No. 1.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

Fort William, January 12, 1858.

No. 55 of 1858.

THE Right Honourable the Governor-General of India in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following report of a successful attack, made by the troops under Colonel Rowcroft, on a body of marauding rebels in the neighbourhood of his camp, on the 26th of December last.

To Colonel Rowcroft, to Captain Sotheby, R.N., commanding the Naval Brigade, and to the officers and men under his command ; to the detachment of Royal Marines under Lieutenant Pym, and that of the Bengal Police Battalion under Lieutenant Burlton ; as well as to the officers, civil and military, honourably mentioned by Colonel Rowcroft, the Governor-General in Council desires to offer his thanks for their services on this occasion.

The Governor-General in Council has much satisfaction in acknowledging the good services rendered upon this occasion by the Nepaulesse troops, acting under Colonel Rowcroft's command. To the officers and soldiers of that force generally, but especially to Major Captain Sree Bhuggut Khanka, commanding the Ramdull Regiment, to Captain Dercedass Opudiah, of the same corps, and to Captain Koolpurshad Singh Bushnial, commanding the Gorucknath Regiment, his Lordship in Council desires to tender the thanks of Government, for the great zeal and gallantry which they have displayed.

Camp, Mujhowlee, on the River Chota Gundah, 25 miles West of Sewan,

No. 80.

SIR, 28th December, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of the Right Honourable the Governor-General, that the Field Force, under my command received a reinforcement of the Gorucknath Regiment of Goorkhas—500 strong—on the morning of the 25th December, sent on to join me by forced marches from Segowlee, by his Excellency Maharajah Jung Bahadoor and Mr. Samuells, the Commissioner. It was represented to me strongly that they were too fatigued, foot-sore, and hungry to march again that day, and that they had been without sleep for two nights. I therefore postponed for the day, though reluctantly, my arrangements to move and attack the rebels at Sohunpore—7 miles distant, and about midway between my entrenched camp at Myrwa and Mujhowlee. About half-past seven on the morning of the 26th December, I marched from camp with the force noted in the margin,* leaving two companies—100 men—of Goorkhas, and 50 matchlock-men of the Hutwa Rajah's, for the protection of the camp ; and of these, half a company and twenty matchlock-men to watch and secure the narrow Causeway Bridge over the river Jurhaee, less than half a mile in front of my camp. It was reported to me that the rebels were posted in the village of Sohunpore, and in two or three large topes (woods) close to it, on either side of the Mujhowlee road, with a tank with high banks close in front of the village on the north, in which most of the sepoys, and three of their four guns were posted. On arriving within little more than half a mile of the position of the rebels, I formed line, and took ground to the right, to turn their left flank, and act more easily on the tank. During this movement, the enemy pushed forward numerous skirmishers into the topes and cultivation, and opened fire of guns and musketry on our line. Our skirmishers, consisting of the Marines, part of the Naval Brigade and Seikhs, soon returned their fire, doing much execution among the enemy, especially the marines with the Minié rifles. We also opened fire with our guns, and a few shells well thrown, in two or three directions, checked the rebels for a time. I advanced the line a short distance, when the main body of the enemy rapidly moved to their right, to join a force previously in position, I strongly suspect, on our left, their aim apparently being to surround us with their numbers. I changed our front immediately to our left. During this time, a village on our left was steadily and gallantly held by Lieutenant Burlton, 40th Regiment Native Infantry, with the 50 Seikhs; and I sent two companies of the Ramdull Regiment of Goorkhas to reinforce him in holding that post, and, if possible, to capture a gun firing on our left. Lieutenant Burlton reports that Soobadar Himkumal Bushnia, 9th Company Ramdull Goorkhas, behaved very gallantly, constantly encouraging his men; and, in riding at one of the rebels who was attacking Lieutenant Burlton, inflicting fortunately only a cut through his turban and helmet, the soobadar was very severely wounded by a tulwar cut round the left hip, a Sikh then rushing up, cutting down, and killing the rebel. After changing ground to the left, I advanced the line towards the enemy, now and then allowing our guns to throw a shell or two. The enemy made a show of advancing a short distance, with about 50 sowars in their front. After advancing the line a short distance, two or three shells were beautifully pitched into the midst of this large body of foot and horsemen, at 900 or 1,000 yards distance, scattering them in all directions. I am sorry there was no opportunity to allow of the Goorkhas joining in a charge. The main body then moved rapidly to their left, as if to gain their old position in the topes and village. Our line was changed to the right. During the former advance and this movement, the rebel skirmishers were firing from heavy cover on us, from our right and right rear. I ordered the marines to skirmish and cover our right, and two companies of the Gorucknath Regiment, who were placed in reserve, to cover our right rear. The line and skirmishers advanced, firing a few rounds from our guns into the topes, and in the direction of the tank. The rebels seem to have had only a rear-guard, at this time, left at Sohumpore. The skirmishers rapidly advanced into the topes, which we found quite clear of the enemy. Three tents of Baboo Coer Singh's nephew, Hurkishen Singh, were here found all pitched, and a quantity of grain, &c. I ordered the tents to be burnt at once. We then moved to the right to get on the Mujhowlee-road, and continued our advance without delay to Mujhowlee, some six miles distant. Within about two miles of Mujhowlee we saw the rear of the rebels entering the place, and on nearing it I ordered the marines, and part of the Naval Brigade, and four companies of the Gorucknath Regiment, to push on rapidly after the Seikhs composing the advance guard, in the hopes of capturing their guns, crossing the deep ford of the Gunduk. I am happy to say one large iron six-pounder gun and limber complete, full of ammunition, was taken in the river. The Sikhs and some men of the Gorucknath Regiment, with Captain Koopurshad Singh Bushnia, were among the first down at the river in capturing the gun. The cultivation was so heavy, and we advanced on so quickly, it was difficult to ascertain the number of the rebels killed. Two other tumbrils—one full of ammunition, the other of powder—and two or three carts were also taken. The rebels, by all reports and appearances, were 1100 or 1200 sepoy, and between 4000 and 5000 other armed men. The Naib Nazim, Mushuruff Khan, was present in the action with his force, and also Alli Kur-reem, Moulvee of Patna, who was first reported to have been killed in the action, but now said to have got away the evening before. The Governor-General will be pleased to learn that this one day's work has completely cleared the district of this horde of marauding rebels, relieving the many villages of their plundering and oppression. The Rajah of Mujhowlee, and the people, gladly welcomed us, as did other people on the road. I had promised the Rajah I would soon relieve him. The Rajah states the rebels made sure of surrounding and destroying us as we were so few, and of being able to get into Chupra and to plunder the district. The Rajah also states that, with the sepoy, matchlock-men, sword and spear-men, the rebels were more than 6,000 or 7,000 strong. I do not think that the rebels had heard of the arrival of the second Goorkha Regiment, on the 25th December. I learn from the Mujhowlee Rajah, and other reports, that there must have been some 120 of the rebels killed, by the number of bodies since seen in their positions in the field. Besides many wounded, a few rebels were killed at the ford, and six in one boat. I am happy to say we have had few casualties. The gun and musket firing of the rebels was too high, their round shot and matchlock balls mostly passing over our heads, the round shot killing a Doolee bearer, and a villager, in our rear. A Goorkha private of the Gorucknath Regiment was wounded by a musket ball, and also one of the magistrate's sowars. It is a marvel none in the line were hit, for numbers of the round shot, &c., passed over or by us, tearing up the ground, and ricocheting, but without hitting any one. The action commenced about 10 A.M., and by half-past 1 P.M. we had dispersed and driven the rebels through the topes and village of Sohumpore, and followed them up and driven them out of Mujhowlee, and over the river Gunduk, by four P.M. The troops had a hard day's work, and went through their fatigue most cheerfully. I was myself in the saddle for ten hours, or would have written to you earlier; but I wrote and reported our advance, and successful attack, and complete operation, to Brigadier-General MacGregor, with Maharajah Jung Bahadur, the same evening express to Bettiah. We bivouacked for the night near the river, having marched without tents or baggage, except two or three tents for the men of the Naval Brigade, and a few hackeries for the ammunition, and to carry the Goorkhas and Sikhs in case of accidents during the action.

