FRIDAY, JULY 26, 1861.

War Office, 26th July, 1861.

A DESPATCH, of which the following is an Extract, has been received, with its Enclosures, from Major-General Pratt, K.C.B. :

Head Quarters, Camp, Waitara,
Sir, April 2, 1861.

REFERRING to my despatch of the 11th and 12th ultimo, I have the honour to enclose, for the information of His Royal Highness the General Commanding-in-Chief, documents as per annexed list, by which it will be seen that the truce with Wiremu Tamehana up to the 15th March led to no result, beyond the transmission of letters from Tamehana to the Governor, the Bishop of New Zealand and to Sir W. Martin, with a request that they should be forwarded by me, and that I acquainted him that if he did not agree to the terms I had offered to him, by the afternoon of the 14th March, I should recommence hostilities ; accordingly, the long expected Armstrong guns and mortars having in the interim reached me, on the morning of the 15th March, I had them placed in position and commenced the advance and attack more vigorously than ever. The sap was pushed forward and the guns and mortars made excellent play on the various positions.

During the night of the 16th March, the enemy attempted to take away the sap-roller but were stopped, with loss, by the explosion of a shell which had been purposely placed in it.

On the morning of the 18th, the Native Secretary Mr. McLean duly accredited by the Governor, and accompanied by several influential chiefs, arrived in my camp, and a letter to Tamehana was sent by Mr. McLean to the effect that if a white flag was hoisted, operations would be suspended and that at a conference the Governor's reply to his letter would be communicated to him. During the whole day, however, the works were carried on, and about 5 p.m. a very brisk fire was opened on the skirmishers on the right flank, promptly replied to by us, in which the enemy owns to have met with severe loss, while we had three men killed, and two officers and four men wounded.

At daylight on the 19th March, a white flag was hoisted and operations were suspended, the enemy were evidently thoroughly sickened of the war. Mr. McLean had an interview with the insurgent chiefs, and on his return he informed me that the Waikato, the men from Wanganui, and the Ngatiruanui, would return to their respective homes, and William King to Mataitawa to await terms of peace ; and next morning there was not an insurgent in my front, all having gone. When about to send a few men to occupy the position, Mr. McLean told me, that in native opinion, they having retired from my front was submission, and that to occupy the position would now be considered somewhat unfair and would retard negotiations. I stipulated, however, that whilst we should keep our advanced positions, the pals and positions before me should be vacated and that no one should remain in or near them during the cessation of hostilities and pending the arrival of the Governor.

His Excellency arrived on the 27th March, and negotiations are now going on which I trust will terminate in an honourable and lasting peace.

On the 30th, when being sworn in as a Member of the Executive Council of the Colony, the English mail arrived, and Lieutenant-General Cameron, C.B., reached my camp with orders to assume the command of the forces in New Zealand, which was to be separated from the Australian colonies, while I was directed to return to my command in Melbourne.

I enclose a list of casualties since the 11th March, until the cessation of hostilities, amongst which will be found the name of Lieutenant Macnaghten, Royal Artillery, who fell at the head of the advanced demi-parallel whilst serving a Coehorn mortar. The gallantry and coolness of this young officer during the whole of this war had rendered him a general favourite, and his untimely fate has been deeply felt in the force from the general to the private.

I have now to bring to the notice of His Royal Highness the services of Commodore Seymour and the Naval Brigade. The cordial co-operation which I have experienced from this gallant officer has been uninterrupted during the whole period in which we have served together.

Lieutenant Battiscombe, of Her Majesty's ship Pelorus, has rendered valuable assistance, not only with the Naval Brigade, but also with the Royal Engineer Department, to which he was attached ; and Midshipmen Hotham and Wadlow had opportunity of showing their gallantry and good service whilst working the heavy guns.

The services of the Royal Marine Artillery and Royal Marines, under Lieutenant Morris, R.M.A., were, as always, most valuable.

Commander Norman, Her Majesty's colonial steam-sloop Victoria, has, with his ship, proved of incalculable value during this service ; and his chief officer, Mr. Woods, late R.N., did good service while attached to the Naval Brigade on shore.

It is my duty to bring to notice the very valuable services of Colonel Mould, commanding Royal Engineers, assisted by Captain Mould and Lieutenant Warburton, R.E. The document from Colonel Mould, which accompanies this despatch, will show how gigantic were the works designed and superintended by him, and the arduous labours of the troops who constructed them for so long a period under daily fire.

The Royal Artillery, under Captain Stroker, have, as they always do, rendered most valuable service during the campaign. Latterly the Armstrong Battery, under Captain Mercer and Lieutenant Pickard, showed the power and precision of that arm, though attack on mountains and forest, and an unseen foe, is not the position which shows this powerful weapon to its full advantage. A valuable report on this arm, by Captain Mercer, accompanies this.

I also beg to bring prominently before His Royal Highness the services of the following officers commanding corps and detachments, many of whom have been named before in various actions; and they have one and all done a duty, sometimes very severe, with cheerfulness and alacrity; namely:

1st Battalion, 12th Regiment:

Major Hutchins.

Captain Miller (wounded).

2nd Battalion, 14th Regiment:

Major Douglas.

40th Regiment:

Lieutenant-Colonel Leslie.

Major T. L. R. Nelson, who commanded a detached force at the Waitara for a considerable period.

Captain Bowdler.

Captain Messenger.

Captain Richards. This last officer was wounded.

57th Regiment:

Major Logan.

65th Regiment:

Colonel Wyatt.

Captain Turner, who was wounded.

Lieutenant Urquhart.

Lieutenant Toker.

Taranaki Militia:

Major Herbert.

Captain Stapp.

Captain de Vaux.

Lieutenant A. King, my Militia Aide-de-Camp.

Staff:

Colonel Sillery, D.Q.M.G. (wounded).

Lieutenant-Colonel Carey, D.A.G.

Captain Paul, 65th Regiment, Major of Brigade; and

Lieutenant B. Forster, R.A. and A.D.C.

Deputy-Inspector-General J. Mouat, C.B., V.C., whose services were at all times most valuable and always available in all positions; and he has brought to my notice—

Surgeon T. E. White, 65th Regiment, and Assistant-Surgeon B. Styles, 40th Regiment.

Deputy-Commissary-General Jones, and J. P. Du Moulin, Esq., who has acted as Deputy-Assistant-Commissary-General, and has done duty with the troops in the field during the whole period of the service.

D. Hay, Esq., Native Commissioner, who has been attached to the forces whilst in the field, has also rendered efficient and essential service in his department.

There is one staff-officer, however (Lieutenant-Colonel Carey, D.A.G.), who I venture to bring to His Royal Highness's notice as being worthy of some special mark of Her Majesty's approbation. His gallantry and unremitting exertions during the whole of the war have been singularly conspicuous, and have been remarked, not only by myself, but by every member of this force.

And with regard to the soldiery of all arms, it is my bounden duty to point out their arduous and unceasing labour in erecting strong redoubts and pushing forward the sap, always under heavy fire, and driving the enemy from his lines of rifle-pits and strong positions with a loss to us indescribably small, thus showing this wily, brave, and skilful foe that all was unavailing against scientific works carried on by gallant men.

I have, &c.,

T. S. PRATT, Major-General,
Commanding in the Australian Colonies.

To the

Military Secretary,
Horse-Guards, London.

From Colonel Mould, Commanding Royal Engineers, New Zealand.

*Royal Engineer Office,
Taranaki, March 30, 1861.*

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to submit, for the information of the Major-General Commanding, the following Report, accompanied by a sketch, of the Engineer operations carried on for the attack of the pah on Matarikoriko, the entrenched position at and about Huirangi, and the Te Arei Pah.

The Major-General having resolved on the reduction of the pah on the strong and commanding position of Matarikoriko, and to entrench the troops in a suitable position to carry on that as well as other subsequent operations, a redoubt, No. 1, having a perimeter (interior) of 266 yards, and an area of 2,560 square yards, capable of accommodating 450 men, with four guns, was traced out on the morning of the 29th December last, on the site of the old Kairau Pah, about 1,100 yards distant from Matarikoriko, and commenced under cover of a line of skirmishers, and was carried on without molestation for upwards of two hours, with a working party of 100 men, superintended by a detail of Royal Engineers. About 9 A.M. a sharp fire of musketry was opened by the enemy from lines of rifle pits, previously unseen, situated on the left and left front of the redoubt, some only 140 yards distant on the edge of a very steep wooded and swampy gulley. Nevertheless the work was continued without interruption, though there was but little intermission in the enemy's fire, good cover was obtained by 6 P.M., and 480 men occupied it during the night. On the 30th December platforms were laid on the left face of the redoubt, and two 8-inch guns mounted to breach the pah, and the parapets were heightened in parts so that the interior of the redoubt might be more thoroughly defiladed. On the 31st December, it having been ascertained that the Matarikoriko Pah had been evacuated by the enemy, it was taken possession of, 100 men, with one 24-pounder howitzer, and a detail of Royal Engineers, encamped inside, and the construction of a stockade to accommodate 60 men, was immediately commenced within the pah, and carried on day by day briskly to completion.

It being known that the enemy had strong entrenched lines at Huirangi, in difficult positions on the edges of gullies, with bush and scrub in their rear, the Major-General approved of a plan to establish redoubts, one in advance of another, and then to form approaches towards the position.

In accordance with this arrangement a redoubt, No. 2, 26 yards square, was established on the 14th January, about 600 yards in front of No. 1, and occupied the same night by 120 men and one 24-pounder howitzer, mounted en barbette.

On the 18th January redoubt No. 3, 30 yards square interiorly, was established about 400 yards in front of No. 2, and occupied that night by 100 men, with one howitzer. The fire from the enemy's position was in the early part of the day very brisk, and at intervals heavy volleys were fired; but the fire was materially kept down by that of the Artillery and skirmishers, so that the casualties were small,—only two in number.

On the 19th January and the two following days additions were made as wings to the redoubt, so as to increase the accommodation and to afford flanking defence, and an 8-inch gun was mounted in the right wing. The enlarged redoubt had an area of 1,900 square yards, and accommodated about 450 men in tents.

On the 22nd January a double sap, directed towards the centre of the enemy's position, was commenced and carried on, without intermission, day by day, until the 2nd February, when it reached their rifle pits. The daring attack of the enemy on the left wing of No. 3 redoubt, on the morning of the 23rd January, not being connected with the Engineer operations, is only thus alluded to. The sap, except for the first 120 yards, when it was only 12 feet in width, was fifteen feet wide in the clear of the gabions, and was substantially traversed at intervals of from 35 to 40 feet. The whole distance sapped was 768 yards, thus averaging 64 yards a day, and was executed without a single casualty, notwithstanding frequent daily volleys of musketry and dropping fire from various parts of the enemy's position, all concentrated on the head of the sap. During its progress, redoubt, No. 4, 13 yards square interiorly, to hold a guard of 50 men, was established on the 27th January on the right, and on the 29th January redoubt No. 5, 24 yards square, was constructed on the left, about 250 yards from the rifle pits, for a garrison of 100 men. From the date of the formation of this last redoubt, the enemy had not fired upon the working parties, having evacuated their whole line, which was about 1500 yards in length from extreme right to left, and had retired down the gullies into the bush, and broken country in their rear. Thus the first objective point aimed at by the Major-General was satisfactorily attained.

Redoubt No. 6, was commenced on the line of the enemy's position, near the centre thereof, on the 2nd February, completed on the 3rd, and occupied the same date, with 450 men, with two 24-pounder howitzers, and an 8-inch gun was mounted on the 4th February, in the right half bastion of the redoubt. There being a bush, with dense undergrowth close to the left front of the redoubt, which might give cover to the enemy to advance, and attempt a surprise, it was resolved to destroy it, and working parties were employed in cutting it down on the 3rd February, and several following days.

