NOTIFICATION.

*Political Department, Bombay Castle,
March 3, 1857.*

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council has the highest satisfaction in publishing, for general information, the following Despatch, received from Lieutenant-General Sir James Outram, K.C.B., Commanding the Persian expeditionary force, dated the 10th of February, 1857, announcing a decisive victory, obtained on the 8th of the same month, by the British forces, over the Persian army at Khoosh-ab.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council directs that a Royal salute be fired from the garrison of Bombay at noon this day, in honour of this victory.

By order of the Right Honorable the Governor in Council,

H. L. ANDERSON,
Secretary to Government.

*Lieutenant-General Sir James Outram, K.C.B., Commanding Expeditionary Force, to His Excellency
Lieutenant-General Sir H. Somerset,
K.C.B. and K.H., Commander-in-Chief,
Bombay.*

*Camp near Bushire,
February 10, 1857.*

SIR,—I have the honor to report, for your Excellency's information, that the Persian expeditionary force obtained a signal victory over the Persian army, commanded by Shooja-ool-Moolk in person, on the 8th instant.

2. The enemy's loss in killed and wounded must have been very great. It is impossible to compute the exact amount, but, from the number of bodies which strewed the ground of contest, extending several miles, I should say that full 700 must have fallen. Two brass 9-pounder guns, with their carriages and horses, 8 mules laden with ammunition, and several hundred stand of arms, were taken; and the Persian Commander-in-chief, with the remainder of his army, only escaped annihilation owing to the numerical weakness of our cavalry.

3. The loss on our side is, I am happy to say, comparatively small, attributable, I am inclined to believe, to the rapid advance of our artillery and cavalry, and the well-directed fire of the former, which almost paralyzed the Persians from the commencement. I have, however, to regret the loss of Lieutenant Frankland, 2nd European Regiment, who was acting as Brigade Major of Cavalry, and was killed in the first cavalry charge. Captain Forbes also, who commanded, and most gallantly led, the 3rd Cavalry, and Lieutenant Greentree, 64th Foot, were severely wounded.

4. Returns of the killed and wounded, and also of the ordnance stores taken, are annexed (A, B, C).

5. I myself had little to do with the action, being stunned by my horse falling with me at the commencement of the contest, and recovering only in time to resume my place at the head of the army shortly before the close of this action.

6. To Major-General Stalker, and Colonel Lugard, chief of the Staff, is the credit due for successfully guiding our troops to victory on this occasion.

7. The circumstances preceding this satisfactory termination of a brief but arduous campaign I now proceed to detail, for your Excellency's information.

8. On the 27th ultimo, I landed at Bushire, and assumed the command of the army. The vast preparations of the Persian Government for the recovery of Bushire then came to my knowledge. Shooja-ool-Moolk, who commands the Persian troops, had assembled a force, said to amount to 8,500, and subsequently found to be as per margin,* at the town of Burazjoon, 46 miles distant from Bushire, and entrenched his position. This army was well supplied with food and ammunition, of which considerable magazines had been collected. It was intended that this force should form the nucleus of a very large army to be assembled for the re-capture of Bushire.

9. The 1st Brigade, 2nd Division, which arrived on the 31st ultimo and 1st instant, was landed by the 2nd, and, on the evening of the 3rd, the troops as per margin† marched from this camp, without tents or extra clothing of any sort, each man carrying his great coat, blanket, and two days' cooked provisions, the Commissariat being provided with three days' in addition; the protection of the camp and town of Bushire being duly provided for by a detachment of troops under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Sheppard, reinforced by a party of seamen from all the ships in the harbour, which the senior naval officer was so good as to place at my disposal.

10. After a march of 46 miles in 41 hours, during which the troops were exposed to the worst of weather, cold nights, and deluging storms of rain, they reached the enemy's entrenched position on the afternoon of the 5th, and found it abandoned. The enemy, on hearing of our approach, had evacuated his entrenchments the previous night so precipitately that his tents and camp equipment and ordnance magazines were left behind. The former were being rapidly carried off by village plunderers operating for some hours before we arrived. I endeavoured to intercept the retreat of some of the "Eilkhanee's" Horse, who had held the camp during the night, and were still in sight; and a little skirmishing took place; but eventually they made off.

11. The enemy, having succeeded in withdrawing their guns to the strong Passes, where I did not deem it prudent to follow them, and being satisfied with the moral effect of our occupying their position for two days, I decided upon moving the troops back to Bushire. The return march was accordingly commenced on the night of the 7th; first destroying their magazines, found to contain about 40,000 lbs. of powder, with small-arm ammunition, and a vast quantity of shot and shell, and carrying away large stores of flour, rice, and grain which the Persian Government had been collecting for a long time past for their army; thereby effectually crippling their future operations. Some of their guns are supposed to have been cast into wells, and as their wheels and axles fell into our hands, it will be impossible they can be used again for the present.

