CONVENTION between the Governments of Great Britain and of Tunis, relative to the holding of real property by British Subjects in Tunis.

Signed in the English and Arabic Languages, at Tunis, October 10, 1863.

In the Name of God All-Powerful.

CONVENTION concluded between the Government of Her Majesty, the Descendant of Glorious Sovereigns, the Crown of the Illustrious Great, who holds at her command the sword and the pen, the Great and August Princess, the fame of whose virtues are spread over the universe, Our Friend the Lady Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, and the Government of His Most Serene Highness Mohamed Essadok Bey, Lord of the Regency of Tunis, relative to the permission granted to British subjects to hold real property in the Regency of Tunis.

Whereas, by Article XI of the organic laws of the Regency of Tunis, foreigners have acquired the right to possess immoveable property so soon as their respective governments shall enter into an arrangement with the Government of Tunis, establishing the conditions which shall entitle them to exercise the right conceded to them; and whereas it is expedient to prevent in future the abuses, contentions, and confusion that have arisen in consequence of the means to which foreigners have had recourse, in order to evade the regulations and customs which prohibited them from holding immoveable property in their own names, the following stipulations have been entered into and concluded between His Most Serene Highness Mohamed Essadok Bey, Lord of the Regency of Tunis, and Richard Wood, Esq., Her Britannic Majesty's Agent and Consul-General at Tunis, duly authorized to that effect:—

ARTICLE I.

It being henceforward lawful for British subjects to purchase and possess immoveable property of every description in the Regency of Tunis, the Ecclesiastical and other legal Courts and authorities shall be empowered, upon the application of the purchaser, to proceed to the verification of the title-deeds, and to transfer the same in his name, according to the usages of the country, in order to give them the validity required by law.

ARTICLE II.

British subjects possessing immoveable property shall pay the same municipal and fiscal taxes which are paid by natives, and shall discharge in general the obligations which are by law attached to, and are discharged by, the like property held by natives.

ARTICLE III.

Every proprietor of houses, magazines, or other tenements, shall conform to the municipal regulations now existing, or which shall hereafter exist.

ARTICLE IV.

All cases of litigation respecting immoveable property, and relating to the ownership or occupation of houses or lands, between a British and a Tunisian subject, shall be referred for adjudication to the competent legal tribunals, whose summons for the appearance of the British subject shall be transmitted through the British Consul-General, or, in his absence, through his deputy, in order that he or his deputy may be present at the trial. And the condemned party shall have the right to appeal to the Courts constituted for that purpose, until the appeal shall have reached the Meglis Elakbar (Legislative Assembly), and whatever decision might be given by the last tribunal, the authority of the condemned party shall carry it out. But in cases where the dispute is between British subjects, it shall be optional for them, or either of them, to have their difference heard and determined by their Consul-General, or his deputy, whose decision, however, shall be governed by the laws and usages of the country, so far as they can be ascertained, and so far as the conditions expressed in the contract will permit.

ARTICLE V.

British subjects holding immoveable property shall be free to sell, dispose of, and convey their property to natives; but they shall not sell, transfer, or convey their property to foreigners, except to subjects of such friendly Governments as have, by convention or other agreement with His Highness the Bey, acquired for their subjects the right to purchase and hold immoveable property in the Regency of Tunis; and, in order to guard against any infraction of the present Article, as well as to avoid any dispute or litigation that may arise therefrom, it is agreed that in all cases of a sale or conveyance of immoveable property from a British to a foreign subject, the instrument of transfer shall have affixed to it the seals of the Ecclesiastical Court, or those of the competent native authorities, to render the sale valid and lawful.

ARTICLE VI.

If a British proprietor die, either wholly intestate or intestate as to his immoveable property, the succession to his immoveable property shall be governed by the same law as the succession, ab intestato, to his moveable property, without any let or hindrance on the part of the Tunisian Authorities.

ARTICLE VII.