From No. 6 Redoubt, the strong position of Puke-rangiora, situated upon the brink of a steep cliff, about 300 feet high, falling to the Waitara River, backed by a thick bush and occupied in part by Te Arei Pah, was observed through an avenue in the bush, and presumed to be at a distance of about 2,000 yards. After a careful reconnaissance, the Major-General determined to attack it in a mode similar to that proposed for the reduction of the Matarikoriko Pah, and carried out in the capture of the Huirangi position; accordingly on the 10th February, a force moved by two roads towards the position, and when within 550 yards of Te Arei, the enemy opened a well sustained fire from the pah, and from unseen lines of rifle pits of considerable extent, right and left and in advance thereof. A Redoubt, No. 7, having a perimeter of 240 yards, and an area of 1,650 superficial yards, was immediately traced out, carried on under a very heavy fire to completion, and occupied that night by 400 men.

As the enemy's position commanded the redoubt, the 11th February was occupied in raising portions of the parapets, and surmounting them with gabions, with sand-bag loop-holes at intervals between, and the redoubt was enlarged to give greater accommodation, on the 14th and 15th February.

A single sap, defiladed in directions from the enemy's position, but with traverses at intervals, to secure it from an oblique plunging fire, was commenced on the 16th February, and was carried on with occasional interruptions from the weather, and under a heavy fire from the enemy at uncertain periods, during each day, until the 24th February, when it became necessary to change its direction, and to resort to the double sap. The progress during the above period was 432 yards. On the 25th and 26th the double sap was proceeded with to the extent of 65 yards, and a short demi-parallel to the left was, during the same time, executed to afford cover for men to protect its further progress. During the night of the 26th the enemy had crept quietly to the sap, had destroyed the whole of the double sap, more or less injured about 130 yards of the single sap, and the whole of the demi-parallel, moving away into the pah 3 heavy sap rollers and 40 or 50 gabions, and before retiring burning some of the latter in the sap, which was the first intimation that the enemy had given of their secret movement. The 27th and 28th February, and part of the 1st March, was occupied in making good the damage done to the sap, and in constructing a Redoubt (No. 8) 16 yards square, to contain a guard of 80 men. In the afternoon of the 1st March the sap was recommenced in front of No. 8 Redoubt, and continued until the afternoon of the 3rd, when in consequence of a depression in the ground, it became so exposed to a plunging fire from the pah, that it became necessary to suspend it. On this day the only sapper who had been hit during the progress of the sap, was severely wounded in the back. To keep down the fire of the enemy a demi-parallel, to afford cover for marksmen and for a howitzer and a Cohorn mortar, was commenced on the last-mentioned date, on the left of the sap, and 50 yards in front of No. 8 Redoubt, and completed on the 4th, on the morning of which day the sap was proceeded with, and continued with the intermission of one-half of the 6th, and the whole of the 7th and 8th, until the evening of the 11th, though exposed daily to a heavy fire from the enemy, especially on the afternoon of the 5th, when they opened from their whole line, commencing on their extreme left in a bush to the right rear of No. 7 Redoubt, doubtless to draw attention from the sap, into which a sharp fire was subsequently poured from a scrub on the edge of a precipice, about 25 yards to the left of the head of the sap.

Hostilities which had been suspended on the 12th, 13th, and 14th March, were recommenced on the morning of the 15th, and the sap being then in close proximity to a line of rifle pits on the edge of the precipice above alluded to, a demi-parallel was commenced by the sap on the left of the main approach, and continued on that and the two following days, when it attained the edge of the precipice at one of the enemy's rifle pits, several of which immediately in front, as far as a bend in the line of the precipice, were thus exposed to view, and were necessarily abandoned by the enemy. At the same time on the 15th and 16th, No. 7 Redoubt was further enlarged to contain a half battery of Armstrong guns and the Artillery men attached; platforms for two 10-inch mortars were laid on the right of the redoubt, and a parapet to cover them, two 8-inch mortars, and one Armstrong gun, thrown up. On the 18th March, the sap was proceeded with and 27 yards executed, making a total length of 534 yards of single sap, and 412 yards of double sap, executed in 24 working days of 12 hours each, and bringing the approach to within about 90 yards of Te Arei Pah, when hostilities were again suspended with the view to the commencement of negotiations for peace.

Having thus detailed the operations, I would beg to submit that an attack conducted as described was the only one which under the circumstances was likely to be effectual in reducing the enemy to submission. Looking to the difficult nature of the country, the admirable positions taken up by the enemy, their peculiar mode of warfare, their character and disposition, attacks by "vive force" on their positions would not have had any moral effect on them, whilst on the other hand they would probably be elated and their courage raised by the mischief they had done. The enemy themselves unseen in their rifle pits would have an attacking force in full view during their advance, would by a dropping fire have harassed the columns in their approach, and when the troops were sufficiently close would have poured in a deadly volley and slunk with little loss into the bush, scrub, and impracticable swamps and gullies in their rear, leaving nothing but empty rifle pits as a barren conquest gained at considerable loss, and giving the savage enemy, what would be in their eyes a victory, increasing their audacity, and placing a peaceable solution at a greater distance. Position after position might be attacked and taken in this way until the enemy retired into their fastnesses, where it would be destruction to follow them, and from which they would emerge on the retirement of their assailants. The Maoris having their scouts constantly on the watch for every movement of their enemy, would, in anticipation of an attack, according to their customs, inflame their passions and excite their courage to make a determined resistance on the advance of the columns, but when driven out of their position, and having retired to their next line or to their bush and fastnesses, the excitement for the time subsides until they again arouse it to resist further assaults. But this excitement they cannot sustain, and when a patient though determined advance is made day by day and they are incessantly harassed, they lose heart in proportion as they lose ground and men, their casualties becoming infinitely greater, whilst those of the attacking party are in proportion diminished as they are under cover, they become wearied and depressed, are confounded by a mode of attack so novel and so pertinaciously persisted in, and desirous of peace and rest. I would respectfully submit that the mode of procedure described, adopted by the Major-General, has been the cause of the present cessation of hostilities, and the evident desire for peace evinced by the Waikato Natives, the real principals in the war, as shewn by their rapid retirement from the recent scene of operations.

The sketch does not, and could not, give a precise idea of the difficult nature of the ground and the strength of the positions, especially the last, so admirably selected and occupied by the natives, nor can verbal description give a knowledge of the nature of the defences constructed by them. Their sites are at the best but barely indicated by a narrow line of newly-moved earth carefully spread, not exceeding six inches above the general surface of the ground, whilst for the most part they as well as the defenders are invisible, a head occasionally only being raised above the level of the ground to reconnoitre, though the line may be thickly occupied; in the recent case it is presumed by a force at first amounting to nearly 1,200 men.

I would, in conclusion, beg to bring to your notice the officers of Royal Engineers under my command. Captain Mould, as senior, was the chief executive officer, and I believe I may without partiality declare that to his courage, energy, perseverance, and skill, added to his personal example, even of affording manual labour at the head of the sap, much of the success of the operation, and comparative absence of loss, was owing. Lieut. Warburton afforded me every assistance, and had especial charge of one of the Brigades of Engineers and the accompanying working parties, which he also incited by his example. In consequence of the deficiency of Officers of Royal Engineers the Major-General was pleased, upon my application and with the concurrence of Commodore Seymour, to place Lieut. Battiscombe, R.N., at my disposal as Assistant-Engineer, and that officer gave most valuable and efficient aid, not only in the occasional superintendence of the working parties in the trenches and at the construction of the redoubts, but in superintending the preparation of "materiel" at the Waitara Camp and overlooking other works both of defence and civil buildings.

Colour-Serjeants Porter and Morant, each in their turn in charge of brigades and working parties, were most zealous and effective.

Considering how closely the late Lieut. Macnaghten, Royal Artillery, was connected with the Engineer operations, the advance of which was materially aided by his constant presence at and near the head of the sap effectively working a howitzer and Coehorn mortar, I beg to be permitted to pay a tribute to his memory as a cool, courageous, zealous, and highly-talented officer, and withal most unpretending, one who was warmly regarded and respected by his men, and admired and beloved by the officers of all arms of the service who had the advantage of his acquaintance, and by whom his loss is deeply deplored.

I have, &c.,

THOS. R. MOULD, Colonel,
Commanding Royal Engineers.

The Deputy Adjutant-General,

*Camp, No. 7 Redoubt.
March 30, 1861.*

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report, for your information, the operations of the Royal Artillery under my command, from the 13th March to the 19th March, 1861. The half battery of Armstrong guns arrived at the Waitara, from Auckland, at 9 a.m. on the 13th March. We commenced disembarking in surf-boats, and by the same afternoon they were ready for service. The guns were taken out of their cases, cleaned and mounted, the ammunition, &c., examined, and the whole was found to be complete and in perfect order. The next day, the 14th, according to your directions I rode with Mr. Farris to select a favourable position for shelling "Mataitawa," the stronghold of Wiremu Kingi; but the distance of the nearest spot from which it could be seen, over the tops of the trees, was beyond the range of the 12-pounder Armstrong gun. Whilst away on this duty Lieutenant Pichard, with Sergeant-Major R. Hayes, had the men drilled and exercised in laying the guns, so as to be satisfied that they had not forgotten what they had learnt in England. The artificers at the same time were busily employed in making poles, &c., for bullock draught. Three poles were completed during the day, thus enabling the guns to start for the front at 6 a.m. the next morning, Friday 15th March. When the half battery arrived at No. 7 Redoubt the white flag was flying on the pah, but about the middle of the day it was hauled down, and the red war flag was hoisted instead, this was immediately followed by volleys from the natives. I was speaking with the late Lieutenant Macnaghten, R. A., at the time in the advance parallel, but returned to No. 7 Redoubt when the Armstrong guns, and 8-inch and 10-inch mortars were opened on the rifle pits of the enemy's position, at distances varying from 820 to 900 yards. The whole position from left to extreme right forms a curve about a mile in extent, and is naturally a strong one, from being situated on the edge of the forest, as well as from the nature of the ground: it consists of the "Te Arei" Pah which is a mass of rifle pits, with a dense bush in the rear for escape; on the right of the pah is a precipice overhanging the River Waitara, and on the left of the pah extends a range of hills commanding the approach to it, having a deep gulley and bush in front of them, and the forest in their rear. The slopes of these hills as well as their steep declivities are full of ingeniously constructed rifle pits; many of these pits are concealed by a stunted growth of bush, so that the presence of our all but invisible enemy is often only known by the puffs of smoke from the rifles or guns, or occasionally a few heads appear above the crest of their line of pits for a moment or so, and then as suddenly disappear; they lie concealed for hours, and now and then by single shots, and sometimes by volleys, they endeavour to do all the mischief they can. I have been particular in describing the position and mode of warfare of these natives, as it appeared to me at the time in order the more fully to explain the method I adopted to use the Armstrong gun with the best effect against them. After a trial shell on each of their positions, and the range having been accurately obtained, the guns were laid just below the crest of the line of their rifle pits, so that the shells when discharged should penetrate some three or four feet of earth, and fixed with the concussion fuse only, should burst inside their pits, when they retired, after delivering their fire. The guns were loaded and laid, the gunners, with lanyard in hand, waited for the word from the officer who was watching until some heads appeared above in that direction, or a puff of smoke revealed their presence, when the gun was instantly fired, and the shell entering just below the crest of the pits burst inside. The natives were in the habit of firing volleys in the morning and evening, whilst our working parties were going to or returning from the head of the sap, on these occasions the Armstrong guns were laid upon the lines of the pits, the shells fixed with time and concussion fuses, and before the working parties marched the gunners were ready waiting for the word, which was given directly the natives opened fire, and the shells almost at the same instant burst amongst them.

