FRIDAY, APRIL 11, 1884.

Foreign Office, April 8, 1884.

WHEREAS there was concluded between Her Majesty and the President of the Chilean Republic, on the 4th January, 1883, a Convention for the settlement, by means of a Mixed International Commission, of the claims of British subjects arising out of the acts and operations effected by the forces of the Chilean Republic in the territories and coasts of Peru and Bolivia during the then existing war:

The Articles of the Convention are as follows:—

ARTICLE I.

A Tribunal of Arbitration, or Mixed International Commission, shall judge, in the form and in accordance with the terms established in this Convention, all the claims which, by reason of the acts and operations effected by the land and maritime forces of Chile in the territories and coasts of Peru and Bolivia during the present war, have been put forward up to the present time, or may hereafter be put forward, by British subjects, and supported by the Legation in Chile, within the term hereinafter defined.

ARTICLE II.

The Commission shall be composed of three members, one named by the Government of Her Britannic Majesty, the other by the President of the Republic of Chile, and a third by His Majesty the Emperor of Brazil, either directly or through the Diplomatic Agent accredited in Chile.

In case of death, absence, or incapacity from any other cause of one or more of the Members of the Commission, the vacancy shall be filled in the respective manner, form, and conditions expressed in the preceding paragraph.

ARTICLE III.

The Mixed Commission shall examine and judge the claims which British subjects have already or may hereafter put forward, through their Diplomatic Representative, as arising out of the acts and operations effected by the armies and naval forces of the Republic from the fourteenth of February, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, the date on which hostilities commenced, until the day on which Treaties of Peace or Covenants of Truce may be concluded between the belligerent nations, or until such time as hostilities cease between the three nations at war.

ARTICLE IV.

The Mixed Commission shall admit the proofs and means of investigation which, in the opinion and firm belief of its members, may determine the validity of disputed facts, and especially those relating to the condition and neutral character of the claimant.

The Commission shall also admit the verbal or written statements of both Governments, or that of that of their respective Agents or counsel.

ARTICLE V.

Each Government may appoint an Agent to act on its behalf, present petitions, documents, interrogatories, bring forward or demand evidence, support charges or refute contrary statements, produce proofs, and adduce before the Commission, personally or through an advocate, verbally or in writing, in accordance with the rules of procedure which the Commission shall lay down on commencing its functions, the doctrines, legal principles, or antecedents which he may deem convenient for the furtherance of his cause.

ARTICLE VI.

The Mixed Commission shall decide the claims on the merits of the proof rendered, and in accordance with the principles of international law and the practices and jurisprudence established by analogous modern tribunals of highest authority and prestige, delivering its interlocutory or definitive resolutions by majority of votes.

The Mixed Commission shall set forth briefly, in each final sentence, the facts and grounds of the claim, the evidence produced for or against the same, and the principles of international right on which the sentences are based.

The resolutions and judgments of the Commission shall be recorded in writing, signed by all the members, and attested by its Secretary; and these original documents shall be deposited, with their respective covering despatch, at the Ministry for Foreign Affairs in Chile, copies being given to the interested parties applying for the same. The Commission shall keep a book or register, in which its proceedings, the petitions of the claimants, and the decrees and decisions which it may issue are to be noted.

The Mixed Commission shall hold its sessions in Santiago.

ARTICLE VII.

The Commission shall have the power to employ secretaries, reporters, or other officers which it may deem necessary for the proper fulfilment of its duties.

The Commission is empowered to name the persons who are respectively to fill those posts, and to determine their salaries or remuneration.

The appointment of the said officers shall be made by His Excellency the President of the Republic of Chile.

The decrees of the Mixed Commission which have to be carried out in Chile shall have the assistance of the Executive in the same manner as those issued by the ordinary Tribunals of the country.

Those which have to take effect abroad shall do so in accordance with the rules and usages of private international right.

ARTICLE VIII.

