Board of Trade (Marine Department), Whitehall Gardens, February 4, 1881.

THE Board of Trade have received through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Acting Consul at San José de Costa Rica, enclosing a translation of a Decree by the Republic of Costa Rica relative to the loading of vessels in unqualified places.

(Translation.)

No. 54.

*National Palace,
San José, 16th of December, 1880.*

HAVING regard to the inconvenience which is frequently occurring disadvantageous to the interests of the Exchequer for want of proper instruction as to the manner in which vessels should load in unqualified places on the coast, which has given and is continually giving rise to mistakes which it is necessary to avoid in the future, the President of the Republic decrees:—

1. Every owner of a vessel, captain or consignee, that solicits permission to load wood or other articles in unqualified places on the coast, in addition to the prescriptions determined by the laws, should present to the Director of Customs a manifest of the cargo he proposes to make, expressing, if it be wood, the number of cubic feet that it contains, and if of other articles the number of packages, quality, and kind to which they belong.

2. The Captain of the Port may not give permission without a report from the Director of Customs, in which is stated that the formalities before expressed have been complied with.

3. The permit will name the port, bay, or creek in which the vessel should lie, the time that it should remain there, and the extension of time if that should be necessary. This being fulfilled, he should return to be dispatched according to the rules prescribed. This permit will be transcribed to the Director of Customs and to the Chief of the Coastguard of the District; to the first that the limit of time having expired, he should proceed to verify the duties in accordance with the manifest and bill of lading of shipment, if this should have been presented to him, or if only by the manifest by assigning a double appraisement to each article without prejudice to further legal responsibilities to which the error should give place; and to the second in order that he may ascertain the articles and provisions that the vessel carries for its use. To this effect he shall make a previous visit in order that being well informed of the place to which the vessel proceeds he may duly exercise the vigilance and attributes that are incumbent on him.

4. The Chief Magistrates of the Cantons in the Province of Guanacaste will forward to the Custom-house of Puntarenas bills of lading of the shipments that are made in their respective jurisdictions, whether of woods or of other articles, manufactured or unmanufactured, stating, if wood, the number of hunks and their dimensions, and if of other kind of articles, the number of packages and their contents, as also the name of the shipper, bay, roadstead, or creek in which the vessel lies, and also its name.

INSTRUMENT of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, assigning a Particular District to the Church of Saint Matthew, Tipton, in the County of Stafford, and Diocese of Lichfield.

To all to whom these presents shall come, the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England and the Right Reverend William Dalrymple, Bishop of the Diocese of Lichfield, send greeting:

WHEREAS a church has lately been built within the limits of the new parish of Saint Paul, Tipton, in the county of Stafford, and in the diocese of Lichfield, by and at the expense of certain well disposed persons, who have, with the approbation of the said Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, and of the said William Dalrymple, Bishop of the said diocese of Lichfield, secured to the said new church an endowment and a repair fund in accordance with the provisions of the several Acts of Parliament called "The Church Building Acts," or of some of them, and particularly of the Act of the fourteenth and fifteenth years of Her present Majesty, chapter ninety-seven.

And whereas the said church has since been consecrated and is called "The Church of Saint Matthew, Tipton."

And whereas the said Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England deem it expedient that a Particular District, to comprise a part of the said new parish of Saint Paul, Tipton, should be assigned to the said church of Saint Matthew, Tipton, and also that banns of matrimony should be published, and that marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials should be solemnized or performed at such church.

Now know ye, that the said Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, in exercise and execution of the powers or authorities for this purpose contained in the several Acts of Parliament called "The Church Building Acts" as aforesaid, or in some of them, and particularly in the Act of the first and second years of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, chapter thirty-eight, in the said Act of the fourteenth and fifteenth years of Her said Majesty, chapter ninety-seven, and in the said Act of the nineteenth and twentieth years of Her said Majesty, chapter fifty-five, and of all other powers or authorities in anywise enabling them in this behalf, do hereby, with the consent of the said William Dalrymple, Bishop of the said diocese of Lichfield (testified by his being a party to and executing these presents), assign to the said church of Saint Matthew, Tipton, as a Particular District, all that part of the said new parish of Saint Paul, Tipton, which is described in the schedule hereunder written, and is delineated and set forth upon the map or plan hereunto appended, and do direct that the same shall be called "The Particular District of Saint Matthew, Tipton."

any fee for the performance of the said office of baptism, or for the registration thereof.

In witness whereof, the said Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, have hereunto affixed their common seal, and the said William Dalrymple, Bishop of the said diocese of Lichfield, has hereunto set his hand and affixed his episcopal seal, this ninth day of December, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty.

VICTORIA, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland Queen, Defender of the Faith, to the Sheriff of the Territory of Griqualand West, or his lawful Deputy, Greeting:

SUMMON Charles Makeham, lately residing at Cape Town, in the Colony of the Cape of Good Hope, South Africa (hereinafter styled the defendant), that he appear before his Honour the Judge of Our High Court of Griqualand, at Kimberley, in Griqualand West, in the Colony of the Cape of Good Hope, on the 20th day of March, 1881, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, with his witnesses (if he have any), there and then to answer Margaret Makeham (born Keating), residing at Kimberley aforesaid, wife of the said Charles Makeham, the plaintiff in this suit, in an action for the dissolution of the bonds of marriage now subsisting between herself and the said defendant, on the ground of malicious desertion by the defendant of the plaintiff; and thereupon the plaintiff by Bryans Thomas Knights, her Attorney, complains and says that she was, on the 4th day of March, 1867, at Cape Town, legally joined together in marriage, according to the rites of the Roman Catholic Church; with the said defendant, and that the said marriage is still subsisting between them; and the plaintiff further says that she residing and cohabited with the defendant, and thereafter, on or about the 6th day of October, 1873, she repaired, with permission of her said husband, to Graaff Reinet, in the said Colony, and upon her return to Cape Town after a short absence she found that the said Charles Makeham had left the Colony and sailed for England: and the plaintiff further says, that since leaving her as aforesaid the defendant has not written to her or informed her of his domicile, and that he has never since that time communicated in any way whatever with her, or sent her any moneys, or provided her with means of subsistence; and the plaintiff further says, that she has used every means in her power to find and communicate with the said defendant, but without avail, to this day; and the plaintiff further says, that by reason of the premises, and by reason of the malicious desertion as herein set forth, she is entitled to have the bonds of marriage now subsisting between herself and the said Charles Makeham, dissolved and declared null and void; wherefore the plaintiff prays that the said bonds of marriage between the plaintiff and defendant may, by Judgment of this Honourable Court, be dissolved, and such marriage declared null and void, and that the plaintiff may have leave to marry again if so disposed, and that she may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this Honourable Court may seem meet, with costs of suit. Publish this summons twice in the London Gazette and London Daily Telegraph, and affix a copy thereof to the door of the Court-house, at Kimberley aforesaid, and return you then there this summons to this Honourable Court with whatever you have done thereupon.