It being established at all times that the Consul-General, or in his absence, his deputy, do administer the estate of a British subject dying intestate in the Regency of Tunis, it is further established and agreed that the same right of administration shall extend to the lands, houses, and tenements of a British subject so dying. And it is, moreover, established that, upon the written declaration of Her Majesty's Agent and Consul-General, or, in his absence, of his deputy, given under the seal of his office, that he has sold, disposed of, or conveyed the immoveable property belonging to the deceased, the courts and legal authorities shall recognize such sale; and shall, upon the testimony of two notaries that the sale was made in due and legal form, furnish the purchaser, being a native or a foreigner coming within the provision of Article V of the present Convention, with such legal instruments or deeds as will enable the said purchaser, in case of contention, sale, conveyance, or mortgage to prove his right over the said property.

ARTICLE VIII.

The stipulations of the foregoing Article, and the rights therein reserved, shall also apply to, and shall be exercised by, the Consul-General, or his deputy in his absence, with regard to the immoveable property of a British subject who has become involved in pecuniary difficulties, or who has declared himself insolvent, in order to the payment of his debts and liabilities.

ARTICLE IX.

The written declaration of Her Majesty's Agent and Consul-General, or in his absence, of his deputy, that he has disposed of the immoveable property of a British subject, for the reasons and for the purposes specified in Articles VII and VIII, shall be held to free from responsibility the legal authorities and courts recognizing and confirming the transfer of such property; and for the satisfaction of the courts that the transaction has been made in due form, it shall be optional for them to depute their own notaries to assist at such sales and conveyances.

ARTICLE X.

In all transactions relating to immoveable property, British subjects shall pay the notarial and other fees which are fixed by law and are paid by natives.

ARTICLE XI.

No British subject shall be forced to dispose of his immoveable property, except for objects of public utility, but, in all cases of expropriation, Articles XI and XII of the Municipal Law of Tunis, shall be the rule for effecting the compulsory expropriation for any public purpose in a lawful manner, and for fixing the amount of the indemnity to be paid, and such indemnity shall be paid in full, and to the satisfaction of the proprietor, before the act of expropriation can be carried out.

ARTICLE XII.

As a further protection, however, to proprietors, the Decree declaring the public object for which the expropriation has been rendered necessary shall emanate from His Highness the Bey. The Consul-General or, in his absence, his deputy shall have due information thereof, so that he may have it in his power to watch over the execution of the provisions of Article XI of the Municipal Law heretofore established and agreed upon with reference to the mode of ascertaining and fixing the amount of the indemnity.

ARTICLE XIII.

With a view to prevent complaints, abuses, or a misconstruction being put upon an act of expropriation, it is agreed that, should the Bey's Decree, specifying the object of public utility for which the expropriation has been made, be not executed at the expiration of one year after its date, the owner of the immoveable property shall have the right to recover the same by re-imbursing in full the amount of the indemnity.

ARTICLE XIV.

Whenever a British subject shall desire to introduce machinery or establish a manufactory in the Regency of Tunis, he shall be bound to apply for and obtain the permission of the Bey for that purpose, and His Highness, in according such permission, shall specify in the body of the Decree or Concession the conditions upon which it has been granted, in order that the Decree shall serve, in case of litigation or of an infraction of any of the conditions, as a rule and a guidance for the equitable adjustment of the point or points at issue.

ARTICLE XV.

The building and appurtenances of manufactories being immoveable property, are subject to the conditions and stipulations relating to such property in general. But as a further security to the local government and to the public revenue, it is moreover established and agreed that, upon the written requisition of the Minister for Foreign Affairs, or of the President of the Municipal Council, to the Consul-General, or, in his absence, to his deputy, the fiscal officers shall have the right to ascertain, by personal inspection, that the manufactory has not been diverted from the purpose for which permission was given, and that the internal taxes and imposts levied upon raw materials, either previously to, or after their being manufactured, are duly paid.

ARTICLE XVI.

British subjects holding, or hereafter becoming possessed of, property called "anzal" (leasehold), shall continue to enjoy the conditions which constitute and are attached to that description of property, and which conditions are hereby established and confirmed.

ARTICLE XVII.

British subjects holding immoveable property in the Regency of Tunis shall, in conforming to the local laws and regulations, exercise and enjoy the same immunities, privileges, and rights, that are accorded to Tunisian proprietors; and for that purpose the right of British subjects to hold immoveable property being derived from the enactments founded upon the organic laws ("Aad-el-Aman"), the said enactments are hereby confirmed; and their observance being considered necessary for the more efficient protection of the immoveable property held as aforesaid, it has been further agreed that they shall be maintained, as a greater security for the due performance of the conditions of the present Convention. And they shall be furthermore entitled to all the immunities, privileges, and exemptions accorded, or to be hereafter accorded, to the subjects or citizens of the most favoured nation.

