

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Thursday November 11. to Monday November 15. 1686.

Lemberg, Octob. 14.

ON Sunday last Te Deum was sung in all the Churches, of this City for the Victory lately obtained by the Forces of this Crown, against the Turks and Tartars. The Army according to our last advices was encamped not far from Smaym. The Ambassadors from the Czars of Moscovy continue here, expecting the King's return.

Sambor, Octob. 15. On Saturday last arrived here an Express from the Army, which was encamped when he left it, about 5 miles from Smaym. He brought Letters, which gave an account that, on the eighth Instant a Detachment of 2000 Turks advanced very near to the Polish Camp; and made an attempt upon one of their Quarters. It that they were repulld with considerable loss. There were above 700 prisoners in the Camp, many of which were Murzas and other Officers of principal Note among the Tartars.

Vienna, Nov. 7. That the Imperialists are Masters of Soldis is confirmed; tho' it seems the Turks did not abandon the place as was reported, but surranded it after an Attack for several Days; by which we have this account. Prince Louis of Baden having put a good Garrison into F. de Murches, under the Command of Major-General Dunben, marched from thence the 29th of the last Month towards Sycas, situated on the Drave. The Turks upon his approach, quitted and set fire to the Town, and retired into the Castle, which they defended till the 6th, when finding the Christians were advanced to the foot of the Wall, and that with their Mines and Artillery they had made a considerable breach in it, they surranded at discretion, and were all made prisoners of War. The same day the Prince of Baden marched from thence towards the Rede of Elyky. The Emperor has given the Place of Vice-President of the Council of War, vacant by the death of the Count de Cifleres to General St. Amant, who on Monday last took possession thereof. A great many Officers came hither daily to receive Orders concerning the Recruiting, and new Troops they are to raise against the Spring. This week were brought hither several Bales of Books from Italy, being part of the ancient Library of Matthias Corvin King of Hungary, among which are great many Manuscripts in the Oriental Tongues; were received from Croatica, that the Turks had, upon the approach of the Imperial Forces, quitted the Fortresses of Samus and St. Amant, which cover the Bridge of St. Amant, part whereof they burnt after having pillaged it, of which we expect a Confirmation, by our next News. We are told that the Turks left 300 Men in their attack upon Sycas. I have written from Wysper this day that Count Felch was at St. Amant.

Ratisbonne, Nov. 7. The Letters from Vienna inform us, That on All-Saints-day Te Deum was sung there with great Solemnity, for the signal Successes with which it hath pleased God to bless the Imperial Arms in taking Five-Churches and Segedin, and the defeat of the Turks and Tartars which you have already had an account of; but seeing there cannot be too much said of so extraordinary and Glorious an Action, wherein the hand of God appeared so visibly, we will again give you the particulars of it which we have in these Letters from Vienna. General Wallis, in the absence of General Caraffa, Commanded the Forces before Segedin; The Garrison made a very stout Defence, and Provisions grew scarce in the Camp, which with the other difficulties arising from the Season, began to render the War quite very hazardous; things being in this posture, General Wallis received advice that Two thousand Turks and Four thousand Tartars were come to a place called Stina, within four Hungarian miles of his Camp where they expected a greater number of Troops, in order to relieve Segedin; Whereupon a Council of War being held, it was resolved that General Veterani should be sent with a Detachment to attack the Enemy, before they were reinforced, which was judged the more necessary, for that their neighborhood would very much incommode the Besiegers. The 19th at night Major-General Veterani accordingly marched with 10 Regiments, which made not together 5000 Men, and Colo Haffa, commanded by General Barnard, and directed things with that silence and conduct, that he surprized the Turks at break of day, while Col. Gotz with 3 Regiments forced the quarter of the Turks; they made a great slaughter of the Enemy, and took several prisoners, by whom they understood that the Turks were above 7000 strong. The Enemy having abandoned their Camp, the Imperial Soldiers fell immediately to plunder it; notwithstanding the strict Orders which the Generals had given to the contrary. The Turks and Tartars perceiving the Christians were very much dispersed, and wholly busied with the Plunder, Rallied, and returning with great fury fell upon General Veterani, who was forced to retreat, having with him but three Squadrons, and would have been in great danger had not Col. St. Croix hastened with his Regiment to his assistance, followed by Col. Castell with 3 Regiments more, which he had in great haste got together. The Fight was very sharp, but at last the Enemy were routed and fled. After which the Imperialists pillaged their Camp, and the General not thinking fit to pursue them any farther, returned towards Segedin. In his march he perceived a great Body of Horse on his left, which he was very much surprized at; but by being put into the Turks and Tartars, advanced towards a Mountain, who were about 12000 strong, being all Horse, except 2000 Families who guarded the Cannon. The Turks charged the Imperialists five several times, being encouraged by the Presence of the Grand Visier (who we are told was there in Person, and are confirmed therein by the Baggage that was taken, among which were several things that could belong to no body but to him.) After a Fight of two hours the Enemy were entirely defeated, and put to flight, with the slaughter of 2000 of them upon the place, and the loss of all their Baggage and Cannon, a great many Horses, 400 Mules, and 300 Camels, laden with Ammunition and Provisions.

