No. 1.

NOTIFICATION.

Camp Allahabad, February 22, 1858.

No. 150.

THE Right Honorable the Governor-General has been pleased to direct that the following letters from Lieutenant-Colonel Hinde, commanding the Rewah and Nagode Forces, and from Lieutenant Osborne, Political Agent at Rewah, reporting the operations of the troops under the command of the former officer, be published for general information.

His Lordship considers, that the excellent services rendered by Lieutenant-Colonel Hinde and Lieutenant Osborne, and by the several sirdars and men of the Forces belonging to the Rajahs of Rewah and Nagode, are deserving of the high commendation of the Government of India.

By order of the Right Honorable the Governor-General of India,

E. F. EDMONSTONE,

Secretary to the Government of India,
with the Governor-General.

No. 2.

Lieutenant-Colonel Hinde, commanding Rewah Forces, to Colonel Birch, C.B., Military Secretary of Government.

*Camp Bijawurghur,
February 10, 1858.*

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of Government, that, in obedience to Captain Osborne, the Political Agent's orders, I left Rewah, with the levies under my command, on the 14th of December, to open the Jubulpore road, and to attack the enemy's forts on the way.

In conjunction with His Highness the Maharajah of Rewah's troops, together with the Nagode Rajah, I have much pleasure in informing the Government that we took the forts of Kun-chunpore, Goorah, Myhere, Jokai, Khunwara, and Bijawurghur.

We captured two standards,

Forty-two pieces of ordnance and a quantity of Government muskets, with large stores of grain and ammunition, and very many prisoners, amongst whom are many sirdars of note.

I take this opportunity of recording my sincere thanks to Lieutenant Matthian, my second in command, who has rendered me much valuable assistance throughout the campaign, and especially for the gallant manner in which he, in several instances, kept down the enemy's fire by a well directed fire of rifles and musketry.

My best thanks are also due to Mr. Kirke, my Interpreter, for his assistance afforded me.

I have, &c.,

CHARLES HINDE, Lieut.-Colonel,
Commanding Rewah Force.

No. 3.

The Political Agent Rewah to Colonel Birch, C.B., Military Secretary to the Government of India.

Camp Johye, February 12, 1858.

SIR,

No. 174.

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of the Government, that I purpose marching the Rewah troops back to their own territory; the objects for which they were required have been attained.

The force consists of Rewah and Nagode troops, without any discipline, and badly equipped, and the Rewah levies under Colonel Hinde also badly armed. The troops went into camp on the 14th of November, but owing to want of system and the delays consequent on any move in a native state, hardly any thing was done till the 14th of December, since which time six forts, 40 guns, two mortars, and two standards have been captured. The Deccan road has been opened, dauk and police chowkees have been re-established; order restored in the Myhere territory; the Bijanaghoghur territory annexed, telseedaw and police appointed in it; and 101 prisoners taken have been sentenced to death, and forwarded to the nearest military out-post to be executed.

I cannot speak too highly of the services rendered by Colonel Hinde and his officers. The discipline, coolness under fire, cheerfulness and zeal of the men, and their admirable artillery practice, reflect the greatest credit on Colonel Hinde and his officers. They led the way on every occasion, and their battery was always the most advanced. Lieutenant Mathias, with his Enfield rifle and his skirmishers, was of great service, frequently preventing the enemy working his guns.

Among the Rajah's sirdars Dinbund Pandey, in chief command Rewah troops; Lullail Sing, &c., Sewgobind Pandey, in chief command Nagode troops; Davy Sing, Bissesshur Sing, have distinguished themselves.

Dinbund Pandey I have found active and zealous, always leading his men, and he has done his work well, though he had many difficulties to overcome, which have been thrown in his way by the unruly Sirdars.

Lullail Sing and Sewgobind Pandey have given me satisfaction, and have invariably been willing and zealous.

Davy Sing. This sirdar was instrumental in saving the life of one of the officers or myself, as a prisoner behind us, who had contrived to conceal a sword, made a cut which was fortunately warded off by this sirdar, whose sword however unfortunately broke, and he was severely wounded on the head.

Bissesshur Sing. This sirdar has been with me since the outbreak in October, remaining constantly by me. I have found him of great service.

My best thanks are due to Colonel Hinde; being in a bad state of health, and his every zeal and activity have been of the greatest assistance to me.

I have, &c.