This Convention has been written in triplicate, consisting in seventeen Articles, besides the introduction, and contained in the preceding nineteen pages, to be signed by both parties, and to be executed in the manner explained and clearly set forth in its several provisions, having for object the duration, confirmation, and maintenance of amity between them. Dated on Saturday, the twenty-sixth day of Rabi-el-Thany, one thousand two hundred and eighty of the Hedjira, corresponding to the tenth of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, at the Palace of the Goletta.

To enable the Company to make and maintain the railway hereinafter mentioned, with all proper and necessary stations, approaches, bridges, roads, communications, and other works and conveniences, that is to say:—

To vary or extinguish all existing rights and privileges which would interfere with the objects of the said Bill, or any of them, or with any such contracts, agreements, or arrangements, and to confer other rights and privileges.

To incorporate with the said Bill the necessary provisions of "The Companies' Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845;" "The Companies' Clauses Act, 1863;" "The Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845;" "The Lands Clauses Consolidation Acts Amendment Act, 1860;" "The Railways Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845;" and "The Railways Clauses Act, 1863."

Harwich Corporation.

(Reclamation of Land on River Stour; Construction of Navigable Cut or Channel, and a Bridge, Pier, and other Works; Powers to Great Eastern Railway Company; Powers as to Sewers in the parish of Dovercourt.)

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the Borough of Harwich (who are herein referred to as the Corporation) intend to apply to Parliament in the next Session for the following, or some of the following, among other powers :

To enable them to construct and maintain the following works in the several parishes of Saint Nicholas Harwich, Dovercourt, and Ramsey, in the county of Essex, or in some or one of those parishes :

1. To reclaim from the sea, drain, embank, and enclose all or some part of the slob or mud lands in the River Stour, between Ramsey Ray, otherwise Ray Island, in the said parish of Ramsey, and that part of Harwich which is called or known as Bathside.

2. To make and maintain a navigable cut or channel, with all needful works and conveniences, in the said parishes of St. Nicholas Harwich, and Dovercourt, to commence at or near the sluice upon the Ramsey River, near to the new dock house, in the parish of Dovercourt, and to terminate in the river Stour, opposite Bathside aforesaid, with powers to construct an opening bridge over the said cut or channel, to connect the town of Harwich with the land to be reclaimed, such bridge to be erected in the said parish of St. Nicholas Harwich, nearly opposite the Bathside Battery.

3. To make in the parishes of Dovercourt and St. Nicholas Harwich, or one of them, an approach road commencing at the Manniugtree and Harwich turnpike road where the road leading to the Dovercourt station branches therefrom, and terminating at the land to be reclaimed opposite to the level crossing for foot passengers over the Harwich branch of the Great Eastern Railway Company with powers to convert existing roads into public roads, and to carry such roads over the said railway on the level.

4. To make and maintain in the said parish of St. Nicholas a pier or jetty, with all necessary works and conveniences, extending into the harbour of Harwich for a distance of 170 yards or thereabouts in a north easterly direction from or near to the point where the cut from the Bathside cement works joins the river Stour.

5. To make such excavations, and to construct such works in the harbour at Harwich, and upon the bed and foreshore thereof, as may be necessary for the purposes of any of the works to be constructed under the powers of the Bill.

6. To alter, divert, and stop up all such streams, drains, and cuts (and particularly a certain stream called Ramsey River, and the outlet thereof into the River Stour, and also a certain cut called Patrick's Cut), which may be required to be altered, diverted, or stopped up, in the construction or maintenance of the before-mentioned works, or of any of those works.

7. To extend a certain carriage road leading to Ramsey Ray, otherwise Ray Island, in the parish of Ramsey, from the point where that road crosses the said Harwich Branch on the level, up to the land to be reclaimed at or near to the north-eastern extremity of Ramsey Ray, otherwise Ray Island aforesaid; to purchase lands and other property by compulsion; to vary and extinguish all existing rights and privileges in and over such lands and other property, and in and over the Ramsey River and the foreshore of Harwich Harbour, and of the River Stour, which would in any manner interfere with any of the objects of the Bill, and to levy tolls, rates, and duties in respect of the before-mentioned navigable cut or channel, bridge, pier, and other works.