Lieutenant Pichard made some excellent shell practice from the Armstrong guns, and also Sergeant-Major R. Hayes. The mortar battery was situated outside, on the right of No. 7 Redoubt, and in order to harass the enemy as much as possible, firing was carried on during the night, at uncertain hours, and the mortars were laid on different positions, so that they could never tell when and where the shell was coming. The practice of the mortars was very good, the shells dropping in their pits both in the pah, and on the hills to the right, burying and destroying everything near them. Captain Strover had command of the mortar battery, the mortars were fired, at intervals, during the whole day, whenever there were any signs of the presence of the natives in their pits. On Saturday an attack was made on the extreme right, and a 9-pounder gun accompanied a detachment of the 40th Regiment, and began by firing some rounds of common case into the bush, and subsequently, on the natives retiring to their rifle pits on the edge of the wood to the right, some shrapnel shells were sent amongst them; some time after the firing ceased on the part of the enemy.

On Sunday afternoon, I deeply regret to say, Lieutenant E. C. Macnaghten, R.A., was killed whilst laying a cohorn mortar in the extremity of the advance parallel, the ball passing through the wrist and entering the chest; he died almost immediately, firing his last shot on the anniversary of his firing the first one in this war; he had ably conducted the firing of the cohorn mortars, since the advance of the sap from No. 8 Redoubt, and had been in every engagement throughout the whole war. We were deprived of his most valuable assistance, and the Service has lost in him a most brave, efficient, and able officer; he was beloved by all.

Sergeant J. Christie, R.A., a first-rate non-commissioned officer, was wounded in the shoulder in the advance parallel, early on Monday morning, whilst I was arranging with him about carrying on the practice. Some time afterwards, observing a "red war flag" hoisted on a hill to the rear of the pah, some 1900 yards distant, and also perceiving some natives working as if they intended to occupy a new position of rifle pits, when they would be obliged to retreat from the pah, the guns were laid, and some Armstrong shells, with time and concussion fuzes were sent amongst them; one of these shells burst at the foot of the flagstaff, when they immediately hauled down "their flag," and it was not hoisted again. This is the only occasion I fairly got a good sight of the enemy. I could see them in relief against the sky on the crest of the hill. I suppose they imagined they were out of range; but when they found the shell dropping amongst them they disappeared, and I saw them no more in that direction. The firing from the Armstrong guns and mortars commenced at 6 A.M., and continued whenever a favourable opportunity offered until dusk.

The following evidence has been given concerning the action of the Armstrong shell with the concussion fuze only. Colour-Sergeant J. Morant, R.E. was at the head of the sap, and saw an Armstrong shell go through a rifle-pit, about four feet of earth, and burst inside, and heard the enemy shout as in pain. He also observed that the shell of the Armstrong gun entered the rifle-pits as soon or sooner, than the report was heard, so that the natives had not time to get out of the way. Bombardier J. Linger, No. 3 battalion, 12th brigade, R.A., was at the head of the sap, and in the advance parallel, working the cohorn mortars, when he saw several shells from the Armstrong guns go through the enemy's rifle-pits and burst inside. After the cessation of hostilities, one of the natives told my sergeant-major that they were sometimes able to get out of the way of the mortar or the large shells, but never out of the way of the shell* from the gun "all the same as rifle,"—meaning the Armstrong gun. As the shell was amongst them as soon as they heard the report, these natives have designated the Armstrong shell "the quick shell."

I found it had been the practice of placing every night in the sap-roller an 8-inch naval shell with a friction-tube fixed through the fuze, and a cord attached to it and passing through a hole in the side of the wooden box, and the end of the cord attached to the sap-roller (this was suggested by the Royal Engineers and carried out at their request by the Naval Brigade), so that if the natives attempted to capture the sap-roller, in rolling it, the shell would explode. In the event of their trying to take the sap-roller, I calculated that, in all probability, the main rifle-pits in front of the pah, about fifty yards from the sap-roller, would be lined with natives watching the operation, or at hand to give help to secure the roller if they required more assistance. The trap of the shell succeeded, the natives endeavouring to capture the roller on Saturday night; the shell exploded, on hearing which I left my tent and sent the Armstrong shell amongst them. The Armstrong guns had been loaded and laid on their pits the last thing before dark every night. I also fired the mortars which had been laid on the pah, the shell bursting with good effect. Notwithstanding the skilfully constructed underground works of these natives, I feel certain that the Armstrong shell has searched them out and done execution,—to what extent, of course, I cannot tell. The natives themselves alone know; I have no means of actually deciding. They are very jealous of our knowing any loss they may sustain. The different statements made both by those who were in the sap, as well as by the natives themselves, corroborate the observations taken from the battery; viz., that the Armstrong shell, with concussion fuze only, entered the crest of the enemy's rifle-pits and burst inside. Whether there are few or many natives in the pits at the time cannot be ascertained. On Monday afternoon, an attack was made on our extreme right in the wood. A 9-pounder gun and a 24-pounder howitzer were taken down towards the wood; the former under Captain Strover, R.A., and the latter under Lieutenant Pichard, R.A. The practice with common and shrapnel shell was with good effect after the natives had been driven from the bush to their rifle-pits by a few rounds of common case. These pits formed a continuation of cover from the Flagstaff Hill to the edge of the wood. Gunner J. Talford was wounded in the leg. He was one of the men serving the 9-pounder gun. During this attack the Armstrong guns were used against the main rifle-pits just in front of the pah to keep down the fire of the enemy on the head of the sap.

At 4 o'clock on the morning of the 19th March, I left the redoubt with an escort of the guard, and fired the two cast mortars at the pah, and two hours afterwards the white flag was flying from it. There can be no doubt of the superiority of the

* This applies to both time and concussion fuze.

Armstrong gun over smooth-bored ordnance. The gun has done, and always will do, a great deal more than any other description of ordnance in the service, throwing the shell with greater precision, &c. There were forty time fuzes and 109 concussion fuzes expended; in all, 109 Armstrong shell.

Admiralty, July 25, 1861.

THE following despatches have been received by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty from Commodore Seymour, C.B., the Senior Officer of Her Majesty's ships and vessels on the Australian station:

Pelorus, Auckland.

April 2, 1861.

SIR,

THE Naval Brigade under my command having this day returned to the "Pelorus," I beg to lay before the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty a statement of the services rendered by Lieut. A. H. W. Battiscombe, Senior Lieutenant of this ship, prior and subsequent to his joining Her Majesty's ship bearing my broad pendant, and I most earnestly hope that their Lordships will deem them sufficient to entitle him to his promotion. His conduct on all occasions has been most gallant and meritorious, particularly at the disastrous affair near Puketakanere on the 27th of June, 1860, (when, after I was wounded, he succeeded to the command of the seamen and marines), at Kahiki in October, 1860, and during the operations in the Valley of the Waitara, between the 29th December, 1860 and the 19th March, 1861. His name was brought forward in the general order issued by General Pratt, C.B., on that officer resigning the command to Lieut-General Cameron, C.B., and his qualifications as an Engineer recognized by Colonel Mould, Commanding Royal Engineers, in his report.

Before concluding this letter I wish also to recommend to their Lordships' favourable notice the Assistant-Surgeon of this ship, Mr. Robert Edwardes, who had medical charge of the Naval Brigade from the time of its landing to its re-embarkation.

He attended the wounded with the advanced skirmishers, under a heavy fire, on the 27th June, and his unremitting attention at all times, both in the field and in quarters, attracted the particular attention both of myself and of Mr. Mouat, C.B.,

the principal medical officer in the Taranaki field force.

I beg also to be permitted to express to their Lordships the gratification I have felt at the good conduct of Lieutenant J. C. M. Morris, R.M.A., and of Messrs. E. B. Wadlow and Charles F. Hotham, Midshipmen, the senior of their rank with the brigade.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) F. BEAUCHAMP SEYMOUR,
Commodore.

Extract from a despatch of Commodore Beauchamp Seymour, dated H.M.S. Pelorus, Auckland, New Zealand, 6th April, 1861, addressed to the Secretary of the Admiralty.

"ON the afternoon of the 1st instant, the Naval Brigade embarked on board the "Niger." We reached the "Pelorus" on the afternoon of the 2nd instant; and it will be my duty to lay before their Lordships, in a separate communication, a statement of the services rendered by various officers of the Brigade during the last eleven months. The conduct of all has been most exemplary, and I have much pleasure in stating that that of the seamen and marines, as a body, has been remarkably good: of course there were exceptions, but they were comparatively few in number, and the good example set by the petty officers, especially by John Gibson, gunner's mate, Thomas Avent, supernumerary captain of the afterguard, and James Veale, boatswain's mate, had a beneficial effect on all.

"I should feel deeply gratified were their Lordships pleased to permit me to express their approval of these men's conduct; and also I beg to bring to their notice the names of John P. Fisher, captain of the maintop, seaman gunner (who has lost a leg in action, and will be sent to England by the earliest opportunity after he is in a fit state to be moved), and of James Costelle, coxswain of the launch, seaman gunner, who were the captains of the 8-inch guns in the advanced redoubts, and who invariably conducted themselves very much to my satisfaction."

Admiralty, July 25, 1861.

IN consideration of their services, as stated in the above despatch, the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty have been pleased to promote Lieutenant A. H. W. Battiscombe, of the "Pelorus," to the rank of Commander, and have ordered the name of Mr. Robert Edwardes, Assistant-Surgeon, to be noted for promotion on his passing the necessary examination.

The names of the other officers and men mentioned have also been noted.

Signed at Kanlidja, April 29, 1861.

[Ratifications exchanged at Constantinople, July 9, 1861.]

HER Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, on the one part, and His Majesty the Emperor of the Ottomans, on the other part, being equally animated by the desire of extending the commercial relations between their respective dominions, have agreed, for this purpose, to conclude a Treaty of Commerce and Navigation, and have named as their respective Plenipotentiaries, that is to say:—

Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, the Right Honourable Sir Henry Lytton Bulwer, a Member of Her Britannic Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, Knight Grand Cross of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath, and Her Majesty's Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary to the Sublime Porte;

No. 22533.

SA Majesté la Reine du Royaume Uni de la Grande Bretagne et d'Irlande, d'une part, et Sa Majesté l'Empereur des Ottomans, de l'autre part, étant également animés du désir d'étendre les relations commerciales entre leurs Etats respectifs, sont convenus à cet effet de conclure un Traité de Commerce et de Navigation, et ont nommé pour leurs Plénipotentiaires, savoir:—

Sa Majesté la Reine du Royaume Uni de la Grande Bretagne et d'Irlande, le Très Honorable Sir Henry Lytton Bulwer, Membre du Très Honorable Conseil Privé de Sa Majesté Britannique, Chevalier Grand-Croix du Très Honorable Ordre du Bain, et Ambassadeur Extraordinaire et Plénipotentiaire de Sa Majesté Britannique près la Sublime Porte;

Sa Majesté l'Empereur des Ottomans, Son Altesse Mouhammed Emin Aali Pacha, Président du Conseil du Tanzimat, et Ministre ad interim des Affaires Etrangères, décoré de l'Ordre du Medjidie et du Mérite de première classe, Grand-Croix de l'Ordre Impérial de la Légion d'Honneur, de Saint Etienne d'Autriche, de l'Aigle Rouge de Prusse, de Saint Alexandre Newski de Russie, et de plusieurs autres Ordres Etrangers;

Lesquels, après s'être communiqué leurs pleins pouvoirs respectifs, trouvés en bonne et due forme, sont convenus des Articles suivants:—

ARTICLE I.

