

large cards, with their names clearly written thereon, one to be left with The Queen's Page in Attendance in the Corridor, and the other to be delivered to the Lord Chamberlain, who will announce the name to His Royal Highness.

PRESENTATIONS.

Any Nobleman or Gentleman who proposes to be presented must leave at the Lord Chamberlain's Office, St. James's Palace, before twelve o'clock, two clear days before the Levee, a card with his name written thereon, and with the name of the Nobleman or Gentleman by whom he is to be presented. In order to carry out the existing regulation that no presentation can be made at a Levee excepting by a person actually attending that Levee, it is also necessary that a letter from the Nobleman or Gentleman who is to make the presentation, stating it to be his intention to be present, should accompany the presentation card above referred to, which will be submitted to The Queen for Her Majesty's approbation. It is Her Majesty's command that no presentations shall be made at Levees, except in accordance with the above regulations.

It is particularly requested, that in every case the names be very distinctly written upon the cards to be delivered to the Lord Chamberlain, in order that there may be no difficulty in announcing them to His Royal Highness.

The State apartments will not be open for the reception of Company coming to Court, until half-past one o'clock.

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
April 14, 1864.*

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received, from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a letter from the Italian Minister at this Court, enclosing a copy of a Regulation issued by the Italian Minister of Finance, relative to the treatment of British Shipping in Italian Ports, and of which the following is a translation:—

"That in order to the admission of merchandise to the benefit of the Treaty, the ships' captains who have goods on board, must, on their arrival, present the bill of lading (manifesto di carico) at the Custom House, so that the actual existence of the said goods on board may be known there, as far as it may be possible.

"That such goods, on their landing, be under the superintendence of the Custom House officers, and conveyed directly, under their care, to one of the offices, in which they shall remain for any further operations.

"That in case they should not be intended for direct passage to the free port (città franca), they must be deposited, if it is desired that they should retain their English origin, in public or private warehouses under official supervision, as it is now the practice for preserving the nationality of Italian goods."
