India Office, January 25, 1881.

THE following General Order by the Government of India has been received at the India Office:—

GENERAL ORDER.
MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Fort William, the 24th December, 1880.

FIELD OPERATIONS.

No. 693.—HIS Excellency the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct the publication, for general information, of the following correspondence and Despatch relating to the march of the division under the command of Major-General R. Phayre, C.B., for the relief of the garrison of Kandahar, in August and September last:—

From Colonel W. M. Lees, Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department, to the Adjutant-General in India.—(No. 9117-K, Kabul Field Operations, dated Fort William, the 27th November, 1880).

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your Letter, No. 6261-A, Kabul, dated the 3rd November, 1880, forwarding Major-General Phayre's report of the march of the division under his command for the relief of the Kandahar garrison, which has been laid before his Excellency the Governor-General of India in Council.

2. In reply, I am to state, for the information of the Commander-in-Chief, that the Governor-General in Council concurs with his Excellency that the report is most interesting, and shows that good work was done under exceptionally difficult circumstances.

From Colonel T. E. Gordon, for Adjutant-General in India, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department.—(No. 6261-A,—"Kabul,"—dated Simla, the 3rd November, 1880).

I AM directed by the Commander-in-Chief to forward, for submission to Government, Major-General Phayre's report* of the march of the Division under his command for the relief of the Kandahar garrison.

His Excellency considers the same most interesting, and as showing good work done under exceptionally difficult circumstances.

From Major-General R. Phayre, C.B., Commanding at Kandahar, to the Adjutant-General in India, Simla.—(No. 45, dated Kandahar, the 16th October, 1880.)

HAVING been directed to submit, for the information of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India, a report of the march of the Division under my command for the relief of the Kandahar garrison, I have the honour to state that the news of Brigadier-General Burrows' defeat reached me at Quetta on the morning of the 28th July last, and in the course of a conversation which I held with General Primrose at the telegraph station shortly afterwards, I learnt that the outposts on the line of communication from Abdul Rahman, inclusive, had been ordered to fall back on Chaman at the northern foot of the Kojak Pass, about eighty miles distant from Kandahar.

2. It happened that the difficulties in the way of the prompt movement of troops on the line of communication in question were at that time exceptionally great, owing to the whole tract of country from Sibi to Kandahar (about 241 miles) being destitute of grain and forage, from a drought of nearly two years' duration, in addition to which the hot season was at its height, and at severally places between Quetta and Kandahar the water-supply was scanty and brackish.

3. These and other causes had obliged us, some time previously, to remove the bulk of our transport cattle from the line to a distant grazing-ground, to withdraw all superfluous commissariat and transport establishments, and place the carts and material generally under repair at central workshops until the opening of the season; consequently, when the necessity for resuming active operations suddenly occurred, our transport had to be re-organized and augmented, our line of communication stocked, weak points placed in a defensible state, and a sufficient force concentrated before any forward movement could be made.

4. The troops nearest at hand to meet this sudden emergency were the 9th and 24th Regiments of Bombay Native Infantry, then en route up the Bolan Pass, and the force noted in the margin*, employed in protecting the Nari Valley railway line. The latter, together with the services of Lieutenant-Colonel J. G. Lindsay, R.E., and his staff of Royal Engineer officers, were at once placed at my disposal, and I was thus enabled to act promptly to the front between Quetta and Chaman by occupying the Gazaband and Kojak Passes,—strengthening and fortifying intermediate posts,—and by holding in check the Kakar and other Pathan tribes, who, on hearing of the Maiwand defeat, lost no time in collecting their fighting men to attack convoys and prevent supplies of grain and forage from being brought to the line of communication. Their designs, however, were happily frustrated by the rapid concentration of the troops named on Pishin; for, although the Kojak Pass had been occupied by a strong body of Atchakzais, and the telegraph line between Chaman and Kila Abdulla entirely destroyed by them, they were driven out by the combined operations of the detachments as per margin,† with a loss of 50 killed, after two days' skirmishing; since which time they have never attempted to re-occupy the pass. Nor did they succeed in injuring any outpost in the northern portion of the assigned districts, though Kach was attacked by about 2,000 tribesmen, and the reported gatherings of other large bodies in Shorawak and on Toba for combined attack on Kushdil Khan, Dina Karez, Segi, Gulistan, and Kila Abdulla rendered it necessary to hold them in check by constant movements of troops. The fact is that, having been beaten by detachments of Native Infantry in the open field at Kojak, Dina Karez, and Kach, the tribes were little inclined to face strong, well garrisoned intrenchments.

