NOTICE TO SHIPOWNERS AND MASTERS.

DELIVERY OF SHIPS' MANIFESTS IN FRENCH PORTS.

A representation having been made to the Board of Trade that Ship-Masters trading to the Port of Dunkirk are in the habit of disregarding the imperial law which requires that the Master of every vessel trading to a French port shall have a manifest of cargo ready for delivery at the Custom House on arrival in port.

It is hereby notified to Masters and Owners of vessels trading to French Ports generally that the strictest attention is necessary to the above regulation, the neglect to comply with which may in future subject them to serious inconvenience.

NEW LIGHT HOUSE, SYDNEY, NEW SOUTH WALES.

NOTICE TO MASTER MARINERS.

THE Undersigned have been instructed to advertise, for general information, the following sailing directions for approaching and entering the harbour of Port Jackson. Captains and others can obtain copies upon application at their counting-house.

Lloyd, Beilby, and Co., Agents for the Government of New South Wales, No. 2, Royal Exchange-buildings, London.

NEW LIGHT HOUSE ON THE INNER SOUTH HEAD AT THE ENTRANCE OF PORT JACKSON.

NOTICE is hereby given, that on and after the 1st day of June, 1858, a bright, white, fixed catoptric light, will be exhibited between sunset and sunrise, from the Light House recently erected on the Inner South Head, at the entrance of Port Jackson.

The Light House stands on the edge of the cliff forming the Inner South Head, at an elevation of 60 feet above the sea level. It consists of a tower 30 feet in height, which is painted in vertical stripes of red and white.

The light is of the first order, and will be visible within the arc of its range from an 18 feet elevation, at a distance of 15 miles.

On and after the same date, a fixed red Harbour light will be exhibited from the tower on Fort Denison, formerly known as "Pinchgut Island."

The following sailing directions are also published for general information, copies of which, in a pamphlet, together with a coast chart, shewing the soundings within the range of the lights, may be obtained at the Harbour Master's Office.

By order of the Board,

H. H. Braeue, Chairman.

W. J. Wilshire, Secretary.

Steam Navigation and Pilot Board Office,
Sydney, 6th May, 1858.

APPROACH AND ENTRANCE.

Vessels approaching the Harbour having made the High Light House should keep it within bearings from N.W. to S.S.W., which will leave the Low Light House open, and ensure its being seen when within its radius. Care must be taken not to shut the High Light House in with the cliffs south of it, which it will do if brought to the northward of N.W. by N., nor close it in with the North Head, which it will do if brought to the south of S. by W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  W., the latter bearing being the guide to clear the extremity of Long Reef. The entrance of the Harbour lies betwixt the Signal Station Cliff and the North Head, the distance between them  $1\frac{3}{4}$  miles, which contracts betwixt the Inner North Head and the reef extending from the base of the Low Light House erected on the Inner South Head to  $\frac{3}{4}$  of a mile, and is further contracted about 300 yards in the channel between the tail of the reef and the precipitous Middle Head, which bears W.N.W. from it.

WESTERN CHANNEL.

To preserve a weather gauge, ships entering with winds from the southward or eastward should pass as close as possible to the tail of the reef, which extends 450 feet from the base of the Low Light House. On this reef the sea always breaks. With a commanding breeze the breakers may be passed within a cable's length in eight fathoms, care being taken not to close the High Light House with the cliffs north of it (which it does on the bearing of S. by E.) until the Low Light House bears S.W., and the two white obelisks on the western shore are brought in one, on a bearing of W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  S., which course will clear a dangerous 16 feet patch, lying 800 yards west of the Lower Light House, and should be steered until Elizabeth Mansion, an imposing white square building with round dome, closes behind Bradley's Head, bearing S.W.  $\frac{3}{4}$  S. A S.W.  $\frac{3}{4}$  S. course must then be steered (carefully keeping Elizabeth Mansion just closed over the low part of Bradley's Head, and leaving the Light Ship at about a cable's length on the port hand) until the High Light House has opened its own breadth north of the red and white chequered obelisk below it, on the bearing of S. E. by E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  E., when the ship will have passed the shoal and deepened her water to nine fathoms, and may safely proceed up the harbour and choose her anchorage by giving either shore a berth of a couple of cables' length. Beating up the Western Channel the deep water will be found on the western shore, with the exception of a small shoal patch, having 18 feet on it, which lies in Obelisk Bight, in a line betwixt George's Head and Middle Head, 500 yards from the former. Avoiding this patch, you may make free with the western shore to within half a cable's length, but in standing over to the opposite eastern side, beware of the 16 feet patch before alluded to as lying West of the Low Light-house; to avoid it do not bring the Light Ship to the westward of S. by W.  $\frac{3}{4}$  W. Betwixt George's Head and the upper south-western tail of the Sow and Pigs Shoal, the channel is contracted by an 18 feet detached bank to the width of about 350 yards; to clear this the Light Ship must not be brought so far to the westward as to bring her and the obelisk on the North Head in line until the High Light House is open at least its own breadth north of the chequered obelisk below it; when you will be past the shoal and be able to work up with plenty of room in from 9 to 16 fathoms water.