Tous les droits, privilèges, et immunités qui ont été conférés aux sujets ou aux bâtiments de la Grande Bretagne par les Capitulations et les Traités existants, sont confirmés maintenant et pour toujours, à l'exception des clauses des dites Capitulations que le présent Traité a pour objet de modifier; et il est en outre expressément stipulé que tous les droits, privilèges, ou immunités que la Sublime Porte accorde à présent, ou pourra accorder à l'avenir, aux sujets, bâtiments, commerce, ou navigation de toute autre Puissance étrangère, ou dont elle pourra tolérer la jouissance, seront également accordés, et l'exercice et la jouissance en seront laissés, aux sujets, bâtiments, commerce, et navigation de la Grande Bretagne.

ARTICLE II.

Il sera permis aux sujets de Sa Majesté Britannique, ou à leurs ayant-cause, d'acheter dans toutes les parties de l'Empire et des Possessions Ottomanes (soit pour en faire le commerce à l'intérieur, soit pour les exporter) tous les articles, sans exception quelconque, provenant du sol ou de l'industrie du dit Empire et des dites possessions; et la Sublime Porte, en vertu du Deuxième Article de la Convention Commerciale du 16 Août, 1838, s'étant engagée formellement à abolir tous les monopoles sur les produits de l'agriculture ou tout autre article quelconque, ainsi que les permis (teskérés) émanant des Gouverneurs locaux pour autoriser l'achat d'un article ou son transport d'un lieu à un autre après l'acquisition, toute tentative ayant pour but de contraindre les sujets de Sa Majesté Britannique à recevoir d'un Gouverneur local ces sortes de

Sublime Porte shall immediately punish with severity any Viziers or other officers who shall have been guilty of such misconduct, and shall render full justice to British subjects for all injuries or losses which they may duly prove themselves to have suffered thereby.

ARTICLE III.

If any article of Turkish produce or manufacture be purchased by British merchants or their agents, for the purpose of selling the same for internal consumption in Turkey, the said British merchants or their agents shall pay, at the purchase and sale of such articles, and in any manner of trade therein, the same duties that are paid in similar circumstances by the most favoured class of Ottoman subjects, or of foreigners engaged in the internal trade of Turkey.

ARTICLE IV.

No other or higher duties or charges shall be imposed in the dominions and possessions of either of the Contracting Parties, on the exportation of any article to the dominions and possessions of the other, than such as are or may be payable on the exportation of the like article to any other foreign country; nor shall any prohibition be imposed on the exportation of any article from the dominions and possessions of either of the two Contracting Parties to the dominions and possessions of the other, which shall not equally extend to the exportation of the like article to any other country.

No charge or duty whatsoever will be demanded on any article of Turkish produce or manufacture purchased by British subjects or their agents, either at the place where such article is purchased, or in its transit from that place to the place whence it is exported, at which it will be subject to an export duty not exceeding eight per cent. calculated on the value at the place of shipment, and payable on exportation; and all articles which shall once have paid this duty shall not again be liable to the same duty, however they may have changed hands, within any part of the Ottoman dominions.

It is furthermore agreed that the duty of eight per cent. above mentioned will be annually reduced by one (1) per cent., until it shall be in this manner finally reduced to a fixed duty of one (1) per cent. ad valorem, destined to cover the general expenses of administration and control.

ARTICLE V.

No other or higher duties shall be imposed on the importation into the dominions and possessions of Her Britannic Majesty, of any article the produce or manufacture of the dominions and possessions of His Imperial Majesty the Sultan, from whatever place arriving, whether by sea or by land, and no other or higher duties shall be imposed on the importation into the dominions and possessions of His Imperial Majesty, of any article the produce or manufacture of Her Britannic Majesty's dominions and possessions, from whatever place arriving, than are or may be payable on the like article the produce or manufacture of any other foreign country; nor shall any prohibition be maintained or imposed on the importation of any article the produce or manufacture of the dominions and possessions of either of the Contracting Parties into the dominions and pospermis sera considérée comme une infraction aux Traités, et la Sublime Porte punira immédiatement avec sévérité tout Vizir ou autre fonctionnaire qui se sera rendu coupable de cette infraction, et rendra pleine justice aux sujets de la Grande Bretagne pour tout préjudice ou toute perte qu'ils pourront dûment prouver avoir subi pour cette cause.

ARTICLE III.

Les marchands Anglais ou leurs ayant-cause qui achèteront un produit quelconque du sol ou de l'industrie Turque dans le but de le revendre pour la consommation dans l'intérieur de la Turquie, paieront, lors de l'achat et de la vente de cet objet, et pour toute espèce d'opération commerciale y relative, les mêmes droits qui sont payés dans les circonstances analogues par les plus favorisés parmi les sujets Ottomans ou étrangers, engagés dans le commerce intérieur en Turquie.

ARTICLE IV.

Aucun droit, aucune charge imposée dans le territoire ou les possessions de l'une des Parties Contractantes sur l'exportation d'un article quelconque destiné à être importé dans le territoire ou les possessions de l'autre Partie, ne seront autres ni plus élevés que ce qui est ou peut être payable sur l'exportation de ce même article destiné à être importé dans tout autre pays; et il n'y aura de prohibition frappant l'exportation d'un article quelconque du territoire ou des possessions de l'une des deux Parties Contractantes, et destiné à être importé dans le territoire ou les possessions de l'autre Partie, qu'autant que cette prohibition s'étendrait également sur l'exportation de ce même article à tout autre pays.

Aucune charge, aucun droit quelconque ne sera exigé sur un article de production ou de fabrication Turque, acheté par des sujets Britanniques ou leurs ayant-cause, soit à l'endroit où cet article aura été acheté, soit lors de son transport de cet endroit à l'endroit d'où il sera exporté, et où il sera assujéti à un droit d'exportation qui n'excèdera pas huit (8) pour cent calculé sur la valeur à l'échelle, et payable au moment d'être exporté; et tout article qui aura acquitté ce droit ne sera point assujéti de nouveau à ce même droit, dans aucune autre partie des Etats Ottomans, quand même il aurait changé de mains.

Il est en outre convenu que le droit précité de huit (8) pour cent sera réduit chaque année de un (1) pour cent jusqu'à ce qu'il soit de la sorte définitivement réduit à une taxe fixe de un pour cent (ad valorem), destinée à couvrir les frais généraux d'administration et de surveillance.

ARTICLE V.

Aucun droit imposé sur l'importation dans les états et possessions de Sa Majesté Britannique d'un article quelconque produit du sol ou de l'industrie de l'Empire et des possessions de Sa Majesté Impériale le Sultan (de quelque lieu qu'il arrive, que ce soit par terre ou par mer), et aucun droit imposé sur l'importation dans les états et possessions de Sa Majesté Impériale d'un article quelconque produit du sol ou de l'industrie des états et possessions de Sa Majesté Britannique (de quelque lieu qu'il arrive), ne sera autre ou plus élevé que ce qui est ou peut être payable sur le même article produit du sol ou de l'industrie de tout autre pays. De plus, aucune prohibition ne sera ni maintenue ni imposée sur un article quelconque produit du sol ou de l'industrie des états et possessions de l'une des Parties Contractantes, lors de son importation dans les états ou possessions sessions of the other, which shall not equally extend to the importation of the like articles being the produce or manufacture of any other country.

His Imperial Majesty further engages that, save as hereinafter excepted, he will not prohibit the importation into his dominions and possessions of any article the produce or manufacture of the dominions and possessions of Her Britannic Majesty, from whatever place arriving; and that the duties to be imposed on any article the produce or manufacture of the dominions or possessions of Her Britannic Majesty imported into the dominions or possessions of His Imperial Majesty, shall in no case exceed one fixed rate of eight (8) per cent. ad valorem, or a specific duty, fixed by common assent, equivalent thereto.

Such rate shall be calculated upon the value of such articles at the wharf, and shall be payable at the time of their being landed, if brought by sea, or at the first Custom-house they may reach, if brought by land.

If these articles, after having paid the import duty of eight (8) per cent., are sold either at the place of their arrival or in the interior of the country, neither the buyer nor the seller shall be charged with any further duty in respect to them; and if such articles should not be sold for consumption in Turkey, but should be re-exported within the space of six months, the same shall be considered as merchandize in transit by land, and be treated as is stated in Article XII; the Administration of the Customs being bound to restore at the time of their re-exportation to the merchant, who shall be required to furnish proof that the goods in question have paid the import duty of eight (8) per cent., the difference between that duty and the duty levied on goods in transit by land, as set forth in the Article above cited.

ARTICLE VI.

It is understood that any article, the produce or manufacture of a foreign country, intended for importation into the United Principalities of Moldo-Wallachia, or into the Principality of Servia, which shall pass through any other part of the Ottoman dominions, will not be liable to the payment of Customs duty until it reaches those Principalities; and, on the other hand, that any article of foreign produce or manufacture passing through those Principalities, but destined for some other part of the Ottoman dominions, will not be liable to the payment of Customs duty until such article reaches the first Custom-house under the direct administration of the Sublime Porte.

The same course shall be followed with respect to any article the produce or manufacture of those Principalities, as well as with respect to any article the produce or manufacture of any other portion of the Ottoman dominions, intended for exportation: such articles will be liable to the payment of Customs duties, the former to the Custom-house of the aforesaid Principalities, and the latter to the Ottoman Custom-house, the object being, that neither import nor export duties shall in any case be payable more than once.

ARTICLE VII.

The subjects of one of the Contracting Parties shall enjoy, in the dominions and possessions of the other, equality of treatment with native subjects in regard to warehousing, and also in regard to bounties, facilities, and drawbacks.

de l'autre, si la dite prohibition ne s'étend pas à l'article en question, quand il est produit du sol ou de l'industrie de tout autre pays.

Sa Majesté Impériale s'engage en outre, sauf les exceptions ci-après, à ne pas prohiber l'importation dans ses états et possessions d'aucun article produit du sol ou de l'industrie des états ou possessions de Sa Majesté Britannique, de quelque lieu qu'il arrive; et à ce que les droits à percevoir sur les produits du sol ou de l'industrie des états et possessions de Sa Majesté Britannique importés dans les états et possessions de Sa Majesté Impériale n'excèdent en aucun cas un taux fixe de 8 pour cent (ad valorem), ou une tarification équivalente fixée de commun accord.

Ce taux sera calculé sur la valeur des articles à l'échelle, et payable au moment de leur débarquement s'ils arrivent par mer, ou à la première Douane, s'ils arrivent par terre.

Si ces articles, après avoir payé de droit d'importation de huit (8) pour cent, sont vendus, soit au lieu où ils arrivent, soit dans l'intérieur du pays, ni l'acheteur ni le vendeur ne pourront être ensuite soumis à aucun autre droit relativement à ces objets; et si ces articles ne doivent pas être vendus pour la consommation en Turquie, mais qu'ils doivent être exportés de nouveau dans le délai de six mois, ils seront considérés comme marchandises de transit par terre et traités comme il est dit dans Article XII; l'Administration des Douanes étant alors tenue de restituer au moment de leur réexportation, au négociant (qui sera requis de fournir la preuve que le droit d'importation de huit (8) pour cent a été acquitté), la différence entre ce droit et le droit de transit spécifié dans l'Article précité.

ARTICLE VI.

