India-Office, July 20, 1860.

THE Secretary of State for India in Council has received from the Government of Bombay a despatch, from which the following is an extract :

Bombay, January 9, 1860.

IN the copy of the minute recorded by our President, relative to the services of civilians and military officers in Civil employ during the recent troubles in India, which has appeared in the public prints in England, there is an error which we would wish to rectify. In that paragraph of the minute which alludes to the assistance which our President states he received from his colleagues there followed the words, "and from the Secretaries to Government." In the minute as published in England the passage alluded to runs thus, "and from the Secretary to Government."* This error may have occurred from a mistake of the copyist either in Calcutta or in England, or it may have been a misprint in the London Gazette, but under any circumstances we think it an act of justice to point out that our President's acknowledgments referred to all the Secretaries to Government.
