

across to Belize River, as is delineated per diagram annexed to the application.

12. The mahogany work called Swasey's, situate on the east side of the right branch of the Rio Hondo, otherwise known as Booth's River, descending, the base of which work commences at the upper mark of the applicants' mahogany work, formerly known as Forbes', and extends up the said branch to the lower mark of the applicants' mahogany work, known as Gentle's, the upper side line runs back on a course of S. 87° W. half way across to Belize River, and the lower side line runs back in a course of S. 86° W. half way across to Belize River, as delineated per diagram annexed to the application.

13. The mahogany work called Forbes', situate on the east side of the right branch of the Rio Hondo, otherwise known as Booth's River, descending, the base of which work commences at the upper mark of the applicants' mahogany work, formerly known as Betson's and extending up the said branch in a straight line, three miles to the lower mark of the applicant's mahogany work, formerly known as Swasey's. The upper side line runs back in a course of N. 86° E. until it meets the lower side line, which runs back in a course of S. 58° W., as delineated per diagram annexed to the application.

14. The mahogany work called James Hyde's, situate on the south bank or right hand, descending, of the Rio Bravo, the base of which work commences at the upper mark of the applicants' mahogany work, known as George Hyde's, and extends up the river in a straight line, four miles, the upper and lower side lines running back S. 56° E., eight miles, as delineated per diagram annexed to the application.

15. The mahogany works called George Hyde's, situate on the south bank, or right hand, descending, of the Rio Bravo, the base of which work commences at a mark G.H., on the said river, and extends up the river in a straight line eight miles, to the lower mark of the applicants' works, known as James Hyde's, the upper and lower side lines running back S. 56° E., eight miles, as delineated per diagram annexed to the application.

16. The mahogany work called Hughes', situate on the sea coast, the base of which work is bounded on the north side by Sapodilla Lagoon, and on the south side by South Stand Creek, the said lines running in a course of S. 88° W., the usual distance of eight miles, or half way across to the first navigable river running parallel to the coast, as delineated per diagram annexed to the application.

17. The mahogany works, called Orange Walk and Monkey Bay, situate on the right hand, ascending, of the River Sibun, the base commencing at the upper mark of the work called Retaliation, and extending up the river in a straight line about six miles to the lower mark of a work formerly known as John Young's, at Nancy Porter's Creek, the lower side line running a course of N. 49° W., and the upper side line running a course of N. 56° W., half way across to Belize River, according to Nos. 78 and 79 of Duvernay's survey of the settlement.

18. The mahogany work, situate on the left hand side of New River, ascending, called Swasey's, the base commencing opposite the upper mark of the applicants' work, called Jones and Nicholson's, and extending up the river about five miles to the upper fork of the island opposite Nos. 62 and part of 63 in Duvernay's plan of the settlement, the lower side line running back in a course of N. 70° W. to Laurie's bight, creek, or lagoon, and the upper side line running back on a course of N. 65½° W. to Laurie's bight, creek, or lagoon, as per No. 59 of Duvernay's general survey of the settlement.

19. The mahogany works known as Jones and Nicholson's, situate on the Northern Branch of the New River, the base of said works commencing on the right hand, ascending, at the upper line or mark of the works known as Peinbroke Hall, and extending up the lower mark of the work known as Coffin's or Caledonia, according to No. 60 of Duvernay's plan of the settlement, the lower side line running in a course of N. 73° W. half way across to the Rio Hondo, and the upper side line running in a course of N. 63° W. half way across to the Rio Hondo, and on left hand ascending, of the northern branch of the river, the lower side line running to the Main River in a course of S. 73° E.

20. The mahogany work called Darling Hall, situate on the right hand side of Belize River, descending, the base commencing at the lower mark of the applicants' Beaver Dam Works, and extending down the river to the upper line of the applicants' works called Cocrico, the upper side line runs in a course of S. 74° E., and extends half-way across to the River Sibun, the lower side line runs in a course of S. 78° E., and extends half-way to the River Sibun, the back line running between the upper and lower side lines half-way to the Sibun, as delineated per Duvernay's plan of the settlement, as No. 16.

21. The mahogany work called Cocrico, situate on the right hand of Belize River, descending, the base commencing at the applicants' lower line of Darling Hall Works and extending down the river to the upper mark of Monkey

Run Works, both upper and lower side lines running back half way across to the River Sibun, in a course of S. 78° E., and the back line running a course of N. 49° E., according to No. 17 of Duvernay's Map of the settlement.

