(Translation.)

JOSE IGNACIO PULIDO, Chief of the Presidency of the United States of Venezuela.

In pursuance of the right vested in me by the Congress of Plenipotentiaries,

It is decreed:

1st. That the navigation of the waters of the Orinoco are hereby prohibited, and the line of coast embracing its entrance is blockaded in consequence of the occupation of Ciudad Bolivar by the Rebels.

2nd. That the naval force required to carry this blockade into effect has been equipped.

3rd. That the commanders of the blockading vessels will act in accordance with the Cruizing Orders of 30th March, 1822, and the following instructions:—

1. Two months from date of this Decree will be allowed to all vessels from Europe, to vessels from the United States of North America, one month from such date, and all the vessels from the

When on entering the waters of the blockaded coasts they will be notified by the commanders of the blockading vessels of war, that the line of blockade cannot be crossed.

In cases only where parties insist on acting against these rules, they will be considered as violating the blockade.

2. The foregoing instructions refer to the vessels above mentioned, to which will be extended the privilege (contained in Article 21 of Law 3, Codicil of the Exchequer) to enter and discharge in any other port of the Republic not occupied by the Rebels, should it be considered convenient.
