Buckingham Palace, May 8, 1856.

THIS day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen, Recorder, Sheriffs, Common Council, and Officers of the city of London, waited upon Her Majesty with the following Address, which was read by the Right Honourable J. A. Stuart Wortley, M.P., the Recorder, and which Her Majesty was graciously pleased to receive upon the Throne :

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the city of London, in Common Council assembled, approach your Majesty's Throne with our humble but earnest congratulations on the close of the war.

By the successful negotiations and conclusion of a definitive Treaty, Peace is at once happily and honourably restored, while it is guaranteed for the future by the concurrence and cordial participation of all the Great Powers of Europe.

Compelled to enter into the war in defence of the violated territory of an ancient empire, long bound to this country by ties of amity and alliance, the Western Powers had no object of aggrandizement to seek; and your Majesty and your illustrious Allies, the Emperor of the French and the King of Sardinia, have given to the world a signal example of moderation and forbearance, by accepting in the hour of triumph, and when best prepared to pursue that triumph to its results, the intervention of a friendly Sovereign, and sparing to a gallant enemy the further humiliation that awaited him.

We thankfully recognize the hand of God in the successes achieved by our arms in spite of difficulties and sufferings rarely equalled, and arising chiefly from want of recent experience of war on so vast a scale; and, while we deeply sympathize with your Majesty's grief for the loss of the brave officers and men who have gloriously fallen, we proudly rejoice to record that in no former war has the generous and enduring bravery of the British soldier and sailor, vying with that of their valiant Allies, been more brilliantly conspicuous.

We now look forward with renewed hope and confidence to the further development, under Divine Providence and the continuance of your Majesty's mild and beneficent reign, of all the arts and resources of Peace; and we trust that in the future, as in the past, our beloved country will, under these blessed influences, be again and ever foremost in the ranks of civilization and social improvement.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer :

"I thank you for your loyal and dutiful Address.

"I gratefully acknowledge the many and conspicuous proofs of the zeal and unanimity of my people, and the generous and enduring bravery of my soldiers and sailors, during the war in which we have been engaged, and which, in conjunction with my illustrious Allies, I have been enabled to conduct to an honourable and satisfactory termination.

"I accept with sincere gratification your congratulations on the conclusion of a Treaty by which the objects of the war have been fully secured, and Peace has been re-established with the cordial concurrence of all the Great Powers of Europe.

"I trust that this Peace, resting as I have reason to believe on a firm and secure basis, may be long continued to us, and that its blessings may, under Divine Providence, be widely experienced in friendly intercourse among Nations, and in the rapid progress of civilization and social improvement."

They were all very graciously received, and had the honour of kissing Her Majesty's hand.

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
May 12, 1856.*

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade and Plantations have received, through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Consul at Leghorn, reporting that the Board of Health at that place, has decreed a quarantine on all vessels coming from the Levant, of five days in case of their having no sickness on board or their having been none during the passage, and of fifteen days in case of sickness existing on board or death having occurred during the passage.

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
May 12, 1856.*

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade and Plantations have received, through the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, a copy of a Portuguese regulation issued by the Governor-General of the province of Angola, notifying that no customs' duties will be levied at the port of Ambriz on foreign commerce, until the expiration of one year from the date of the publication of a tariff of duties, and that the port will, therefore, continue free for such commerce until the expiration of that period.

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
May 12, 1856.*

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade and Plantations have received, through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Acting Consul at Puerto Rico, reporting that Customs Regulations to the following effect have been established in that Island.

First. That direct importation between that island and ports of produce, be protected by a reduction of 6 per cent. upon the duties payable according to the Tariff.

Second. That in future the fines of 2 per cent., imposed by the custom-houses upon invoices of merchandise badly classified, proceeding from St. Thomas, be annulled.

That commodities which in quality and essential circumstances do not agree with the manifests that the interested parties have to present, within twenty-four hours after the vessel anchors in the port shall be denounced for confiscation. Thus while affording every facility to honest traffic, a corresponding punishment will be inflicted on those who deliberately attempt to defraud the interests of the Revenue.

Third. That henceforth the 2½ per cent. extra charge upon vessels proceeding from one port, and touching in others not being the productive ones, in search of a market for their cargoes, be not enforced, but they will be obliged to prove in the Custom-house at the port of discharge, by means of Spanish consular certificates, that no business transaction has been effected in ports at which they may have touched.

Fourth. Vessels importing a full cargo into bond will be exempt from tonnage dues; but they will pay them in addition to the ordinary tariff duties, upon the whole or part of the cargo if afterwards declared for consumption.

Fifth. That by way of compensation for the concessions granted to commerce, and with the object also of constructing and maintaining new warehouses that may be projected, a duty of 1½ per cent. will in future be exacted every six months, as a deposit duty upon articles bonded, instead of ½ per cent. as at present paid; the first six months being supposed to have elapsed twenty-four hours after the goods are stored, and the second, twenty-four hours after the completion of the first six months. It being well understood that the effects exported under bond to other ports are not to be charged any other duties, royal or municipal, beyond the one per cent. already mentioned.
