*Board of Trade (Harbour Department),

THE Board of Trade have received through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs a copy of a recent French law authorizing the making of a deep water harbour at Boulogne. The substance of this law is as follows:

The proposed works are to be undertaken at the public expense. The estimated cost is 17,000,000 francs, towards which the Chamber of Commerce at Boulogne is to contribute annually the sum of 100,000 francs for fifteen years.

From the 1st of July, 1878, a due of 45 centimes per ton will be leviable at the Port of Boulogne on all French or foreign ships entering the port with the exception of vessels belonging to or employed by the State vessels engaged in fishing, towing, or pilotage, coasters between French Ports, and yachts or pleasure boats of any nation.

This due will be reduced to 10 centimes per ton for vessels engaged in carrying passengers. Such vessels will enjoy this reduction, although they may have merchandise on board, if the same does not occupy more than one-tenth of the tonnage space.

The collection of these dues is assigned to the Chamber of Commerce, with a view of repaying the contribution which it is engaged to furnish to the State, and will cease upon the completion of the engagements of the Chamber.