5. Simultaneously with the progress of these operations north of Quetta, it was arranged, in communication with Army Headquarters in India, that a complete Division, detailed below, should

6. In order that the advance on Kandahar should be made as soon as possible, it was resolved to concentrate a column of 2,000 Europeans and 4,000 Natives of all arms, with ten days' supplies, on Kila Abdulla, whence the onward march of 93 miles to Kandahar would be rapidly performed.

7. The 3rd Brigade, under the command of Brigadier-General Walker, was ordered to follow from Kila Abdulla four days after the departure of the advanced force, with a convoy of twenty days' supplies for 20,000 fighting men and a similar number of followers.

8. The difficulty of collecting transport and supplies for this large body of troops was great, but it was promptly met by the Government of Bombay, Sir Michael Kennedy (Director-General of Transport), and Sir Robert Sandeman (Agent, Governor-General, for Biluchistan), who did his utmost to assist the local commissariat and transport departments in purchasing camels and supplies. His Highness the Khan of Khelat generously sent between two and three hundred horses and ponies, which I ordered to be made over to mounted corps, a proportion of the animals sent being fit for cavalry and artillery purposes.

9. Owing to the intense and often deadly heat which prevails throughout the valley of the Indus and the lower slopes of the Bolan and Nari Valley Hills, from June to September, it was necessary, for the health and efficiency of the European troops, to move them in detachments of 100 men per diem from the railway terminus at Sibi to the Upper Bolan.* Staging camps of large tents were pitched at once, and each detachment, with its light camp equipage, baggage, rations, &c., was carried in bullock-carts to Mach, a distance of 55 miles, in three days. From Mach they proceeded in the ordinary manner. By this plan the danger of exposing European troops to 120° to 130° Fahrenheit in small tents for several successive days was avoided, and the health and efficiency of the men preserved as far as possible

10. On the arrival at Quetta the advance force detailed below was pushed on to the point of rendezvous, so as to cross the Kojak on the 30th and 31st of August, with the expectation of reaching Kandahar on the 4th or 5th of September, at least two or three days before the arrival of General Sir Frederick Roberts' column, which it was then calculated would reach Kandahar on the 6th or 7th September :—

11. These troops, on arrival at Kila Abdulla, had already undergone a good deal of hardship during their march of 148 miles from Sibi. The heat during the day was sometimes very great, occasioning excessive thirst, which the brackish water of some places failed to quench, and, in addition, injured the health of a great part of the force. Our transport cattle were good, but weak from want of grain and forage; most of the cattle attendants had deserted. We had few commissariat subordinates, and only one transport and one commissariat officer; consequently a vast amount of departmental work devolved on the troops themselves, who, to their lasting credit, performed it cheerfully and well. I merely mention these facts for the purpose of bringing prominently to the notice of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India that the indefatigable energy and zeal with which the officers and men of the whole force met and overcame the natural difficulties of our position are deserving of this record of them; all showed by their conduct that they meant to succeed in thoroughly accomplishing the honourable duty which they were called on to perform. The following instance will show that the same zealous spirit actuated the troops with the rear brigade of the Division. After the advanced force had left Quetta, the drivers of a convoy of 300 carts, laden with food supplies proceeding to the front, deserted and could not be replaced at the time. In this dilemma Captain Watling, Deputy-Assistant Quartermaster-General, arranged with Colonel Harpur of his own regiment (the 23rd Native Light Infantry) to have these carts taken on by the sepoys as drivers. Three hundred men, or about half the regiment, readily undertook the work and brought the convoy safely to its destination.

12. Although we had only brought the Kabul scale of baggage to Kila Abdulla, it was resolved to leave half of it behind at that place, in order to save time and facilitate the movements of the force on reaching its sphere of active operations at Kandahar. A few days before the advance took place the precaution was also taken to send out the Field Columns marginally noted,* to a distance of thirty miles from Chaman, with orders to prepare the water-supply at Gatai, and to forage east and west of the road at Murgha-Chaman and Shah-Passand; in the former direction, it was necessary to blow up the towers of Abu-Saiad Khan's Fort, on account of his general hostility and obstructiveness regarding supplies, &c. This duty was effectually performed by the Bombay Sappers under Lieutenant-Colonel Lindsay, Commanding Royal Engineer.

