(No. 301.)—UNITED STATES.—GULF OF MEXICO
—TEXAS.Galveston Bay Entrance—Progress in Deepening Channel.

THE following information has been received from Her Majesty's Consul at Galveston, respecting the progress made in deepening the water in the channel at the entrance to that port:—

The depth on the Inner Bar has been increased to about 17 feet at low water.

At present, vessels of more than 14 feet draught, can only cross the Outer Bar with high tides. In order to increase the depth on this bar, the construction of two jetties has been undertaken, with the object of concentrating the water in a channel, and thus increasing its depth to 25 feet.

The South Jetty—still incomplete in parts—constructed of "Mattresses" (bundles of brush wood sunk and kept in place by layers of rock), with a width of 60 to 120 feet and a height of 12 feet, extend in a S. 82° E. (true) direction over a bottom of quick sand, for a distance of about 4 miles from the northern end of Galveston Island.

The North Jetty, barely commenced, extends from Bolivar Point, and is intended to converge towards the South Jetty in a S. 70° E. (true) direction.

A temporary and experimental channel—pending the completion of the jetties—about three quarters of a mile northward of the South Jetty, has been cut by hydraulic excavation for more than three-fourths of the distance across the Outer Bar; this channel, 60 feet wide with a depth of 15 feet at low water, is expected to be completed shortly. In consequence of the hardness of the sand, this newly cut channel is believed to remain intact so far, but it is doubtful whether it will withstand heavy seas without filling up.