Vessels of lighter draught than 15 feet can pass over these two shoal patches, and the upper portion of the Sow and Pigs Shoal, and stretch right across from shore to shore by not, when passing to the southward of the Light Ship, coming nearer to her than two cables' length, or not before the line from George's Head to the North Obelisk on the eastern shore bearing E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  S. is passed, remembering that the deepest water over the Sow and Pigs, 22 feet, is obtained by closing Elizabeth Mansion behind Bradley's Head and keeping the high windmill which stands on the heights east of the Elizabeth Mansion a sail's breadth open of the Head.

Having cleared the Sow and Pigs Shoal the navigation up the Harbour is free from obstructions, with the exception of a ledge extending a cable's length from Bradley's Head, and a reef of the same extent off Shark Island, the first island that will be approached. A knoll, which lies 500 yards west of the Bottle and Glass (conspicuous rocks forming the south boundary of Watson's Bay), having  $4\frac{1}{2}$  fathoms on it cannot, of course, impede a ship which has passed through either of the channels. It is, therefore, only necessary to keep at a cable's length from the shore, and when anchoring to take a berth which will admit of a long scope being veered to southerly squalls.

The following schedule of courses, distances, and soundings, will show at a glance the nature of the navigation in the Western Channel, commencing from the position where the Light House touches the cliffs north of it, and the two western obelisks are in one.

COURSES.	DISTANCES.	SOUNDINGS.
1st.—W. $\frac{1}{2}$ S. ....	$\frac{1}{2}$ mile and 100 yards. ....	From 8 to 7 fathoms.
2nd course.—S. W. by S. ....	$\frac{3}{4}$ of a mile ...	7 fathoms to 4 fathoms, and then suddenly to 21 feet.
3rd course.—S.S.W. to abreast Bradley's Head .....	$1\frac{1}{4}$ miles .....	21 and 20 feet, and deepening rapidly to 6, 10, and 13 fathoms.
4th course.—to Sydney West, passing Fort Denison on either hand .....	$1\frac{1}{2}$ miles .....	Gradually shoaling from 13 fathoms to 7.

EASTERN CHANNEL.

Now that obelisks have been erected as leading marks for the Eastern Channel, it may, in particular cases, be advisable to pass through it, although on account of its limited width in several parts, and the necessity when entering it from seaward, for suddenly changing the course at right angles, it presents less advantages than the Western Channel. It may, however, be safely navigated by attending to the following instructions:—

First, as in the case for the Western Channel, to clear the South Reef you must pick up the line of the two western obelisks in one, W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  S., and immediately after passing two cables' length on that course westward of the meridian of the Low Light House two obelisks, at high water level, on the strand of the eastern shore will suddenly unmask, bearing S.  $\frac{1}{4}$  E., when they come in one, which they will do very rapidly, haul sharp up for them, carefully preserving them in line for the first quarter of a mile, until on your port quarter you observe the North and Inner South Heads locking, when you may edge off and pass the northernmost of the two obelisks at half a cable's distance, taking care not to open the obelisk on the slope of the North Head (after having once closed it with the Inner South Head) until you observe the spire of St. James's Church, (the only spire which makes out in Sydney), its breadth open of Bradley's Head S.W.  $\frac{3}{4}$  W. When the High Light House is seen to the northward of the chequered obelisk you are above the Sow and Pigs Shoal, and may bring up in safe anchorage, or proceed up the harbour, there being no obstructions to the navigation except the reefs off Bradley's Head and Shark Island, mentioned in the directions for the Western Channel.

