Foreign Office, October 13, 1862.

THE following despatch has been received at the Foreign Office, from Her Majesty's Ambassador, at Constantinople.

*Constantinople,
September 17, 1862.*

MY LORD,

I HAVE the honour to transmit to your Lordship herewith a certified copy of the Protocol, signed on the 4th instant, in regard to the affairs of Servia, together with a copy of the instruction to the Governor-General of Belgrade, referred to in Article IV of that instrument.

I have, &c.

HENRY L. BULWER.

The Right Honourable the Earl Russell, K.G.

LES événements dont la Principauté de Servie a été dernièrement le théâtre ayant engagé la Sublime Porte à réunir en conférence les représentants des Puissances signataires du Traité de Paris, ceux-ci, désireux d'écarter avant tout les sources nouvelles d'irritation, ont cru devoir s'abstenir de soumettre à une investigation minutieuse les causes immédiates de ces incidents regrettables. Ils se sont donc bornés à constater que le rétablissement de rapports confiants et bienveillants entre la Puissance Suzeraine et la Principauté était d'un intérêt majeur, aussi bien pour la Turquie que pour la paix Européenne, et qu'il importait de rechercher avec soin tous les moyens propres à atteindre ce but. Ils ont reconnu avec satisfaction que, disposée à apporter à l'état de choses qui a subsisté jusqu'ici en Servie des modifications propres à supprimer les motifs de dissentiment et de conflit, la Sublime Porte avait à cœur d'user de tous les moyens en son pouvoir pour convaincre les Serves qu'elle prend l'intérêt le plus sincère au développement naturel de leur prospérité et de leur autonomie. Il est donc du devoir des Serves de donner de leur côté à la Sublime Porte, par des témoignages irrécusables, la confiance que, dans le développement légitime de cette autonomie ils ne cherchent pas les moyens de relacher les liens qui les unissent à l'Empire Ottoman, mais qu'ils s'efforceront toujours au contraire de resserrer ces liens et de fortifier la solidarité naturelle que créent la communauté des intérêts et les besoins de la défense mutuelle.

Pour réaliser ces intentions aussi sages que généreuses, la Sublime Porte a pris sans hésiter, vis-à-vis des Représentants des Puissances garantes, les engagements suivants qu'elle s'empressera de faire connaître par un firman publié dans les formes usitées, aussitôt que les Serves auront rasé entièrement les ouvrages nouvellement élevés dans le faubourg ou entré le faubourg et les murs de la forteresse. Les Serves devront également raser les ouvrages militaires qu'ils avaient pu indument élever, depuis les derniers événements dans d'autres parties de la Principauté. L'intention de la Sublime Porte est d'enlever de son côté les ouvrages qui ont été élevés depuis la même époque par les autorités Turques dans un but défensif qui n'aura plus de raison d'être, le Gouvernement Ottoman n'ayant pas de plus vif désir que de voir disparaître, dans l'ordre moral, comme dans l'ordre matériel, toutes les traces de déplorables malentendus.

ARTICLE I.

Pour supprimer la possibilité de conflits résultant du mélange dans le même lieu des populations Musulmane et Serve, le Gouvernement Ottoman transfèrera en toute propriété au Gouvernement Serve, à la charge par lui d'en indemniser les propriétaires, tous les terrains et maisons appartenant aujourd'hui à des Musulmans dans le faubourg de Belgrade. La Porte abandonnera au même titre au dit Gouvernement les murailles, fossés, ouvrages, formant l'ancienne enceinte qui sépare la ville moderne de l'ancienne ville qu'on appelle faubourg, ainsi que les quatre portes de la Save, de Varos, de Stamboul, et de Vidin. Ces fossés, murailles, portes, et ouvrages devront être rasés et nivelés. Les Serves ne pourront sur ce terrain élever aucun ouvrage militaire. Ces modifications à l'ancien état de choses auront pour conséquence que la juridiction exclusive des autorités Serves s'étendra à l'avenir sur la totalité de la ville comme du faubourg de Belgrade. Tous les édifices religieux et les tombeaux que la population Musulmane laisserait debout en se retirant des lieux qu'elle a occupés jusqu'ici en vertu de droits séculaires seront scrupuleusement respectés.

ARTICLE II.

Décidée à maintenir, dans toute leur intégrité, ses droits sur la citadelle de Belgrade, tels que les traités les ont consacrés, la Sublime Porte, sans vouloir en rien en aggraver pour les Serves les conditions, est fondée néanmoins à rechercher les moyens de mettre cette place forte sur un pied de défense suffisant, et croit nécessaire de donner à l'esplanade actuelle plus de régularité et, sur certains points où cette extension ne peut inquiéter la ville, plus d'étendue.

Cette extension sera donc prise sur le quartier occupé presque exclusivement par les Musulmans et compris entre la citadelle, le Danube, et une ligne passant par le Tekké de Scheik Hassan et par la mosquée d'Ali Pacha. Si la Sublime Porte croyait qu'il fût absolument indispensable de pousser la démolition du quartier Musulman un peu plus loin que la ligne précitée, la Commission Militaire Mixte, dont il est question dans l'Article V, aurait à en apprécier les motifs et à prendre une décision à cet égard. S'il se trouve dans cette espace quelques maisons non Musulmanes, le Gouvernement Ottoman en indemniserait les propriétaires. Il va sans dire qu'il se charge d'indemniser tous les expropriés qui se trouvent sous sa juridiction directe.