I marched again yesterday morning, 27th December, with a detachment of the Naval Brigade, two guns, and eight companies of Goorkhas—400 men—and the Seikhs, crossed the river, and moved through Selimpore, and about two miles beyond, to the house of one Narain Dial Canongoe, formerly an Assistant Collector, who had been forward in marauding and giving aid to the rebels. His house was blown up, burnt, and destroyed. We also moved to another village, to the house of one Sungram Lall, the nephew and toomandar of the above, and destroyed his house; but neither of the villages were injured. We returned to camp at half-past four P.M.

I need hardly say that the troops behaved, as British marines and seamen ever do, most excellently and gallantly. Captain Sotheby ever ready and present with the guns, and to afford me every assistance in the field. Captain Sotheby has paid great attention to the drill and training of the Naval Brigade for land service, and in quickly training the horses and ponies for the guns, horses for the large 12-pounder howitzer, and ponies for the three others, and the seamen to ride and act as gunners; and under Lieutenant Turnour, R.N., in charge of the artillery, they have had constant drill and training, and are now ready and steady for field service, and were in the action of the 26th December.

Lieutenant Grant, R.N., in charge of the Naval skirmishers, Lieutenant Turnour, R.N., in charge of the artillery, Lieutenant Radcliffe, R.N., in charge of the Naval column, and all the officers of the Naval Brigade, and those attached to the Goorkha regiments, zealously exerted themselves, and afforded me every assistance.

Lieutenant Pym, commanding the Royal Marines, especially, did good service with the Minie Rifles, and the orders I sent him were at once understood, and promptly acted on, while skirmishing.