Il est entendu que les articles d'importation étrangère destinés aux Principautés Unies de Moldo-Valachie et à celle de Servie, et traversant les autres parties de l'Empire Ottoman, n'acquitteront les droits de douane qu'à leur arrivée dans ces Principautés; et réciproquement, que les marchandises d'importation étrangère traversant ces Principautés pour se rendre dans les autres parties de l'Empire Ottoman, ne devront acquitter les droits de douane qu'au premier bureau des douanes administrées directement par la Sublime Porte.

Il en sera de même pour les produits du sol ou de l'industrie de ces Principautés, aussi bien que pour ceux du reste de l'Empire Ottoman, destinés à l'exportation dans les pays étrangers, qui devront payer les droits de douane les premiers entre les mains de l'administration douanière de ces Principautés, et les derniers au fisc Ottoman, de telle sorte que les droits d'importation et d'exportation ne pourront en tous les cas être perçus qu'une fois.

ARTICLE VII.

Les sujets de chacune des Parties Contractantes seront traités dans les états et possessions de l'autre sur le même pied que les sujets indigènes, relativement aux droits d'emmagasinage, ainsi qu'à l'égard des primes, facilités, et remboursement de droits.

ARTICLE VIII.

All articles which are or may be legally importable into the dominions and possessions of Her Britannic Majesty, in British vessels, may likewise be imported in Ottoman vessels, without being liable to any other or higher duties or charges, of whatever denomination, than if such articles were imported in British vessels; and reciprocally, all articles which are or may be legally importable into the dominions and possessions of His Imperial Majesty the Sultan in Ottoman vessels, may likewise be imported in British vessels, without being liable to any other or higher duties or charges, of whatever denomination, than if such articles were imported in Ottoman vessels. Such reciprocal equality of treatment shall take effect without distinction, whether such articles come directly from the place of origin or from any other country.

In the same manner, there shall be perfect equality of treatment in regard to exportation, so that the same export duties shall be paid, and the same bounties and drawbacks allowed, in the dominions and possessions of either of the Contracting Parties, on the exportation of any article which is or may be legally exportable therefrom, whether such exportation shall take place in Ottoman or in British vessels, and whatever may be the place of destination, whether a port of either of the Contracting Parties or of any third Power.

ARTICLE IX.

No duties of tonnage, harbour, pilotage, lighthouse, quarantine, or other similar or corresponding duties, of whatever nature, or under whatever denomination, levied in the name or for the profit of Government, public functionaries, private individuals, corporations, or establishments of any kind, shall be imposed in the ports of the dominions and possessions of either country upon the vessels of the other country, which shall not equally and under the same conditions be imposed in the like cases on national vessels in general. Such equality of treatment shall apply reciprocally to the respective vessels, from whatever port or place they may arrive, and whatever may be their place of destination.

ARTICLE X.

All vessels which according to British law are to be deemed British vessels, and all vessels which according to Ottoman law are to be deemed Ottoman vessels, shall, for the purposes of this Treaty, be deemed British and Ottoman vessels respectively.

ARTICLE XI.

No charge whatsoever shall be made upon British goods being the produce or manufacture of the British dominions or possessions, whether in British or other ships, nor upon any goods the produce or manufacture of any other foreign country carried in British ships, when the same shall pass through the Straits of the Dardanelles or of the Bosphorus, whether such goods shall pass through those Straits in the ships that brought them, or shall have been transhipped to other vessels; or whether, after having been sold for exportation, they shall, for a certain limited time, be landed in order to be placed in other vessels for the continuance of their voyage.

ARTICLE VIII.

Tout article étant ou pouvant être légalement importable dans les états et possessions de Sa Majesté Britannique sur des bâtiments Anglais, peut de même être importé sur des bâtiments Turcs, sans être soumis à aucun droit ni charge (quelle qu'en soit la dénomination) autre ou plus élevé que si cet article était importé sur un bâtiment Anglais; et réciproquement, tout article étant ou pouvant être légalement importable dans les états et possessions de Sa Majesté Impériale le Sultan sur des bâtiments Turcs, pourra de même être importé sur des bâtiments Anglais, sans être soumis à aucun droit ou charge (quelle qu'en soit la dénomination) autre ou plus élevé que s'il était importé sur des bâtiments Turcs. Cette mesure réciproque sera appliquée également et sans distinction, soit aux articles arrivant directement du lieu de leur origine, soit à ceux arrivant de tout autre pays étranger.

De même, il y aura parfaite réciprocité en ce qui concerne l'exportation. Ainsi les mêmes droits d'exportation seront payés, et les mêmes primes et les mêmes remboursements de droits seront accordés, dans les états et possessions de l'une ou l'autre des Parties Contractantes, sur l'exportation d'un article quelconque qui est ou pourra être légalement susceptible d'en être exporté, soit que l'exportation ait lieu sur un bâtiment Ottoman ou Anglais, soit que le lieu de destination se trouve être un port de l'une des Parties Contractantes ou d'une Puissance tierce quelconque.

ARTICLE IX.

Aucun droit de tonnage, de port, de pilotage, phare, quarantaine, ou autres semblables ou analogues (quelle qu'en soit la nature ou la dénomination) levé au nom ou au profit du Gouvernement, de fonctionnaires publics, de particuliers, de corporations ou d'établissement d'aucune sorte, ne sera imposé dans les ports des états et possessions de l'un des deux pays sur les navires de l'autre dans des conditions différentes de celles relatives à tout bâtiment national en général se trouvant dans le même cas. Cette réciprocité s'appliquera aux bâtiments respectifs des deux Puissances, de quelque port ou endroit qu'ils viennent, et quelque soit le lieu de leur destination.

ARTICLE X.

Tout bâtiment considéré comme Anglais par la loi Britannique, et tout bâtiment considéré comme Turc par la loi Ottomane, sera, pour ce qui concerne ce Traité, considéré respectivement comme bâtiment Anglais ou bâtiment Turc.

ARTICLE XI.

Aucun droit quelconque ne sera prélevé sur les marchandises, produits du sol ou de l'industrie de la Grande Bretagne et de ses possessions, soit qu'elles arrivent sur des bâtiments Anglais ou d'autres, ni sur les marchandises provenant des produits du sol et de l'industrie de tout autre pays étranger, chargées sur des bâtiments Anglais, quand ces marchandises passeront les Détroits des Dardanelles et du Bosphore, soit qu'elles traversent ces Détroits sur les bâtiments qui les ont apportées, ou qu'elles aient été transbordées sur d'autres bâtiments, ou que, vendues pour l'exportation, elles soient débarquées pour un temps limité, pour être mises à bord d'autres bâtiments et continuer leur voyage.

In the latter case the goods in question shall be deposited at Constantinople in the magazines of the Custom-house, called Transit magazines; and in any other places where there is no entrepôt, they shall be placed under the charge of the Administration of the Customs.

ARTICLE XII.

The Sublime Porte desiring to grant by means of gradual concessions all facilities in its power to transit by land, it is stipulated and agreed that the duty of three (3) per cent. levied up to this time on articles imported into Turkey, in their passage through Turkey to other countries, shall be reduced to two (2) per cent. payable, as the duty of three per cent. has been paid hitherto, on arriving in the Ottoman dominions; and at the end of eight years, to be reckoned from the day of the exchange of the ratifications of the present Treaty, to a fixed and definite tax of one (1) per cent., which shall be levied, as is to be the case with respect to Turkish produce exported, to defray the expense of registration.

The Sublime Porte at the same time declares that it reserves to itself the right to establish, by a special enactment, the measures to be adopted for the prevention of fraud.

ARTICLE XIII.

Her Britannic Majesty's subjects, or their agents, trading in goods the produce or manufacture of foreign countries, shall be subject to the same taxes, and enjoy the same rights, privileges, and immunities as foreign subjects dealing in goods, the produce or manufacture of their own country.

ARTICLE XIV.

An exception to the stipulations laid down in the Vth Article shall be made in regard to tobacco, in any shape whatsoever, and also in regard to salt, which two articles shall cease to be included among those which the subjects of Her Britannic Majesty are permitted to import into the Ottoman dominions.

British subjects, however, or their agents, buying or selling tobacco or salt for consumption in Turkey, shall be subject to the same regulations, and shall pay the same duties, as the most favoured Ottoman subjects trading in the two articles aforesaid; and furthermore, as a compensation for the prohibition of the two articles above-mentioned, no duty whatsoever shall in future be levied on those articles when exported from Turkey by the subjects of Her Britannic Majesty.

British subjects shall, nevertheless, be bound to declare the quantity of tobacco and salt thus exported, to the proper Custom-house authorities, who shall, as heretofore, have the right to watch over the export of these articles, without thereby being entitled to levy any tax thereon on any pretence whatsoever.

ARTICLE XV.

It is understood between the two High Contracting Parties, that the Sublime Porte reserves to itself the faculty and right of issuing a general prohibition against the importation into the Ottoman dominions of gunpowder, cannon, arms of war, or military stores; but such prohibition will not come into operation until it shall have been officially notified, and will apply only to the articles mentioned in the decree enacting the prohibition. Any of these articles which have not been so specifically prohibited, shall, on being

Dans ce dernier cas, ces marchandises devront être déposées à Constantinople, dans les magasins de la Douane dits de Transit, et placées partout ailleurs où il n'y aurait pas d'entrepôt, sous la surveillance de l'Administration des Douanes.

ARTICLE XII.

La Sublime Porte désirant accorder, au moyen de concessions graduelles, toutes les facilités en son pouvoir au transit par terre, il a été stipulé et convenu que le droit de trois (3) pour cent prélevé jusqu'à ce jour sur les marchandises importées en Turquie pour en être expédiées dans d'autres pays, sera réduit à deux (2) pour cent payable (comme le droit de trois (3) pour cent a été payé jusqu'ici) à leur arrivée dans les états Ottomans, et au bout de huit ans, à compter du jour où les ratifications du présent Traité auront été échangées, à une taxe fixe et définie d'un (1) pour cent, qui sera prélevée (comme ce sera également le cas pour l'exportation des produits Turcs) pour couvrir les frais d'enregistrement.

La Sublime Porte déclare en même temps se réserver le droit d'établir par une disposition spéciale les mesures à adopter pour prévenir la fraude.

ARTICLE XIII.

Les sujets de Sa Majesté Britannique ou leurs ayant-cause, se livrant dans l'Empire Ottoman au commerce des articles, produits du sol ou de l'industrie de pays étrangers, acquitteront les mêmes taxes et jouiront des mêmes droits, privilèges, et immunités que les sujets étrangers trafiquant des marchandises provenant des produits du sol ou de l'industrie de leur propre pays.

ARTICLE XIV.

Par exception aux stipulations de l'Article V, le tabac, sous toutes ses formes, et le sel, cessent d'être compris au nombre des articles que les sujets de Sa Majesté Britannique ont la faculté d'importer dans l'Empire Ottoman; cependant les sujets de la Grande Bretagne ou leurs ayant-cause, qui achèteront ou vendront du tabac ou du sel pour la consommation de la Turquie, seront soumis aux mêmes réglemens et paieront les mêmes droits que les sujets Ottomans les plus favorisés parmi ceux qui se livreront au commerce de ces deux articles; et en outre, comme compensation de cette prohibition des deux articles susmentionnés, aucun droit ne sera perçu à l'avenir sur ces articles, quand ils seront exportés de la Turquie par des sujets de Sa Majesté Britannique.

Les sujets Britanniques seront néanmoins tenus de déclarer aux autorités de la douane la quantité de tabac et de sel exportée, et les dites autorités conserveront, comme par le passé, le droit de surveiller l'exportation de ces articles, sans pouvoir pour cela être autorisées à les frapper d'aucune taxe sous un prétexte quelconque.