22. The mahogany work called Dickinson's, situate on the left hand side of the right branch, descending, of the Rio Hondo, otherwise Booth's River, bounded on the upper line by the work known as James Banks, and on the lower line by the work known as Coffin's, the upper line running on a course of S. 86° W. and the lower line running on a course of S. 87° W., and extending back until they reach the back line of the applicants' work known as Humphries, as delineated per diagram annexed to the application.

23. The mahogany works called Banks, situate on the left hand side of the right branch, descending, of the Rio Hondo, otherwise Booth's River, bounded on the upper line by the work known as Phillips, and on the lower line by the work known as Dickinson's, the upper side line running on a course of S. 88° W., and the lower side line running on a course of S. 86° W., and extending back until they reach the back line of the applicant's work, known as Welch's, as delineated per diagram annexed to the application.

24. The mahogany work called Phillips, situate on the left hand side of the right branch, descending, of the Rio Hondo, otherwise Booth's River, bounded on the upper line by the work known as Petzold's, and on the lower line by the work known as Banks, the upper side line running back on a course of S. 89° W., and the lower side line running back on a course of S. 88° W., as delineated per diagram annexed to the application.

25. The mahogany work called Arms'rong's, situate on the west bank of the Rio Hondo, the base commencing at the upper line of the works known as France's, and extending in a straight line up the river three miles, the side lines running back on a course of N. 45° W. eight miles, as delineated per diagram annexed to the application.

26. The mahogany work called Bladen's, situate on the right hand side of the right branch of the Rio Hondo, ascending, the base commencing at the upper line of the work known as Craig's, and extending up the river in a straight line three miles to the lower line of the work known as France's, the side lines running back on a course of N. 45° W. eight miles, as delineated per diagram annexed to the application.

27. The mahogany work, called Craig's, situate on the right hand side of the right branch of the Rio Hondo, ascending, the base commencing at the upper line of the work, known as Williamsons, and extending up the river in a straight line three miles to the lower line of the work known as Bladen's, the side lines running back N. 45° W. eight miles as delineated per diagram annexed to the application.

Given at Belize, this 27th day of June, A.D. 1861.

S. S. PLUES, Keeper of Records and Registrar of Titles.

In Chancery.—Philipps v. Davies, Tytherington, Gloucestershire.

TO be sold, pursuant to an Order of the High Court of Chancery, made in a cause of Philipps v. Davies, with the approbation of the Master of the Rolls, in five lots, by Mr. C. T. Hill (the person appointed by the said Judge to sell the same), at the Railway Inn, Charfield, in the county of Gloucester, on Wednesday, the 11th day of September, 1861, at three o'clock in the afternoon precisely: Some valuable freehold closes of arable and pasture land, containing 12A. OR. 22R., or thereabouts, situate in the parish of Tytherington, in the county of Gloucester, and late the property of John Lloyd Davies, late of Blaendyffryn and Alltyrodin, in the county of Cardigan, Esq., M.P., deceased.

May be viewed at any time previously to the sale, by permission of the tenants, and printed particulars and conditions of sale and lithograph plans obtained (gratis) of Mr. Thomas Morgan, Solicitor, Cardigan; of Byre and Lawson, No. 1, John-street, Bedford-row, London, W.C.; of Pinniger and Awdrey, Solicitors, Chippingham, Wilts; of Pinniger and Wilkinson, Solicitors, No. 28, John-street, Bedford-row; of the Auctioneers, at his offices in Cirencester, Gloucestershire; and at the place of sale.

TO be sold, pursuant to an Order of the High Court of Chancery, made in a cause of Gyet against Williams, with the approbation of the Vice-Chancellor, Sir William Page Wood, in one lot, by Mr. Milner, the person appointed by the said Judge, at the Oxford Arms Hotel, at Kington, in the county of Hereford, on Thursday, the 12th day of September, 1861, at twelve o'clock precisely:

A certain freehold estate, situate in the parishes of Glascomb and Bettws Diperth, and known as Wern Faur or Wern Danzey, and Cefn Glase, in the county of Radnor, now in the occupation of Mr. Danzey Sheen.

Particulars whereof may be had (gratis) of Mr. Thomas Westall, of No. 3, South-square, Gray's Inn, London, Solicitor; of Messrs. Bodenham and Temple, Solicitors, Kington, Herefordshire; of Messrs. Meredith and Lucas, Soli-