Captains Weston, 36th Regiment Native Infantry, and Brooks, 1st Regiment Light Cavalry, respectively in military charge of the Ramdull and Gorucknath Goorkha Regiments, afforded me every aid in the management of those regiments; and Lieutenant Burlton, 40th Regiment Native Infantry, in charge of the Sikhs; and were ever ready for any duty and service ordered.

Captain Morgan, 22nd Regiment Native Infantry, Field Force Staff, the Honourable Mr. Montague, R.N., my acting aide-de-camp, and Mr. Lynch, Deputy Magistrate of Sawan, as also Mr. Nicholson, who acted as my aide-de-camp, afforded me every assistance in the field, and during the entire day.

Mr. Nicholson's son, Mr. Kenneth Nicholson, to whom I gave the charge of the rear guard company, baggage and camp followers, rendered me very useful service.

Major Captain Sree Bhuggut Khanka, commanding Ramdull Regiment, Captain Dercedass Opudiab, Ramdull Regiment, Captain Koolpurshad Sing Bushnial, commanding Gorucknath Regiment, and all the officers of the two Goorkha Regiments, were anxious and ready to render good service, and the men of both regiments were steady and willing in the field, and kept well to the front, with the European force.

I respectfully beg to recommend Captain Sotheby, Royal Navy, of Her Majesty's steam frigate Pearl, and all the civil, military, and naval officers, to the favourable notice of the Right Honourable the Governor-General.

I have reports that the rebels left their gun, which played on our left, behind them in some well or jungle at Sohunpore, and also the two guns, they are said to have crossed over the river, somewhere hidden beyond Selimpore. The rebels will feel the want of their guns and ordnance stores at Goruckpore, as they are said to be in want of ammunition.

On the evening of the 26th, I despatched a messenger to Myrwa, to move on the camp and baggage, which was carefully brought on to this place at 4 P.M. yesterday, under Lieutenant Hamilton, 8th Regiment Native Infantry, doing duty with the Naval Brigade.

I have ordered a bridge of boats to be got ready to cross the river to-morrow, to facilitate the movement over of the numerous hackeries, the only carriage we have, to be ready to move and act according to reports brought in, and probable orders from Brigadier-General MacGregor to co-operate with the Maharajah's Nepaulese army.

A few sepoy and rebels were brought in prisoners, during yesterday. They will be duly and speedily disposed of. Proclamations have been sent out to the villagers to capture all rebels, and offering rewards.

I have, &c.,

SIR,

No. 32A.

BY direction of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, I have the honour to enclose, for the information of the Governor-General in Council, the accompanying copy of a report from Captain H. Boisragon, detailing the particulars of a very successful attack made upon certain insurgents at Khunkul, in the Saharunpore district.

I have, &c.,

Assistant-Adjutant-General of the Army.

No. 6.

Captain H. Boisragon, District Staff Officer, to Lieutenant-Colonel R. Baird Smith, Commanding Districts of Saharunpore and Mozuffurnugger at Roorkee.

SIR,

Camp, Myapore, January 11, 1858.

I HAVE the honour to acquaint you that, from 2 to 7 P.M., on the 8th instant, reports came into Roorkie, from all parts of the district, that a large force (headed by the Nawab of Nujeehabad) of the enemy had crossed the river Ganges, fallen upon the towns of Kunkul, Jawalapore, and Hurdwar; destroyed the Government property at Myapore; seized upon the horses of the cavalry picquet; taken prisoner and carried off Mr. Dubrass, the telegraph signaller; proclaimed these districts as having been conquered by the aforesaid Nawab; and the last petition from the Thanadar of Jawalapore to the Tassildar of Roorkie was to the effect that the advance guard of the enemy had got as far as Bhudurabad, and that they were about to march on Roorkie. I was therefore directed by Captain Reed, commanding at Roorkie, to request Lieutenant Boisragon, commanding at Munglour, to proceed immediately with a portion of his detachment* towards Myapore; this order he received at about half-past 8 P.M., on the 8th instant, and at 9 A.M. the next morning his detachment had reached Myapore, a distance of 24 miles, across, to say the least, a very indifferent roadway for guns. This proves what can be done by good and willing soldiers, and I am certain that the above circumstance will afford you satisfaction.

Immediately on my arrival here, at 8 A.M., on the 9th instant, I proceeded (accompanied by Captain H. Drummond, Engineers; Lieutenant Thomason, Engineers; and Mr. Melville, of the Civil Service, with three or four sowars) in quest of the position of the enemy. After patrolling down the bank for two or three miles, we suddenly came upon their encampment, pitched within a few feet of the water, opposite to the ford of Unjinie (a distance of about three miles in direct line from Kunkul), but, owing to the nature of the country, we could not see more than a few yards from the bank. I perceived, however, that they were in considerable force (I should say about 500 men), and from the fact of their having fired a three or six-pounder at us, we ascertained of their being in possession of guns; having gained all the necessary information, we leisurely retired under a very slight discharge of musketry. The only damage done at this place (but nowhere else) is the destruction of the Government bungalow (built by Sir P. Cautley), and the chowkie of the cavalry picquet by fire, and the carrying off of the aforesaid signaller, Moolla Mehistu of the canal works, five sowars with their horses, and a dozen bildars; the telegraph wire was also cut, and a portion of it carried away, but this was immediately rectified by establishing an office at Jawalapore.

