

back of the ship, to save four men who remained cut off in the bows. These men were helplessly frightened, and could scarcely be got down. MESSRS. MARGARY and DODD in the end succeeded, but were both washed down by a heavy sea, which caused much injury to Mr. DODD.

The last thing which left the ship was a black cat, which clung to Mr. MARGARY'S shoulder in spite of the heavy surf which was rolling over all, and when they left the ship she was actually breaking up beneath their feet.

THE FAIRS ACT, 1871.

“THE COMMON FAIR,” PONTYPRIDD.

IN pursuance of the above-mentioned Act, I, the Right Honourable Henry Austin Bruce, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, hereby notify as follows:

1. By Memorial, dated the 16th day of October, 1872, a representation has been duly made to me by the Churchwardens and Overseers of the parish of Eglwysilan, in the county of Glamorgan, as owners, of the hereinafter-mentioned Fair, that a Fair, commonly called and known by the name of “The Common Fair,” has been annually held on the second Monday in the month of July, in the town of Pontypridd, within the said parish and county, and that it would be for the convenience and advantage of the public that such Fair should be abolished.

2. On the 23rd day of November, 1872, I shall take the aforesaid representation into consideration, and all persons are to intimate, before that day, any objection they may desire to offer to the abolition of the said Fair.

(Signed) H. A. Bruce.

Whitehall, October 23, 1872.

THE FAIRS ACT, 1871.

KELVEDON FAIR.

WHEREAS a representation has been duly made to me, as Secretary of State for the Home Department, by the Justices sitting in Petty Session for the Witham Division of the county of Essex, that a Fair has been annually held on Easter Monday and Tuesday in the parish of Kelvedon, in the said division of the said county, and that it would be for the convenience and advantage of the public that the said Fair should be abolished:

And whereas notice of the said representation, and of the time when I should take the same into consideration, has been duly published in pursuance of “The Fairs Act, 1871:—

And whereas, on such representation and consideration, it appears to me that it would be for the convenience and advantage of the public that the said Fair should be abolished:

And whereas there is no lord or owner of the said Fair and the tolls thereof:

Now, therefore, I, as the Secretary of State for the Home Department, in exercise of the powers vested in me by “The Fairs Act, 1871,” do hereby order that the Fair which has been annually held on Easter Monday and Tuesday, in the parish of Kelvedon, in the Petty Sessional Division of Witham, in the county of Essex, shall be abolished as from the date of this order.

Given under my hand at Whitehall, this 25th day of October, 1872.

(Signed) H. A. Bruce.
