And whereas by the "Common Law Procedure Act, 1854," it is enacted that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, from time to time, by an Order in Council, to direct that all or any part of the provisions of the said Act, or of the rules to be made in pursuance thereof, shall apply to all or any Court or Courts of Record in England and Wales, and within one month after such Order shall have been made and published in the London Gazette, such provisions and rules respectively shall extend and apply in manner directed by such Order, and that any such Order may be, in like manner, from time to time altered and annulled; and that in and by any such Order Her Majesty may direct by whom any powers or duties incident to the provisions applied under the said Act, or "The Common Law Procedure Act, 1852," shall and may be exercised with respect to matters in such Court or Courts, and may make any orders or regulations which may be deemed requisite for carrying into operation in such Court or Courts the provisions so applied:

And Her Majesty is further pleased to order, by and with the advice aforesaid, that the Judge or Deputy Judge of the Court of Record for the said borough, shall have the same powers and duties with reference to the said Court as the Chief Judge, or other Judge of either of the Superior Courts at Westminster may have by the said Acts, or either of them, with reference to proceedings in such superior Courts;

That all the power and duties which by the said Acts, or either of them, are given to, or imposed upon, the Masters of the Court of Queen's Bench, may and shall be exercised and performed by the Registrar of the said Court of Record;

That wherever, in either of the said Acts, any matter or thing is authorized to be done by the Court or a Judge, the same may be done by the Court of Record, or the Registrar thereof—except that the Registrar shall not have the power to try any issues of law or in fact;
