(C. 1426.)

Board of Trade, Whitehall,
October 10, 1867.

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received, from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, an extract of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Minister at Florence, inclosing the following translation of a Decree, containing regulations concerning the payment of duty on goods which may be in Ancona and Leghorn on the 1st January next, when their privileges as free ports will cease according to the law of May 11, 1865.

ART. 1. On the 1st of January, 1868, all goods in the cities of Leghorn and Ancona which are not destined for re-exportation or for conveyance to the Customs' warehouses, and those which are offered for consumption in those free towns will be subject to import duty, either according to the General Tariff of the Kingdom, or according to the Conventional Tariff, when such goods can be proved to be the produce of countries to which that Conventional Tariff is applicable.

ART. 2. Consequently the owners of such goods must declare at the Custom-house within the space of eight days, from the 1st to the 8th of January, 1868, all the goods in their warehouses, stores, shops, or dwelling-houses, specifying them according to the denominations in the tariff.

Retail dealers will not be obliged to state with extreme accuracy the weight and description of each article.

Owners of goods may make their declarations before the above-mentioned term at any time after the 10th of December, 1867.

ART. 3. Declarations must be made up in the form prescribed by the Director-General of Customs. They must be made out in triplicate and must be signed by the holders of the goods.

ART. 4. A temporary office will be provided for the purpose of receiving the above-mentioned declarations.

The three copies of each declaration having been compared with each other and found to correspond, they will be numbered progressively in the order in which the declarations are presented, and one copy will serve for registration, another for the Custom-house operations which are about to be mentioned, and the third having been certified and stamped at the office will be returned to the declarer, in order that by means of it he may be able to prove his right to the possession of the goods until the completion of the Customs' operations.

ART. 5. Goods destined for re-exportation may be conveyed to the Custom-house (if there be room enough), or to suitable private warehouses, or they may remain where they are, provided they are ready to be sent abroad in the course of the month of January, 1868.

ART. 6. Goods intended to be deposited under the care of the Custom-house officers or in private warehouses must be conveyed to the proper warehouses in packages or mixed together according to circumstances. Even tissues may be kept in private warehouses provided they are in the condition required by Art. 35 of the Customs' regulations. The Director-General of the Customs may in conformity with Article 58 of the Custom-house instructions permit under special circumstances the warehousing of goods to be kept in packages without the formality of two keys.

ART. 7. The District Director of Customs will designate the office where goods for transit and transmission to other Custom-houses or warehouses in the Kingdom are to be delivered. As securities in these transactions, bonds signed by two merchants of good repute—and as such are to be considered those recommended by the Chambers of Commerce—may be received, as well as the kinds of security prescribed by Article 27 of the Custom-house Instructions.

ART. 8. Goods which admit of immediate clearance will be examined on the spot, and on payment of duty delivered up to the owner, with a certificate of payment of import duty.

The stamp may be affixed to tissues on the spot, whenever that is possible, otherwise they must be taken to the Custom-house.

ART. 9. The District Director, upon information received as to the honesty of the merchant, may dispense with the actual examination, and settle the amount of duty according to the declaration made.

The Chamber of Commerce will name one of its members, and choose five of the most respectable merchants, to assist the Director in deciding upon the above-mentioned exemptions.

ART. 10. The payment of duty may begin on the 10th of December, 1867.

A delay for the payment of duty may be granted to all those who make their declarations before the 1st of January, 1868, and they may likewise be allowed to pay by instalments.

Bills with three unexceptionable signatures may be received as security for payment of duty.

The date at which these bills are made payable must not be later than June 30, 1868.

ART. 11. On the 9th of January, 1868, a general settlement of accounts for duties will be effected, and all foreign goods which, on the examination of the warehouses, are found not declared, or in excess, or differing from the description given, will be seized as contraband goods, on account of which penalties will be inflicted.

Goods declared for re-exportation will be seized in the same manner, when they are found to be of smaller quantity or different quality than what is stated in the declaration.

Fines will not be imposed in cases where the difference does not exceed 5 per cent.

ART. 12. The Custom-houses at the boundaries of the Free Cities will be maintained for a period not exceeding two months.

They will be empowered to levy duties upon, or transmit to other Custom-houses:—

a. From the 1st to the 8th of January, all sorts of goods, even when not declared at the temporary office;

b. From and after the 9th of January, all declared goods. In this case, the declaration must be presented in duplicate, in order that one copy may be sent to the temporary office where the goods have been registered.

All other goods accompanied by receipts proving the payment of duty, or by certificates of security from the Custom-house or from some other competent office.

ART. 13. Articles of Italian produce which have paid export duty on entering the Free Cities, and which, up to the 31st of December, have not been exported to foreign countries, will not be subject to any further duty, if they correspond with the declaration made of them, provided their actual exportation take place in the course of the months of January and February, or they be warehoused under the care of the Customs authorities.

If no declaration is made within the term prescribed by Article 2; or if, on examination, there should prove to be a deficiency in quantity or a difference in quality, no such facility will be granted.

ART. 14. All articles evidently of native produce or manufacture, even when composed of foreign raw materials, which may be in the Free Cities on the 1st of January, will be exempt from payment of duty, and consequently also from the formality of declaration.

ART. 15. Foreign articles provided for the use of private individuals in their dwelling-houses will be free to such an amount as may be sufficient for six months' consumption, according to the number of persons in a family.

In cases of strong suspicion of smuggling, the houses even of persons not engaged in trade may be searched. But no search can take place except in the daytime, and in the presence of a police officer.

ART. 16. A Commission, composed of the Prefect, the President of the Chamber of Commerce, and the District Director of Customs, will be appointed to act from the 10th of December, 1867, until the end of February, 1868, for the purpose of settling disputes which may arise between dealers and the Custom-house, whenever the District Director is unable to satisfy the parties interested.

When the members of the Commission are not unanimous, or when the parties interested will not acquiesce in the proposed arrangement, the final decision will rest with the Minister of Finance.

Florence, August 25, 1867.

VICTOR EMMANUEL.