ARTICLE XV.

Il est entendu entre les deux Hautes Parties Contractantes, que la Sublime Porte se réserve la faculté et le droit de frapper d'une prohibition générale l'importation de la poudre, des canons, armes de guerre, ou munitions militaires, dans les états de l'Empire Ottoman.

Cette prohibition ne pourra être en vigueur qu'autant qu'elle sera officiellement notifiée, et ne pourra s'étendre que sur les articles spécifiés dans le décret qui les interdit. Celui de ces articles qui ne sera pas ainsi prohibé, sera assujéti à son imported into the Ottoman dominions, be subject to the local regulations, unless Her Britannic Majesty's Embassy shall think fit to apply for a special license, which license will in that case be granted, provided no valid objection thereto can be alleged.

Gunpowder, in particular, when allowed to be imported, will be liable to the following stipulations :

1st. It shall not be sold by subjects of Her Britannic Majesty in quantities exceeding the quantities prescribed by the local regulations.

2ndly. When a cargo or a large quantity of gunpowder arrives in an Ottoman port on board a British vessel, such vessel shall be anchored at a particular spot to be designated by the local authorities, and the gunpowder shall thence be conveyed, under the inspection of such authorities, to depôts or fitting places designated by the Government, to which the parties interested shall have access under due regulations.

Fowling-pieces, pistols, and ornamental or fancy weapons, as also small quantities of gunpowder for sporting, reserved for private use, shall not be subject to the stipulations of the present Article.

ARTICLE XVI.

The firmans required for British merchant-vessels, on passing through the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus, shall always be delivered in such manner as to occasion to such vessels the least possible delay.

ARTICLE XVII.

The captains of British merchant-vessels, with goods on board destined for the Ottoman Empire, shall be obliged, immediately on their arrival at the port to which they are bound, to deposit in the Custom-house of the said port a true copy of their manifest.

ARTICLE XVIII.

Contraband goods will be liable to confiscation by the Ottoman Treasury ; but a report or procès-verbal of the alleged act of contraband must, as soon as the said goods are seized by the authorities, be drawn up and communicated to the Consular authority of the foreign subject to whom the goods said to be contraband shall belong ; and no goods can be confiscated as contraband, unless the fraud with regard to them shall be duly and legally proved.

ARTICLE XIX.

All merchandize, the produce or manufacture of the Ottoman dominions and possessions, imported into the dominions and possessions of Her Britannic Majesty, shall be treated in the same manner as the like merchandize the produce or manufacture of the most favoured nation.

All rights, privileges, or immunities which are now or may hereafter be granted to, or suffered to be enjoyed by, the subjects, ships, commerce, or navigation of any foreign Power in the British dominions or possessions, shall be equally granted to, and exercised and enjoyed by, the subjects, ships, commerce, and navigation of the Ottoman Porte.

ARTICLE XX.

The present Treaty, when ratified, shall be substituted for the Convention concluded between the two High Contracting Parties on the 16th of August, 1838, and shall remain in force for introduction dans l'Empire aux réglemens locaux, sauf les cas où l'Ambassade de Sa Majesté Britannique demande une permission exceptionnelle, laquelle sera alors accordée, à moins que des raisons sérieuses ne s'y opposent.

La poudre en particulier, si son introduction est permise, sera assujettie aux obligations suivantes :

1. Elle ne sera point vendue par les sujets de Sa Majesté Britannique au-delà de la quantité prescrite par les réglemens locaux.

2. Quand une cargaison ou une quantité considérable de poudre arrivera dans un port Ottoman à bord d'un bâtiment Anglais, ce bâtiment sera tenu de mouiller sur un point particulier désigné par les autorités locales, et de débarquer sa poudre sous l'inspection de ces mêmes autorités, dans des entrepôts ou autres endroits qui seront également désignés par elles, et auxquels les parties intéressées auront accès en se conformant aux réglemens voulus.

Ne sont pas compris dans les restrictions du présent Article les fusils de chasse, les pistolets, les armes de luxe, ainsi qu'une petite quantité de poudre de chasse réservée à l'usage privé.

ARTICLE XVI.

Les firmans exigés des bâtimens marchands Britanniques à leur passage par les Dardanelles et le Bosphore, leur seront toujours délivrés de manière à leur occasionner le moins de retard possible.

ARTICLE XVII.

Les capitaines des bâtimens de commerce Britanniques ayant à bord des marchandises à destination de l'Empire Ottoman, seront tenus, immédiatement après leur arrivée au port de destination, de déposer à la Douane une copie exacte de leur manifeste.

ARTICLE XVIII.

Les marchandises introduites en contrebande seront passibles de confiscation au profit du Trésor Ottoman ; mais un rapport ou procès-verbal du fait de contrebande allégué devra, aussitôt que les marchandises seront saisies par les autorités, être dressé et communiqué à l'autorité Consulaire du sujet étranger auquel appartiendraient les objets réputés de contrebande ; et aucune marchandise ne pourra être confisquée comme contrebande, tant que la fraude n'aura pas été dûment et légalement prouvée.

ARTICLE XIX.

Toute marchandise, produit du sol ou de l'industrie Ottomane, soit de l'Empire soit de ses dépendances, importée dans les états et possessions de Sa Majesté Britannique, sera traitée sur le même pied que la même marchandise produit du sol ou de l'industrie de la nation la plus favorisée.

Tous les droits, privilèges, ou immunités accordés maintenant ou pouvant être accordés plus tard aux sujets, bâtimens, commerce, ou navigation de toute Puissance étrangère dans les états ou les possessions de la Grande Bretagne, ou dont la jouissance pourra y être tolérée, seront également accordés aux sujets, bâtimens, commerce, et navigation de la Porte Ottomane, et l'exercice et la jouissance leur en seront laissés.

ARTICLE XX.

Le présent Traité une fois ratifié, sera substitué à la Convention conclue entre les deux Hautes Parties Contractantes le 16 Août, 1838, et il sera en vigueur pour vingt-huit ans à partir du jour twenty-eight years from the day of the exchange of the ratifications; each of the High Contracting Parties being, however, at liberty to give to the other, at the end of fourteen years (that time being fixed, as the provisions of this Treaty will then have come into full force), notice for its revision, or for its determination at the expiration of a year from the date of that notice, and so again at the end of twenty-one years.

The present Treaty shall receive its execution in all and every one of the provinces of the Ottoman Empire, that is to say, in all the possessions of His Imperial Majesty the Sultan situated in Europe or in Asia, in Egypt and in the other parts of Africa belonging to the Sublime Porte, in Servia, and in the United Principalities of Moldavia and Wallachia.

The Sublime Porte declares that she is ready to grant to other foreign Powers who may seek to obtain them, the commercial advantages contained in the stipulations of the present Treaty.

ARTICLE XXI.

It is always understood that Her Britannic Majesty does not pretend, by any Article in the present Treaty, to stipulate for more than the plain and fair construction of the terms employed, nor to preclude in any manner the Ottoman Government from the exercise of its rights of internal administration, where the exercise of those rights does not evidently infringe upon the privileges accorded by ancient Treaties, or by the present Treaty, to British subjects or British merchandise.

ARTICLE XXII.

The High Contracting Parties have agreed to appoint, jointly, Commissioners for the settlement of a Tariff of Custom-house duties, to be levied in conformity with the stipulations of the present Treaty, as well upon merchandize of every description being the produce or manufacture of the British dominions and possessions imported into the Sultan's dominions and possessions, as upon articles of every description the produce or manufacture of the dominions and possessions of the Sultan, which British subjects or their agents are free to purchase in any part of the Ottoman dominions and possessions for exportation to Great Britain or to any other country.

The new Tariff to be so concluded shall remain in force during seven years, dating from the first of October, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one.

Each of the Contracting Parties shall have the right, a year before the expiration of that term, to demand the revision of the Tariff. But if, during the seventh year, neither the one nor the other of the Contracting Parties shall avail itself of this right, the Tariff then existing shall continue to have the force of law for seven more years, dating from the day of the expiration of the seven preceding years; and the same shall be the case with respect to every successive period of seven years.

ARTICLE XXIII.

The present Treaty shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Constantinople in two calendar months, or sooner if possible, and shall be carried into execution from the first of October, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one.

Done at Kanlidja, on the twenty-ninth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one.

de l'échange des ratifications. Chacune des Hautes Parties Contractantes aura cependant la faculté de faire savoir à l'autre, à l'expiration de la quatorzième année (époque à laquelle les provisions du Traité auront reçu leur pleine et entière exécution), de même qu'à l'expiration de la vingt-unième année, si elle a le projet de le réviser, ou de le faire cesser à l'expiration d'une année à partir de la date de cette notification.

Le présent Traité sera exécutoire dans toutes et dans chacune des provinces de l'Empire Ottoman, c'est-à-dire, dans tous les Etats de Sa Majesté Impériale le Sultan situés en Europe ou en Asie, en Egypte et dans les autres parties de l'Afrique appartenant à la Sublime Porte, en Servie, et dans les Principautés Unies de Moldavie et de Wallachie.

La Sublime Porte déclare qu'elle est prête à accorder aux autres Puissances étrangères qui pourraient les désirer, les avantages commerciaux contenus dans les stipulations du présent Traité.

ARTICLE XXI.

Il est toujours entendu que Sa Majesté Britannique ne prétend point, par aucun Article du présent Traité, stipuler au-delà du sens clair et équitable des termes employés, ni entraver, en aucune manière, le Gouvernement Ottoman dans l'exercice de ses droits d'administration intérieure, autant, toutefois, que ces droits ne porteront pas une atteinte manifeste aux privilèges accordés par les anciens Traités, ou par celui-ci, aux sujets Britanniques ou à leurs marchandises.

ARTICLE XXII.

Les Hautes Parties Contractantes sont convenues de nommer conjointement des Commissaires pour établir le Tarif des droits de Douane à percevoir conformément aux stipulations du présent Traité, tant sur les marchandises de toute espèce provenant des produits du sol ou de l'industrie des états et possessions de la Grande Bretagne, importées dans l'Empire et les possessions du Sultan, que sur les articles de toute sorte provenant des produits du sol ou de l'industrie des états du Sultan et de leurs dépendances, articles que les sujets Anglais ou leurs ayant-cause sont libres d'acheter dans toutes les parties des Etats et possessions du Sultan pour les exporter, soit dans la Grande Bretagne, soit en d'autres pays.

Le nouveau Tarif à établir de la sorte, restera en vigueur pendant sept ans, à dater du premier Octobre, mil huit cent soixante-un.

Chacune des Parties Contractantes aura le droit, un an avant l'expiration de ce terme, de demander la révision du Tarif. Mais si, pendant la septième année, ni l'une ni l'autre n'use de ce droit, le Tarif continuera d'avoir force de loi pour sept autres années, à dater du jour de l'expiration des sept années précédentes, et il en sera de même à chaque période successive de sept ans.

ARTICLE XXIII.

Le présent Traité sera ratifié, et les ratifications en seront échangées à Constantinople dans l'espace de deux mois, ou plus tôt si faire se peut, et il sera mis à exécution à partir du premier Octobre, mil huit cent soixante-un.

Fait à Kanlidja, le vingt-neuvième jour du mois d'Avril, de l'année dix-huit cent soixante-un.

