shingles, containing apartments for labourers; a stable, 50 feet by 17, covered with shingles, and in good repair; a kitchen built of wood, containing oven, hearth, and brick chimney, in tolerable repair; a large rain-water cistern, built with and covered in by masonry, with a pump attached; a building, 147 feet by 32, built with stones and covered with slates, divided into mill-house, and boiling and curing houses; another building, 60 feet by 26, two stories high, the lower story in mason-work and the upper story of wood, and covered with tiles, forming a rum distillery; a Moggass-house, 89 feet by 27, built of brick pillars and dormant jealousies, and covered with slates; a wooden building, serving as a blacksmith's shop; another small wooden building, serving as dwelling-house for overseer, and a third larger wooden building in course of erection,