Yesterday, about 2 P.M., information was brought me by Shewpersad, native agent, belonging to the canal department (whom I beg to recommend very favourably to you, as he was the only man who brought any intimation), that the enemy were crossing in a very large force with guns, and that a great number of them had established themselves on the south of Kunkul, which they were about to enter. I immediately made the following preparation:—A guard† was left for the protection of the camp, under Mr. Phillips of the canal department, whom I instructed also to watch the ford and down opposite the Myapore Bridge, and give me immediate information if the enemy endeavoured to turn my left; and, with the rest of the detachment, I marched straight through the main street of Kunkul, and arrived at its south side just in time to prevent their effecting an entrance into it. The following was the disposition of the detachment—the Nusuree battalion and Sikhs, under Lieutenant F. Boisragon (with the latter men Mr. Melville of the Civil Service kindly volunteered his services); the guns under Lieutenant St. George, of the Artillery. Lieutenant Thomason, Engineers, at my requisition, very kindly took charge of the cavalry. Captain H. Drummond, Engineers, was watching the movements of the enemy from the dam, which (at my request) he opened at a most opportune moment, effectually cutting off their retreat, but which at the same time prevented our following them up. Before the firing commenced, Captain Drummond joined, and continued with me during the whole of the affair, and I am much indebted to him for his excellent advice.

Before the affair commenced, I was compelled to detach cavalry and infantry in several quarters, to prevent the enemy from getting to my right, left, or rear; besides, I had to advance very cautiously, as, from very good information, I learnt that the towns of Hurdwar, Kunkul, and Jawalapore, were in collusion with the rebels; I therefore commenced the fight with the numbers as per margin.* I forward a plan of the ground (drawn out by Captain Drummond) which will give you an idea of what was done.

It was evidently the object of the enemy to reach Jawalapore. I therefore threw myself between it and Kunkul; the guns were posted between that town and a large native building. Lieutenant T. Boisragon charged with his Ghoorkas; took them in flank, and drove them into the river, whilst the Seiks charged in front into their position amidst the tombstones, which was carried in a few seconds, whilst the guns (on our left flank) poured grape into the enemy as they retreated across the river; several of the officers killed men with their own weapons, and the nephew, I believe, of the Nawab was shot dead by Lieutenant T. Boisragon, and I am given to understand that the Nawab himself was wounded by some one of our party. The affair lasted about half an hour; the cavalry led by Lieutenant Thomason and Mr. Melville cut up the enemy, who took down our right bank. I should say the enemy were 1000 strong, (they also had 2 guns), of which, killed, wounded, and drowned, they must have lost certainly 100. We obtained a quantity of swords, muskets, and other native weapons, also some ammunition. Our guns were capitally served under the superintendence of Lieutenant St. George, of Artillery. I am glad to report that we had not a single man wounded.

Where every officer and man (European and Native) performed his duty well and cheerfully, it would be invidious, nay, impossible, to particularize. I am indebted to one and all, and I trust you will be pleased and express your approbation of their conduct.

I forgot to state before that, at Roorkie, Lieutenant T. Boisragon's party was increased by 10 Europeans from the Thomason College, and there was a further increase of 20 men of the 1st Punjab Cavalry at Kunkul.

We have also taken 15 horses.

* 8 Europeans, 30 Ghoorkas, 30 Seiks, 2 guns, and 16 men of the 3rd Punjab Cavalry.

* 50 Ghoorkas, 50 Sikhs, and two 6-pounder guns, under Lieutenant St. George, of Artillery.

† 8 Ghoorkas, 8 Sikhs, and 5 sowars of 1st Punjab Cavalry.

SIR, (No. 9.)

IN continuation of my letter to your address, No. 1, dated the 6th instant, I have the honour to transmit, for submission to the government of India and his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, a despatch, in original, from the Officiating Commandant Sylhet Light Infantry Battalion, dated the 13th instant, reporting the particulars of an engagement he had fought on the preceding day with the remaining mutineers of the 34th Native Infantry, in which the latter would appear to have sustained considerable loss and been driven into the heavy jungles.

2. Captain Stevens reports the spirited conduct of Lieutenants Ross and Buist, commanding separate detachments, as well as of the valuable assistance he received from Dr. Shircore, his medical officer, and superintending the intelligence department.

3. Captain Stevens likewise highly commends the behaviour of all the native commissioned, non-commissioned officers and Sepoys who composed the force under his command.

4. I beg leave to recommend the excellent conduct of all ranks to the favourable notice of Government and the Commander-in-Chief.

