

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Thursday April 11, to Monday April 15, 1689.

Whitehall, April 11.

THIS Day the Coronation of Their Sacred Majesties King William and Queen Mary was performed at Westminster in manner following.

Her Majesties being come from Whitehall to Westminster, and the Nobility, &c. being put in Order by the Heraldes, they came down in State into Westminster-hall where the Swords and Spurrs were presented to them.

After which the Dean and Prebendaries of Westminster having brought the Crowns and other Regalia, presented them severally to Their Majesties; which with the Swords and Spurrs, were therupon delivered to the Lords appointed to carry them.

Then the Procession began in this manner. Drums and Trumpets; Six Clerks in Chancery, two a Breast (as all the rest of the Proceeding went;) Chaplains having Dignities, Aldermen of London; Masters in Chancery; Solicitor, and Attorney General; Gentlemen of the Privy Chamber; Judges Children of Westminster, and of the King's Chapel; Clerks of Westminster, and Gentlemen of the Chapel; Prebendaries of Westminster; Master of the Jewel-house, Privy Councillor, not Peers.

Two Pursuivants, Baronesses, Barons, Bishops; A Pursuivant, a Vicount, a Count; Two Heraldes, Commissaries, Earls; A Herald, a Marchioness; Two Heraldes, Duchesses, Dukes; Two Kings of Arms, The Lord Privy Seal, Lord President of the Council; Archishop of York; His Royal Highness Prince George of Denmark; Two Persons representing the Dukes of Aquitaine and Normandy.

Next, The Lords who bore Their Majesties' Regalia, viz. The Earl of Manchester St. Edward's Staff; and the Lord Grey of Ruthin the Spurrs; the Earl of Clare the Queen's Sceptre with the Crots, and the Earl of Northampton the Kings; the Earls of Shrewsbury, Derby, and Pembroke, the three Swords. Next, Garter King of Arms between the Usher of the Black Rod and the Lord Mayor of London; the Lord Great Chamberlain single; the Earl of Oxford with the Sword of State; between the Duke of Norfolk Earl Marshall, and the Duke of Ormond Lord High Constable for that Day; then the Earl of Bedford with the Queen's Sceptre of the Dove, and the Earl of Rutland with the King's; the Duke of Bolton with the Queen's Orb, and the Duke of Grafton with the King's; the Duke of Somerset with the Queen's Crown, and the Earl of Devonshire, Lord Steward of His Majesties Household, who was made Lord High Steward of England for that Day; with the King's; The Bishop of London with the Bible, between the Bishop of St. Asaph with the Paten, and the Bishop of Rochester with the Chalice.

Then the KING Supported by the Bishop of Winchester, and the QUEEN by the Bishop of Bristol, under a Canopy borne by Sixteen Barons of the Cirque Ports; His Majesties Train borne by the Master of the Robes, assisted by the Lord Bland, Lord Willoughby, Lord Lansdowne, and the Lord Dunblane; and Her Majesties Train by the Duchess of Mercier, assisted by the Lady Elizabeth Paulet, Lady Diana Vere, Lady Elizabeth Cavendish, and the Lady Henrietta Hyde. After the King, a Gentleman of the Bedchamber and two Guards of the Bedchamber; and after the Queen, a Lady of the Bedchamber, and two of Her Majesties Women.

Lastly the Captain of His Majesties Guard, between the Captain of the Train of the Guard and the Captain of the Band of Pipers; followed by the Officers and Bands of the Guard. The Serjeants-at-Arms going on each side of the Regalia, and the Gentlemen-Pensioners on each side of the Canopy.

Thus their Majesties in their Robes of Crimson Velvet, the King with a Cap and the Queen a Circle on her Head, All the Nobility, &c. Crimson Velvet Robes with their Coronets in their hands, marched off of the Preceding in their proper Habits, mounted on foot upon their Chariot in Westminster Abbey; all the Way-side houses on each side being crowded with vast numbers of spectators expressing their great Satisfaction by loud repeated Acclamations.

Being entered the Church, and all duly Seated, the Bishop of London did perform this great Solemnity, begin with the Recognition, which ended with a mighty shout. Then Their Majesties Offered, and the Lords who bore the Regalia presented them at the Altar. The Litany was sung by two Bishops, and after the Epistles Gospel and Nicene Creed, the Bishop of Salisbury directed on this Text, H. Sam. XXII.

After Sermons, their Majesties took the Oath, and being seated in their Royal Chairs placed on the Theatre (that people might be more conspicuous to the Members of the House of Commons, who were seated in the North Crispe) were anointed and presented with the Spurrs and Sword, and invested with the Pall and Orb, and here unto the Rings and Sceptres; And as a Part of the Cerimony the Crowns were put upon Their Heads. At sight whereof the People shouted, the Drums and Trumpets sounded, the Great Guns were Discharged, and the Peals and Peccives rung on their Coronets.

Then the Bible was presented to Them, and after the Benediction Theyouchesed to kiss the Bishops. Being instruced, first the Bishops and then the Temporal Lords did their Homage, and kissed their Majesties left Cheeks; while the Treasurer of the Household threw away the Coronation Medals. Next, followed the Companions, and Their Majesties being made Their Second Obligation, Received the Holy sacrament. Then the Bishop read the final Prayers, and their Masses being returned into St. Edward's Chapel, and being now arrayed in Scarlet Robes, returned to Westminster-hall, bearing Their Rich Crowns of State, and the Nobility their Coronets.

The Nobility, &c. being seated at their respective Tables, which were all ready furnished before their coming in; The first Course (as their Majesties Table was served up with the proper Ceremony, being preceded by the great Officers and the High-Constable, High-Steward, and Earl-Marshal; And for the second Course Charles Dymoke Esq; Their Majesties Champion, between the High-Constable and the Earl-Marshal, performed the Challenge: After which the Herald proclaimed their Majesties Styles.

Dinner being end'd, and the whole Solemnity performed with great Splendor and Magnificence, about Eight in the Evening, Their Majesties returned to Whitehall.

Venice, April 3. On Wednesday last the Ambassador of Venice delivered to the Turkish Envoy the Demands of the Republike. The chief points are; That the Port shall yield to the Republike the Island of Negropont, the Duchy of Athens, with all its Dependencies, and the Fortresses of Scutigine and Modone. That the Limits of the conquer'd Countries be settled; and that the Turks pay the Republike 4000000 Duckets. The Ambassiator of Poland is expected here this week, and so soon as he has likewise given in the Proclamations of that Country, the said Envoy will be called upon for their final and positive Answer. They write from Pol-sia, That some Troops detached by General Puccolino had surprized the Town of Lissa, which they burnt, and took a great many Prisoners, and released divers Christian Slaves. The Duke of Lorraine arrived here yesterday from Innspruck. The Archduchess, wife of the Electoral Prince Palatine, is very dangerously ill.