Quant au quartier exclusivement Serve, le Gouvernement Ottoman, dont la pensée ne peut être de toucher aux édifices religieux, tels que la cathédrale, le séminaire, et l'évêché, ni aux rues marchandes, s'entendra à l'amiable avec le Gouvernement Princier pour l'achat des quelques maisons que des juges compétents déclareraient absolument nécessaires pour compléter l'esplanade dans cette direction, et prendra soin de faciliter le consentement des propriétaires par l'offre de généreuses compensations.

Aucune construction, de quelque nature qu'elle soit, ne devra subsister ou être élevée à l'avenir sur le terrain de cette esplanade qui demeurera la propriété exclusive du Gouvernement Turc. Personne ne devra y résider, même temporairement.

ARTICLE III.

Le Gouvernement Serve prendra soin de faire restituer en nature ou en valeur tous les objets mobiliers que les Musulmans ont laissés dans leurs maisons ou boutiques lorsqu'ils se sont retirés dans la citadelle. Si, lors des désordres qui ont eu lieu dans ce moment, quelque habitant Serve avait, par le fait des Musulmans, subi des pertes du même genre, il serait indemnisé par le Gouvernement Ottoman.

Les deux Gouvernements s'entendront dans une négociation confidentielle et amicale sur le mode de cette restitution et de l'indemnité en question.

ARTICLE IV.

La Sublime Porte, fermement résolue à maintenir tous ses droits sans jamais les dépasser, proteste qu'on ne saurait concevoir avec la moindre espèce de fondement l'apprehension que la citadelle de Belgrade, destinée à la défense du pays, puisse être considérée comme un moyen de porter atteinte aux immunités reconnues à la Servie par les Sultans, et garanties par les Traités. Ses sentiments paternels à l'égard de la Principauté excluent de sa part toute pensée de vouloir exercer une pression sur le Gouvernement Princier ou une intimidation sur la population. Comme témoignage de ses intentions, la Sublime Porte n'a pas hésité à communiquer à la conférence les instructions qu'elle a préparées et qui formeront désormais la règle invariable de conduite des Gouverneurs de Belgrade.

Les Représentants, en prenant acte de l'engagement qui résulte de cette communication, sont heureux de constater que ces instructions laissent aux Puissances toute certitude que la Sublime Porte n'a aucune intention de donner à l'armement des remparts du côté de la ville un caractère menaçant pour cette dernière, ni de faire usage de ses canons du même côté, si ce n'est dans le cas de la plus nécessaire et légitime défense, et que, même dans ce cas, restant fidèle aux sentiments d'humanité dont elle ne peut cesser d'être animée la Sublime Porte ne souffrira jamais que la dévastation soit intentionnellement portée au sein d'une cité riche et populeuse dont tous les intérêts sont si étroitement unis aux siens.

La Sublime Porte, d'ailleurs, ne doute pas que les Serves ne veillent scrupuleusement à ce que la citadelle ne puisse être placée, par des actes d'hostilité, dans la douloureuse nécessité de repousser la force par la force. La Sublime Porte ne fait aucune difficulté d'ajouter que, résolue à examiner l'état actuel des remparts de la citadelle afin de les restaurer et de les placer dans des conditions défensives satisfaisantes, elle fera également porter cet examen sur la question de savoir si les ouvrages les plus avancés du côté meridional pourraient être modifiés avantageusement sans nuire à la sécurité de la forteresse et aux bonnes conditions de la défense, que, dans aucun cas, elle ne saurait laisser amoindrir.

ARTICLE V.

Le nouveau périmètre de l'esplanade sera tracé par une Commission Militaire Mixte composée d'un officier désigné par chacune des Puissances garantes et d'un officier désigné par le Gouvernement Ottoman. Cette Commission s'entourera de toutes les informations locales qui pourraient l'aider à résoudre cette question ; elle fera son rapport à la Sublime Porte qui accueillera avec bienveillance toutes les observations qui le Gouvernement Serve croirait devoir lui soumettre à ce sujet. La conférence verrait avec plaisir que la Sublime Porte s'éclairât de l'avis de cette Commission pour l'examen dont il est question dans la dernière partie de l'article précédent.

Une Commission Civile Mixte, composée de membres nommés par le Gouvernement Ottoman et le Gouvernement Serve, règlera toutes les questions d'expropriation et d'indemnité qui sont prévues dans le présent arrangement sauf celles qui ne doivent être débattues qu'entre le Gouvernement Turc et les propriétaires qui ressortissent de sa juridiction directe. Cette Commission devra avoir terminé sa tâche dans le délai de quatre mois.

ARTICLE VI.