And it is also intended by the said Bill for the purposes thereof to authorize the Corporation to exercise a power of deviating from the line of the proposed works to the extent to be shown upon the plans hereinafter mentioned, to purchase by compulsion not only the lands and other property upon the actual line or site of the respective works, but also such of the adjacent lands and property as may be required in constructing and maintaining the said works, and as will be included within the limits of deviation to be defined upon the said plans, and the Bill will enable the Corporation to acquire any of the lands constituting Ramsey Ray, otherwise Ray Island aforesaid.

The Bill will vest the lands when reclaimed in the Corporation, and it will enable them to acquire by agreement the interest of the Crown in any lands and other properties lying between the Great Eastern Railway and the Bathside Sea-wall.

It is also intended by the said Bill to enable the Corporation and any Company or persons being owners of land adjacent to any of the contemplated works to contract and agree as to the construction of the works immediately affecting the lands of any such Company or persons by such Company or persons, instead of by the Corporation; and the said Bill will also enable the Great Eastern Railway Company to agree with the Corporation as to the collection and appropriation of the tolls which, under "The Harwich Improvement Quays and Pier Act, 1851," the said Company are authorized to levy upon vessels lying in the harbour, and as to any other rights of that Company under the said Act, in or over any part of the said harbour; and the Bill will also enable the said Company to contribute towards the cost of constructing the proposed works, or some of them; and the Bill will authorize agreements with the said Company, as to their acquiring or using any of the said works.

It is further intended by the said Bill to enable the Corporation to exercise within the parish of Dovercourt, such of the powers of "The Public Health Act, 1849," and of "The Local Government Act, 1858," as relates to the construction of sewers, so far as may be necessary for providing an out-fall for and carrying away the sewage of the parish of Dovercourt, and preventing the same from emptying itself, as now, upon the lands to be reclaimed; and the Bill will confer upon the Corporation, as regards all property within the said parish of Dovercourt, by law assessable to any rate for the relief of the poor, such of the powers of the said Acts, as to rating by local boards of health, as will be necessary to defray all costs to be incurred by the Corporation in making and maintaining any such sewer; and also a fair proportion of the costs of constructing, cleansing, and maintaining the cut or channel before referred to, by means whereof an improved outlet for the sewage will be provided.

The Bill will also enable the Corporation to defray the cost of obtaining the proposed Act, and all expenses incident thereto, or connected therewith, and any of the expenses which they may incur under or in the execution of any of the powers of the said Bill out of their corporate property and out of the borough fund, and by means of a borough rate, and the Bill will empower them to raise moneys for all or any of the purposes aforesaid, on the security of their present corporate funds and property, as well of the tolls and property to be created under the Bill.

The said Bill will vary and extinguish all existing rights and privileges which would interfere with any of its objects, and it will incorporate with itself the necessary provisions of "The Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845," "The Lands Clauses Consolidation Acts Amendment Act, 1860," "The Commissioners Clauses Act, 1847," and of "The Harbours, Docks, and Piers Clauses Act, 1847;" and if necessary it will amend the powers and provisions of "The Harwich Improvement Quays and Pier Act, 1851," of "The Great Eastern Railway Act, 1862," and of "The Harwich Harbour Act, 1863."

And notice is hereby further given, that duplicate plans and sections describing the lines, situation, and levels of the proposed works, and the lands, houses, and other property which may be required to be taken for the purposes of the said works, together with a book of reference to such plans, containing the names of the owners and lessees, or reputed owners and lessees, and of the occupiers of such lands, houses, and other property, and a copy of this notice will, on or before the 30th day of November instant, be deposited, for public inspection, with the Clerk of the Peace for the county of Essex, at his office at Chelmsford; and on or before the same day, a copy of so much of the said plans, sections, and book of reference as relates to each parish in or through which the intended works will be made, or in which any lands, houses, or other property are intended to be taken, and a copy of this notice will be deposited with the parish clerk of each such parish, at his residence.
