Whereas Austrian steamers enjoy full liberty of transporting passengers, with their baggage and effects, to the ports of Great Britain and Ireland, and of all British possessions, with the sole exception of the coasting trade in those British colonies where a similar exception may exist in regard to all foreign flags; whereas further, the undiminished maintenance of this liberty for the future is assumed also, it is hereby declared, on the side of the Imperial Austrian Government, by the organ of the undersigned Minister President, and for Foreign Affairs, that in pursuance of an arrangement agreed to, British steamers shall also enjoy the full liberty of transporting passengers, their baggage and effects between any Austrian and any foreign port, and vice versa, and in such wise with the privileges of the Treaty of Commerce and Navigation of July 3, 1838, and that for this object on the part of the Imperial Government an exemption will be made in favour of British steamers in the application § 16 of the Austrian Postal Law of November 5, 1837, concerning the periodical passenger traffic.

It is hereby well understood, that if such a periodical line of steamers should be organized on a line which is already carried on, or shall in future be carried on by the Austrian Postal Establishment, a previous understanding upon the principal points of the respective sailing arrangements, that is to say, on the times of departure, shall take place, in the interest of public security and order, as well as in the interest itself of the two competing Companies, and for this purpose the projected sailing regulations of the English undertaking shall be submitted to the Imperial Post Direction of the Austrian harbour in question.