La Sublime Porte, ne voulant entretenir dans la Principauté de Servie que le nombre de points fortifiés qui lui paraissent réellement nécessaires à la sécurité de l'Empire Ottoman, s'est livrée à un examen attentif de cette question, et se fait un plaisir de déclarer à la Conférence que son intention est de démolir, dès à présent, parmi les forteresses qui lui appartiennent, celles de Sokol et d'Oujitza, qui ne devront jamais être relevées sans le consentement mutuel de la Sublime Porte et du Gouvernement Serve. Elle regarde le maintien des forteresses de Teth-Islam, de Chabat, et de Semendria, comme indispensable au système général de défense de la Turquie.

ARTICLE VII.

Ne désirant user des droits qui lui appartiennent dans la Principauté de Serbie que dans les limites qu'exige sa propre sécurité, la Sublime Porte n'entretiendra dans les points fortifiés qu'elle y occupe, soit à Belgrade soit à Teth-Islam, Semendria, et Chabaz, que des garnisons proportionnées à l'étendue de ces places et aux besoins réels de leur défense.

ARTICLE VIII.

La Sublime Porte s'engage à prendre des mesures immédiates, d'accord avec le Gouvernement Serbe, pour que tous les habitants Musulmans qui résident autour des cinq points fortifiés qu'elle occupe en vertu des traités, et qui sont désignées dans les articles précédents, puissent vendre leurs propriétés et se retirer du sol Serbe le plus promptement possible. Le Commissaire Ottoman envoyé à Belgrade à l'effet de régler cette question et d'autres qui étaient antérieurement pendantes, devra avoir terminé sa tâche dans le délai fixé par la Commission Civile Mixte désignée dans l'Article V. Il est bien entendu qu'il n'y a rien dans ce qui précède qui doive empêcher les Musulmans de voyager pour leurs affaires dans l'intérieur de la principauté, à la charge de se conformer aux lois du pays.

ARTICLE IX.

Il est dans les intentions de la Sublime Porte de veiller à ce que le Gouverneur de la citadelle de Belgrade se renferme strictement dans l'exercice de ces fonctions militaires, et ne cherche à exercer, directement ou indirectement, aucune ingérence si légère qu'elle soit, dans les affaires de la cité ou de la Principauté. Elle tiendra également la main à ce qu'il observe et fasse observer vis-à-vis du Prince et de son Gouvernement tous les égards auxquels ils ont droit. De leur côté le Prince et son Gouvernement agiront dans le même esprit vis-à-vis du Gouverneur de la citadelle, ne se permettant aucun empiètement sur ses attributions, et veilleront à ce que tous les fonctionnaires Ottomans soient traités en toutes circonstances conformément à leur rang. Les mêmes procédés seront observés entre les Commandants des trois forts que la Sublime Porte conserve en dehors de la citadelle de Belgrade et les autorités Serves voisines.

ARTICLE X.

Tout corps particulièrement recruté d'étrangers à la Serbie devra être dissous et le Gouvernement Serbe s'abstiendra soigneusement de motiver, par une extension abusive du droit d'asile la défiance de la Sublime Porte.

ARTICLE XI.

Quant aux questions qui ne sont pas prévues au présent arrangement et qui sont de nature à influer sur les bons rapports de la Turquie et de la Serbie, la conférence ne doute pas que le Gouvernement Serbe ne s'empresse de les traiter avec la puissance Suzeraine dans le désir de donner à celle-ci toutes les satisfactions possibles et légitimes. Il est désirable en particulier que le Prince Michel s'efforce d'aller au devant des appréhensions que la nouvelle organisation militaire de la Serbie a faite naître à Constantinople. La Sublime Porte a déjà déclaré qu'elle n'entretiendra dans ses forteresses que le nombre d'hommes nécessaires pour en assurer la défense, elle considère comme naturel que le gouvernement Serbe n'entretienne pas un nombre d'hommes supérieur à ce qui est nécessaire pour le maintien de la tranquillité et de l'ordre intérieur du pays. Les limites dans les quelles la Porte exercera son droit de garnison sont faciles à apprécier et même à déclarer. Il sera aisé au Prince de Serbie de donner des déclarations également satisfaisantes sur le nombre d'hommes dont se composerait son effectif normal et d'arriver par échange de communications confidentielles et amicales entre les deux parties, à un arrangement qui, faisant disparaître de part et d'autre tous les doutes et ne portant atteinte à aucun des droits de la Principauté, puisse rassurer la Sublime Porte sur le chiffre et l'emploi de l'effectif, qui doivent être conformes à l'esprit des Hatti-Chérifs.

ARTICLE XII.

Les Serves trouveront toujours la Sublime Porte disposée à accueillir les réclamations qu'ils pourraient avoir à formuler par la suite dans un esprit bienveillant et équitable, et elle y répondra dans le plus court délai possible.

