

members of the families to whom they have been allotted as can be buried at or below the depth of five feet.

HERNE.—Forthwith, and entirely in the church of Herne, in the county of Kent; and also in the churchyard thereof, except as follows:—

(a) In such vaults and walled graves, as are now existing in the churchyard, burials may be allowed, on condition that every coffin buried therein be separately enclosed by stonework or brickwork properly cemented: (b) In such earthen graves now existing in the churchyard, as can be opened to the depth of five feet without exposing coffins or disturbing human remains, burials may be allowed of so many of the following relations of those already interred therein, viz., widows, widowers, parents and children, as can be buried at or below that depth.

BURBLEM.—Forthwith, and entirely in the churches of St. John and St. Paul, in the parish of Burslem, in the county of Stafford; and also in the churchyards thereof, except as follows:—(a) In such vaults and walled graves, as are now existing in the churchyards, burials may be allowed, on condition that every coffin buried therein be separately enclosed by stonework or brickwork properly cemented: (b) In such earthen graves now existing in the churchyards, as can be opened to the depth of five feet without exposing coffins or disturbing human remains, burials may be allowed of so many of the following relations of those already interred therein, viz., widows, widowers, parents and unmarried children, as can be buried at or below that depth.

BLEDLLOW.—Forthwith, and entirely in the parish church of Bledlow, in the county of Buckingham; and also entirely in the churchyard after the first April one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, except as follows:—(a) In such vaults and walled graves, as are now existing in the churchyard, burials may be allowed, on condition that every coffin buried therein be separately enclosed by stonework or brickwork properly cemented: (b) In such earthen graves now existing in the churchyard, as can be opened to the depth of five feet without exposing coffins or disturbing human remains, burials may be allowed of so many of the following relations of those already interred therein, viz.: widows, widowers, parents, children, brothers and sisters, as can be buried at or below that depth.

HELPSTON.—Forthwith, and entirely in the parish church of Helpston, in the county of Northampton; and entirely in the churchyard on and after the first January one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two.

WEARE.—Forthwith, and entirely in the parish church of Weare, in the county of Somerset; and also in that part of the churchyard which lies to the south of the church, except as follows:—In such vaults and walled graves as are now existing, burials may be allowed on condition that every coffin buried therein be separately enclosed by stonework or brickwork, properly cemented.

WROTHAM.—Forthwith, and entirely in the parish church of Wrotham, in the county of Kent; and also in the churchyard thereof, except as follows:—(a) In such vaults and walled graves as are now existing in the churchyard, burials may be allowed, on condition that every coffin buried therein be separately enclosed by stonework or brickwork, properly cemented: (b) In such earthen graves, now existing in the churchyard, as can be opened to the depth of five feet without exposing coffins or disturbing human remains, burials may be allowed of so many of the following relations of those already interred therein, viz.: widows, widowers, parents and children, as can be buried at or below that depth.

STOKENCHURCH.—Forthwith, and entirely in the parish church of Stokenchurch, in the county of Oxford; and also in the churchyard thereof, except as follows:—In such vaults and walled graves, as are now existing in the churchyard, burials may be allowed, on condition that every coffin buried therein be separately enclosed by brickwork or stonework, properly cemented.

PAULTON.—Forthwith, and entirely in the parish church of Paulton, in the county of Somerset; and also entirely, on and after the first April, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, in the churchyard thereof, except as follows:—(a) In such vaults and walled graves, as are now existing in the churchyard, burials may be allowed, on condition that every coffin buried therein be separately enclosed by stonework or brickwork, properly cemented: (b) In such earthen graves now existing in the churchyard as can be opened to the depth of five feet without exposing coffins or disturbing human remains, burials may be allowed of so many of the following relations of those already interred, viz.: widows, widowers, parents, and children, as can be buried at or below the depth of five feet.

WANTAGE.—Forthwith, and entirely in the parish church of Wantage, in the county of Berks; and also in the churchyard thereof, except as follows:—In such vaults and walled graves, as are now existing in the churchyard, burials may be allowed of so many of the following relations of those already interred therein, viz.: widows and widowers, as can be buried at or below the depth of two feet from the natural surface of the ground, on condition that every coffin buried therein be separately enclosed by stonework or brickwork, properly cemented.

CRONDALL.—Forthwith, and entirely in the parish church of Crondall, in the county of Southampton; and also in the churchyard, except as follows:—In such vaults and walled graves as are now existing in the churchyard, burials may be allowed, on condition that every coffin buried therein be separately enclosed by stonework or brickwork properly cemented.

CRICKLADE.—Forthwith, and entirely in St. Mary's Church, Cricklade, in the county of Wilts; and also entirely in the churchyard thereof, after the thirty-first December, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, except as follows:—(a) In such vaults and walled graves, as are now existing in the churchyard, burials may be allowed, on condition that every coffin buried therein be separately enclosed by stonework or brickwork, properly cemented: (b) In such reserved grave spaces in the churchyard (as have never before been buried in, and, when opened, are free from water) burials may be allowed of so many members of the families to whom they have been allotted, as can be buried at or below the depth of five feet.