

J. C. C. 1880 No. 3,' and placed at or near to the point where the same footpath strikes the south-western boundary of the Batley Cemetery and extending thence north-eastward and in a direct line for a distance of eleven and a half chains or thereabouts across the said cemetery (thereby passing a little to the north-west of the cemetery chapel) to a boundary-stone inscribed 'C. St. J. C. C. 1880 No. 4,' and placed on the north-eastern side of the wall or fence forming the north-eastern boundary of the same cemetery at a point opposite to the middle of the south-western end of Upton-street and extending thence, that is from the last-mentioned boundary-stone still north-eastward along the middle of the last-named street for a distance of five and three-quarters chains or thereabouts to its junction with North-street and extending thence south-eastward for a distance of four and a half chains or thereabouts along the middle of the last-named street and along the middle of Blake-ridge-lane to the junction of the last-named lane with Melton-street and extending thence eastward along the middle of the last-named street for a distance of five and three-quarters chains or thereabouts to its junction with Thomas-street and extending thence north-eastward along the middle of the last-named street for a distance of nine chains or thereabouts to its junction with Bradford-road and extending thence north-westward along the middle of the said Bradford-road for a distance of thirteen and three-quarters chains or thereabouts to its junction with Victoria-street and extending thence in a direction due north-eastward and in a straight line for a distance of three and a half chains or thereabouts to a boundary-stone inscribed 'C. St. J. C. C. 1880 No. 5,' and placed on the south-western side of the line of the Birstal Branch of the London and North Western Railway at a distance of five chains or thereabouts (measured in a direct line) to the south-east of the centre of the bridge which carries the same branch line of railway over Carlinghow Hill-lane and extending thence that is from the last-mentioned boundary stone north-westward and in a direct line for a distance of five chains or thereabouts to a point at the centre of the last-described railway bridge upon the boundary which divides the said parish of Batley from the new parish of Saint Saviour Brownhill aforesaid and continuing thence still north-westward along the middle of the said branch line of railway for a distance of twenty-two and a half chains or thereabouts (thereby passing through or by the Carlinghow Station on the same branch line of railway and passing Carlinghow Corn Mill) to the point where the boundary where the Parliamentary borough of Dewsbury before-mentioned crosses the middle of the same branch line of railway and extending thence south-westward along the said Parliamentary borough boundary for a distance of sixty-seven chains or thereabouts to the first described point on the south-western side of White Lee-road where the boundaries of the said Parliamentary borough of Dewsbury of the said new parish of Saint Saviour Brownhill of the said new parish of Saint James Heckmondwike and of the said new parish of Christ Church Staincliffe all meet as aforesaid at which point the said imaginary line commenced."

And whereas the said representation has been approved by Her Majesty in Council; now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her said Council, is pleased hereby to ratify the said representation, and to order and direct that the same and every part thereof shall be effectual in law immediately from and after the time when this Order shall have been duly published in the London Gazette pursuant to the said Acts; and Her Majesty, by and with the like advice, is pleased hereby to direct that this Order be forthwith registered by the Registrar of the said diocese of Ripon.

C. L. Peel.

AT the Court at Windsor, the 28th day of June, 1880.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England have, in pursuance of an Act of the twenty-ninth and thirtieth years of Her Majesty, chapter one hundred and eleven duly prepared and laid before Her Majesty in Council a scheme, bearing date the third day of June, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty, in the words following, that is to say:

"We the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England in pursuance of the Act of the twenty-ninth and thirtieth years of your Majesty chapter one hundred and eleven have prepared and now humbly lay before your Majesty in Council the following scheme relating to the Library in the Palace of the Archbishops of Canterbury at Lambeth.

"Whereas by the seventh section of the above-mentioned Act after reciting that the public had for a long period had access to the said library at certain periods and under certain restrictions and that the cost of the custody and maintenance thereof had been theretofore defrayed out of the gross revenues arising from the estates of the See of Canterbury and that such estates had become transferred to us it was enacted that the cost of the maintenance of such library and of the custody of the books therein might if we should think fit by the authority of a scheme passed by us and of an Order of your Majesty in Council ratifying the same be defrayed out of the rents and profits of such estates.

"And whereas a scheme was duly passed by us under the provisions of the said recited Act on the twenty-ninth day of July one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine and approved by an Order of your Majesty in Council made on the tenth day of August in the same year and by the said Order provision was made for executing such repairs of the fabric of the said library as we might consider necessary or desirable and also for placing the books and manuscripts in the said library in a proper state of repair at our expense and under our direction and it was by the said Order also provided that there should be paid by us to the Archbishop of Canterbury for the time being the annual sum of one hundred and fifty pounds to be expended by him in providing for the custody of the books and manuscripts contained in such library, in maintaining the same when repaired as aforesaid in a fitting condition and in rendering the same accessible to the public at such times and subject to such restrictions as we should have previously approved provided that, subject to such restrictions, access to the said library should be secured to the public during a period of nine months in every year on three days (at the least) in every week for not less than three hours on each day and that all the payments aforesaid should be made out of the rents and profits of the estates formerly belonging to the See of Canterbury which had been transferred to us.

"And whereas since the date of the said Order of your Majesty in Council the said annual sum of one hundred and fifty pounds has been paid