Whitehall, April 9, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, noblemen, gentlemen, clergy and other inhabitants of the county of Oxford, assembled in our County Hall (by notice from the high sheriff) this 6th day of April, 1863, desire most humbly to offer our congratulations to your Majesty upon the auspicious Marriage of His Royal Highness Albert Edward Prince of Wales with the Princess Alexandra of Denmark:

We hail this opportunity of dutifully expressing our devotion and loyalty to the Crown, and our affectionate attachment to your Majesty's person.

In common with all your Majesty's subjects, we recognise the wisdom of an alliance of the heir to the Throne of this kingdom with the house of Denmark; and we are sensible that the great promise afforded by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales of admirable fitness for his exalted position, is, under Divine Providence, to be assigned to the singularly high attributes of parental care and devotion ever displayed by your Majesty and your late beloved Prince Consort.

We humbly pray that your Majesty may long be spared to rule over us, and that the illustrious Prince and Princess of Wales may be preserved in all happiness, and that the nation may ever have cause to rejoice in their union.

On behalf of the meeting.

Tho. Taylor, High Sheriff.
