REGULATIONS FOR THE REGISTRATION OF POST LETTERS.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament, made and passed in the session of Parliament holden in the third and fourth years of the reign of Her Majesty, chapter ninety-six, for the regulation of the duties of postage, it was enacted, by section thirty-nine (after reciting that it might be expedient that certain post letters should be registered), that in case the Postmaster-General should at any time deem it expedient that all or any post letters should be registered by the Post Office, the Postmaster-General might, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, forward letters so registered without charging any additional rate for the registration thereof; or he might charge for any letters so registered such rate of postage, in addition to any other rates payable under the Post Office Acts, as the Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, should from time to time direct (but such registration should not render the Postmaster-General or the Post Office Revenue in any manner liable for the loss of any such post letters, or the contents thereof), and that all registered letters should be delivered to the Post Office, and also be delivered by the Post Office, at or between such hours in the day, and under all such regulations in every respect, as the Postmaster-General should from time to time appoint; and that the Postmaster-General might therein require such registration rate to be paid on the letter being put into the Post Office. And by section sixty, it was further enacted, that in all cases in which the postage of any unstamped letter should not have been paid by the sender, it should be paid by the person to whom the letter is addressed, on the delivery thereof to him; but that if the letter should be refused, or the party to whom it is addressed should be dead, or could not be found, the writer or sender should pay the postage; and that the now reciting enactment should apply to every packet, newspaper, and thing whatsoever chargeable with postage, which should be transmitted by the post. And by section sixty-three, it was also enacted, that all post letters should be posted, forwarded, conveyed, and delivered under and subject to all such orders, directions, and regulations, and under and subject to all such conditions, limitations, and restrictions as to the form, size, dimensions, enclosures, or otherwise, as the Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, should from time to time direct.

And whereas by a certain other Act of Parliament, made and passed in the session of Parliament holden in the tenth and eleventh years of the reign of Her Majesty, chapter eighty-five, for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post Office, after reciting the said hereinbefore recited Act, it was enacted by section ten, that it should be lawful for the Postmaster-General, and any officer of the Post Office, to detain any letters which should be posted or sent by the post contrary to the regulations of the said now recited Act, or the said hereinbefore recited Act, or contrary to any regulations made under the authority of the said now reciting Act, or the said hereinbefore recited Act, or contrary to the regulations of any Treasury Warrant which should be issued under or by virtue of the said now recited Act, or which had been or should be issued under or by virtue of the said hereinbefore recited Act, and to forward such letters to the places of their destination, charged with such rates of postage as the Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury should from time to time direct.

And whereas, by the said two hereinbefore recited Acts respectively, it was provided that, whenever the order, consent, authority, or direction of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, was prescribed by the said Acts, such order, consent, authority, or direction (not being by Warrant), might be signified, either under the hands of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, or any three of them, or under the hand of one of their Secretaries or Assistant Secretaries.

And whereas, in pursuance of the said recited Acts, a system of registration has been established, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, whereby the public have been and are entitled to forward letters by the post at a certain charge or registration rate of postage, in addition to the other rates payable thereon, and it is expedient that such system of registration should be extended in manner and according to the regulations hereinafter mentioned and contained, and that certain orders, directions, and regulations for that purpose heretofore made, should be rescinded, revoked, repealed, and annulled.

Now I, William Monsell, Her Majesty's Postmaster-General, by and with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, signified under the hand of one of their Secretaries, whose name is hereunto set, do hereby, rescind, revoke, repeal, and annul certain orders, directions, and regulations heretofore made by Her Majesty's Postmaster-General, and bearing date the 2nd day of April, 1863, except so far as the same shall have rescinded, revoked, repealed, or annulled, any other orders, directions, or regulations theretofore made, and except as to all matters and things which shall have been made or done previous to the coming into operation of these orders, directions, and regulations, as to which the said orders, directions, and regulations, bearing date the 2nd day of April, 1863, shall be and remain in full force and effect, notwithstanding the repeal thereof, which is only to operate as from the day on which these orders, directions, and regulations shall come into operation; and I do hereby, by and with such consent as aforesaid, order, direct, and declare as follows:—

1. The registration rate of postage payable at any Post Office in the United Kingdom on inland letters, registered during the ordinary hours appointed for the registration thereof at such Post Office, shall be four pence, and such registration rate shall be payable in stamps, but this regulation shall not extend to the registration rates chargeable and payable on colonial or foreign letters.

2. All letters, whether inland, colonial, or foreign, may be registered at the Metropolitan Chief Post Offices, or at the London District Post Offices (including the Lombard-street and Charing-cross Branch Post Offices), or at any provincial Head Post Office in the United Kingdom, after the ordinary hours appointed for the registration thereof at any such Post Office, until the closing of the letter box for each despatch, or until such Post Office is closed for the night, upon payment of a late registration rate of postage of four pence, which shall be payable in stamps, in addition to the ordinary registration rate, and to any other rates chargeable or payable thereon.

3. All letters containing coin, bank notes, jewellery, watches, or postage stamps, and all letters which shall have written or put thereon the word "registered," or any other word or words of the like meaning or to the like effect when posted, whether the same shall have or contain therein coin, bank notes, jewellery, watches, or postage stamps, or not, posted in any town or place in the United Kingdom, addressed to any person, town, or place in the United Kingdom, shall be delivered to the Post Office for registration, and shall be registered by the Post Office at the time of the same being posted, and a rate of postage of four pence for every letter so registered shall be charged for the registration thereof, in addition to any other rates of postage payable thereon, or which may become chargeable thereon under the regulations hereinbefore, in the second clause mentioned, and every such registration rate shall be paid in stamps at the time of such letters being posted.

4. If any such letters as are hereinbefore in the third clause mentioned shall be put into the Post Office without being registered by the Post Office, and without the registration rate or rates chargeable thereon, being paid in stamps, as hereinbefore in the third clause is mentioned and directed, such letters shall be registered by any Post Office through which they may pass in course of transmission thereof by the post, and shall be forwarded so registered to their destination, and shall be charged with double the ordinary registration rate of postage of four pence, in addition to any other rates of postage chargeable or payable thereon, with a deduction nevertheless equal to the amount of any stamps which may have been affixed to such letters in payment or part payment of the registration rate chargeable thereon.

5. Any such letters as are hereinbefore in the fourth clause mentioned, may be detained for the purpose of being registered by any Post Office through which they may pass in course of transmission thereof by the post, until the next ordinary dispatch to which they would have been forwarded, conveyed, and delivered, if they had been registered by the Post Office according to the directions hereinbefore in the third clause mentioned.

6. These regulations shall come into operation on and from the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three.

Given under my hand this third day of June, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three,

W. Monsell,

Her Majesty's Postmaster-General.

I hereby signify the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to the foregoing regulations,

R. R. W. Lingen.
