Whitehall, December 29, 1862.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the attainment of his Majority by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

The Loyal and Dutiful Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the Town and County of the Town of Southampton.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the town and county of the town of Southampton, beg most humbly to approach your Majesty with the strongest feelings of devotion and loyalty.

We beg most sincerely and heartily to offer our earnest congratulations, that your illustrious son His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, has in perfect health, and with the happiest anticipations, attained the twenty-first anniversary of his birth, and thus reached, to the great joy of your Majesty's loyal and devoted people, that period towards which the hopes of many years have pointed, and by which the affectionate regards of this mighty nation have been realized.

We embrace this auspicious occasion to express to your Majesty our profound gratitude that, in conjunction with your late illustrious Consort, you have devoted so largely your life and energies to prepare the mind and character of His Royal Highness to govern well, and wisely, this great Empire, in the distant future. And we pray that he may emulate the exalted example of his distinguished parents, which, blending the highest virtues, with the tenderest domestic felicity, is the especial pride and admiration of the whole British people.

It is with heartfelt satisfaction that we have heard of the intended alliance of His Royal Highness with the amiable and illustrious Princess Alexandra, of the Protestant House of Denmark, and we earnestly hope that that gratifying event may result in the enjoyment of the same domestic happiness which has been so conspicuous during your Majesty's happy reign.

We pray that an allwise Providence will restore to your Majesty tranquillity of mind, and the enjoyment of health, that, enshrined in the hearts of your family, and, no less in the love and sympathies of your people, your Majesty's prosperous and beneficent reign, may be long and glorious.

REGULATIONS RELATING TO THE REGISTRATION OF POST LETTERS.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament passed in the Session of Parliament, holden in the third and fourth years of the reign of Her Majesty, chapter 96, for the regulation of the duties of Postage, it was enacted by section 39 (after reciting that it might be expedient that certain Post Letters should be registered) that in case the Postmaster General should at any time deem it expedient that all or any post letters should be registered by the post office, the Postmaster General might, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, forward letters so registered without charging any additional rate for the registration thereof, or he might charge for any letter so registered, such rate of postage in addition to any other rates payable under the post office Acts, as the Postmaster General with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury should from time to time direct (but such registration should not render the Postmaster General or the post office revenue in any manner liable to the loss of any such post letters or the contents thereof), and that all registered letters should be delivered to the post office, and also be delivered by the post office at or between such hours of the day, and under all such regulations, in every respect as the Postmaster General should from time to time appoint, and the Postmaster General might therein require such registration rate to be paid on the letter being put into the post office. And, by section 60, it is further enacted, that in all cases in which the postage of any unstamped letter should not have been paid by the sender, it should be paid by the person to whom the letter is addressed on the delivery thereof to him, but if the letter should be refused or the party to whom it is addressed should be dead, or could not be found, the writer or sender should pay the postage. And that the now reciting enactment should apply to every packet, newspaper, and thing whatsoever chargeable with postage which should be transmitted by the post. And by section 63 it was also enacted that all post letters should be posted, forwarded, conveyed, and delivered under and subject to all such orders, directions, and regulations, and under and subject to all such conditions, limitations, and restrictions as to the form, size, dimensions, enclosures, or otherwise as the Postmaster General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, should from time to time direct.

And whereas by a certain other Act of Parliament passed in the Session of Parliament, holden in the tenth and eleventh years of the reign of Her Majesty, chapter 85, for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the post office; after reciting the said hereinbefore recited Act, it was enacted, inter alia, by section 10, that it should be lawful for the Postmaster General, and any officer of the Post Office to detain any letters which should be posted or sent by the post contrary to the regulations of the said now reciting Act, or the said hereinbefore recited Act, or contrary to any regulations made under the authority of the said now reciting Act, or the said hereinbefore recited Act, or contrary to the regulations of any Treasury Warrant which should be issued under or by virtue of the said now reciting Act, or which had been or should be issued under or by virtue of the said hereinbefore recited Act, and to forward such letters to their places of destination, charged with such rates of postage as the Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, should from time to time direct.

