Metropolitan Board of Works.

AT a Meeting of the Board, at their Office, Spring-gardens, this twenty-eighth day of February, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, amongst the Orders is as follows :—

Whereas, by the Metropolis Management Amendment Act, 1862, it is enacted that when at any time, upon any account taken of the population by the authority of Parliament, any of the parishes within the metropolis not then divided into wards, for the purpose of electing vestrymen, should be found to contain more than two thousand rated householders, it should be lawful for the Metropolitan Board of Works, upon the application, in writing, of the Vestry, or of not less than five hundred rated householders of the parish, to divide such parish into wards, and to determine and set out the number, extent, limits, and boundary lines of such wards, but so, nevertheless, that no ward shall contain less than five hundred rated householders and that the whole number of wards shall not exceed eight; and the Metropolitan Board should apportion among the several wards the number of vestrymen to be elected for such parish, and should, in assigning the number of vestrymen to each ward, have regard, as far as in their judgment was practicable, as well to the number of persons rated to the relief of the poor in each ward, as to the aggregate amount of the sums at which all such persons are rated, and the number of vestrymen assigned to each ward should be a number divisible by three: And whereas the parish of Saint John, Hampstead, is comprised within the limits of the Metropolis Local Management Act, and is one of the parishes in Part II of Schedule A, of that Act, and at the passing of the same Act the parish did not contain two thousand rated householders, and consequently was not divided into wards, and the Vestry of the parish of Hampstead having now applied to us, the Metropolitan Board of Works, to divide the parish of Hampstead into wards, pursuant to the 41st section of the Metropolis Local Management Amendment Act, 1862, and to take such measures as may be requisite for legally carrying into effect the several other provisions of that section: And whereas it appears from the census of one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one, made by authority of Parliament, that the number of inhabited houses in the parish was returned at four thousand three hundred and forty-eight, the number of rated householders at four thousand two hundred and eight, and the rateable annual value of property at two hundred and sixty-nine thousand three hundred and fifty-four pounds: Now, the Metropolitan Board of Works, having ascertained, by the account of the population taken by authority of Parliament, as contained in the Census Return for the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one, that the number of rated householders for the parish of Saint John, Hampstead, is four thousand two hundred and eight, and having taken into consideration the number of persons rated to the relief of the poor in the same parish, and the aggregate amount of the rating, and all the circumstances connected with such application, doth hereby order that the said parish of Saint