SIR,

I DO myself the honour to report, for the information of Major-General Sir J. B. Hearsey, K.C.B., Commanding the Residency Division, that the 34th mutineers were attacked and dispersed by the force under my command, yesterday, the 12th instant, with a loss of 17 killed, 3 shot dead by drum-head court-martial, and several wounded; the loss on my side being 2 killed and 1 wounded. I would beg to state, at the commencement of the action, the battalion under my command was separated into three detachments, respectively, under command of myself, Lieutenant Ross, and Lieutenant Buist. I was encamped at Luckipore, on the north bank of the river Barah; Lieutenant Ross had just returned after a long and tedious night march from detached duty at Tenee, when I immediately ordered him to the south bank. Lieutenant Buist had previously left with 50 men (proceeding along the north bank) to strengthen the detachment at Cachar; and, after proceeding a little distance, his rear guard was fired on from across the river; intimation had thus reached me of the position of the mutineers, who were posted in several villages on the south side of the river, numbering 100 men, and who had been joined by several Munipoorie Punies with their followers, intending to cross over to Luckipore, plunder that place, be joined by several others and march on to Munipore. Such was their intention, but I am glad to say their object was most signally defeated. Lieutenant Ross's detachment, immediately on crossing, marched up to where they were in position, myself crossing with my men almost opposite them. Lieutenant Ross commenced attacking them in a most spirited manner; shortly the whole force was engaged, and they were driven, after a spirited action of one hour and a half, from their position, and dispersing, took refuge in the jungles. I immediately ordered a pursuit in several directions, but such was the nature of the ground, &c., we did not come across any of them. This affair seems to have had a most signal effect; it has been the means of completely cowing the Munipoories, who have, I am told, left the mutineers to their fate. Whether the latter will again concentrate, remains to be seen.

2. I would beg especially to bring to the notice of the Major-General the conduct of Lieutenants Ross and Buist; of the former officer especially, who was first engaged with the mutineers.

3. It also affords me infinite pleasure in stating the conduct of all ranks was all I could wish; but one spirit pervades the whole body.

4. I am also much indebted to Assistant-Surgeon Shircore, attached to my force as Medical Officer and Superintendent Intelligence Department. This officer was foremost in the action and greatly assisted me.

I have, &c.,

SIR, (No. 1.)

I HAVE the honour to forward herewith, for submission to the Government of India and his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the accompanying copy of an official despatch from Lieutenant Sherer, Adjutant, and commanding the head-quarters of the Sylhet Light Infantry in the field, dated the 19th ultimo, reporting the particulars of an engagement fought on the previous day by a detachment of that battalion with the 3 companies of the 34th Regiment Native Infantry, which mutinied at Chittagong on the 18th November last, and which action ended in the total defeat and rout of the rebels.

2. I beg leave to express my high satisfaction with the great exertions made by all ranks of this small detachment to come up with, and attack, these mutineers; also with their gallantry and good conduct during the combat, and I would particularly instance Jemadar Gunga Ram Bist, as one who has greatly distinguished himself for zeal, courage, and fidelity to the State.

3. It likewise affords me much pleasure to bring under the favourable notice of Government the bold and spirited behaviour of Mr. Dodd, the Executive Engineer, who volunteered his valuable services in the Intelligence Department, and of Lieutenant Sherer, who succeeded to the command of the detachment on the lamented decease of Major the Hon. Robert Palmer Byng, who nobly fell in the gallant discharge of his public duty.

No. 11.

Lieutenant J. T. Sherer, Adjutant and Commanding Head-Quarters Sylhet Light Infantry in the Field, to W. J. Allen, Esq., Officiating Member of the Board of Revenue, on Deputation, Sylhet.

SIR,

Latoo, December 19, 1857.

OWING to the lamented decease of Major the Honourable R. Byng, late Commandant of this regiment, the duty has devolved upon me of reporting to you, for the information of Government, the particulars of a very sharp and spirited action that took place here at 7 A.M. yesterday morning, between the detachment under my command and the three mutineer companies of the 34th Native Infantry, ending in the total defeat and rout of the rebels.

Before entering into details, I would take the liberty of giving a slight sketch of the movements of our detachment, from the time it quitted Sylhet on the morning of the 15th instant, up to 7 A.M. of the 18th instant.

Satisfactory information having been received that the mutineers were proceeding in the direction of Pertabgurh, the head-quarters of this regiment, marched out for that place on the morning of the 15th instant, numbering 213, of all ranks and grades, under command of the late Major the Honourable R. Byng, and accompanied by G. N. Dodd, Esquire, the Executive Engineer, who volunteered his valuable services in the Intelligence Department.

The distance of about eighty miles from Sylhet to Pertabgurh was accomplished by forced marches within thirty-six hours.

Very early on the morning of the 17th instant, Mr. G. N. Dodd rode a-head in the direction of Hinzaco, to ascertain the exact route of the rebels. About 3 P.M. he returned, stating that he had received authentic information that the mutineers had changed their direction, were skirting the western side of the hills, and expected to reach Latoo either that night or the following morning.

Upon receipt of this intelligence, orders were issued for the detachment to be ready at 5½ P.M. to make a forced march back upon Latoo.

The distance was about 28 miles through a most rugged tract of country, consisting of hills, dense jungle, and swamps.

