Board of Trade (Harbour Department),

Whitehall Gardens, September 30, 1881.

THE Board of Trade have received through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Ambassador at Constantinople, reporting that in consequence of cholera at Aden vessels arriving from thence will be placed in quarantine at the Island of Kamera, and that vessels arriving direct from the coast of Yeman and the ports of the Hedjaz without clearing first their quarantine at Kamera will be strictly forbidden to approach.

(H. 6757.)

Board of Trade (Harbour Department),

Whitehall Gardens, September 30, 1881.

THE Board of Trade have received through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Vice-Consul at Cairo, enclosing a copy of the Regulations issued by the Egyptian Maritime and Quarantine Council in consequence of the outbreak of cholera at Aden, of which the following is a translation, viz :—

EGYPTIAN SANITARY, MARITIME, AND QUARANTINE COUNCIL.

Sitting of 7th September, 1881.

In consequence of the outbreak of cholera at Aden, the Council have decided that :—

1. All vessels arriving from Aden and from Ottoman Ports in the Red Sea, although furnished with clean bills of health, and on board of which no cholera cases or suspected cases have appeared, must be put into quarantine for a period of 7 clear days dating from the medical inspection.

This quarantine to be kept at "The Wells of Moses."

If, however, the Sanitary Authorities are satisfied, after a thorough inspection, that there have been no cases of sickness of any description whatever during the voyage, and if the vessels are besides in a thoroughly good condition as regards health, the length of the quarantine may be diminished in the following scale :—

After 8 days' voyage, 6 days' quarantine.

After 9 days' voyage, 5 days' quarantine.

After 10 days' voyage, 4 days' quarantine.

After 11 days' voyage, 3 days' quarantine.

After 12 days' voyage, 2 days' quarantine.

A vessel, after a voyage of more than 13 days, will be only required to perform 24 hours' quarantine.

The ship, before going out of quarantine, shall be disinfected.

All persons who may be on board will not be considered free from the quarantine regulations until the ship and also their wearing apparel has been disinfected.

As long as no case of cholera has shown itself, the "observation quarantine" may be performed by passengers on board, in default of a lazaretto, that is, if the hygienic conditions of the ship permit it, otherwise the vessel must be sent to Tor to perform strict quarantine.

Any susceptible goods (that is, those which might be capable of being infected and transmitting the disease), must be landed at "The Wells of Moses," and disinfected before being sent to the consignees. No limit of time is fixed for these operations.

Those goods which would not be included in the above category will be immediately landed and delivered to the consignees, only however if there has been no suspected case of sickness on board ; this operation will be effected in quarantine under the superintendence of the Sanitary Authorities.

The discharge of non-susceptible goods and the shipment of goods of all description may be effected wherever there may be a Sanitary Agent. The shipment and discharge must be effected with all precautions and under the superintendence of the Sanitary Authorities.

2. Every infected ship, that is, every vessel on board of which any certain or only probable cases of cholera have occurred during the transit, no matter of what duration the voyage, or even discovered on the arrival of the ship, must be put into strict quarantine. This quarantine to be for seven clear days for persons, dating from their isolation in the lazaretto ; in certain exceptional cases the time may be increased to ten days, according to the decision of the Sanitary, Maritime, and Quarantine Council. This quarantine to be performed at Tor. The "susceptible" goods will be unloaded at the quarantine ground, and submitted to disinfection before being delivered to the consignees. Those comprised in the former category will be subjected to a more rigorous disinfection than the latter, and may even be burned should this measure be necessary.

The length of quarantine will be the same for goods as for passengers, but this will not include the time taken up by disinfection.

The non-susceptible goods will only be landed at the expiration of the quarantine.

3. The quarantine regulations as shown in Article I, apply to vessels with a clean bill of health on board of which no suspected case has occurred, clearing from a port of which there has been an outbreak of cholera after the departure of the vessel, if they cleared out of this port less than seven days before the official announcement of the appearance of the sickness.

The same regulations will also apply to those vessels which have left a contaminated port less than seven days after the last case of cholera appeared on the medical bills.

4. The Egyptian ports in the Red Sea will send to the "Wells of Moses" vessels arriving from Aden, and from the Ottoman ports of the Red Sea, which have had no suspected case of sickness on board during the voyage.

