Colonial and foreign sugars can only be admitted for refinement for exportation, when they have been imported directly by sea from countries out of Europe.

Art. 7. Refined sugars which having been placed in bond under the conditions established by Art. V., may be withdrawn for consumption, will pay the duties attaching to the quantity of raw material from which they are obtained and on the quantities submitted at the period of admission.

Art. 8. If the obligations are not acquitted within the period fixed by Art. V. of the present law, the Treasury will at once proceed to recover, in addition to the import duty, the interest of such duty, at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, from the expiration of the said period.

Any attempt to effect the exportation or the replacement in bond, as referred to in Art. V., of sugars not having the declared weight or the degree of purity and whiteness required by the regulations on this head, will be punished in the first instance by a penalty equal to double the duty of the deficit, and in the second case by a fine of 10 francs per 100 kilos.