The men, already tired from their previous forced marches, hailed the order with delight.

The march was a long, tedious, and most fatiguing one, more particularly as it was made during the night. Owing to the darkness and the denseness of the jungle, the main body of the column unfortunately missed its road about 2½ A.M., and did not succeed in rejoining the leading portion until 4½ A.M. Mr. G. N. Dodd had during the night again ridden a head to ascertain the exact movements of the rebels.

The morning of the 18th had but just dawned when our advancing column met Mr. Dodd about half a mile from the village of Latoo. He reported that the enemy had bivouacked the night before at a village about five miles distant, but were now en route to Latoo, and might be expected there in another hour. We immediately pushed on, and had hardly time to enter and form up in line in the Latoo Bazaar, when a Munipooree who had remained behind to watch the rebels by Mr. Dodd's order, reported that they were close at hand.

Our men at once loaded and prepared for action.

Owing to the Sepoys who had been left behind as rear-guard, we did not at this time muster more than 155 men, of whom one-half were Hindostanees, the remainder being a mixed class of Goorkhas, Munipoorees, and Assamese.

The enemy were now observed advancing about 250 yards off, in good marching order and in column of sections, headed by their native officer on a pony.

Major the Honourable R. Byng directed me to advance with one company, consisting of twenty file of men a second company was directed to support my movements, while the Major brought up the two reserve companies, with the colours.

I immediately took up a position with my company about fifty yards outside the village, behind a belt of jungle close to the road, and out of view of the rebels.

When the enemy had advanced to within 80 yards, I drew my men to the front, and was received by a volley of musketry, which luckily did no harm. I immediately replied to the fire, and charged the rebels at once at the point of the bayonet, most ably supported by the 2nd Company, headed by Mr. G. N. Dodd.

The promptness of the charge staggered the rebels; they broke and fled in disorder into some dense jungle on our left; upon this I changed my front, and drove them right through the jungle, from hillock to hillock, again most ably supported by the 2nd Company, headed by Mr. Dodd; after advancing about 50 yards, as the jungle was getting more dense at each step, I halted, placing my men under cover, as I did not deem it advisable to proceed further, the enemy having succeeded in taking up a very strong position on a hill about 80 yards to my front.

The above did not occupy above five minutes, nor had the rear column, under our respected and lamented Commandant, been idle, but had kept up a very sharp and galling flanking fire on the rebels when they first became disordered.

I had but just taken up my advanced position in the jungle, when the Major came up with the colours and the reserve. He stood in a most conspicuous spot, right in the line of fire of the enemy, cheering our gallant little band, when a shot struck him in the groin, and he died within the next five minutes.

The enemy must have seen him fall from their elevated and commanding position, for they at once set up a shout of triumph, and their fire became much more brisk and galling.

They also now did their best to induce our men to swerve from their allegiance, calling on them by the ties of caste, brotherhood, and religion, to come over and join them as it was a common cause,—that the Government were going to force the Hindoos to eat beef and the Mussulman pork, and destroy their caste.

The above was repeated over and over again, but ineffectually; not a man stirred, but replied by a steady continuous fire.

The conduct of all grades, and especially the Hindoostanees, at this trying period cannot be overvalued. They vied with each other in doing their utmost to show that there were still some good and loyal servants left, who would never basely and treacherously desert and abandon the colours they had sworn to protect.

After a continuous firing had been kept up for a good hour and a half, we succeeded, I am proud to be able to add, in dislodging the rebels from their commanding position.

They retired in great confusion on the loss of their senior native officer, who was shot through the head, and carrying off as many of their wounded as they could with them, made off towards the south, right through the dense jungle as fast as they could. Owing to the worn-out and fatigued state of my men, I was quite unable to follow up and pursue them.

We counted 26 of their bodies left dead on the field. I succeeded in capturing about 2,300 rupees in cash, 18 stands of arms and accoutrements, besides a large quantity of brass cooking pots, &c., &c.

During the afternoon a rebel havildar, by name Ram Deen, was found concealed in the neighbouring jungle and brought in. I immediately tried him by Drum-Head Court Martial, and shot him on the spot. The Hindoostanees of my detachment crowded round me, and on my asking them if that was the death a mutineer deserved, every man, with his hand upon his heart, exclaimed "Yes! and may the same just fate await us if we ever betray our trust and forsake our colours."

In the above lengthy and, I fear, imperfect manner, I have hurriedly endeavoured to describe all particulars as they occurred, and such as they are, I trust they will be graciously received. In conclusion, I cannot but express my earnest heart-felt gratification at the entire tone and bearing of one and all the men during the above action.

Under most trying and difficult circumstances, they nobly vied with each other in doing their duty, and the result will be marked by the effect this decisive blow will have on the remaining body of rebels, who I hear are sadly discomfited, and having thrown away or lost all their baggage, are seeking safety in flight alone.

I would beg to take this opportunity of bringing the valuable services of Mr. G. N. Dodd to special and prominent notice.

It was entirely owing to the untiring energy, zeal and unsurpassed activity shown by this gentleman that the Government are indebted for our good fortune in meeting the rebels as we did.

