NOTICE under "The Passengers Act, 1855," varying the declared length of Voyage to certain places for certain Passenger Ships:--

WHEREAS by the 30th Section of "The Passengers Act, 1855," it is enacted that, for the purposes of the Act, the length of voyage for a passenger ship proceeding from the United Kingdom to the several places therein mentioned shall be determined by a scale therein set forth, and that for the like purposes the Emigration Commissioners, acting by and under the authority of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by notice in writing issued under the hands of any two of such Commissioners, and published in the London Gazette, may, nevertheless, declare what shall be deemed to be the length of voyage from the United Kingdom to any of such places, or to any other port or place whatsoever, and may fix such different length of voyage as they may think reasonable for different descriptions of vessels: And whereas it was deemed expedient to vary the said scale, and to reduce the length of voyage from the United Kingdom to North America in ferred to and imposed on the Board of Trade, and may be exercised by the said Board of Trade independently of the sanction or authority of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State: And whereas it is expedient further to vary the said scale, and to declare what shall be the length of voyage of certain passenger ships propelled by sails only, by sails and steam-power, or by steam-power only, proceeding from the United Kingdom to places set forth in the said scale, and to other places not set forth therein, and to fix the different lengths thereof, as they may think reasonable, for such different descriptions of vessels as aforesaid: Now, therefore, the Board of Trade, in exercise of the powers vested in them by the said recited Act, do by this notice declare that from and after the 1st of August, 1882, the length of the voyage for a passenger ship proceeding from the United Kingdom to the undermentioned places respectively shall, for the purposes of "The Passengers Act, 1855," and "The Passengers Act Amendment Act, 1863," be determined by, and the same shall be deemed to be, the length of voyage set out in the following scale for computation of voyages, that is to say,—