And whereas by the said two hereinbefore recited Acts respectively, it is provided: That whenever the order, consent, authority, or direction of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury is prescribed by the said Acts, such order, consent, authority, or direction (not being by Warrant), might be signified, either under the hands of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, or any three of them, or under the hand of one of their Secretaries, or Assistant Secretaries.

And whereas in pursuance of the said hereinbefore recited Acts, a system of registration has been established with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, whereby the public have been and are entitled to forward letters by the post at a certain charge or registration rate of postage, in addition to the other rates payable thereon; and it is expedient that such system of registration should be extended, and such registration rate altered in manner and according to the regulations hereinafter mentioned and contained, and that certain orders, directions, and regulations for that purpose made, and bearing date the 31st day of July, 1862, should be rescinded, revoked, and repealed.

Now I, Edward John Lord Stanley, of Alderley, Her Majesty's Postmaster-General, by and with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury: Do hereby rescind, revoke, and repeal the orders, directions, and regulations heretofore made, and bearing date on or about the 31st day of July, 1862, and do hereby by and with such consent as aforesaid, order, direct, and declare as follows:—

1. The registration rate of postage payable at any post office in the United Kingdom on inland letters registered during the ordinary hours appointed for the registration thereof at such post office, shall be reduced from sixpence to fourpence, but this regulation shall not extend to the registration rates chargeable and payable on Colonial or Foreign letters.

2. All letters, whether inland, colonial or foreign, may be registered at the metropolitan chief post offices or at the London district post offices (including the Lombard-street and Charing-cross branch post offices) or at any provincial head post office in the United Kingdom, after the ordinary hours appointed for the registration thereof at any such post office, until the closing of the letter-box for each despatch, or until such post office is closed for the night, upon payment of a late registration rate of postage of fourpence, which shall be payable in stamps, in addition to the ordinary registration rate, and to any other rates chargeable or payable thereon.

3. All letters containing coin, posted in or addressed to London, or posted in any town or place in the United Kingdom, addressed to any other town or place in the United Kingdom, and transmitted through London; and all letters which shall have written or put thereon the word "Registered," or any other word or words of the like meaning, or to the like effect when posted, whether the same shall have or contain therein coin or not, shall be registered at the time of the same being posted, and a rate of postage of fourpence, for the registration thereof, shall be then paid thereon in stamps, in addition to any other rate of postage chargeable thereon.

4. If any letters, mentioned in the third clause hereinbefore contained, shall be posted without being at the same time registered, such letters shall, if observed, be afterwards registered at and by the post office, and shall be forwarded to their destination, charged with double the ordinary registration rate of postage, in addition to any other rates of postage chargeable thereon, with a deduction, however, equal to the amount of any stamps which may have been affixed to the letter, in payment or part payment of the registration rate.

5. Any letters in the 4th clause mentioned, which cannot be registered as therein mentioned in time to be forwarded by the mail for which they were posted, may be detained and forwarded by the next despatch.

6. The 3rd, 4th, and 5th regulations, hereinbefore contained, shall not extend to any letters sent to or from any of Her Majesty's colonies, or any foreign country.

7. The term "London," used in the regulations herein contained, shall mean and include the city of London, and all places within the delivery of the chief post office in London, or any of the London or suburban district post offices.

8. These regulations shall come into operation on and from the 1st day of January, 1863; and as to all matters and things which shall have previously taken place, the said former orders, directions, and regulations shall remain and be of full force and effect, notwithstanding the repeal thereof, which is only to operate as from the 1st day of January, 1863.

Stanley of Alderley,
Her Majesty's Postmaster-General.

I hereby signify the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to the foregoing regulations.

F. Peel.

Dated this 20th day of December, 1862.