And whereas the Commissioners of Northern Lighthouses are erecting and about to light a new lighthouse on St. Abb's Head, in the county of Berwick:

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, in exercise of the powers vested in Her by the said recited Act, and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to direct, that upon the completion and lighting of the said light, there shall be paid in respect of the said light for every British vessel, and for every foreign vessel, privileged to enter the ports of the United Kingdom, upon paying the same dues as are payable by British vessels, which may pass or derive benefit from such light, the toll of eight-sixteenths of a penny per ton of the burden of every such vessel for every time of passing or deriving benefit therefrom, if on an over-sea voyage, and one-sixteenth of a penny per ton for each time of passing or deriving benefit therefrom, if on a coasting voyage; and for every foreign vessel, not privileged in manner hereinbefore mentioned, double the amount of the respective tolls hereinbefore specified, according to the voyage on which she may be employed; and that the said tolls in respect of the said lighthouse shall be levied by the Commissioners of Northern Lighthouses, subject to the gross abatement or discount of fifty per cent. on vessels engaged in over-sea voyages, and of thirty-five per cent. on vessels engaged in coasting voyages, mentioned in an Order in Council, made under the authority of the said recited Act, and dated the second day of February, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, and subject also on and after the first day of October, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, to the further abatement or discount of ten per cent. on vessels engaged in over-sea voyages, and of twenty-five per cent. on vessels engaged in coasting voyages, mentioned in an Order in Council, made under the authority of the said recited Act, and bearing the same date as this present Order, and subject also, from and after the completion and lighting of the said light, to the regulations and exemptions contained in the Consolidated Tables of Light Dues, sanctioned by an Order in Council, dated the twenty-sixth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, and to the further exemption, sanctioned by an Order in Council, dated the twelfth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine.

And whereas by an Order in Council, made in pursuance of the said Act, and dated the twenty-sixth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, certain Consolidated Tables of Light Dues were approved by Her Majesty: and by the same Order it was directed, that until Her Majesty, with the advice of Her Privy Council, might see fit otherwise to determine, there should be allowed to every person paying the dues specified in the said tables, an abatement or discount upon the amount payable by him, which should, in the case of every over sea-vessel, be twenty-five per cent., and in the case of every coasting-vessel be ten per cent:

AT the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight,
the 25th day of July, 1861,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England have, in pursuance of an Act of the twenty-third and twenty-fourth years of Her Majesty, chapter one hundred and twenty-four, duly prepared and laid before Her Majesty in Council a scheme, bearing date the sixteenth day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, in the words and figures following; that is to say:

"We, the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, in pursuance of the Act of the twenty-third and twenty-fourth years of your Majesty's reign, chapter one hundred and twenty-four, sections two, three, four, and seven, have prepared, and now humbly lay before your Majesty in Council the following scheme for assigning certain lands and hereditaments as the endowment of the See of Durham.

"Whereas the Honorable and Right Reverend Henry Montagu, Bishop of Durham, succeeded to the See of Durham, on an avoidance which happened before the passing of the hereinbefore mentioned Act, and is in receipt of the annual amount named by Act of Parliament, as the income of the Bishops of Durham, videlicet, eight thousand pounds; and the said Henry Montagu, Bishop of Durham, has signified to us his willingness to accept as the endowment for his See, the lands, tenements, and hereditaments particularly described in the two parts of the Schedule hereto annexed, whereof those portions which are specified in the first part of the Schedule, are vested in us in fee-simple, and the portions specified in the second part of the same Schedule, (save and except all minerals thereunder or thereupon, and all mineral and wayleave rights in, over, or under the same,) now belong to the said Bishop and his successors in the said See; the lands, tenements, and hereditaments so specified in the said two parts of the Schedule aforesaid, being in the opinion of our Estates Committee, convenient to be held as the endowment of the See, and calculated to secure to the holder thereof, as nearly as may be (after deducting costs of management), a net annual income of eight thousand pounds per annum; and no more; and that such assignment of lands and hereditaments as is hereinafter recommended and proposed, should be made so that all the lands and hereditaments not so assigned, which now form part of the endowment of the said See, may thereupon become vested in us, and applicable to the purposes of our common fund.

"Now, therefore, with the consent of the said Henry Montagu, Bishop of Durham, testified by his having signed this scheme and sealed the same with his episcopal seal, we humbly recommend and propose that, upon the publication in the London Gazette of any Order of your Majesty in Council ratifying this scheme, and without any conveyance or assurance in the law other than such duly published Order, the lands, tenements, and hereditaments particularly described in the two parts of the Schedule hereunto annexed, with their appurtenances, and all the right, title, estate, and interest therein (save and except, and always reserved unto us, our successors, and our and their lessees, tenants, and assigns, all and singular, the mines, quarries, and bedsof coal, stone, clay, sand, minerals, and metalliferous substances of all descriptions therein or thereunder, with full and exclusive authority to sink, win, work, get up, and carry away the same, in, under, out of, and from, the said lands, hereditaments, and premises, or any other lands, hereditaments, and premises, according to the course and practice at present, or hereafter to be used or adopted in the county of Durham, or according to the most approved mode which may, from time to time, be used or invented, and to enter upon, take, use, and occupy, from time to time, and for such time, and in such manner as we, our successors, lessees, tenants, and assigns shall think fit, so much of the said lands, hereditaments, and premises, as we shall deem necessary, proper, or convenient, for all or any of the aforesaid purposes, making full compensation for any injury thereby occasioned, and save and except, and always reserved, full and exclusive authority for us, our successors, lessees, tenants, and assigns, or persons acting under our authority, and whether in reference or respect to lands held by or under us, or any other property, to make, grant, and use, any way or ways, upon, across, under, or through the said lands, hereditaments, and premises, for the purposes aforesaid) together with all tithes, or rent charges in lieu of tithes, arising thereout or charged thereupon, and the benefit of the perpetual land tax (if any) charged upon the same premises, shall be assigned as the endowment of the Bishopric of Durham, and shall, as from and after the thirtieth day of June next, become and be absolutely vested in the said Bishop in as full and ample a manner as if the same had formed part of the ancient possessions of the same See.

"And we further recommend and propose that nothing herein contained shall prevent us from recommending and proposing any other measures relating to the matters aforesaid, in conformity with the provisions of the said recited Act, or of any other Act of Parliament.

Arthur Helps.

AT the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight,
the 25th day of July, 1861,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England have, in pursuance of the Act of the twenty-third and twenty-fourth years of Her Majesty, chapter one hundred and twenty-four, sections two, three, four, and seven, duly prepared and laid before Her Majesty in Council a scheme, bearing date the thirteenth day of June, in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, in the words and figures following; that is to say:

"We, the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, in pursuance of the Act of the twenty-third and twenty-fourth years of your Majesty's reign, chapter one hundred and twenty-four, sections two, three, four, and seven, have prepared, and now humbly lay before your Majesty in Council, the following scheme for assigning certain lands and hereditaments as the endowment of the See of York.

"Whereas the Right Honorable and Most Reverend Charles Thomas, Archbishop of York, succeeded to the See of York on an avoidance which happened before the passing of the herein-before-mentioned Act, and is in receipt of the annual amount named by Act of Parliament as the income of the Archbishops of York, videlicet, ten thousand pounds per annum; and the said Charles Thomas, Archbishop of York, has signified to us his willingness to accept, as the endowment for his see, the lands, tenements, and hereditaments, particularly described in the two parts of the schedule hereto annexed, whereof those portions which are specified in the first part of the schedule are vested in us, and the portions specified in the second part of the same schedule now belong to the said archbishop and his successors in the said See; the lands, tenements, and hereditaments so specified in the said two parts of the schedule aforesaid, being in the opinion of our Estates Committee convenient to be held as the endowment of the see, and calculated to secure to the holder thereof, as nearly as may be (after deducting costs of management) a net annual income of ten thousand pounds, and no more; and that such assignment of lands and hereditaments as is hereinafter recommended and proposed should be made so that all the lands and hereditaments not so assigned, which now form part of the endowment of the said See, may thereupon become vested in us, and applicable to the purposes of our Common Fund.

"Now, therefore, with the consent of the said Charles Thomas, Archbishop of York (testified by his having signed this scheme, and sealed the same with his archiepiscopal seal), we humbly recommend and propose, that upon the publication in the London Gazette of any Order of your Majesty in Council ratifying this scheme, and without any conveyance or assurance in the law other than such duly published Order, the lands, tenements, and hereditaments particularly described in the two parts of the schedule hereunto annexed, with their appurtenances, and all the right, title, estate and interest therein (save and except and always reserved unto us, our successors, and our and their lessees, tenants, and assigns, all and singular the mines, quarries, and beds of coal, stone, clay, sand, minerals, and metalliferous substances of all descriptions therein or thereunder, with full and exclusive authority to sink, win, work, get up, and carry away the same, in, under, out of, and from the said lands, hereditaments and premises, or any other lands, hereditaments, and premises according to the course and practice at present or hereafter to be used or adopted, in the county of York, or according to the most approved mode which may from time to time be used or invented, and to enter upon, take, use, and occupy from time to time, and for such time and in such manner, as we, our successors, lessees, tenants, and assigns shall think fit, so much of the said lands, hereditaments, and premises as we shall deem necessary, proper, or convenient for all or any of the aforesaid purposes, making full compensation for any injury thereby occasioned; and save and except and always reserved full and exclusive authority for us, our successors, lessees, tenants, and assigns, or persons acting under our authority, and whether in reference or respect to lands held by or under us or any other property, to make, grant, and use any way or ways upon, across, under, or through the said lands, hereditaments, and premises for the purposes aforesaid), together with all tithes or rent-charges in lieu of tithes arising thereout or charged thereupon, and the benefit of the perpetual land-tax (if any) charged upon the same premises shall be assigned as the endowment of the Archbishopric of York, and shall, as from the thirtieth day of June instant, become and be absolutely vested in the said Archbishop, in as full and ample a manner as if the same had formed part of the ancient possessions of the same See.

"And we further recommend and propose, that nothing herein contained shall prevent us from recommending and proposing any other measures relating to the matters aforesaid, in conformity with the provisions of the said recited Act, or of any other Act of Parliament."

AT the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight,
the 25th day of July, 1861,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England have, in pursuance of an Act passed in the sixth and seventh years of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, chapter seventy-seven, duly prepared and laid before Her Majesty in Council a scheme, bearing date the thirteenth day of June, in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, in the words and figures following; that is to say:

"We, the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, in pursuance of an Act passed in the sixth and seventh years of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, chapter seventy-seven, have prepared, and now humbly lay before your Majesty in Council, the following scheme for making certain alterations in the apportionment of episcopal patronage.

"Whereas by the above-mentioned Act it is provided that by the authority therein specified (that is to say, by a scheme prepared by us, and an order of your Majesty in Council ratifying the same, and duly gazetted), such alterations in the exercise of ecclesiastical patronage among the several Archbishops and Bishops of England and Wales shall be made as shall be consistent with the relative magnitude and importance of their dioceses, when newly arranged, but that no such alteration of the patronage of benefices with cure of souls belonging to any See, the Bishop of which was in possession on the fourth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and thirty six, should take effect until the avoidance of such See without the consent of such Bishop.

"And whereas all the Bishops affected by this scheme have succeeded to their Sees upon avoidances thereof, which happened subsequently to the fourth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six.

"Now, therefore, we humbly recommend and propose that such alterations be made in the exercise of the patronage of the several benefices and churches among the several Bishops hereinafter mentioned, as are hereinafter particularly set forth and specified; that is to say:

"The patronage of the several benefices comprised in the Table I, hereinafter set forth, and which said patronage is now vested in the Bishop of Saint Asaph, shall be transferred unto, and henceforth be and remain vested in, the Bishop of Llandaff and his successors.

