"II. And also all that contiguous portion of the parochial chapelry of Horton in the county and diocese aforesaid which is bounded on the north and west by an imaginary line commencing upon the boundary which divides the said parish or parochial chapelry of Earsdon from the parochial chapelry of Horton aforesaid at a point distant one and a half chains or thereabouts to the north-east of the centre of the bridge which carries Croft-road over the watercourse flowing from Cowpen Colliery and extending thence south-westward and in a direct line for a distance of one and a half chains or thereabouts to the centre of the said bridge and continuing thence still south-westward and in a straight line for a distance of eight chains or thereabouts to the centre of the bridge which carries the Commassie-road over the same watercourse and continuing thence still south-westward and in a straight line for a distance of forty-six chains or thereabouts thereby passing in part along the said watercourse to a point in the middle of the line of the Blyth and Tyne Railway opposite to the mile-post indicating a distance of one and a quarter miles from Blyth and extending thence south-westward, but in a more southerly direction along the middle of the said line of railway for a distance of forty-three chains or thereabouts to the boundary which divides the said parochial chapelry of Horton from the parish or parochial chapelry of Earsdon aforesaid.

"All which said hereinbefore described portion of the parochial chapelry of Horton aforesaid is bounded upon the remaining side that is to say upon the south-east by the township of Newsham and South Blyth in the parish or parochial chapelry of Earsdon aforesaid."

And whereas drafts of the said scheme have, in accordance with the provisions of the secondly hereinbefore-mentioned Act, been transmitted to the patrons and to the incumbents of the two cures out of which it is intended that the district recommended in such scheme to be constituted shall be taken, and such patrons and incumbents have respectively signified their assent to such scheme.

And whereas the said scheme has been approved by Her Majesty in Council: Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her said Council, is pleased hereby to ratify the said scheme, and to order and direct that the same and every part thereof shall be effectual in law immediately from and after the time when this Order shall have been duly published in the London Gazette pursuant to the said Acts; and Her Majesty, by and with the like advice, is pleased hereby to direct that this Order be forthwith registered by the Registrar of the said diocese of Newcastle.
