THIS day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen, Recorder, Sheriffs, Common Council, and Officers of the city of London, waited upon Her Majesty with the following Address, which was read by Russell Gurney, Esq., the Recorder, and which Her Majesty was graciously pleased to receive upon the Throne :

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons, of the City of London, in Common Council assembled, venture to approach your Majesty with our heartfelt congratulations upon the birth of a grandson, the child of your beloved daughter, the Princess Frederick William of Prussia.

We were permitted to offer to Her Royal Highness, upon her departure from her native country, our earnest wishes for her prosperity and happiness.

We rejoice to believe that the wishes which, in common with our fellow countrymen, we then expressed, are being fully realized, and that Her Royal Highness, whom we love to think of as the Princess Royal of England, is the mother of one who may at some future day be the sovereign of a great and enlightened people.

That the life of your Majesty may be long preserved to witness in a second generation the virtue so eminently displayed by your Majesty and your Royal Consort, is the earnest prayer of the citizens of London.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious answer :

"I receive with much pleasure the congratulations which you have offered to me upon the birth of a Prince, the son of my beloved daughter, an event which I am happy to know is hailed with feelings of no less loyalty and affection by the people of her adopted country. And I thank you very sincerely for your renewed assurances of attachment to my person and family, and for the affectionate interest which you have expressed in my domestic happiness."

They were all very graciously received, and the Lord Mayor, the Mover, and Seconder, had the honour of kissing Her Majesty's hand.

Buckingham Palace, February 22, 1859.

THIS day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen, Recorder, Sheriffs, Common Council, and Officers of the City of London, waited upon His Royal Highness, the Prince Consort, with the following Address, which was read by Russell Gurney, Esq., the Recorder, and which His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE CONSORT.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common Council assembled, desire to offer to your Royal Highness our sincere congratulations upon the birth of the Imperial Prince of Prussia.

The citizens of London must ever take a deep interest in all that concerns the welfare and happiness of each member of the Royal House.

We rejoice therefore to think that by the late auspicious event, an addition has been made to the domestic felicity of your illustrious daughter, and they are glad to avail themselves of the opportunity of expressing their earnest wishes for the prosperity of the two Royal Houses so happily united, and the cordial and permanent alliance of the two great Protestant nations of Europe.

That your Royal Highness may long be spared to exhibit to the people of this country a bright example of public and private virtue, is the sincere wish of the citizens of London.

To which Address His Royal Highness was pleased to return the following Answer :

My Lord Mayor and Gentlemen,

"Your kind Address calls for my warmest acknowledgments.

"I cannot but feel deeply the fresh proof of your loyal attachment to the Queen and Her family, afforded by this cordial and affectionate expression of your continued interest in my dear daughter's happiness ; and most heartily do I join with you in the hope, that an event which adds so greatly to that happiness, may further prove a fresh bond of union between England and Prussia, and tend to strengthen those ties of friendship which, in the interests of their common faith, should ever unite the two great Protestant nations of Europe."

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the borough of Lymington, beg to approach your Majesty with our warmest congratulations on the happy event which has recently taken place in your Majesty's Family, by the Birth of a Royal Prince to the House of Prussia.

It is with sincere gratification that we view this blessing that has crowned the Marriage of the Prince Frederic William of Prussia with the Princess Royal of England, believing that it will give a further increase to your Majesty's domestic happiness, and that of your Majesty's beloved daughter.

We earnestly pray that the Infant Prince may be spared to enjoy length of days, and all earthly happiness, and that he may ever illustrate in his conduct and character those qualities of virtue and excellence which adorn the lives of your Majesty and your Illustrious Consort.

India Office, February 26, 1859.

THE following Dispatch has been received by the Secretary of State for India in Council.

The Commander-in-Chief in India to the Governor-General.

Camp, near Doundeakeara,

MY LORD, November 25, 1858.

I HAD the honour to announce to your Lordship in a despatch, dated the 23rd October, 1858, addressed by the Chief of the Staff to the Secretary of Government in the Military Department, that I was about to take the field, for the purpose of assuming the personal direction of military affairs in the Byswarra country.

2. Accordingly, on the 2nd of November, I rode to Pertabghur, where my camp had preceded me.

3. Much care had been previously given to the exact calculation of time. The column under Sir Hope Grant, which had recently been aiding the advance of Colonel Kelly from Azimghur, that under Brigadier Wetherall from Soraon, and that under Brigadier Pinckney at Pertabghur, having been alike combined in their movements, for the reduction of the country through which they passed, and to compel the submission of the Rajah Lall Madho, of Ameathee, if possible without loss of life.

4. During these movements Sir Hope Grant had an affair with the enemy in the neighbourhood of the Goomtee, and took some guns; and Brigadier Wetherall stormed the fort of Rampoor Kussea.