13. During the period that the road between Chaman and Kandahar was closed, Major Westmacott, the Road-Commandant of that part of the line, carried on the duties of the Intelligence Department; but on the assembly of the advanced force at Kila Abdulla, Sir Robert Sandeman was good enough to place the services of Captain H. Wylie, Political Agent, Pishin, at my disposal as Chief Political Officer. Captain W. H. Curzon Wylie, Assistant Agent, Governor-General, who was the bearer of Despatches from the Government of India to Sir Frederick Roberts, also accompanied Captain H. Wylie as Assistant; also Captain W. Loch of the same department.

14. It was also a matter of great importance that the road between Chaman and Kandahar should be made practicable for carts simultaneously with the advance of the column. Provision for this work also was made by Sir Robert Sandeman, who placed at my disposal the services of Major T. F. Dowden, R.E., Superintending Engineer in Biluchistan, and of Major E. D'O. Twemlow, R.E., Public Works Department, for that purpose. I was thus enabled to utilize the large number of carts which had brought supplies to Kila Abdulla, and open the way for successive convoys of wheeled transport.

15. Lieutenant H. O. Selby, R.E., Superintendent of Army Signalling, established heliograph stations at Kila Abdulla, the Kojak Pass, Gatai, &c., which in due time were continued to Kandahar.

16. As originally arranged, the force moved

* Murgha-Chaman Column.—Lieutenant-Colonel T. Bell, 27th N.I., commanding; Lieutenant-Colonel J. G. Lindsay, R.E., with three companies of Sappers and Miners, and Engineer Staff; Major R. Westmacott, Road-Commandant; 2 guns of Major Wace's Mountain Battery; 2nd Sind Horse; 27th Regiment of Native Infantry.

Shah-Passand Column.—Lieutenant-Colonel F. S. Iredell, 27th N.I., commanding; Major E. D'O. Twemlow, R.E.; Captain W. Loch, Assistant Political Agent; 2 guns of No. 2 Mountain Battery; 2nd Regiment Light Cavalry (dett.); 16th Regiment N.I. (dett.)

across the Kojak to Chaman (14 miles) on the 30th and 31st of August.

The next stage was Gatai, 16 miles. Unfortunately the water which ought to have reached that halting place before the arrival of the force on the 1st September from a karez seventeen miles to the east, had not been brought to within three miles and a half of it. The cavalry and artillery, therefore, under the command of Brigadier-General Wilkinson, had to push on to Mahomed Amin without halting, thus performing a very trying, waterless march of 26 miles with regularity and efficiency. On arrival at Mahomed Amin the channel of flowing water was found to be brackish. I may here mention, as a notable instance of good marching, that two squadrons of the 15th Hussars, under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Luck, marched through from Kila Abdulla to Mahomed Amin, without encamping,—the entire distance of 42 miles being accomplished without a single case of sore back.

The infantry reached Mahomed Amin on the following day—2nd September.

17. On the 2nd September the Cavalry Brigade and other troops, marginally noted,* reached Mel Karez, and the infantry next day. On the 3rd September, this force reached Abdul Rahman, 26 miles from Kandahar, ready to proceed and join Sir Frederick Roberts' column at any moment.

18. On the morning of the 3rd September, however, whilst marching through the Takht-i-pul Kotal, I received Sir Frederick Roberts' Despatches, announcing his complete victory over the forces of Sirdar Mahomed Ayub Khan, two days previously. I afterwards received instruction to distribute my troops at convenient centres near Kandahar, where I could supply them from adjacent villages. This was soon arranged by a reconnaissance made by Brigadier-General Wilkinson, accompanied by Major Euan Smith, of the Political Department, who arrived at my camp from Kandahar that afternoon.

19. My cordial thanks are due to Brigadier-General H. C. Wilkinson, commanding the Cavalry Brigade, and to Brigadier-General T. P. Smith, R.H.A., commanding the Artillery, for the prompt and able support which they have at all times rendered me.

Also to Brigadier-General H. H. James, Brigadier-General T. S. Brown, and Brigadier-General G. F. Walker, commanding the three Infantry Brigades, and to Brigadier-General J. H. Henderson, commanding the line of communications, all of whom have rendered valuable aid.

