

Regiment.	Rank and Name.	Act of Bravery for which recommended.
97th Regiment	Serjeant John Coleman	Conspicuous for great coolness and bravery on the night of the 30th August, 1855, when the enemy attacked a "New Sap" and drove the working party in; he remained in the open, perfectly exposed to the enemy's rifle pits, until all around him had been killed or wounded. He finally carried one of his Officers, who was mortally wounded, to the rear.
1st Bat. Rifle Brigade	Brevet-Major Hon. Henry H. Clifford. . . .	For conspicuous courage at the Battle of Inkerman, in leading a charge and killing one of the enemy with his sword, disabling another, and saving the life of a soldier.
1st Bat. Rifle Brigade	Captain William James Cuninghame	Highly distinguished at the capture of the Rifle Pits, 20th November, 1854. His gallant conduct was recorded in the French General Orders.
1st Bat. Rifle Brigade	Brevet-Major Claude Thomas Bouchier . .	Highly distinguished at the capture of the Rifle Pits, 20th November, 1854. His gallant conduct was recorded in the French General Orders.
1st Bat. Rifle Brigade	Private F. Wheatley	For throwing a live shell over the parapet of the trenches.
2nd Bat. Rifle Brigade	Lieutenant John Knox	When serving as a Serjeant in the Scots Fusilier Guards, Lieutenant Knox was conspicuous for his exertions in reforming the ranks of the Guards at the Battle of the Alma. Subsequently, when in the Rifle Brigade, he volunteered for the ladder-party in the attack on the Redan, on the 18th of June, and (in the words of Captain Blackett, under whose command he was,) behaved admirably, remaining on the field until twice wounded.
2nd Bat. Rifle Brigade	No. 2074 Private R. McGregor	For courageous conduct when employed as a sharpshooter in the advanced trenches in the month of July, 1855; a Rifle Pit was occupied by two Russians, who annoyed our troops by their fire. Private McGregor crossed the open space under fire, and taking cover under a rock, dislodged them, and occupied the pit.
2nd Bat. Rifle Brigade	No. 2638 Private Robert Humpston	A Russian Rifle Pit, situated among the rocks overhanging the Woronzoff Road, between the 3rd parallel, Right Attack, and the Quarries (at that period in possession of the enemy), was occupied every night by the Russians, and their Riflemen commanded a portion of the Left Attack, and impeded the work in a new battery then being erected on the extreme right front of the 2nd parallel, Left Attack. It was carried in daylight on the 22nd of April, 1855, by two riflemen, one of whom was Private Humpston; he received a gratuity of 5 l. , and was promoted. The Rifle Pit was subsequently destroyed on further support being obtained.