Les Puissances garantes en donnant à la Sublime Porte les conseils qui ont servi de bases au présent arrangement et en prenant acte de ses bonnes intentions, déclarent n'avoir eu en vue que de garantir le maintien des Art. 28 et 29 du Traité de Paris au moyen de sages modifications fondées sur l'intérêt de la Turquie et de la Serbie, et dictées par le désir de consolider la paix Européenne. Elles sont convaincues qu'appréciant les efforts qui ont été faits pour donner, dans la mesure du juste et du possible, satisfaction à leurs plaintes et à leur désirs, et ramenés à un sentiment vrai de leur situation, les Serves comprendront que leur intérêt est de rester unis étroitement à la Puissance Suzeraine, de s'appuyer sur elle, et de contribuer à la défense générale de l'Empire avec la fidélité dont ils ont donné tant de preuves et qui seule peut assurer l'autonomie et l'existence de la Serbie.

Le Ministre des Affaires Etrangères de Sublime Porte le Sultan,

Sublime Porte, le 16 Septembre, 1862.

INSTRUCTIONS de la Sublime Porte au Gouverneur de Belgrade.

La Sublime Porte a été toujours animée de la plus haute bienveillance à l'égard de la population Serbe. Comme conséquence naturelle de cette bienveillance, notre Auguste Souverain désire sincèrement le développement progressif de sa prospérité, et mue par ce principe invariable, Sa Majesté Impériale ne saura tolérer qu'on puisse y porter atteinte. C'est donc pour vous en faire bien pénétrer et afin de prévenir tout conflit d'autorité, j'ai l'ordre Souverain de vous indiquer les points suivants, qui doivent vous servir de règle de conduite dans l'exercice de vos fonctions—n'aurez par conséquent à vous immiscer d'aucune façon dans les affaires qui concernent cette administration.

1o. Vous savez que l'administration intérieure de la Principauté de Serbie est exclusivement confiée au Prince et à ses fonctionnaires. Vous

20. Vous ferez tout votre possible pour vivre en bonne harmonie avec l'administration Serbe, et vous aurez à rendre, personnellement, et à faire rendre par vos subordonnés, tant au Prince qu'à tous les fonctionnaires, tous les égards auxquels ils ont droit. De même et naturellement les Serbes ne s'immisceront en aucune manière de ce qui regarde la forteresse, et ils vous témoigneront et feront témoigner le respect dû à un haut fonctionnaire de la Sublime Porte, ainsi qu'aux officiers de la garnison.

30. Vous ne permettrez à aucun des habitants Musulmans de Belgrade d'habiter en dehors de la citadelle.

40. Vous ne donnerez aucun air de menace, et qui peut sans nécessité inquiéter ou alarmer la population Serbe, à la disposition de notre artillerie sur les remparts tournés vers la ville.

50. Vous ne ferez usage de l'artillerie que dans le cas d'attaque sérieuse tentée contre la forteresse que vous êtes chargé de défendre ;

Dans le cas de défense nécessaire, et dans ce cas seulement, vous vous servirez de votre artillerie, ayant soin de ne diriger le feu que sur les parties de la ville d'où provient l'attaque, et vous inspirant toujours des intentions généreuses de Sa Majesté Impériale, d'épargner autant que possible une ville à la conservation et à la prospérité de laquelle elle attache le plus grand prix.

60. Vous devez comprendre que l'article précédent n'a pour objet que de fixer la ligne conduite que vous devrez suivre dans des éventualités que vous devrez avant tout faire votre possible pour éviter. Si après avoir épuisé tous les moyens de conciliation, vous vous trouvez dans la fâcheuse nécessité de faire usage de vos canons pour repousser une attaque contre la forteresse, vous tâcherez d'en prévenir d'avance les Consuls Etrangers résidents à Belgrade, et s'il est possible les habitants paisibles de la ville.

(Translation.)

THE events of which the principality of Servia has recently been the theatre, having induced the Sublime Porte to assemble in conference the representatives of the powers who signed the Treaty of Paris, and those powers being, above all things, desirous to avoid new sources of irritation, have considered it their duty to abstain from a minute investigation of the immediate causes of those lamentable occurrences. They have therefore confined themselves to showing that the re-establishment of confidential and friendly relations between the Suzerain Power and the Principality was of great importance, as well for Turkey as for the peace of Europe, and that it was a matter of consequence to seek with care all the means adapted to attain that end. They have seen with satisfaction that the Sublime Porte being disposed to introduce into the state of things which has subsisted in Servia up to the present time the modifications suitable to remove causes of disagreement and of conflict, was desirous of using all the means in her power to convince the Servians that she takes the most sincere interest in the natural development of their prosperity and their self-government. It is, therefore, the duty of the Servians on their part to give to the Sublime Porte, by unmistakeable proofs, the assurance that in the legitimate development of this self-government they do not seek the means of relaxing the ties which unite them to the Ottoman Empire, but that, on the contrary, they will always strive to render those ties more close, and to strengthen the natural union which is created by community of interest, and the necessities of mutual defence.

In order to realize those intentions, as wise as they are generous, the Sublime Porte has not hesitated to enter into the following engagements with the representatives of the guaranteeing powers, which she will hasten to make known by a firman, published in the usual form, as soon as the Servians shall have entirely razed the works lately constructed in the suburb, or between the suburb and the walls of the fortress. The Servians shall likewise raze the military works which they may have unduly constructed since the late events in other parts of the principality. It is the intention of the Sublime Porte on its part to remove the works which have been constructed during the same period by Turkish authorities for defensive purposes, which will no longer exist, the Ottoman Government having the most lively desire to obliterate in the moral as well as in the material order of things, all traces of deplorable misunderstandings.