As regards the "non-susceptible" goods which these vessels may have on board, they will be subjected to the regulations specified in paragraph 9 of Article I. Those vessels which have had suspected cases on board must be sent to Tor to perform strict quarantine.

5. The Sanitary Authorities in the Egyptian ports of the Red Sea will put all "Samboucks," barques, and small boats coming from Aden or from Turkish ports of the Red Sea into quarantine for seven days with disinfection of boats, wearing apparel, and cargoes.

6. Vessels arriving from the Indies with pilgrims and passengers on board for Suez, which touched at Aden, without actually communicating with the port, will be admitted to free "pratique" in Egypt, provided that the bill of health bears a note to this effect.

7. The following can only enter the canal after having performed quarantine:—

Ships which have had on board certain or suspected cases of cholera.

Ships which, though not having any suspicious cases on board, are yet as far as health is concerned unsatisfactory.

Ships having a destination of an intermediate port.

Ships having pilgrims or other large bodies of persons on board.

Those vessels not included in any of these four categories will be permitted to pass through the canal in a state of quarantine. In this case an explanatory note will be placed in the bill of health at the entering port and repeated at the clearing port, together with any other information which may be necessary.

8. Letters arriving in Egypt coming from places where there has been an outbreak of cholera, or even where there is a suspicion that cholera cases have occurred, enclosed in wooden cases or other non-susceptible receptacles, may pass through Egypt with free "pratique" in order to reach their destination elsewhere under the following conditions:

They must bear the seals of both of the sanitary officials and the postal authorities of the port at which they are landed.

They must also be accompanied by a sanitary officer as far as the ship which takes them out of Egypt. All postal correspondence, no matter for what destination which shall not be enclosed in the above-mentioned boxes or other non-susceptible receptacles, will have to undergo the regulation purification immediately on their arrival and discharge at an Egyptian port.

TO be sold, pursuant to an Order of the High Court of Justice, made in the matter and cause of re Lloyd, deceased, Massey v. Evans, with the approbation of his Lordship Mr. Justice Fry, by Mr. Evan Vaughan, of the firm of Messrs. Hards, Vaughan, and Jenkinson, the person appointed by the said Judge, the remaining portion of the Alltyrodin estate, including Alltyrodin mansion and demesne lands, comprising in all about 970 acres, the property of the late John Davies Lloyd, Esq., at the Wilkes Head Hotel, Llandysil, on Thursday, the 3rd day of November, 1881, at twelve for one o'clock precisely, in one lot, and, if not so sold, then in six lots, the above-mentioned valuable freehold property, and comprising—

The commodious family residence known as Alltyrodin, with its pleasure grounds, stabling, farm, buildings, and other premises, woods and demesne lands, together with Bryngolew, Pwllryn, Rhydecir, Baile, Gwyn, Penibynocoyle, and Gwarralt-y-ferrre farms, comprising in all about 970 acres. Alltyrodin House, a substantial stone built structure pleasantly situate on the south-western slope of the hill overlooking the valley of the Cletwr, which river intersects the demesne lands in front of the house. It is approached from the high road by two carriage drives, with lodge entrances, through well-timbered plantations and grounds, and contains on three floors the following accommodation, viz.:—17 principal and secondary bed and dressing-rooms, bath-room, vestibule, and inner hall, 3 reception rooms, and complete domestic offices and cellarage. Excellent stabling for 11 horses, coachman's cottage, extensive range of farm buildings and other premises, large walled gardens and gardeners' cottages. Alltyrodin is situate near to the high road from Pencader to New Quay, about 4 miles from the town and railway station of Llandysil, whence Swansea and London are reached, via Carmarthen, in 2½ and 10 hours respectively;

New Quay-road station on the Milford and Manchester line from Pencader to Aberystwith and the north is distant about 2½ miles. Good shooting may be had, the Tivy-side hounds and Mr. Vaughan Pryse's harriers meet in the neighbourhood, and the Vale of Givili foxhounds are also within reach. The River Cletwr affords good trout fishing, and the Twy famed for its salmon, trout, and sewin fishing is within easy reach.

The farms are all in the occupation of good tenants at fair rentals.

If the property be not sold in one lot as above, the Alltyrodin mansion and demesne lands, with Bryngolew farm, in all about 392 acres, will be offered in one lot, and the remaining farms in separate lots.
