FUTTEHPOOR.
Robert Tudor Tucker, Esquire	Civil and Sessions Judge of Futtehpoor	Futtehpoor	1857 June 10	The Europeans were all obliged to leave Futtehpoor, on night of 9th June, in consequence of the disorganized state of the district, and the near approach of mutinous troops, &c. Mr. Tucker positively refused to accompany them, and was therefore the following day the only European left in the station. The jail was broken and the treasury plundered at about 9 a.m., and an attack was made in the afternoon by a number of fanatic Mussulmans (headed by one Syud Mohumud Hosseen) on Mr. Tucker. Mr. Tucker took refuge on the roof of his cutcherry, and was able for some time to keep off his assailants: they however, eventually, set fire to the building, and under cover of the smoke, &c. succeeded in mounting the roof and despatching their victim.
Mr. J. R. Collins and his wife (name unknown)	Inspecting Postmaster of the Cawnpore Division	Hata Pergunneh Suppehjar.		It appears that Mr. and Mrs. Collins left Cawnpore in the early part of June. They intended proceeding to Banda, and had reached Khujwa, when they were seized by the retainers of Nuwaub Amjud Ally Khan; they were taken to Bindh-kee, and subsequently to the Nuwaub's own house at Hata Pergunneh Suppehjar, where they were kept prisoners for a week, and eventually foully murdered by the Nuwaub's orders about 15th June.

S. F. Macmullen ...	Brevet-Major	Jullundhur	June 7	Wounded on the night of the mutiny. Brevet-Major Macmullen was in the lines of the 1st Troop, the other officers being in those of their respective Troops, attempting to prevent the men who had possessed themselves of their arms from mounting their horses, or further committing themselves. Having dismounted several who promptly obeyed orders, he was giving a similar order to a trooper named Azmut Ally Khan, who fired his pistol at him, the distance not more than four yards, and sent the bullet or slug through the thumb and first finger of the right hand. This was the only shot fired in the lines of the 6th Cavalry. The Troop possibly feeling themselves committed by this flagrant act, at once mounted, and left with many from the other Troops, without, however, attempting any violence against their officers, who were really at their mercy
C. B. Basden ... He went up to a body of men who were collected in front of No. 5 Company lines, and endeavoured to persuade them from this purpose. Two sepoys fired at him nearly at the same moment, the first shot entering and breaking his right arm. He saw the man raise his musket, but should not be able to recognise him
F. J. S. Bagshawe	Lieutenant	do	May 13	Died of his wounds, Lieutenant and Adjutant. Was in the lines speaking to about 200 men, whom he was apparently pacifying, when a trooper of the 6th Regiment Light Cavalry rode up and inflicted on him a mortal wound

Mrs. Joyce ...	Prostitute	do	June 7	Died from the effects of the wounds received, on the 8th of August, 1857 On the night of the 7th June, when the mutineers of 36th, 61st, and cavalry passed through the Sudder Bazar, some of them shot Mrs. Joyce through the chest, but no one saw the deed done
George Nelson ...	Quarter-Master Sergeant	do	„ 7	Received a wound on the head from a blow of a bamboo, by a sepoy of the regiment, when in the execution of his duty

As per Return furnished by the Deputy Commissioner of SEALKOTE.

J. Graham ...	Superintending Surgeon	On the Pukka Road, from Cantonments to Fort	July 9	Dr. James Graham appears, on hearing of the mutiny, to have started at about 6 a.m., in his buggy, with his daughter, Miss Graham, for the fort. On passing the corner house of Cantonments, and getting on the Pukka Road leading to the Fort, they were attacked by a large party of troopers of the 9th Cavalry, one of whom shot Dr. Graham in the back of the head, killing him at once. The troopers turned the buggy back, and Miss Graham drove back with the dead body of her father, and after various adventures was taken to the Quarter