ARTICLE I.

In order to prevent the possibility of conflicts arising from the intermixture in the same locality of Mussulman and Servian population, the Ottoman Government will transfer in full property to the Servian Government, on condition of indemnifying the proprietors, all the lands and houses in the suburb of Belgrade, belonging at the present time to Mussulmans. The Porte will abandon on the same condition to the said Government the walls, ditches, and works forming the ancient enclosure which separates the modern from the ancient town which is called the Faubourg, as well as the four gates of the Save, of Varos, of Stamboul, and of Vidin. These ditches, walls, gates, and works shall be demolished and levelled. The Servians shall not erect any military work on this ground. These modifications in the former state of things will have for result that the exclusive jurisdiction of the Servian authorities shall in future extend over the whole of the town as well as over the Faubourg of Belgrade. All the religious edifices and tombs which the Mussulman population may leave standing when they retire from the places they have hitherto occupied in virtue of ancient rights, shall be scrupulously respected.

ARTICLE II.

The Sublime Porte being determined to maintain in all their integrity its rights over the citadel of Belgrade, as sanctioned by Treaties, but not wishing in any respect to make the conditions thereof more burthensome for the Servians, she is, nevertheless, resolved to seek the means for putting that fortress into a proper state of defence, and deems it necessary to give to the present esplanade more regularity, and, at certain points where such extension cannot disturb the town, an increase of extent.

This extension will therefore be made in the quarter almost exclusively occupied by the Mussulmans, and situated between the citadel, the Danube, and a line passing by the Tekké of Scheik Hassan and by the mosque of Ali Pacha.

If the Sublime Porte should think it absolutely necessary to carry the demolition of the Mussulman quarter a little further than the aforesaid line, the mixed Military Commission, which forms the subject of Article V, will have to take the question into consideration and decide upon it. If there should be any Non-Mussulman houses in this space, the Ottoman Government will indemnify the proprietors, and will, of course, undertake to indemnify all those expropriated persons who are under their direct jurisdiction.

With regard to the exclusively Servian Quarter, the Ottoman Government, which would not think of touching the religious edifices, such as the Cathedral, the University, and the Bishop's Palace, nor the Mercantile Quarter, will negotiate in a friendly manner with the Prince's Government for the purchase of certain houses which competent judges may declare absolutely necessary to complete the esplanade in that direction, and will take care to facilitate the consent of the proprietors by the offer of liberal compensation.

No building of any kind whatever shall remain or be built in future upon the ground of this Esplanade, which shall remain the exclusive property of the Turkish Government. Nobody shall reside there, even temporarily.

ARTICLE III.

The Servian Government shall take care to restore, in kind or in value, all moveables left by the Mussulmans in their houses or shops when they retired to the citadel. If, at the time of the disturbances which then occurred, any Servian suffered any losses of the same nature by the act of the Mussulmans, he will be indemnified by the Ottoman Government.

The two Governments will come to a confidential and friendly understanding as to the mode of such restitution and of the indemnity in question.

ARTICLE IV.

The Sublime Porte, firmly resolved to maintain all its rights without ever exceeding them, protests that there is not the least foundation for the apprehension that the citadel of Belgrade, destined for the defence of the country, can be considered as the means for infringing the immunities granted to Servia by the Sultans, and guaranteed by treaties. Its paternal feeling towards the principality excludes any desire to exercise any pressure on the Prince's Government, or any intimidation towards the population. As a proof of its intentions, the Sublime Porte has not hesitated to communicate to the Conference the instructions which it has prepared, and which will hereafter form the inviolable rule for the conduct of the Governors of Belgrade.

The Representatives, in placing upon record the engagement resulting from this communication, are happy to state that those instructions prove to the Powers that the Sublime Porte has no intention of giving a threatening character to the armaments of the ramparts on the town side towards the town, nor to make use of the guns on that side, except in a case of the most necessary and legitimate defence; and even in such a case, faithful to the feelings of humanity with which it is ever animated, the Sublime Porte will never permit that devastation should be intentionally carried into the heart of a rich and populous town, whose interests are so closely united with its own.

The Sublime Porte, moreover, does not doubt that the Servians will scrupulously guard against the citadel being placed, by acts of hostility, under the painful necessity of repelling force by force. The Sublime Porte has no difficulty in adding that, while resolved to examine the actual state of the ramparts of the citadel, in order that they may be restored and placed on a satisfactory footing of defence, it will equally cause an examination to be made into the question, whether the more advanced works on the southern side could be advantageously modified without endangering the security of the fortress and its efficient state of defence, which, in any case, it cannot allow to be diminished.

ARTICLE V.

The new circuit of the esplanade shall be marked out by a Mixed Military Commission, composed of an officer named by each of the guaranteeing Powers, and of an officer named by the Ottoman Government. This Commission will avail itself of all local information which may assist it in resolving this question; it shall make its report to the Sublime Porte, which will receive favourably any observations which the Servian Government may think right to submit to it on this subject. The Conference would feel pleasure if the Sublime Porte were to take advantage of the opinion of this Commission in the examination which forms the subject of the last part of the preceding Article.