To Lieutenant-Colonel J. G. Lindsay, R.E., Commanding Engineer of the Division, my cordial thanks are due for his prompt and efficient arrangements in organizing his department, fortifying posts, and executing many works of utility in connection with the advance. I beg to thank Lieutenant H. O. Selby, R.E., for his exertions as Superintendent of Army Signalling.

Major T. F. Dowden, R.E., was good enough to detach his assistant, Lieutenant W. H. Chippendall, R.E., to fortify the Gazaband Pass,—a matter of great importance at the moment it was undertaken. For this and other valuable services on the line I tender Major Dowden my best thanks.

* Brigadier-General H. C. Wilkinson, commanding.—D.-B., R.H.A.; 15th Hussars; 2nd Bombay Light Cavalry (dett.); 2nd Sind Horse; No. 2 Mountain Battery; Lieutenant-Colonel Lindsay, Commanding Royal Engineers, with Staff and Sappers and Miners; detts. 16th and 27th Native Infantry, under Lieutenant-Colonel F. S. Iredell.

Major E. D'O. Twemlow, R.E., also, having personally surveyed the country between Chaman and Kandahar, rendered me valuable aid on the line by Shah-Passand, prior to the advance of the force, for which he well merits my thanks.

I am much indebted to Captain H. Wylie, Chief Political Officer with the force, for the substantial assistance he rendered both during the march and while preparations for it were in progress in Pishan. His influence over the tribes of the northern portion of the assigned districts is remarkable. Captain W. Loch, Assistant Political Agent, also rendered good service.

Lieutenant-Colonel J. M. Boyd, Executive Commissariat Officer, Quetta, has ably performed the duties of that important centre for several months past. His arrangements for the advanced force reflect the highest credit on him.

Major De L. R. F. Wooldridge has served under me in the Transport Department since 1878, since which time he has performed his difficult and arduous duties to my entire satisfaction.

To Captain W. Cooke-Collis, 83rd Foot, Assistant Adjutant-General, my hearty thanks are due for his valuable services, commencing in April last, as Brigade Major on the line of communications. His arduous duties have been performed ably and promptly.

Major J. Jopp, Assistant Quartermaster-General, has also conducted the onerous and important duties of his Department to my entire satisfaction, and has my best thanks.

Captain J. T. Watling, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General, has performed an unusual amount of hard work on the Kandahar, Nari Valley, and Bolan lines of communication since March last. He is an excellent staff officer, and well deserves my thanks.

Major A. R. Heyland, Deputy-Assistant Quartermaster-General 2nd Division, conducted the duties of the department at Sibi during the passage of the Division to Quetta, and eventually joined at Kandahar. He is a zealous and efficient staff officer, well fitted for the Quartermaster-General's Department.

I also beg to offer my cordial thanks to the commanding officers of cavalry, artillery, engineers, and infantry, named in paragraph 10 above, for the soldier-like spirit with which difficult duties were performed by them, and for the excellent discipline maintained.

Major R. Wace, R.A., commanding No. 2 Mountain Battery, deserves special mention for the valuable services he has rendered to the public service under my orders since April last; he then equipped two mountain guns for the Kawas expedition with remarkable rapidity and success, and on the march under report his zeal was unabated.

To Captain E. A. Johnson, R.A., Commissary of Ordnance Quetta, my cordial thanks are due for the prompt manner in which he prepared two 25-pounders to accompany the advanced force and organised its park.

Major R. Westmacott, Road-Commandant between Chaman and Kandahar, has conducted the difficult and onerous duties of his appointment to my entire satisfaction. During the period that the road north of Chaman was closed, his activity in gaining intelligence, reconnoitring, and procuring supplies reflect great credit upon him.

The exertions of Major J. L. Fagan, of the Commissariat, and Lieutenant-Colonel J. Barras, of the Transport, the only officers of those departments with the advanced force, were incessant, and well deserve the hearty thanks which I now tender them.

Captain R. Phayre, 19th Foot, my Aide-de-Camp, and Lieutenant the Honourable G. Fitzroy Somerset, Grenadier Guards, Orderly Officer, deserve my thanks for the ready manner in which they did their duty.

G. CHESNEY, Colonel,