J. C. Graham ...	Medical Storekeeper	On the Pucka Road, from Cantonments to Fort	July 9	Guard of the 9th Cavalry, where she joined Colonel Campbell, commanding the corps, who, with his wife, were being protected by the troopers, and were brought down to the fort in the evening. Dr. Graham had fire arms with him, but did not attempt to use them.
				Dr. John Colin Graham left his house in cantonments on the morning of the mutiny, in his carriage, accompanied by his wife, and Mrs. Gray and her children; when he had left cantonments, and just turned off on the road to the fort, a party of troopers surrounded the carriage; the ladies implored and begged the troopers not to hurt them; the latter answered that they did not wish to hurt them, but only aimed at the Sahib log . One trooper fired and wounded Dr. Graham in the arm, and then another rode up deliberately and shot him through the side. The carriage was then turned back to cantonments, and Dr. Graham died in about an hour at the Medical Depot, where Mrs. Graham took him, in the hopes of obtaining surgical aid. The grief of his wife was most painful and heart-rending, and while in the fort she nearly sunk from sorrow. Dr. Graham had no fire arms with him.
J. Bishop...	Brigade Major	Under the Walls of the Fort	„ 9	Left cantonments in his curricule, with his wife and children; they went down to the fort probably by the Kutchra Road, and so avoided the party of troopers, who killed the two Drs. Graham, but under the walls of the fort they were set on by another party, who fired at the carriage recklessly, without any care of the persons of his wife and children. It is supposed that, in order to save them, he jumped out of the carriage and tried to escape on foot. He was first severely wounded, and staggered into a ditch full of water; a trooper then rode up and deliberately shot him through the head; the horses started off at full speed, and upset the carriage. Mrs. Bishop and her children were saved and brought into the fort.
Rev. T. Hunter ...	Missionary ...	Opposite the Jail, and near the Kutcherry	„ 9	The circumstances connected with the murder of the Rev. Mr. Hunter and family were especially distressing, for they had been advised, on the day previous to the mutiny, to leave the station. Mrs. Hunter had had a dreadful dream of murder the night before, and this, with

They left their own house, with the intention of going to Lahore, but only went as far as the Rev. Mr. Hill's house, which was out in the country, a little beyond mine, and near the Wuzeerabad-road. When the mutiny broke out, it would seem that, instead of starting at once along that road, they adhered to their intention of going to Lahore, and in order to reach the Goojranwalla-road had to make for the city. They passed my compound apparently before I had had any intimation of the outbreak; when they got in front of the jail, the party of 40 troopers, who had assembled to release the prisoners, observed them, and as I understand from the conflicting accounts of the native eye-witnesses, a trooper shot Mr. Hunter, and the same ball wounded Mrs. Hunter; they and their child were then dragged out of the carriage and hacked to pieces by the Kutcherry and Jail Chupprassees. The resaldar of the mounted police acknowledged, on his trial before Captain R. Lawrence, that he had seen the murder perpetrated, and had not attempted to interfere. I believe that this was one of the principal grounds with the Commission for inflicting on him the extreme penalty of death. Hoonunt Khan a Put-han, from Zillah Barielly, formerly a Kutcherry Chupprassees, and changed to the Kotewallee by me, shortly before the mutiny, was the principal instigator of this atrocious murder, and the Commission offered a reward of 1000 rupees for his apprehension. He is supposed to be now somewhere in the territory of Maharajah Rumbheer Sing.
F. Brind ...	Colonel in the Bengal Artillery, and Brigadier Commanding the Station	Wounded, just as he had come out of his compound on the 9th July, and died in the Fort early next morning	July 9 and 10	Brigadier Brind appears to have had some intimation of the approaching mutiny, for on that night he kept his horse saddled for the first time. The first intimation of the outbreak he received was from Captain Balmain, 9th Light Cavalry, who had come from the lines after an unsuccessful attempt to recall the men to their duty. It required a great deal of persuasion and much delay before Brigadier Brind could be prevailed upon to mount his horse and fly. Captain Cham-

Montgomery, as well as Captain Balmain accompanied him. On quitting the compound they were fired at by a large party of troopers, apparently specially told off to this work ; none of the shots of this volley took effect, but some troopers who had reserved their fire, took aim and in a second volley wounded the Brigadier. The ball entered the middle of the back, and penetrated deep through the stomach. The Brigadier, though weak from loss of blood, managed to ride to the Fort, protected by Captain Balmain, who exchanged several shots with the troopers. The Brigadier was attended by Dr. Guise. The wound proved fatal, and he died on the morning of the 10th July. Cornet Prinsep was pursued by some troopers of the 9th Light Cavalry, from the Brigadier's house in the cantonments for five or six miles along the Wuzeerabad-road. One man succeeded in overtaking him and wounded him in the right arm by a pistol shot. But being attacked and nearly dismounted by Cornet Prinsep, he gave up the combat and allowed Cornet Prinsep to continue on his way.