Cologne, Nov. 12. The last Advices from Hungary gave an account, That after the taking of Five Churches, the Prince of Baden marched to St. Blas, a strong Castle on the Drave, which was surrendered to him the 31st past, and that from thence he continued his march towards the Bridge of Essecke, intending to attack the Fortress of Darda, which covers it on the side of the Danube. The Letters from Vienna say, That they had begun to give out Commissions for the new Levies, the Emperor resolving to have the next Campaign 80000 Men of his own Forces, without reckoning the Hungarians, Croats and Auxiliaries. Their Electoral Highnesses of Bavaria returned the last week to Munich, having made their Entrance into that place, with great Magnificence.

Hamburg, Nov. 9. The Duke of Zell has written to these Magistrates to recommend to them the Burgermeister Meier, who was formerly put out of the Magistracy, as the fittest Person they can make choice of to fill the vacancy, by the death of the Burgermeister Schutter, whereby they will not only repair the injury that was done to the said Van Meurer, but prevent the application that will otherwise be made to the Emperor on his behalf. The Senate have resolved to communicate this Letter to the Burgers, who are to meet for that purpose. The Brandenburg Troops that marched lately from hence are still in the Country of Sax-Lauenbourg, where they have taken Quarters Count Gabriel de Oxeufenne who has been at the Court of Brandenburg as Envoy Extraordinary, from the Court of Sweden is arrived here in his way to Holland.

Hamburg, Nov. 15 The Burgers of this City being assembled yesterday, made choice of the Heer Van Meurer to be one of the Burgermeisters, in the place of the Heer Schutter deceased. We are told from Pestum that the Elector of Brandenburg has not only resolved to recruit his Troops which served in Hungary this Campaign, but likewise to raise several new Regiments against Spring. The Letters from Lemburg in Poland of the 24th past, tell us, that the King left the Army the 20th near Nisiveran, under the Command of the Crown-Generall, & that his Majesty was expected the 25th at Stry, and that the Queen was gone from Sambor to meet him.

Brussels, Nov. 13. The Count de Berzevike being returned from visiting and paying the several Garrisons in the Province of Flanders, is gone to do the like in Briabant. The Letters from Vienna of the 3d of the last Month tell us, That the Prince of Baden had taken the Castle of Sychar on the Drave, and continued from thence his march to the Bridge of Essecke, with a resolution to attack the Fortress of Darda. That the Count de Sytemberg was made Vice-President of the Council of War, in the place of the Count de Capheres deceased. That the Emperor had resolved to raise several new Regiments against the Spring, & that some of the Officers who were to be employed in these Levies, were already come to Vienna to receive their Orders. That they had an account from Poland, that the Army of that Crown was come back to Saurin; and that the King had resolved to quarter several Regiments about Camisec to block up that place during the Winter. The Count de Clermont is gone for Holland where he is to reside as Envoy Extraordinary from the King of Spain.