A Civil Mixed Commission, composed of members named by the Ottoman Government and the Servian Government, shall decide all the questions of expropriation, and of indemnity which are contemplated in the present arrangement, except those only which can be discussed only between the Turkish Government and the proprietors who are under its direct jurisdiction. This Commission shall conclude its labours within the space of four months.

ARTICLE VI.

The Sublime Porte wishing to maintain in the Principality of Servia, only the number of fortified points which seem to her really necessary for the security of the Ottoman Empire, has devoted itself to an attentive examination of this question, and has pleasure in declaring to the Conference that her intention is to demolish from this time, from among the fortresses which belong to her, those of Sokol and Oujtza, which shall never be restored without the mutual consent of the Sublime Porte and the Servian Government. The Porte looks upon the maintenance of the fortresses of Feth-Islam, of Chubutz, and of Semendria, as indispensable to the general system of defence of Turkey.

ARTICLE VII.

Not wishing to exercise the rights which belong to her in the principality of Servia beyond the limits which her own security demands, the Sublime Porte will maintain in the fortified points which she occupies there, whether at Belgrade or at Feth-Islam, Semendria, and Chubutz, only garrisons proportionate to the extent of these places, and to the real requirements of their defence.

ARTICLE VIII.

The Sublime Porte engages to take immediate measures, in concert with the Servian Government, so that all the Mussulman inhabitants who live around the five fortified points which she occupies in virtue of the treaties, and which are specified in the preceding Articles, may dispose of their properties and withdraw from the Servian territory as quickly as possible.

The Ottoman Commissioner sent to Belgrade in order to decide this question and others which were previously pending, shall terminate his labours within the period fixed by the Civil Mixed Commission described in Article V. It is well understood that there is nothing in what precedes to prevent Mussulmans from travelling upon business in the interior of the principality, on condition of conforming to the laws of the country.

ARTICLE IX.

It is in the intention of the Sublime Porte to see that the Governor of the citadel of Belgrade confines himself strictly to the exercise of his military functions, and does not seek to exercise, directly or indirectly, any interference, however small, in the affairs of the city or of the principality. She will likewise see that he observes and causes to be observed towards the Prince and his Government, all the respect to which they have right.

On their part, the Prince and his Government will act in the same spirit towards the Governor of the citadel; they will not commit any encroachment upon his functions, and will see that all the Ottoman functionaries are treated in all cases conformably to their rank.

The same regard shall be observed between the Commandants of the three forts which the Sublime Porte maintains outside the citadel of Belgrade and the neighbouring Servian authorities.

ARTICLE X.

Every corps recruited entirely from foreigners in Servia shall be disbanded, and the Servian Government shall carefully abstain from exciting distrust of the Sublime Porte by any abusive extension of the right of asylum.

ARTICLE XI.

As for questions which are not provided for in the present arrangement, and which are of a nature to influence the good understanding of Turkey and of Servia, the Conference does not doubt that the Servian Government will be anxious to treat concerning them with the Sovereign Power in the desire to grant her every possible and legitimate satisfaction. It is desirable, in particular, that Prince Michael should endeavour to put an end to the apprehensions which the new military organisation of Servia has created at Constantinople. The Sublime Porte has already declared that she will maintain in her fortresses only the number of men necessary to insure their defence; she naturally expects that the Servian Government will not maintain a larger number of men than is necessary for the maintenance of the tranquillity and the internal order of the country. The limits within which the Porte will exercise its right of garrison are easy to be understood, and even to be declared. It will be easy for the Prince of Servia to give declarations equally satisfactory as to the number of men which will compose his usual effective force, and by an exchange of confidential and friendly communications between the two parties to come to an arrangement, which, while it removes on both sides all doubts, and does not injure any rights of the principality, will tranquilize the Sublime Porte as to the number and employment of the effective force, which should be in conformity with the spirit of the Hatti-Chérifs.

ARTICLE XII.

The Servians will always find the Sublime Porte ready to listen, in a just and friendly spirit, to any demands which they may have to make in future, and the Porte will cause an answer to be returned with the shortest possible delay.

The Guaranteeing Powers, in giving to the Sublime Porte counsels which have served as a basis for the present arrangement, and in placing upon record its good intentions, declare that they have only had in view to ensure the maintenance of Articles XXVIII and XXIX of the Treaty of Paria, by means of wise modifications, founded upon the interest of Turkey and Servia, and dictated by the desire to strengthen the peace of Europe. They are convinced that the Servians, while appreciating the efforts which have been made to satisfy in every just and possible manner their complaints and wishes, and brought to a true sense of their situation, will perceive that it is their interest to remain in close connection with the Suzerain Power, to rely upon its support, and to contribute towards the general defence of the Empire with that fidelity of which they have given so many proofs, and which alone can insure the self government and the existence of Servia.

The Minister for Foreign Affairs of His Majesty the Sultan,

AALI.

Sublime Porte, September 16, 1862.