* Guards, 900; 2 Karragoozloo Regiments, 1,500; Shiraz Regiment, 200; 4 Regiments of Sabriz, 800; Arab Regiment, 900; Kashkai Regiment, 800;—5,100. Sufenghees, 1,000. Cavalry of Shiraz, 300; Eilkhanee Horse, 500;—800. Guns (said to be), 18.

† 3rd Cavalry, 243; Poona Horse, 176;—419 Sabres. 64th Foot, 780; 2nd Europeans, 693; 78th Highlanders, 739;—2,212 Eur. I. Sappers, 118; 20th N.I., 442; 4th Rifles, 523; 26th N.I. 479; Beloochees, 460;—2,022 N.I. 3rd Troop, H.A., 6; 3rd L.F. Batt., 6; 5th ditto, 6;—18 guns.

Camp:—

378 Europeans.
1,466 Native Infantry.
1 Company European Artillery.
14 Guns.

12. At midnight, an attack was made upon the rear guard by the enemy's horse, and parties threatened the line of march on every side. The troops were halted, and so formed as to protect the baggage, and resist the horsemen in whatever direction they might attempt to charge. Four of the enemy's guns of heavy metal opened their fire upon the column, whilst the darkness of the night prevented any steps being taken to capture them.

13. I should here state that, on abandoning their position, Shooja-ool-Moolk, with his force, had taken the direct road to Shiraz by the Mbak Pass; and the Eilkhanee with his horse had retired by the one leading to the Huft Moolla; and, from information subsequently received, I learn that they had planned a combined attack upon our camp the night we marched. Indeed, the explosion of their magazines gave them the first intimation of our departure, when they hastened after us in the expectation of being able to attack us on the line of march, and possibly create confusion and panic in the dark.

14. At daybreak, the Persian force, amounting to between 6,000 and 7,000 men, with some guns, was discovered on our left rear (north-east of our line of march) in order of battle.

15. Our artillery and cavalry at once moved rapidly to the attack, supported by two lines of infantry, a third protecting the baggage. The firing of the artillery was most excellent, and did great execution; the cavalry brigade twice charged with great gallantry and success; a standard (of the Kashkai Regular Infantry Regiment) was captured by the Poona horse; and the 3rd Light Cavalry charged a square, and killed nearly the whole regiment; indeed, upon the cavalry and artillery fell the whole brunt of the action, as the enemy moved away too rapidly for the infantry to overtake them. By ten o'clock the defeat of the Persians was complete; two guns were captured; the gun ammunition, laden upon mules, fell into our hands; and at least 700 men lay dead upon the field. The number of wounded could not be ascertained, but it must have been very large. The remainder fled in a disorganised state, generally throwing away their arms, which strewed the field in vast numbers, and nothing but the paucity of our cavalry prevented their total destruction and the capture of the remaining guns.

16. The troops bivouacked for the day close to the battle-field, and at night accomplished a march of 20 miles, by another route, over a country rendered almost impassable by the heavy rain, which fell incessantly. After a rest of six hours, the greater portion of the infantry continued their march to Bushire, which they reached before midnight; thus performing another most arduous march of 44 miles, under incessant rain, besides fighting and defeating the enemy during its progress, within the short period of 50 hours. The cavalry and artillery reached camp this morning.

17. The result is most satisfactory, and will, I trust, have a very beneficial effect upon our future operations.

18. The greatest praise is due to the troops of all arms for their steadiness and gallantry in the field, their extraordinary exertions on the march, and their cheerful endurance of fatigue and privation, under circumstances rendered doubly severe by the inclemency of the weather, to which they were exposed without shelter of any kind; and I cannot too strongly express the obligation I feel to all under my command for the almost incredible exertions they have undergone, and the gallantry they have displayed on this occasion.

19. To Major-General Stalker and to Colonel Lugard my especial thanks are due.

20. To the heads of the several departments, as well as to every officer belonging to those departments, and to my personal Staff (including Lieutenant-Colonel Lord Dunkellin, who volunteered his services as aide-de-camp), I am much indebted; from all I received every possible assistance; and although I do not now specify by name the departmental and personal Staff and other officers alluded to, I shall hereafter take an opportunity of bringing them individually to your Excellency's notice. Indeed, when all have behaved so nobly, it is difficult to specify individuals.

21. The rapid retreat of the enemy afforded but little opportunity for deeds of special gallantry. I have already alluded to the successful charges made by the 3rd Cavalry and Poona Horse, under Captain Forbes and Lieutenant-Colonel Tapp, and to the very efficient service performed by the artillery under Lieutenant-Colonel Trevelyan. The Brigadiers commanding the infantry brigades,—Wilson, Stisted, and Honner,—with the several commanding officers of regiments, and indeed every officer and soldier of the force, earned my warmest approbation.

