"The SCHEDULE to which the foregoing Representation has reference.

"The District Chapelry of Saint John, Flookburgh, being:—

"All that part of the parish or parochial chapelry of Cartmel in the county of Lancaster and in the diocese of Carlisle which comprises the greater portion of the territory known as the chapelry of Flookburgh and which is bounded on the west and on the south by the western and southern boundaries of the said parish or parochial chapelry of Cartmel at the ordinary high-water mark upon the sea-shore, on the greater part of the east by the new parish of Saint Mary Allithwaite in the county and diocese aforesaid, and upon all other sides that is to say on the remaining part of the east, and on the north, by an imaginary line commencing at the point where the boundary which divides the said new parish of Saint Mary Allithwaite from the parish or parochial chapelry of Cartmel aforesaid joins the boundary dividing the township of Lower Holker from the township of Lower Allithwaite at the centre of the bridge over the stream called or known as Cark Beck or the River Eea where such stream is crossed by the road or footpath leading from the house called or known as Low Bank Side into the road from Cark to Cartmel and extending thence north-eastward along the said township boundary for a distance of a quarter of a mile or thereabouts thereby following the course of the said stream to the point at its junction with the stream called or known as Mires Beck where the same township boundary is joined by the boundary dividing the said township of Lower Holker from the township of Upper Holker and extending thence north-westward along the last-mentioned township boundary for a distance of seventeen chains or thereabouts to the point where it strikes the south-eastern side of the road leading from Cartmel to Holker such point being opposite to the junction of the last-mentioned road with the footpath or occupation-road leading to the house called or known as High Bank Side and continuing thence (that is from the said point on the south-eastern side of the road leading from Cartmel to Holker as aforesaid) to a point in the middle of the last-mentioned road and extending thence south-westward along the middle of the same road for a distance of thirty chains or thereabouts (thereby following in part the boundary which divides the said township of Lower Holker from the township of Upper Holker aforesaid) to the junction of the said last-mentioned road with the road leading from Holker to the house called or known as Howbarrow and extending thence first northward and then north-westward along the course of the last-described road for a distance of sixty-two chains or thereabouts (thereby following the last-mentioned township boundary) to the point on the south-western side of the hill called or known as Mount Barnard where the said township boundary diverges in a westerly direction from the said last-described road and extending thence westward along the same township boundary for a distance of a quarter of a mile or thereabouts to a point in the middle of the road leading from Backbarrow to Holker and extending thence southward along the middle of the last-described road for a distance of thirty-two chains or thereabouts (thereby skirting the foot of Bigland Scar) to the junction of the said last-described road with the road which leads from Holker across Waitham Moss, past the house called or known as Old Park, to Park Head, and thence across Cartmel Sands at low water to Ulverston and extending thence (that is from the last-described point of junction at the foot of Bigland Scar aforesaid) first westward, then north-westward and then again westward along the middle of the last-described road for a distance of one mile and forty-five chains or thereabouts, to the western boundary of the said parish or parochial chapelry of Cartmel at the ordinary high water mark upon the sea shore as aforesaid on the western side of Park Head aforesaid."

And whereas the said representation has been approved by Her Majesty in Council: now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her said Council, is pleased hereby to ratify the said representation, and to order and direct that the same and every part thereof shall be effectual in law immediately from and after the time when this Order shall have been duly published in the London Gazette pursuant to the said Acts; and Her Majesty, by and with the like advice, is pleased hereby to direct that this Order be forthwith registered by the Registrar of the said diocese of Carlisle.

C. L. Peel.

AT the Court at Windsor, the 22nd day of March, 1879.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act passed in the session of Parliament held in the eighteenth and nineteenth years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act further to amend the laws concerning the burial of the dead in England," it is, amongst other things, enacted that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, from time to time, to postpone the time appointed by any Order in Council for the discontinuance of burials, or otherwise to vary any Order in Council made under any of the Acts recited in the said Act, or under the said Act (whether the time thereby appointed for the discontinuance of burials thereunder, or other operation of such Order, shall or shall not have arrived), as to Her Majesty, with such advice as aforesaid, may seem fit:

And whereas Orders in Council have been made directing the discontinuance of burials in the churchyards hereinafter mentioned from the time specified in such Orders; and whereas it seems fit to Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, that the time for discontinuing burials in the said churchyards be postponed:

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice aforesaid, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the time for the discontinu-