5. On my arrival at Pertabghur, those officers had respectively reached the points indicated for a general operation against Ameathee.

6. It was my earnest wish to carry into execution the instructions I had the honour to receive from your Lordship on the 1st of November, in completion of the Queen's Proclamation. I accordingly gave every chance to Lall Madho, who had peculiar claims on your Lordship's clemency, in consequence of the protection afforded by him to British fugitives at the time of the outbreak.

7. His allegiance was not willingly rendered, and I was obliged to close my forces round Amea-thee, before he would consent to come into my camp. His fort was then evacuated, and his guns secured; the former has since been destroyed, his lands and property having been assured to the Rajah.

8. From Ameathee I moved without delay to Shunkerpore, the fort of Beni Madho, the most influential leader of the Byswarra, where I arrived on the 15th instant. He was summoned to lay down his arms with his followers, on which event taking place, life and liberty to go home were to be secured to the latter, and a careful consideration of his own claims to the former. But he was told, in explicit terms, that to treat with the rebels in arms was absolutely forbidden by your Lordship, while, in trusting to your Lordship's clemency, he had nothing to fear.

9. In order not to alarm him, and so to cause a conflict between the picquets, and prevent the acceptance of the terms by the conduct of his followers, the three brigades, under Sir Hope Grant, Brigadier Pinckney, and Brigadier Wetherall, were placed on the north, south, and east of his fort, but out of sight, although he was quite aware of their presence. Colonel Eveleigh, who had been advancing by my order from Poorwa to the west, was not quite in time to complete the investment, he having been delayed by the difficulty of the cross roads. During his advance, he had taken the fort of Simree, and dispersed a body of rebels.

10. The Rana Beni Madho, taking advantage of my extreme forbearance, evacuated the Shunkerpore fort on the night of the 15th instant, and led his troops, about 10,000 in number, to the westward. Very early in the morning of the 16th, Sir Hope Grant was dispatched to the northward to Roy Bareilly, for the neighbourhood of which place, viz., Peroo, the Rana was supposed to be making. On the same morning Brigadier Wetherall's brigade, now transferred to Colonel Taylor, 79th Highlanders, was ordered to move, by forced marches, to Fyzabad, to commence the Trans-Gogra movement. I remained for two days at Shunkerpore with Brigadier Pinckney's brigade, now under orders of Colonel Jones, Carabiniers, to enable the civil authorities to complete their arrangements, when I moved towards Roy Bareilly.

11. On the 17th, while Brigadier Eveleigh was pursuing his advance according to his orders, he came across part of the Rana's force numbering about 5,000 men, which he dispersed, taking 3 guns. At that time it was reported that Peroo, on the Sye, was still held; and Colonel Eveleigh was ordered to advance on that place. Reports were most conflicting as to the direction taken by the Rana. Colonel Eveleigh was directed to send in his heavy guns and encumbrances to Roy Bareilly, and then to march towards Doundeakeara with all despatch, to which we believed the Rana would now repair. He was desired to give no rest. I myself moved at the same time to Buchraon in one march, with the intention of intercepting the fugitives, when struck by Colonel Eveleigh whatever might be their direction. The followers of the Rana had again gathered round him at Doundeakeara. I accordingly joined Brigadier Eveleigh, at Nuggur, on the 23rd instant, having marched sixty miles in three days, and have reason to congratulate myself on having done so, as the enemy had again mustered in considerable force, at the strong position of Doundeakeara, under the Rana in person. The position, consisting of enclosures of jungle, flanked by the Fort of Doundeakeara, and the village of Buksur, is very strong.

12. I attacked him early in the morning of the 24th instant, with the two brigades composed as per margin,* completely broke and dispersed the rebel forces, inflicting a very heavy loss upon them, and taking all the guns (seven in number) which still remained in possession of the enemy. The pursuit was pressed with great vigour till near midnight.

13. It is probable that the Rana, Beni Madho, left early in the action. He is a fugitive with a few followers, and it is supposed he has again turned northwards. I am now waiting for some exact information before taking further measures. Urgent instructions will be given to the various officers commanding posts, to act with the greatest promptitude towards preventing the rebels from again gathering together.

14. I am happy to be able to inform your lordship that, in consequence of these movements, and the hopelessness of the rebel cause, which has now become apparent to all, the talookdars and zemindars of the Byswarra country are everywhere giving in their submission.

15. The force that had left Shunkerpore, under Sir Hope Grant, did not stop at Roy Bareilly, but advanced according to instructions to Jugdespore and the Goomtee. Sir Hope Grant himself, having been ordered to Fyzabad, to take charge of the operation proceeding from that quarter, put the brigade that he had been with, under Brigadier Horsford, who is now moving leisurely up the right bank of the Goomtee towards Lucknow, and is engaged in destroying forts, and reducing that part of the county.