W. OSBORNE, Political Agent.

And that as respects certain of the said places in the said schedules respectively mentioned such transmission might also be by the routes mentioned against such places in such schedules respectively; and that the single rate of postage for the transmission thereof respectively should be that which was mentioned and set forth against the said places respectively in the said Schedules A and B. And that all such respective packets so transmitted should be subject to the several progressive and additional rates of postage therein mentioned; and that after the terms "books, publications, or works of literature or art," in the said now reciting Warrant used should, for the purposes of the said now reciting Warrant, mean and comprise all such articles as in their general character were either literary, or consisted of printed, written, engraved or lithographed matter (although not strictly literary), including books (whether printed, written or plain), publications or compilations (whether in print or in manuscript), almanacks, printed or lithographed letters, and such artistic productions as prints, maps (whether on paper or canvas or cloth, and whether printed or written), and photographs when not on glass, or in frames containing glass and any description of paper, parchment, or vellum (whether printed, lithographed, written upon or plain, or any mixture of the four), together with any binding, mounting, or covering of or upon or belonging to any such article or production, or any portion thereof, or of or belonging to any paper, parchment, or vellum, and including also any cases or rollers of prints or maps, book-markers (whether of paper or otherwise), pencils, pens, or other thing usually appertaining to any such article or production, paper, parchment, or vellum, or necessary for its safe transmission, which should be sent in the same packet with any such article or production to which they or it should belong. Provided, nevertheless, that nothing in the said now reciting Warrant contained should extend to authorise the sending by the post, under the provisions of that Warrant, of any patterns, or books of patterns, or papers of patterns, of any article or thing whatsoever. And that the single rate of postage for the transmission of such packets should be that which was mentioned and set forth against such respective countries and places in the said schedule A; and that all such respective packets so transmitted and chargeable with postage under that clause should be subject to the several progressive and additional rates of postage therein-after mentioned. Provided, nevertheless, that nothing in the said now reciting Warrant contained should extend to authorise the sending by the post under the provisions of that Warrant, of any patterns or books of patterns, or papers of patterns of any article or thing whatsoever, unless such patterns consisted merely of paper. And that the Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury might, by Warrant under their hands or the hands of any two of them, at any time thereafter alter, repeal, or revoke any of the rates of postage thereby fixed or altered, or any of the orders, directions, regulations, and conditions thereby made, and might make and establish any new or other rates, orders, directions, regulations, and conditions in lieu thereof.

And whereas the authorities of the French Post Office have lately consented to permit packets consisting of books, publications, or works of literature or art, and packets consisting of printed votes and proceedings of the Imperial Parliament or the Colonial Legislatures, which may be transmitted by the post under and by virtue of the said recited Warrant of the 21st day of July, 1857, to be sent through France, when sent in closed mails; and have also consented to permit such books, publications, or works of literature or art, as may be transmitted by the post under or by virtue of the said recited Warrant of the 21st day of July, 1857, when posted in any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the first column of the Schedule A to the said recited Warrant of the 15th day of January, 1858, annexed, addressed to any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the second column of the said Schedule A, and also when posted in the United Kingdom addressed to any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the first column of the Schedule B to the said recited Warrant of the 15th day of January, 1858, annexed, to be transmitted by the post to the several countries and places to which they shall be so respectively addressed through France when sent in closed mails; and it is expedient to alter the regulations contained in the said two recited Warrants of the 21st day of July, 1857, and the 15th day of January, 1858, respectively, for that purpose, and to make other regulations accordingly in the manner hereinafter mentioned.

Now we, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the powers reserved to us in and by the said several hereinbefore recited Acts and every of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do, by this Warrant under the hands of two of us the said Commissioners (by the authority of the Statute in that case made and provided) order, direct, and declare as follows; that is to say:

And whereas further powers are given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury by another Act of Parliament, passed in the eleventh year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regu-

And whereas certain powers are also given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury by another Act of Parliament, passed in the eighteenth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend the laws relating to the stamp duties on newspapers, and to provide for the transmission by post of printed periodical publications."

And whereas the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, by a certain Warrant in writing under their hands, bearing date the 8th day of March, 1849, did, amongst other things, order and direct, that on every letter not exceeding half an ounce in weight, transmitted by British packet-boat between a port in the United Kingdom and a port in the United States, there should be charged and taken for the sea conveyance thereof, in lieu of any rates of British postage then payable by law on such respective letters, the uniform British packet rate therein mentioned; and that on every letter not exceeding half an ounce in weight posted at the port of departure of the packet conveying the same, or at any other part of the United Kingdom, and transmitted to the United States, or transmitted from the United States, addressed to the port of arrival of the packet conveying the same, or to any other part of the United Kingdom (whether conveyed by British or United States packet-boats), there should be charged and taken for the conveyance of every such letter within the United Kingdom, in lieu of any rates of British postage then payable by law on such respective letters, an inland rate of British postage of one penny half-penny in addition to the British packet rate therein mentioned on letters transmitted by British packet-boats, between the United Kingdom and the United States, and in addition to any foreign rate of postage charged or chargeable on letters transmitted by the United States packet-boats between the United Kingdom and the United States.