Officiating Secretary to the Government of India in the Military Department.

No. 20.

E. C. Bayley, Esq., Officiating Deputy Secretary to Government, N.W. Provinces, to G. F. Edmonstone, Esq., Secretary to the Government of India, with the Governor-General.

SIR,

No. 5 A.

Allahabad, March 3, 1858.

IN continuation of my letter, No. 37, dated 3rd February, from Lieutenant-Colonel Strachey, Secretary to the Government of the Central Provinces, I am directed to submit, for the information of the Right Honourable the Governor-General, a letter from the Commissioner of the Goruckpore Division, furnishing a Return of Europeans Killed and Wounded in the district of Goruckpore, to which is added a List giving the names of those who were Killed in the districts of Gouda and Baraitch, in Oude.

I have, &c.,

E. C. BAYLEY,
Officiating Deputy Secretary to Government, N.W. Provinces.

No. 21.

C. J. Wingfield, Esq., Commissioner, Goruckpore, to Lieutenant-Colonel Strachey, Secretary to Government, C.P., Allahabad.

SIR,

No. 22.

Goruckpore, January 21, 1858.

IN conformity with the instructions contained in your letter, No. 241, dated 9th January, enclosing Circular No. 4372 of 3rd November, from the Secretary to the Government of India to your address, I beg to forward a Return of Europeans Killed and Wounded not in this District only, but in those of Gouda and Baraitch also, to which my information extends. I regret that I cannot always be positive as to dates. Regarding the Europeans killed in Goruckpore my information is derived from the deposition of Serjeant Busher, the sole survivor, which was taken by the magistrate of Ghazeepoor in June last, and will be in his office; it was also published in the London Evening Mail of September 28th to September 30th, 1857.

2. Besides the officers enumerated as having perished within the limits of this district, the following also lost their lives at the same time and by the same cause: Major Mill, Artillery, drowned in the Gogra while endeavouring to swim to shore, the boat having been fired into by the 17th Native Infantry; Serjeant Mathews, shot in the boat on the same occasion.

3. Lieutenant Bright, also in the boat at the same time, and a Serjeant-Major of the 22nd Native Infantry, name unknown, were captured on the Goruckpore side of the river which they had reached by swimming, brought over to the camp of the 17th Native Infantry on the Oude side, and there shot the same day, i.e., the 9th June. A bugler, Williamson by name, who was with Lieutenant Bright escaped, and his evidence has been taken at Ghazeepoor I believe.

4. There is some uncertainty as to the precise spot where Colonel Goldney met his end. He was in the boats with the rest, and with them reached the Goruckpore side of the river, but was left there by his companions not being able to keep up with them. He was either murdered there by the 17th Native Infantry, who were in pursuit, or else was brought into their camp and shot; I incline to the former belief.

I have, &c.,

C. WINGFIELD, Commissioner.

They had escaped from the mutiny at Fyzabad, but were misled into believing Goruckpoor was in the possession of the mutineers, and were betrayed into the hands of the Mahomedans by two Burkundarezes of the Thanna, who accompanied them as guides. Full particulars of their murder will be found in the deposition of the sole survivor, Serjeant Busher

No eye witness has yet related to me the particulars of their death

LIST of Europeans Killed and Wounded at Jullundhur by Mutineers or Rebels, during the present Rebellion.Jullundhur, January 30, 1858.