INSTRUCTIONS given by the Sublime Porte to the Governor of Belgrade.

The Sublime Porte has been always animated with the greatest good will towards the Servian people. As the natural consequence of this good will, our august Sovereign desires sincerely the progressive developement of their prosperity; and moved by this invariable principle, His Imperial Majesty cannot tolerate anything which might injure it. In order, therefore, that you may thoroughly understand this, and with a view to avoid all conflict between authorities, I have the Royal order to indicate to you the following points, which will serve you for the regulation of your conduct in the exercise of your duties:—

1. You are aware that the internal administration of the Principality of Servia is confided exclusively to the Prince and his functionaries. You will not therefore mix yourself up in any manner in matters which concern that administration.

2. You will do everything in your power to live in good harmony with the Servian administration, and you will yourself pay, and cause all your subordinates to pay, to the Prince and to his functionaries all the respect which is due to them. In the same manner the Servians will of course not interfere in any manner with what concerns the fortress, and they will show, and will cause to be shown to you, the respect due to a high functionary of the Sublime Porte, as well to the officers of the garrison.

3. You will not permit any of the Mussulman inhabitants of Belgrade to live outside the citadel.

4. You will not give any air of menace, which might without necessity disquiet or alarm the Servian population, to the disposition of your artillery on the ramparts directed towards the town.

5. You will not use artillery except in case of a serious attack made against the fortress which you are charged to defend.

In case of necessary defence, and in that case only, will you make use of your artillery, taking care to direct the fire only on those parts of the town from whence the attack proceeds, and you will always be animated by the generous intentions of His Imperial Majesty to spare as far as possible a town, to the preservation and prosperity of which he attaches the greatest importance.

6. You must understand that the only object of the preceding article is to regulate the line of conduct which you should pursue in eventualities which you must do all in your power to avoid. If, after having exhausted all means of conciliation, you find yourself under the unhappy necessity of making use of your cannon to repel an attack on the fortress, you will endeavour to inform beforehand the Foreign Consuls resident in Belgrade, and if possible the peaceable inhabitants of the town.

MY LORD, Peking, July 2, 1862.

I HAVE the honour to enclose copy of a despatch from Mr. Gingell, Her Majesty's Consul at Hankow, and of my reply, on a recent outrage committed on a party of foreigners at Woo-chang-foo. I trust your Lordship will approve of my insisting on Her Majesty's subjects acting with discretion, and of Her Majesty's Consuls evincing a disposition to consider the difficulties with which the Chinese authorities have to contend in dealing with the people. The more we avoid collisions at the new ports, the better.

I have, &c.

FREDERICK W. A. BRUCE.

The Right Honourable Earl Russell,
 &c., &c., &c.

P.S.—I have the honour to enclose copy of a despatch to Mr. Forrest, on the line of conduct to be observed by him at Kiukiang.

SIR, Hankow, May 22, 1862.

THE enclosed copy of letter addressed to me will furnish particulars of an assault upon a party of British subjects, while visiting the Wu-chang city, on the 14th May.

A party of Americans, having two ladies among the number, were similarly attacked on the 10th instant, and driven out of the city; the ladies on that occasion having their ornaments, as I am informed, taken from them, and other indignities offered to their persons.

Whatever insolence and violence foreigners may have been subjected to on the Hankow side, it has been constantly remarked with what freedom from annoyance every individual has hitherto visited the Wu-chang city. And this was particularly mentioned to the Viceroy on the occasion of Lieutenant Poole's visit to him on the 8th instant.

Her Majesty's gunboat "Havoc" left this port for Kiu-Kiang, on the morning of the 10th, and the attack upon the first party which entered the city, following immediately after her departure, is, I conceive, highly significant. It is probable the Mandarins have been instrumental in secretly intimating to the people to make a demonstration of their dislike to foreigners visiting Wu-chang. The Chinese Superintendent of Trade, however, addressed me a note immediately after the occurrence, and affirmed that the attack was made by strangers who were staying in the city during the continuance of the examinations, and he requested me to deter the merchants and others from going into the city until the examinations were over. He was informed by me, in reply, that British subjects, under treaty, were allowed to visit any places they pleased, and that the Chinese authorities were at all times bound to afford them the fullest protection, and that I could not, therefore, interdict them from visiting Wu-chang city.

As soon as the matter was reported to me, I at once brought it to the notice of the Viceroy, and required the punishment of the aggressors; and His Excellency was also requested to adopt means for preventing a repetition of such outrages, but as yet no reply has been received to my appeal.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) W. R. GINGELL.

SIR,

Hankow, May 15, 1862.