"Whereas, at certain extremities of the said parish of Winterbourn and of the parish of Saint John the Baptist, Frenchay, in the county and diocese aforesaid, which lie contiguous one to another, and are described in the schedule hereunder written, there is collected together a population which is situate at a distance from the several churches of such respective parishes.

"And whereas it appears to us to be expedient that such contiguous portions of the said parishes of Winterbourn and Saint John the Baptist, Frenchay, should be formed into a consolidated chapelry for all ecclesiastical purposes, and that the same should be assigned to the said church of All Saints, situate at Winterbourn Down aforesaid.

"Now, therefore, with the consents of the Right Reverend Charles Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol (in testimony whereof he has signed and sealed this representation), and of the president and scholars of Saint John Baptist College, in the University of Oxford, the patrons of the rectories of the said parishes of Winterbourn and Saint

"We therefore humbly pray that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your Royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to your Majesty in your Royal wisdom shall seem meet.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England have, in pursuance of an Act of the sixth and seventh years of Her Majesty, chapter thirty-seven, sections six and eight, and of another Act of the twenty-third and twenty-fourth years of Her Majesty, chapter one hundred and twenty-four, sections two, three, and twenty-four, duly prepared and laid before Her Majesty in Council a scheme, bearing date the twenty-seventh day of June, in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, in the words following; that is to say:

"We, the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, in pursuance of an Act of the sixth and seventh years of your Majesty, chapter thirty-seven, sections six and eight, and of another Act of the twenty-third and twenty-fourth years of your Majesty, chapter one hundred and twenty-four, sections two, three, and twenty-four, have prepared and now humbly lay before your Majesty in Council the following scheme, for authorizing the sale of certain property, formerly belonging to the Bishoprick of Worcester, and now vested in us.

"Whereas on the vacancy of the said bishoprick, which occurred on or about the thirteenth day of November, in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty, by the decease of the Right Reverend Henry, the late Bishop of Worcester, all the lands, tenements, hereditaments, and endowments, formerly belonging to the said bishoprick of Worcester (except any right of ecclesiastical patronage and the episcopal house of residence, situate at Hartlebury, in the county of Worcester), became absolutely vested in us, for the purposes and subject to the provisions applicable to other hereditaments vested in us.

"And whereas the lands, tenements, hereditaments, and endowments aforesaid, consist to a considerable extent of reversions, expectant upon grants, and leases for lives and years, and produce during the subsistence of such grants and leases, only small annual revenues; and that in some instances the character or situation of the property is such, as to render it inconvenient to be assigned as an endowment for the See of Worcester, or to be held or applied for the other purposes for which estates, vested in us, are applicable under the Acts by which our proceedings are governed.

"And whereas by the last mentioned Act, power is given to lessees, holding under us, in the event of our declining to enter into a treaty for the sale of our reversions, or the purchase of the leasehold interests to require us to purchase such leasehold interests at a valuation.

"And whereas it is expedient that such of the aforesaid hereditaments, lately belonging to the See of Worcester (either with or without other property vested in us, as the case may require), as in the judgment of our Estates' Committee, and subject to the approbation of the Bishop, shall be deemed convenient to be held as an endowment for the said See, and as will secure a net annual income of five thousand pounds (being the income named for the Bishop of the said See and his successors, by an Act of the sixth and seventh years of the reign of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, chapter seventy-seven, being the Act now in force), and that for that purpose, as well as with a view to the more advantageous appropriation of the remainder of the said hereditaments, or of the proceeds thereof, for the ultimate improvement of our common fund, we should be empowered to dispose of our interest in such estates, or in any part or parts thereof, and in such manner as shall appear to us advisable.

"Now, therefore, we humbly recommend and propose that we may be authorized and empowered by instrument or instruments in writing, duly executed according to law, from time to time, to sell or dispose of, and duly to convey, according to the provisions of the said Act of the sixth and seventh years of your Majesty's reign, with the consent of the respective holders (if any), to be testified by their being made parties to such instruments, all or any of the said lands, tenements, hereditaments, and endowments, heretofore belonging to the said Bishoprick of Worcester, and so vested in us as aforesaid, with their appurtenances, and all our estate, right, title, and interest therein, or in any part or parts thereof, unto and to the use of any person or persons desirous or willing to purchase the same, and his or their heirs, executors, administrators, or assigns, or otherwise as he or they shall direct or appoint, and for such consideration as shall, upon due calculation and enquiry, appear to us to be just and reasonable.

"And we further recommend and propose, that nothing herein contained shall prevent us from recommending and proposing any other measures relating to the matters aforesaid, or any of them, in accordance with the provisions of the said Acts, or of any other Act of Parliament."

And whereas the said scheme has been approved by Her Majesty in Council; now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her said Council, is pleased hereby to ratify the said scheme, and to order and direct that the same, and every part thereof, shall be effectual in law immediately from and after the time when this Order shall have been duly published in the London Gazette, pursuant to the said Acts; and Her Majesty, by and with the like advice, is pleased hereby to direct that this Order be forthwith registered by the Registrar of the diocese of Worcester.

"And whereas the said district was called the District Chapelry of Christ Church, Paddington, and such district chapelry has, under the provisions of the Act of the nineteenth and twentieth years of your Majesty, chapter one hundred and four, since become a new parish, such as is contemplated by the Act of the sixth and seventh years of your Majesty, chapter thirty-seven.

"And whereas it has been proposed to us, and it appears to us to be expedient that the boundaries of the said new parish of Christ Church, Paddington, should be altered as hereinafter mentioned.

"Now, therefore, with the consents of the Right Honorable and Right Reverend Archibald Campbell, Bishop of London, and in right of his See, the patron of the said parish of Saint James, Paddington, and of the said new parish of Christ Church, Paddington, of the Reverend Archibald Boyd, the incumbent of the said parish of Saint James, Paddington, and of the Reverend Richard Wood, the incumbent of the said new parish of Christ Church, Paddington (in testimony whereof they have respectively signed and sealed this representation) we humbly represent that it would in our opinion be expedient that the boundaries of the said new parish of Christ Church, Paddington, should be altered so as to exclude from such new parish all that part thereof which consists of a piece or parcel of ground, upon which parochial schools are intended to be erected, comprising by admeasurement nineteen perches, or thereabouts, and situate on the western side of the street or road called Craven-terrace, and which is bounded as follows, that is to say; on the south, by a straight line extending along the northern boundary wall of the house and premises Number 9, Craven-terrace, and of the mews or stables in the rear thereof, for a distance of ninety-nine feet, measured from the boundary in the middle of Craven-terrace aforesaid, which divides the said new parish from the parish of Saint James, Paddington aforesaid; on the north by another straight line extending along the southern boundary walls of the house and premises Number 5, Craven-terrace, and of the garden attached to the house Number 1, Craven-hill, for a distance of one hundred and thirteen feet and five inches, measured from the said boundary between the new parish and parish of Saint James, aforesaid; and on the west by a straight line drawn from the western end of the before-mentioned straight line, measuring ninety-nine feet, to the western end of the secondly mentioned straight line measuring one hundred and thirteen feet and five inches as aforesaid; and also all that part of the said new parish which consists of that portion of the footpath and roadway of Craven-terrace aforesaid, which abuts as frontage upon the first-described piece or parcel of ground. (All which parts are more particularly delineated on the map or plan hereunto annexed, and are thereon colored pink,) and that the said parts of the new parish so dissevered therefrom as last-mentioned, should be re-annexed to, and again form part of the parish of Saint James, Paddington aforesaid.

"And we humbly pray that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your Royal consideration, and to make such Order in respect thereto as to your Majesty in your Royal wisdom shall seem meet."

Her Majesty having taken the said representation, together with the map or plan thereunto annexed into consideration, was pleased by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the proposed alteration of the boundaries of the new parish of Christ Church, Paddington, in the county of Middlesex, be accordingly made and effected, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts; and Her Majesty is further pleased to direct, that this Order be forthwith registered by the Registrar of the diocese of London.

AT the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 25th day of July, 1861,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the eighteenth and nineteenth years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act further to amend the laws concerning the burial of the dead in England" it is, amongst other things, enacted that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, from time to time to postpone the time appointed by any Order in Council for the discontinuance of burials, or otherwise to vary any Order in Council made under any of the Acts recited in the said Act, or under the said Act (whether the time thereby appointed for the discontinuance of burials thereunder, or other operation of such Order, shall or shall not have arrived), as to Her Majesty, with such advice as aforesaid, may seem fit;

And whereas certain Orders in Council have been made, directing the discontinuance of burials in the churchyards and burial-grounds hereinafter mentioned from the time mentioned in such Orders respectively; and whereas it seems fit to Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, that the time for discontinuing burials in the said churchyards and burial-grounds be postponed;

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice aforesaid, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the time for the discontinuance of burials in such churchyards and burial-grounds be postponed, as follows; viz.:

In family vaults and graves in the churchyard of All Saints, Chorlton, in MANCHESTER, from the first of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, to the first of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, provided that every such vault or grave be re-opened only for the burial of widowers, widows, parents, children, brothers, or sisters of those previously buried therein, and provided that each coffin be embedded in charcoal, and entombed in an air-tight manner.

In the churchyard of St. John's, Bacup, in the parishes of Whalley and Rochdale, and in the Ebenezer and Irwell Terrace Chapel burial-grounds in that consolidated chapelry, from the first of July to the thirty-first of December, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one; and, in the meantime, one body only shall be buried in each grave, and no grave that has been buried in shall be re-opened, unless it be free from remains, and not less than four feet deep, except a vault or walled grave in which the coffins are entombed in an air-tight manner.

In the parish churchyard of DALSTON, Cumberland, with the exceptions, and on the conditions, contained in an Order in Council of the seventh of March, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, from the thirtieth of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, to the first of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two.

In the parish churchyard of OTLEY, Yorkshire, from the first of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, to the first of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two.

In the churchyard of St. Mary, BATTLE, from the first of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, to the first of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, on the same conditions as those contained in an Order in Council of the thirtieth of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, in respect of the said churchyard and burial-grounds.

And whereas by an Order in Council of the twenty-fourth of September, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, burials were directed to be discontinued (with certain exceptions) in the churchyard of St. Bartholomew, BIRMINGHAM, on and after the first of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; and whereas, by another Order in Council of the twentieth of March, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, burials were directed to be discontinued on and after the said thirty-first of December in the churchyards or cemeteries of St. Martin and St. Paul, BIRMINGHAM, except as was therein excepted, which Orders have since been varied, and the time for discontinuing burials has been extended to the first of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, by an Order in Council of the thirtieth of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty; and whereas it seems fit that the said last-mentioned Order should be varied; now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that interments in the churchyards of St. Bartholomew, St. Martin, and St. Paul, BIRMINGHAM, be discontinued on the thirty-first of December, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, except in vaults and walled graves existing on the twentieth of March, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, in which each coffin shall be embedded in charcoal, and separately entombed in an air-tight manner; and that, in the meantime, only one body be buried in each grave, that no grave that has been buried in be re-opened, except to inter another member of the same family, and unless the grave be free from remains to the depth of five feet.

And whereas by an Order in Council of the thirtieth of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, two former Orders in Council of the second of December, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, and third of February, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, relating to burials in the General Cemetery and Church of England Cemetery, BIRMINGHAM, were varied, and the operation of the said Orders, so far as they direct that only one body shall be buried in any grave in the said cemeteries, was postponed to the first of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one; and whereas it seems fit that the operation of the said first-mentioned Order in Council, so far as relates to the said cemeteries, should be postponed; now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the operation of the said Order in Council of the thirtieth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, so far as relates to the said two cemeteries, be postponed from the first of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, to the thirty-first of December, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two.
