CATTLE PLAGUE.

County of Haddington.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Local Authority of the county of Haddington, under "The Cattle Diseases Prevention Act, 1866," at a meeting held at Haddington on the date hereof, in terms of the powers conferred on them by said Act and by the Orders of the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, of date 23rd February, 1866, resolved as follows:—

That whereas it is expedient that the former orders of any local authority for the county with regard to the removal of animals, and raw or untanned hides or offal of such animals, or dung, under the Order of the Lords of the Privy Council, respecting the Cattle Plague, should be amended, and further orders made, and that the whole so far as relates to removal, be consolidated and set forth in one notice for the convenience of the public. And whereas the cattle plague no longer exists in the county of Haddington, and has not existed in the said county for more than 30 days, it is not expedient any longer to prevent the removal of any bull, cow, heifer, bullock, ox, or calf, except by licence, within the said county.

I. It is ordered that any bull, cow, heifer, bullock, ox, or calf, may be removed from and to any place within the said county of Haddington, and within the jurisdiction of the said local authority, without a licence: Provided always, in the event of the cattle plague breaking out again in any place within the county, it is hereby ordered that no bull, cow, heifer, bullock, ox, or calf shall be removed from or to any place within the jurisdiction of the local authority, without a licence, to be granted by the local authority at a meeting assembled.

And whereas the cattle plague continues to exist in other parts of Great Britain and the continent of Europe, with a view to prevent the said cattle plague being brought again into the county of Haddington.

II. It is ordered, that no bull, cow, heifer, bullock, ox, calf, sheep, lamb, goat, or swine, or any raw or untanned hide, or any horn or hoof of any such animal, excepting the hide, skin, horn, or hoof of any such animal as is directly imported into the United Kingdom from India, Australia, South Africa, or America, or any offal of such animals, or any dung, shall be imported or brought into the county of Haddington, unless the owner shall previously make a solemn declaration before the local authority, at a meeting assembled, that such animal or animals have not been kept on any farm, or in any place where cattle plague is in existence, or has existed within the last three months, and that such raw or untanned hide, horn, or hoof, or offal of such animals, or dung, has not been taken from any animal affected by the cattle plague, or from any place where the said plague has existed within the last three months, excepting such dung as has already been permitted by the said local authority to be brought within their jurisdiction; and shall obtain from the local authority a licence for importing and bringing into the county such bull, cow, heifer, bullock, ox, calf, sheep, lamb, goat, or swine, or any raw or untanned hide, or horn or hoof, or any offal of such animals, or any dung; and that such licence authorizing the entrance into the said county of such animal or animals, and such raw or untanned hide, horn, hoof, offal of such animals, or dung, shall contain a description of such animal or animals as are intended to be brought within the county, and the place to which they are to be sent, and such licences to bring said animal or animals, or such raw or untanned hide, horn, hoof, offal of such animals, or dung, shall be in duplicate, and one of said licences shall be delivered to the chief constable, or at the nearest police station, 24 hours before such animal or animals, or such raw or untanned hide, horn, or hoof, or offal of such animal, or dung, are brought into the county. Such licence shall be held good for seven days only from the date thereof, and if the animal or animals, hide, horn, hoof, offal, or dung, therein described be not brought into the county within the said number of days, it shall be incumbent on the owner or owners to procure another licence.

III. These orders shall take effect from and after the 28th day of March, 1866, and shall continue in force till further notice.

IV. All previous notices which relate to removal of any bull, cow, heifer, bullock, ox, calf, sheep, lamb, goat, or swine, or any raw or untanned hide, or any horn or hoof, or any offal of such animals, or any dung, are hereby cancelled, except as herein provided.

Every person offending against the above orders shall, for every such offence, forfeit a sum not exceeding £20.