22. To the medical officers of the force I am under great obligation for their untiring exertions throughout these arduous operations.

23. I cannot conclude without alluding in strong terms to the valuable assistance I have received from Major Taylor, whose services were placed at my disposal by the Honorable C. A. Murray, C.B.

I have, &c.,

J. OUTRAM, Lieutenant-General
Commanding Expeditionary Force.

Return of Ordnance Captured on the Morning of the 8th instant.

Bivouac, Khoosh-ab, February 8th, 1857.

1 brass gun, 9-pounder
2 brass guns, 9-pounder.

These guns are in good travelling order, mounted on travelling field carriages, each limber fitted with a limber-box to contain about thirty rounds of ammunition. One gun was taken with three horses, harness, &c., complete.

The carriages are of block trail construction; the cheeks of one require to be replaced.

Eighteen rounds of ammunition and some food were in the limber-boxes.

Besides the above were 262 rounds of gun ammunition, which I destroyed before leaving the bivouac on Sunday evening. The mules, eight in number, which carried it, I have brought into camp. I have 350 stand of arms, and I think fully treble that number must have been taken by camp followers and others.

One gun was spiked by our Horse Artillery, as they had to leave it when following on in pursuit. I have since removed the spike.

AT the Court at Buckingham Palace, the
2nd day of April, 1857,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

HER Majesty in Council was this day pleased, on a representation of the Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Council on Education, to appoint William Scoltock, Esquire, M.A., of Christ Church, Oxford, to be one of Her Majesty's Inspectors of Schools.

AT the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 2nd day of April, 1857,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament, held in the eighteenth and nineteenth years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act further to amend the laws concerning the burial of the dead in "England" it is, amongst other things, enacted that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, from time to time, to postpone the time appointed by any Order in Council for the discontinuance of burials, or otherwise to vary any Order in Council made under any of the Acts recited in the said Act, or under the said Act (whether the time thereby appointed for the discontinuance of burials thereunder, or other operation of such Order, shall or shall not have arrived), as to Her Majesty, with such advice as aforesaid, may seem fit;

And whereas certain Orders in Council have been made, directing the discontinuance of burials in the churchyards and burial-grounds hereinafter mentioned from the time mentioned in such Orders respectively; and whereas it seems fit to Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, that the time for discontinuing burials in the said churchyards and burial-grounds be postponed;

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice aforesaid, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the time for the discontinuance of burials in such churchyards and burial-grounds be postponed as follows, viz.:

In the parish churchyard, and in the Independent, Baptist, and Wesleyan Chapelyards, BATLEY, Yorkshire, from the first of April to the first of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven;

In the churchyard of All Saints POPLAR, from the first of May next to the first of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty eight, provided that the burials be conducted in accordance with the 7th, 8th, and 9th Official Regulations for Burial-grounds; that in all cases there shall be a covering of four and a half feet of earth above the coffin, measuring to the general surface of the ground; and that, with the exception of now existing family vaults and graves, which shall only be used for the interment of persons whose relatives are already buried therein, no earth that has been already buried in shall be reopened;

In the churchyard of All Saints, ROTHERHITHE, from the first of May to the first of November, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, on the condition that only one body be buried in each grave, and that no ground which has already been buried in be reopened;

In the churchyards of St. Giles and St. Mary, and in the burial-grounds of the Baptist and Independent Chapels, STONY STRATFORD, from the thirty-first of March to the thirty-first of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven.

And whereas, by an Order in Council of the twenty-sixth of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, burials were directed to be discontinued in the Baptist Chapel Burial-ground in the parish of CARISBROOKE, in the Isle of Wight, from and after the first of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, and it seems fit that the said Order be varied; Now therefore Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the use of that part of the said burial-ground which is behind the chapel may be continued after the said first of June, provided that no burials take place within three yards of the Sunday School.

C. C. Greville.

AT the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 2nd day of April, 1857,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, after giving to the Incumbent and the Vestry Clerk of the undermentioned parish, ten days' previous notice of his intention to make such representation, has, under the provisions of an Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the fifteenth and sixteenth years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to amend the laws concerning the burial of the dead in the metropolis," made a representation, stating, that for the protection of the public health, burials should be forthwith discontinued (except in now existing private vaults and graves) in the churchyard of Holy Trinity, BROMPTON, in the parish of KENSINGTON, except in the portion of unoccupied ground on the north of the church, and of the west of the principal footpath; that, with the exception of private vaults and graves, only one body be buried in each grave, and that from and after the first day of October, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, burials be wholly discontinued in the said churchyard.

And Her Majesty is further pleased to direct that this Order be forthwith published in the London Gazette; and that copies thereof be affixed on the doors of the churches or chapels of the said parish, or on some conspicuous places within the part or parts of the metropolis affected by such representation, one calendar month at the least before the said twelfth day of May.