WE would respectfully bring to your notice an unprovoked attack, made upon us yesterday at Wu-chang, by a crowd of people belonging to that place. We had entered by the Han-yang Gate, accompanied by Mr. Dick, of the Imperial Customs, with the intention of visiting the curiosity shops, and viewing the country from the ridge that intersects the city. Having accomplished the first object of our visit, in which we were not only unmolested, but treated with civility, we mounted the hill, and, seeing some military review or examination going on in the parade-ground, passed down towards it. As a large crowd was assembled round the competitors, we entered the pavilion in which the Prefect was seated, stationing ourselves in rear of his attendants, who received us with courtesy; but we had only been there a few minutes when a rush was made in the direction of the pavilion by the crowd, who, with loud cries, poured a shower of brick-bats into the buildings. The Prefect and his officers remonstrated with the mob without effect; and, as they were evidently unable to afford us protection, we retreated up the hill and along its top, pursued by some hundred of Chinese, and under a shower of stones, by which several of us were bruised, though fortunately not severely hurt. The crowd, still throwing brick-bats, followed us until within a hundred yards of the Han-yang Gate.

We would also beg to assure you, that the attack was entirely unprovoked on our part, we having, neither by word or action, offered the slightest offence to any one, nor did we offer any but a passive resistance even when thus savagely assaulted. But we would at the same time bear testimony to the gallant behaviour of our guard of four soldiers, who, though unarmed, never left us, but afforded us all the protection within their power. Were this simply a personal matter, we should forbear to intrude it on your time and notice, but fear that in the absence of a remonstrance from you to the proper authorities, other unoffending British subjects may be subjected to similar ill-treatment.

We have, &c.,

SIR, Peking, July 2, 1862.

WITH reference to the assault, reported by you, on the party who visited Wu-chang-fu, I have to observe, that although the Treaty does confer the right on Her Majesty's subjects of going freely about, it was not intended to relieve them from the exercise of discretion.

It appears that the party was treated with civility in the city itself, and that they then ascended the hill, where some sort of examination was going on, and took upon themselves, without invitation, to enter the pavilion in which the Prefect was presiding. This was not a very courteous or proper proceeding, and certainly does not come within the scope of the facilities provided by the Treaty.

They were then attacked by the crowd, and fortunately escaped without serious injury.

I am sorry to see your insinuation that the attack was secretly prompted by the authorities. The facts stated do not seem to warrant it; the Prefect and his attendants did what they could, and the Chinese soldiers, as the sufferers very creditably admit, behaved well; and further, they were not molested in the town, whence, it appears, the American party had shortly before been driven out.

I see no reason to doubt that the cause stated by the Mandarins is the real one. It is well known to every one in China, that the authorities dread the examination periods, on account of the crowds of strangers who attend, and of the feeble means at their disposal to prevent the disorders to which they give rise. They are attended by a class who are generally ill-disposed to foreigners, and who are, no doubt, at present irritated by the proceedings which have led to the late outbreak against Roman Catholic Missionaries.

I therefore think that it would be well, during the examinations, to advise Her Majesty's subjects to avoid these crowds, for it is very difficult to obtain redress for such outrages; and the gratification of mere curiosity, and the assumption that there may be a scheme to curtail ultimately the rights of foreigners, do not warrant us in disregarding a warning that, in China, is not prima facie unreasonable. For the maintenance of proper relations depends on meeting the authorities in a spirit of compromise, when what they propose in view of the state of the country is reasonable, and in resisting them, firmly but temperately, when it is not.

I am, &c.,

SIR, Peking, July 2, 1862.

IN reply to your despatch, I have to state that I fully approve the arrangements made by you with reference to the British concession at Kiukiang.

I am very glad to receive so satisfactory an account of your port. Make it a rule to cultivate a good understanding with the authorities and people, and impress the necessity of pursuing the same course on the British community.

Where there are difficulties that you are unable to overcome, you must refer the case, after exhausting all amicable means, to Peking; but avoid, as much as possible, menace. As to calling in the aid of force, Her Majesty's Government has reiterated its instructions that Her Majesty's Consuls are not to appeal to it, except in cases where the lives of Her Majesty's subjects are threatened, or their property endangered by riots, &c. Abuse of authority by the Chinese, or delay in doing what we are entitled to demand, are not sufficient causes to warrant violent measures.

The effort is now to be made to settle such disputed questions through the intervention of the Imperial authority; and although the process may at first be slow and imperfect, it must be persevered in.

I am, &c.,

THE Corporation of the Trinity House, London, has given notice, that on and after the 1st day of October, 1862, a light vessel would be placed near the west end of the Scarweather Sand, in the Bristol Channel.

The light is a revolving light, showing a bright red face three times in a minute. It is elevated 38 feet above the level of the sea, and should be seen in clear weather from a distance of about 10 miles.

The light vessel lies in 14 fathoms low water springs, with Tears point just open of Slades bluff bearing N.W. $\frac{1}{4}$ N.; Constantinople cottages in line with the entrance of Port Talback N.E. by E. easterly; Mumbles light N. $\frac{3}{4}$ E., distant $7\frac{3}{16}$ miles; West Scarweather buoy N.E. by E., distant $1\frac{2}{16}$ miles; Nash high lighthouse S.E. $\frac{3}{4}$ E., $14\frac{4}{16}$ miles; and Helwicks light vessel N.W. $\frac{3}{4}$ W., $18\frac{2}{16}$ miles.

In order to render the Scarweather light vessel more readily distinguishable in the day time from that of the Helwicks, a half globe will shortly be shown above the usual globe, at the mast head.