Hague, Nov. 18. The Imperial Minister residing here had, we are told, an account by the last Letters from Vienna, that after the surrender of Five Churches and Sychar, the Garrison of Darda being 3000 strong, had abandoned that place, and retired over the Bridge of Essecke, part whereof they burnt, leaving 24 pieces of Cannon, and a great deal of Ammunition and Provisions behind them.

Plymouth, Nov. 9. His Majesty's Ship the James Galle, Capt. Shouvil Commander, arrived here yesterday from the Streights, and sailed again this Morning to the Eastward.

Whitehall, Nov. 14. His Majesty having been moved in Council to Repeal the Letters Patents which lately passed under the Great Seal of England, for Licensing of Pedlars and Petty-Chapmen, hath been Graciously pleased to give direction for the Repealing the same accordingly: This is therefore to give Notice, That all Persons who have contracted or given Security for the payment of any Money (not yet actually paid to the Patentees or their Agents) in respect of any Licenses, are discharged from the payment thereof; and that they need not give themselves any farther trouble or attendance to make such payments, or to be discharged from the same.

Advertisements.

These are to give notice that the 16 Instant will be sold by Auction at the Black Swan in St. Pauls Church-yard against the South Door of the Church, the Libri Italici, Hispanici & Belgici; And on Wednesday and Thursday following, &c. the English Part of the Library of the Right Honorable Arthur Earl of Anglesey lately deceased, consisting of Divinity, of Histories of all Nations, together with Poetry, Philosophy, Philology, Voyages, &c. in all Volumes, Catalogues of which will be distributed at the place of Sale.

A True Prospect of the City of Napoli di Romania, lately taken by the Venetians (in a large Sheet) and the Effigies of Captain General Morosini, Done by R. White; Sold at his House in Bloomsbury-market, and most Picture sellers in London and Westminster.

Lost last Monday night in the Strand, a linen Bag worked with red flowers, having in it some wearing Linnen, a Parchment Deed, some Papers of Accounts. Whoever brings the said Deed with the Papers, to Mr. Partridges at the Post house at Charing-Cross, or to Mr. John Cocks in the British-Ally near Deans yard, Westminster, shall have two Guineas Reward.

The Annual Wiltshire Feast is to be kept at Drapers-Hall in Throgmorton-street, on Thursday the 2d of December. Tickets may be had at the One Bell Inn in the Strand near the May-pole, the Flying Horse in Miter Court in Fleet street, the Maidenhead in the Poultry, and at the Dog-Tavern at Billinggate.

The Annual Feast for the County of Northampton, will be held upon Thursday the 25th of November at Merchant Tailors-Hall; Tickets are to be had at Mr. Coniers at the Rose and Crown in Tenchurch-street, Mr. John Martins on the Royal-Exchange, Mr. William Beales at the Castle-Tavern in Holborn, Mr. Tonlops a Book-seller in Chancery-lane, and at Mr. Tho. Weeklys a Grocer in King-street, Westminster.

Mr. Daffy, who lived in Prujeans-Court in the Old-Bailly, since the decease of her Husband, removed into the Square in Salisbury-Court, near the middle of Fleet-street, to the two Blue Posts and Golden Ball, where any Person may be furnished with her Husbands Cordial Elixir.

Lost out of the Grounds of Mr. Cheyne of Luton in Bedfordshire, the 11 Instant, a Gray Gelding about 4 hands and a half high, and 5 years old. A brown-Nag near 14 hands high lame of his fore Feet. An Iron Gray Mare about 13 hands high: And a Bay Nag with a Tweep Tail, about 4 years old. Whoever gives Notice of them to Mr. Thomas Taverner at the Lyon and Gun in St. Pauls Church-yard, Woollen-Draper, shall be well Rewarded.