ENTERING IN THE NIGHT.

Vessels approaching in the night with southerly or westerly winds should keep the sea until daylight, but with winds from the northward or eastward, and favourable weather they may safely enter, observing the following directions:—

The revolving light having been made, it should be kept between the bearings of N.W. and S.S.W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  W., until the lower fixed light appears in sight, this light being brought to bear W. by S., a course should be shaped to pass a cable's length to the northward of the breakers on the reef extending from it in 9 fathoms water, which depth is found at a distance of about 450 yards from the Light House. After the meridian of the Low Light is passed, and it has been brought to bear to the eastward of south, a W. by S. course may be steered until the Floating Light bears S. by W.  $\frac{3}{4}$  W., when a course should be shaped so as to leave the Light Ship a cable's length on the port hand. After passing the Light Ship the course is S.W. by S., until the Revolving Light bears E.S.E., when you will be above the Sow and Pigs Shoal, and have deepened the water to 10 fathoms, and by hauling up S.E. for a quarter of a mile will find convenient anchorage in eight or nine fathoms, sandy bottom; or may proceed further up the harbour, taking care to avoid vessels and boats lying in the way.

ANCHORAGES WITHIN THE HEADS.

Ships of large tonnage, or drawing more than 18 feet, ought not, with a fresh head wind, to attempt to work through the narrow channels between the Sow and Pigs Shoal and the shore, neither should they anchor to the northward of the Light Ship with the Heads open, but rather bear up for Spring Cove or North Harbour, in which safe anchorage may be found. Spring Cove, where the Quarantine Station is established, is a small bay (capable of containing four or five moderate sized ships), on the western side of the promontory forming the North Head of Port Jackson, and lies due north from the Inner South Head Light House. Vessels seeking shelter in it should bring this Light House to bear S. by E. before the North Head is closed with the Inner North Head about E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  S. when they must steer a course about N. by W., passing at a cable's length distance the hummocky point, with a flagstaff upon it, which forms the southern boundary of Spring Cove, when they will be abreast of the anchorage, and may shoot into the bay until the Inner South Head Light House just touches the hummocky point before mentioned, and anchor in 6 or 7 fathoms, sandy bottom.

If a ship which has run for Spring Cove should find its limited space so filled by vessels as to prevent her taking up a berth, she may proceed on a course about N. by W. until a quarter of a mile to the northward of the north point of Spring Cove, and then anchor in 6 fathoms, at a cable's length from the eastern shore of North Harbour. Here a ship will be sheltered from the sea which S.E. winds send into the middle and western portion of this harbour.

Strangers to the port may deem it objectionable to run to leeward for a confined anchorage, and those who have not got a pilot had better stand out again until one can be obtained, unless they feel confident of being able to take in sail smartly, and bring up quickly.

Between Grotto Point and Middle Head, and due west of North Head, lies Middle Harbour, an arm of the sea extending several miles in a North West direction. It is open to the eastward, and not navigable for vessels drawing more than 9 feet, a bar of that depth running across its mouth. Neither does Hunter's Bay, situated at the entrance to Middle Harbour, afford good anchorage, being open to easterly winds, and the bottom foul.

TIDES.

The tides in the harbour of Port Jackson do not run with great velocity, the maximum rate of the ebb being two, and of the flood one-and-a-half knots. Their course is generally that of mid-channel, except at the entrance, where the ebb tide, running strong near the North Head, leaves a considerable space of slack water to the southward, of which vessels working in can avail by tacking to the southward whenever the Floating Light Ship is seen open of the Inner South Head. The times of high water, full, and change, are at the Heads 8h. 15m., and at Sydney, 8h. 30m.; rise and fall 6 feet.

All bearings herein given are magnetic, and the soundings those at low water spring tides.