* Right Brigade under Colonel Eveleigh, C.B.—4 guns 1st troop 1st brigade Bengal Horse Artillery; Head Quarters 1st Sikh Irregular Cavalry; detachment Oude Police Cavalry; detachment Her Majesty's 20th Regiment; detachment Her Majesty's 80th Regiment; detachment Oude Police Infantry. Left Brigade, under Colonel Jones, 6th Dragoon Guards—4 guns Light Field Battery, Royal Artillery; squadron Her Majesty's 6th Dragoon Guards; squadron 6th Madras Light Cavalry; Head Quarters, Her Majesty's 5th Fusiliers; detachment Her Majesty's 23rd Fusiliers; 1st Belooch Battalion; 23rd Company Royal Engineers; detachment Native Pioneers; 1st company Sikh Artillery, with 4 mortars. Total, about 2,800 men of all arms.

16. Thus I think I may assure your lordship that the first half of the Oude campaign has been brought to a conclusion, in conformity with the plans I have had the honour to submit for your lordship's consideration. Although extending over a length of more than two hundred miles, each movement, and each apparently isolated attack, has been made to defend and to support what was going on to the right and left. The advance in line, stretching from the confines of Rohilcund to Allahabad and Azimghur, has compressed everything like rebellion in a large sense of the word beyond the Gogra, with the single exception of the Seetapore district, which is about being settled by the advance of Brigadier Barker. He is already across the Goomtee. The late proceedings of that officer, and of Brigadier Troup (the latter having taken Mitowlee, and beaten the rebels opposed to him in two or three actions) in the north-west, in giving execution to their several instructions towards the general plan of campaign, have been very satisfactory.

17. It is to be expected, when rebellion has been so long dominant in a very extensive country, that chiefs, whose acts have placed them beyond the pale of mercy, and bodies of plunderers, will still continue to give trouble. I trust, however, that the late operations will have so far carried out your lordship's policy, as to reduce the remaining difficulty to a matter of police, rather than of military combination, in that part of the province which has now been subdued.

I am about to march to Lucknow. A movement on Byramghat, and across the Gogra, in aid of that conducted by Sir Hope Grant from Fyzabad, will ensue very shortly.

I have, &c.,

CLYDE, General,
Commander-in-Chief, East Indies.

P.S. In these operations the conduct of the troops has been admirable, as usual; and I shall have much pleasure, hereafter, in bringing to your lordship's notice, the names of those officers and soldiers who have more particularly distinguished themselves.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

(No. 8.) AUSTRALIA—SOUTH COAST.

Light on Cape Northumberland.

THE Master and Wardens of the Trinity House of Port Adelaide have given notice, that on and after the 1st of January, 1859, a light would be exhibited from a lighthouse recently erected on Cape Northumberland, on the south coast of Australia.

The light is a revolving light, showing alternately every minute white, red, and green, and visible from seaward when bearing between E.S.E. and W. by S $\frac{1}{4}$ S. It is placed at an elevation of about 123 feet above high water, and in clear weather the white light may be seen from the deck of a vessel at a distance of 18 miles; the red light will not be seen beyond 15 miles, and the green light beyond 8 miles. During hot weather and N.E. winds the white light may be observed at a greater distance.

The illuminating apparatus is catoptric, or by reflectors.

The light tower is 28 feet in height, and stands in lat. $38^{\circ} 3'$, S. long. $140^{\circ} 37' 45''$ East of Greenwich.

Directions.—Vessels from the eastward approaching Cape Northumberland should not bring the white or red light to bear to the westward of W.N.W., and when the green light comes in sight on that bearing should steer more southerly, in order to give a wide berth to the reef projecting to the eastward from the cape.

Vessels from the northward should never sight the white or red light bearing to the southward of E. $\frac{1}{2}$ S., and on distinguishing the green light should immediately alter course so as to give an offing to the outlying reefs westward of the cape, and running parallel to the coast at a mile off.

In bad weather with the wind hanging to the southward, it will be advisable to give the cape such an offing as not to sight the green light, and should the weather be thick, or it be blowing hard, it will be prudent not to sight the red light, which under such circumstances would not be seen at the distance above given.

The coast north-westward of the cape soon becomes low, and owing to the heavy ocean swell, which sets directly on shore, should be very carefully avoided.

To the eastward of the cape is a deep bight, which offers no shelter nor any inducement to enter.

The lightkeepers are provided with a nine-pounder carronade, and a code of Marryatt's signals, which will be used to warn vessels observed to be standing into danger.

[The bearings are magnetic. Variation 6° East in 1858.]