His services were equally marked throughout the action; his personal bravery and daring were the theme and admiration of all the men.

Assistant-Surgeon T. Dillon afforded all the aid and attention in his power to the sick and wounded, and was constantly exposed to the hottest parts of the fire.

I beg further to bring to notice the gallant conduct of Jemadar Gung Ram Bist.

This native officer was conspicuous throughout the fight in directing the fire of our men to the points where it would prove most effectual, pointing out positions to our men as they fired off his shoulder; he himself having the gratification subsequently of shooting the senior subadar of the rebels through the head, which tended in no little measure to hasten the result of the action; lastly, I would touch upon the sincere unalloyed sympathy depicted on the countenances of all the men, when our respected and much loved Commandant received his death wound. They felt as they themselves told me, that in losing him they had not only lost a good, kind, though strict Commanding Officer, but also their friend and protector, one who ever had a ready willing ear to listen to all their wants and desires.

In truth I feel I cannot do sufficient justice to these men for their noble conduct throughout, under peculiarly trying and harassing circumstances.

The Hindoostanee sepoys crowded round me this morning, saying they hoped that any suspicion, however slight, we may have entertained in our minds regarding the conduct they themselves would pursue in consequence of the dark foul deeds committed by their brethren in the north-west, would be now fully and effectually erased, after the indubitable proof they had given of their own loyalty and fealty to the state.

NOTIFICATION.

THE Right Honourable the Governor-General has much satisfaction in publishing the following report of the defeat of a large body of the rebels by a division of the Goorkha Force, at Shahgunge, on the 5th instant.

To Brigadiers Run Sing and Jodabeer Adhikaree, and all the officers and men of the division, and to Captain Flowden, and the other British officers, who were present, the Right Honourable the Governor-General offers his cordial acknowledgments of their praiseworthy conduct on this occasion.

By order, &c.,

G. T. EDMONSTONE,
Secretary to the Government of India,
with the Governor-General.

No. 14.

Brigadier-General G. H. Macgregor, C.B., Military Commissioner, to the Secretary to the Government of India.

Foreign Department, Allahabad, Camp Goruckpore, February 7, 1858.

SIR,

No. 146.

IN continuation of my letter, No. 139, of the 5th instant, I have the honour to report for the information of the Right Honourable the Governor-General in Council, that, after pushing forward the 2nd Brigade to Belwa Bazar, in support of the leading one, as the enemy was showing a boldness and insolence likely to prove troublesome, Captain Plowden, whom I had entrusted with discretionary power, and whose advice the Maharajah had directed his officers to follow, resolved to move out and attack the enemy at Shahgunge.

2. I have the honour to enclose Captain Plowden's account of the very creditable affair which ensued, and which his Lordship in Council will observe was successful, but not decisive, as far as the destruction of the enemy's force or the capture of his guns was concerned, owing to our want of Cavalry and the inability of the Goorkhas to overtake the flying enemy. It is to be hoped, however, that the lesson given the enemy, despite his superiority of numbers, may break up the motley force which threatened the Goruckpore district on the advance of the Maharajah into Oude.

3. I would call the particular attention of his Lordship in Council to that part of Captain Plowden's despatch in which he makes honourable mention of the Goorkha Brigadiers Run Sing and Jodebeer Adhikaree, who displayed great coolness and courage, and a generous confidence in Captain Plowden's advice. Also the zealous ability of the Nepalese Artillery officers, especially of Colonel Insdheer Singh, Major Jugbeer Kunwur, and Captains Indra Beer Lama and Maun Bahadoor. The effective way in which these officers handled their guns decided the day before the Infantry could close.

4. It is also my pleasing duty to bring to the notice of his Lordship in Council the services of Captain Plowden, whose plan of action was well conceived and ably carried out. He appears to have done all he could with the means at his disposal. Captains Mac Neill and Holland, of the Artillery, and Lieutenants Forte and Cory, of the Infantry, and Messrs. Brereton and Forbes of the Civil Service, rendered good service, and merit my thanks.

I have, &c.,

G. H. MACGREGOR, Brigadier-General, and Military Commander, Camp.

No. 15.

Captain Plowden to Captain MacAndrew, Secretary to the Military Commander.

SIR,

*Camp Belwa Ghat,
February 6, 1858.*

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of Brigadier-General MacGregor, C.B., particulars of an attack made upon the enemy yesterday by a Division of the Goorkha Force under my charge, and which, I am happy to say, resulted in the dispersion of his force, which amounted to not less than 10,000 men, with 8 or 10 guns.

The enemy having had the boldness to take up a position within three miles of our camp, and seize our camp followers, I deemed it necessary to attack him.

