To the King's most Sacred Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lord Lieutenant, Deputy-Lieutenants, and Justices of the Peace, of the North-Riding of the County of York, at the General Sessions of the Peace holden at Thirke the 24th day of April, Anno Dom. 1688.

Great SIR!

WE think it a Duty incumbent upon us, to render Your Majesty our most humble and assigned Thanks, for the numberless Benefits that we, and all Your Subjects, do enjoy under Your wise and prudent Government, where equal Justice is administered to all, and every individual Person is allowed Liberty and Property: And in particular, we cannot but acknowledge the great Consolation You have given to those of tender Consciences, by Your Gracious Declaration of Indulgence, which gives them hopes, that when Your Majesty shall think fit to call a Parliament, You will find a full Concurrence for removing the Penalties for not Conforming to the Laws concerning Religion, so far as is consistent with the Legal Establishment of the Church of England; for such as are Dissenters only for Conscience-sake, with Submission, we humbly conceive ought rather to be treated with Compassion than Severity. And as we cannot doubt but the Blessings of Heaven will attend Your Gracious Design in this, so we cannot but note the prospect and hope we have of the continuance of Succession in Your own Line: For which we have, and actually pray, and shall constantly perform that Duty in the best of our Offerings to Almighty God, that His Blessings and Holy Spirit may ever attend Your Undertakings, to the Satisfaction of Your Majesty, and Comfort of all Your Good Subjects. And we in particular do humbly pray, that Your Majesty may live long to Reign over us,

Your most Humble, Dutiful and Obedient Subjects.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of Your Majesty's Loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and all other the Members of Your Majesty's ancient Corporation of the City of Dartmouth, in Your County of Devon.

Dear Sovereign!

WE presume (full of Transports of Joy) to congratulate you on the happy do Your Royal Feet, heartily to congratulate the happy

Birth of the Prince; the greatest Blessing that God's Subjects could desire, or Heaven could grant: And (as the best Obligation of Loyal Hearts,) we tenderly offer up our Prayers and Wishes, That He may enjoy a long and happy Life; That Your Sacred Majesty, as well for His Sake, as for the invaluable Good and Benefit of these Kingdoms; may live to the utmost Period of Human Life, to instruct Him, by Your Great Example, in Piety, Prudence, Courage, and all the Royal Qualifications of a King, of which Your Sacred Majesty is the most perfect Pattern: And when You shall exchange this Crown for an immortal one, may be then, with these Your Dominions, inherit also all Your Royal and Princely Virtues.

And we presume also, at this time, to repeat our fixed and Loyal Resolutions of serving Your Sacred Majesty on all Occasions with our Lives and Fortunes. And we tenderly offer You our hearty Thanks for Your late Declaration of Liberty of Conscience. And whenever Your Majesty shall summon a Parliament, we will chuse such Members as shall entirely, and without Conditions, answer Your Royal Expectation, in repealing the Penal Laws and Testes; not thinking it consistent with the Duty of Subjects to make Conditions with their King, with so Gracious a King! But as Your Majesty's Mercy and Indulgence is free, and unlimited, so shall our Obedience be. May Your Sacred Majesty live long and happily: May all Your Enemies either heartily repent and implore Your Mercy, or suffer by Your Justice: And may Your Throne be established in Peace!

So heartily pray Your Majesty's Loyal Subjects of this Your ancient Borough. In Testimony whereof we have affixed our Common Seal the 23d day of June, in the Fourth Year of Your Majesty's Reign, Anno Dom. 1688.

Legborne, June 9. The Gallies of our Great Duke will sail the next week for the Levant to join the Venetian Fleet, with two Merchant Ships that have been hired to carry the Land Soldiers. We have Advice from Constantinople, that the Disorders still continued in that Empire, which was the reason that their Preparations for the War went on very slowly.

Venice, June 14. The 8th of this month arrived here a Vessel from Corou, by which we had Advice, that the Doge Morosini was gone from Porto Poro with 14 Gallies and several Gallio's, to raise Contributions: And by another Vessel, that's since arrived from Corfu, we are informed, that he had taken his Course towards Salonique, whither he had sent to demand 200000 Pia'sters, threatening to bombard the Town in case of their refusal. And that at the same time Signior Zen was cruising with a Squadron of Ships off of Negrepoint, to hinder the sending of any Succors or Provisions thither. The Convoy commanded by Signior Pisanu will part from hence for the Levant in three or four days. We hear from the Coast of Barbary, that the Tripolins have four Men of War at Sea.

Warsaw, June 5. The Crown-Mareschal is gone to the general Rendezvous, to give the necessary Orders for the Security of our Frontiers, which are again threatned with an Invasion of the Tartars, who are drawing together under the Command of Sultan Naradin; and while they are employed in giving our Forces this Diversion, another Body of Turks and Tartars (as our Advices from Jassi inform us) will conduct a great Convoy of Provisions to Cambric.