Name.	Designation.	Place.	Date.	Circumstances under which the murder or wound took place.
Mrs. Joyce ...	Prostitute	Sudder Bazar, Jullundhur	1857 June 7	On the night of the 7th of June, when the mutineers of the 36th, 61st, and Cavalry, passed through the Sudder Bazar, some of them shot Mrs. Joyce through the chest, but no one saw the deed done

Name.	Designation.	Place.	Date.	Circumstances under which the murder or wound took place.
S. F. MacMullen...	Captain and Brevet-Major, 6th Light Cavalry	Jullundhur	1857 June 7	On the night of the mutiny, Brevet-Major MacMullen, then commanding the regiment, was in the lines of the 1st Troop, the other officers being also in those of their respective troops, attempting to prevent the men, who had forcibly possessed themselves of their arms, from mounting their horses or further committing themselves. Having dismounted several, who promptly obeyed orders, he was giving a similar order to a trooper named Azmut Ally Khan, when the latter fired his pistol, being at the distance of not more than 4 yards, and sent the bullet through the first finger and thumb of his sword hand, and thus disabled it. This was the only shot fired in the lines of the 6th Cavalry. The 1st Troop, possibly feeling themselves committed by this flagrant act, at once mounted and rode off, with many men from the other troops, to the Native Infantry lines, without, however, attempting any violence against their officers, though they were really at their mercy
F. J. S. Bagshaw	Lieut. and Adjt., 36th Regt., N.I.	do	„ 7	Lieutenant and Adjutant Bagshaw on the alarm being sounded proceeded to the lines, when he saw some 200 or 300 men congregated, whom he addressed, and endeavoured to persuade to return to their duty. While speaking to the men, a trooper of the 6th Cavalry shot him, of which wound he died
C. E. Bates ...	Lieut., 36th Regiment, N. I.	do	„ 7	Was officer of the day on June 7th last. At 11 p.m. on that day a fire broke out in the lines of the regiment, to which he at once proceeded. On getting near the bells of arms he perceived the sepoys had seized their arms. He went up to a body of them, who were collected in front of No. 5 Lines, and endeavoured to dissuade them from their purpose. Two sepoys fired at him nearly at the same moment, the first shot hitting his right arm and breaking it. He saw the sepoy raise his musket and fire, but could not recognise him. On being hit he fell from off his horse. On leaving the lines a good many shots were fired after him, but he managed to reach the artillery lines in safety
C. B. Basden ...	Captain, 61st Regiment, N.I.	do	„ 7	Received a sabre wound in the arm from a trooper of the 6th Light Cavalry, when endeavouring, with Ensigns Hawkins and Durnford, to prevent the men of his regiment (led on by a trooper of the 6th Light Cavalry) from seizing their arms from the left wing bell of arms of the regiment

Name.	Designation.	Place.	Date.	Circumstances under which the murder or wound took place.
F. D. Hawkins ...	Ensign, 61st Regiment, N. I.	Jullundhur	1857 June 7	Received a wound from a pistol ball in the back from a trooper of the 6th Light Cavalry, when endeavouring to prevent the men of his regiment (led on by a trooper of the 6th Light Cavalry) from seizing their arms from the left wing bell of arms of the regiment
H. Durnford ...	Ensign, 61st Regiment, N. I.	do	„ 7	Received a pistol ball in the arm and three sabre cuts on the head and neck from a trooper of the 6th Light Cavalry, and a bayonet wound in the back, when endeavouring to prevent the men of his regiment (led on by a trooper of the 6th Light Cavalry) from seizing their arms from the left wing bell of arms of the regiment. Died from the effects of these wounds on August 8, 1857
George Nelson ...	Quartermaster-Serjeant, 61st Regiment, N. I.	do	„ 7	Received a wound on the head from a blow of a bamboo by a sepoy of the regiment when in the execution of his duty

J. J. Palmer, Esq. ...	Deputy-Collector of Futtyghur	Supposed to be at Cawnpore	Not known	Mrs. Palmer wrote to her brother Mr. S. Pocock, Haupper Depôt, from Futtyghur, dated June 3, 1857, which is the last letter received by him from Mrs. Palmer. It was to the effect that as rebels were hourly expected in that station, Mr. Palmer his wife and family had got on board of a boat. Naught has been heard of this family since their departure from Futtyghur, but it is strongly supposed they were murdered at Cawnpore by the monster Nana Sahib.
