THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the occasion of Her Royal Highness the Princess of Wales having given Birth to a Prince, have been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, and have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Members of the Royal Academy of Arts, humbly beg leave to offer to your Majesty, together with the expression of our dutiful obedience, loyalty, and gratitude, our heartfelt congratulations on the auspicious occasion of Her Royal Highness the Princess of Wales having given birth to a son.

This event, so gratifying in itself, since it crowns the union of their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales by the realization of our best hopes, is doubly welcome as a source of comfort to your Majesty, whose happiness, bound up as it is with that of the Royal Family generally, must ever be an object of the deepest interest to all classes of your Majesty's subjects.

This addition to the Royal Family establishes a still closer connection, under Providence, between your Majesty's illustrious House and the people of this country, and we rejoice in an event which, in promoting such a result, must be a further source of satisfaction no less to your Majesty than to the nation.

That your Majesty's exemplary reign over a loyal and affectionate people may continue to be blest with prosperity and adorned by the cultivation of Art and Science, and that the virtues and admirable qualities of the great and good Prince who has been taken from us may survive in your Majesty's descendants, is the earnest prayer of your Majesty's most devoted subjects and servants.
