

in law immediately from and after the time when this Order shall have been duly published in the London Gazette, pursuant to the said Acts; and Her Majesty, by and with the like advice, is pleased hereby to direct that this Order be forthwith registered by the Registrar of the said diocese of Peterborough.

Arthur Helps.

AT the Court at Windsor, the 11th day of November, 1868.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England have, in pursuance of the Act of the fifty-ninth year of His Majesty King George the Third, chapter one hundred and thirty-four; of the Act of the second and third years of Her Majesty, chapter forty-nine; and of the Act of the nineteenth and twentieth years of Her Majesty, chapter fifty-five; duly prepared and laid before Her Majesty in Council a representation, bearing date the sixth day of August, in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, in the words following; that is to say:

"We, the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, in pursuance of the Act of the fifty-ninth year of His Majesty King George the Third, chapter one hundred and thirty-four; of the Act of the second and third years of your Majesty, chapter forty-nine; and of the Act of the nineteenth and twentieth years of your Majesty, chapter fifty-five; have prepared, and now humbly lay before your Majesty in Council, the following representation as to the assignment of a district chapelry to the consecrated church of Saint Peter, situate at Folkestone, in the eastern part of the parish of Folkestone, in the county of Kent, and in the diocese of Canterbury.

"Whereas it appears to us to be expedient that a district chapelry should be assigned to the said church of Saint Peter, situate at Folkestone as aforesaid.

"Now, therefore, with the consent of the Right Honourable and Most Reverend Charles Thomas, Archbishop of Canterbury (testified by his having signed and sealed this representation), we, the said Ecclesiastical Commissioners, humbly represent, that it would, in our opinion, be expedient that all that part of the said parish of Folkestone, which is described in the schedule hereunder written, all which part, together with the boundaries thereof, is delineated and set forth on the map or plan hereunto annexed, should be assigned as a district chapelry to the said church of Saint Peter, situate at Folkestone as aforesaid, and that the same should be named 'The District Chapelry of Saint Peter, Folkestone.'

"And, with the like consent of the said Charles Thomas, Archbishop of Canterbury (testified as aforesaid), we, the said Ecclesiastical Commissioners, further represent that it appears to us to be expedient that banns of matrimony should be published, and that marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials, should be solemnized or performed at such church, and that the fees to be received in respect of the publication of such banns and of the solemnization or performance of the said offices should be paid and belong to the minister of the same church for the time being: Provided always, that so long as the Reverend Matthew Woodward, the present vicar or incumbent of the vicarage of the said parish of Folkestone, shall continue to be such vicar or incumbent all the fees which may be received in respect of such publication, solemnization, or performance at the said church of Saint Peter as aforesaid, shall be paid by the minister thereof to the said Matthew Woodward: and provided also, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as expressing any intention on the part of us, the said Commissioners, to concur in or approve the taking of any fee for the performance of the said office of baptism or for the registration thereof.

"We, therefore, humbly pray that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your Royal consideration, and to make such Order with respect thereto as to your Majesty, in your Royal wisdom, shall seem meet.

The SCHEDULE to which the foregoing Representation has reference.

"The District Chapelry of Saint Peter, Folkestone, being:—

"All that part of the parish of Folkestone, in the county of Kent, and in the diocese of Canterbury, which is bounded on the south and east by the English Channel, on the north-east by the parish or chapelry of Capel-le-Ferne, in the county and diocese aforesaid, and on the remaining sides, that is to say, on the north-west and west by an imaginary line commencing upon the boundary which divides the said parish of Folkestone, from the parish or chapelry of Capel-le-Ferne aforesaid, at a point in the middle of the line of the South-Eastern Railway; and extending thence, south-westward, for a distance of three quarters of a mile, or thereabouts, along the middle of the said line of railway to its junction, at the Folkestone Railway Station, with the line of the Folkestone Harbour Branch of the said South-Eastern Railway; and continuing thence, still south-westward for a distance of half a mile, or thereabouts, along the middle of the said branch line of railway to a point opposite to the middle of the eastern end of London-street; and extending thence, westward, across a certain private road, commonly called or known as the Tram-road, to and along the middle of London-street aforesaid, to its junction with Dover-street; and extending thence, first southward, and then south-eastward, along the middle of the last-named street, to its junction with Seagate-street; and continuing thence, still south-eastward, along the middle of the last-named street, to its junction with the private road commonly called or known as the Tram-road aforesaid; and extending thence, eastward and in a straight line across the last-named road to a point in the middle of the line of the Harbour Branch Railway aforesaid; and extending thence, southward, for a distance of four chains or thereabouts, along the middle of the same line of railway, to a point opposite to the north-eastern end of the quay on the northern side of the Inner Harbour; and extending thence, south-westward, to and along the edge of the said quay, to its junction with the quay on the western side of the said Inner Harbour; and extending thence, southward, along the edge of the last-described quay, to its southern extremity; and continuing thence, still southward and in a straight line, across the approach to the Harbour Railway station, and across the sea beach, to the southern boundary of the said parish of Folkestone, on the shore of the English Channel aforesaid."

And whereas the said representation has been approved by Her Majesty in Council: now,