Having made the necessary arrangements for the protection of our camp, during our absence, I marched, yesterday morning, with the force named in the margin,* towards the enemy's position, at Shahgunge. On arriving within a mile of the latter place, I observed the enemy in great force occupying a space of two miles in length. I here gave directions for the force to deploy; five regiments in line, and one in either flank in reserve, in open column of companies, to provide against an attack from the right or left. Four guns were placed in the centre, and three on each flank; in this order we advanced for nearly half a mile, covered by skirmishers, the enemy simultaneously advanced to meet us, at the same time filing off in masses to our right and left, believing that he might possibly attack our flanks and rear. I halted the line, when he approached within 500 yards. Captain Macneill opened his battery on his right, with most accurate precision, the shells bursting immediately over the rebels, causing them at once to make a rapid retreat, and seek shelter in villages on their right and left; they were soon driven out of these by the well directed fire of the batteries under the superintendence of Captains Macneill and Holland—a shell from the former having set one of the villages on fire. After this the force continued its advance as far as the village of Shahgunge, driving the rebels before it, who retreated with such rapidity that they were in a short time out of gun range.

During the whole of our advance, we were threatened on both flanks by large bodies of sowars and infantry. Our left was within a short distance of the river, and opposite to the town of Adjodeah, from which place preparations were making for reinforcing the rebels with guns and cavalry. Knowing this to be the case, I was obliged to be cautious in advancing, and the enemy was enabled to make off with his guns, which, however, during the latter part of the action, were never brought nearer to us than 1000 yards. In his retreat, the enemy abandoned the limber of a light field piece with ammunition, and which was brought into camp. I was much struck with the steady advance of our line over a most unfavourable country, having to pass a succession of villages, surrounded by fields in an advanced state of cultivation, which much impeded the rapidity of our progress. Our casualties were trifling—I killed and 1 wounded, while that of the enemy was not less than 50; some of the killed and wounded they carried off. Amongst the latter was Banie Sing, one of their chiefs. In conclusion I have to record the services of Brigadier Run Sing and Jodebeer Adhikaree, who both displayed great coolness and courage and generous confidence in my advice. Captains Macneill and Holland have brought to my notice the deserving conduct of Colonel Insdheer Singh, Major Jugbeer Kunwur and Captains Indra Beer Lama and Maun Bahadoor of the artillery. I also beg to recognize the meritorious services of the several colonels, commanding the different infantry regiments, while the conduct of the officers, non-commissioned officers, and men of all branches deserve their high reputation for courage, and merit the gracious approbation of his Highness the Maharajah. My best thanks are due to the European officers attached to this force, for the support I received from one and all in the field. I beg to mention for favourable notice, Captain Macneill, who had charge of the artillery, Captain Holland in charge of Brigadier Jodebeer Adhikaree's Brigade, and who also superintended the battery on the left. The precision with which the guns were fired elicited the admiration of all. My special thanks are due to Lieutenant Forte, who, besides attending to the duties of Run Sing's Brigade, displayed great activity during the day, and afforded me much assistance in conveying messages.

Lieutenant Cory also did good service with the brigade to which he was attached.

Surgeons McClelland and Chalmers and Assistant-Surgeon Gee accompanied the force.

* 3 light field howitzers, 2 light field guns, Artillery; 7 regiments Infantry; total aggregate of Force, 3,200.

I cannot conclude without offering my best thanks to Messrs. Brereton and Forbes of the Civil Service, who accompanied me in the field and rendered valuable assistance. The former with his sowars reconnoitred in every direction where danger was apprehended, and brought me information of the approach of the enemy on our flanks. Mr. Forbes was active in conveying messages. Mr. Brereton's sowars have done excellent service, having been employed night and day in patrolling and watching the ghats, and have been constantly under fire.

Annexed is the report from Captain Macneill in charge of the artillery attached to this division.

I have, &c.,

A. C. PLOWDEN, Captain, in Military Charge of a Division of the Goorkha Force.

No. 16.

Captain Macneill to Captain A. Plowden, in Military Charge of a Division of the Goorkha Force.

Camp Belwa, February 6, 1858

SIR,

1. I HAVE the honour to submit, for your consideration, the following details of the part taken in the affair of yesterday, by the Nepalese Batteries attached to this division of the Goorkha Force.

2. In conformity with your plan of attack, submitted on the night of the 4th instant for the approval of Brigadier Run Singh, and so successfully carried out on the following morning, I beg to state that, 2 guns having been left behind for the protection of the camp, the remaining 10 accompanied your force, of which a battery of 3 guns were posted in advance of each wing of the infantry line, while a battery of 4 guns covered the advance of the centre.

3. By this disposition, both our flanks were secured from the attempt of a numerous cavalry to gain our rear, while a very heavy converging fire was available to break the enemy's centre.

4. Our guns first opened fire at a distance of about 4 or 500 yards, but the rapid retreat of the rebels only permitted them in a second advance to come into action, when about 800 or 900 yards distant from their opponents.

5. I observed with great satisfaction the precision and effect of the fire of the Nepalese Artillery, as also the zealous ability of their officers, especially of Colonel Insdheer Sing, Major Jug-beer Kunwur, and Captain Indra Beer Lama and Maun Bahadoor.

I have, &c.,

D. MACNEILL, Captain, Bengal Artillery.