The claims shall be presented to the Mixed Commission within the six months following the date of its first session, and those claims which are presented after that term has elapsed shall not be admitted. If, however, on the expiration of the term established in this paragraph, the war should still continue, and fresh claims arise, founded on events which may thereby occur, the Mixed Commission shall be considered as empowered to arbitrate thereon, provided always that those claims are presented six months previous to the time assigned in Article IX. for the Commission to fulfil its charge.

For the purposes of the rules embodied in the preceding paragraph, the Mixed Commission shall publish in the "Diario Oficial" of the Republic of Chile a notice in which the date of its installation shall be expressed.

ARTICLE IX.

The term of two years shall be given to the Commission, from the day of its first meeting, to examine and decide upon every claim. But if, in consequence of sickness, temporary inability of any of its members, or from other sufficient cause, it may have been unable to fulfil its charge within such term, the Commission shall be empowered to prorogue its sessions for a further term which shall not exceed six months.

ARTICLE X.

Each of the Contracting Governments shall defray its own expenses and the remuneration of its respective Agents or counsel.

The expenses attending the organization of the Mixed Commission, the compensation to its members, and the salaries of its secretaries, reporters, or other officers, and other expenses and costs of common service, shall be defrayed by the two Governments in equal moieties. But should there be sums awarded in favour of the claimants, the aforementioned expenses and costs shall be deducted therefrom, provided that such deductions do not exceed 6 per cent. of the amount of which the Treasury of Chile may have to pay for the total of the accepted claims.

The sums which the Mixed Commission may award in favour of the claimants shall be paid by the Government of Chile to the British Legation, or to the party whom it may name, within the term of one year after the date of the respective sentence, and during said term no interest shall accrue on the said sums in favour of the claimants.

ARTICLE XI.

The High Contracting Parties agree to consider the sentences of the Mixed Commission organized by this Convention as a satisfactory, perfect, and irrevocable settlement of difficulties the adjustment of which has been held in view, and with the understanding that all the claims of British subjects presented or omitted to be presented in the manner set forth shall be considered as decided and definitively adjudged in such manner as to exclude every motive or pretext for their further examination or discussion.

And whereas the ratifications of the said Convention were exchanged at Santiago, on the 2nd June, 1883;

And whereas James de Vismes Drummond Hay, Esq., C.B., Her Majesty's Consul at Valparaiso, has been appointed Agent for Her Majesty's Government, and is authorised to receive any claims of British subjects coming within the provisions of the aforesaid Convention.

Notice is hereby given, that all persons, subjects of Her Majesty, who may have claims of the nature above described, and which they desire to have laid before the Commissioners, must, in conformity with the provisions of the said Convention, transmit forthwith to James de Vismes Drummond Hay, Esq., C.B., the particulars of their claims, together with the requisite documents, evidence, or information in support thereof for the purpose of being submitted to the Commissioners.

Further notice will be given of the day of the first meeting of the Commission.

Admiralty, April 10, 1884.

A DESPATCH, of which the following is a copy, from Commander Ernest Rolfe, dated at Suakin, 16th March, 1884, forwarded by Rear-Admiral Sir William Hewett, K.C.B., K.C.S.I., V.C., Commander-in-Chief of Her Majesty's Ships on the East Indian Station has been received at the Admiralty.

Proceedings of Naval Brigade.

SIR, Suakin, March 16, 1884.

IN compliance with your orders the Naval Brigade (composed as per margin)* marched from Suakin, at seven p.m., on the 11th instant, arriving at the first zeriba at half-past eleven p.m., where they bivouacked for the night.

2. The Naval Brigade left the zeriba on the following day at one p.m., and at half-past five p.m., the enemy was observed, but retired as the force advanced. Another zeriba was then formed, where we bivouacked for the night. At sunset the enemy appeared in large numbers in our front, about 1,400 yards distant.

3. Some 9-pr. shell were dropped among them, and two machine guns opened fire, to which the enemy replied with their rifles. About seven p.m. the firing ceased, but was renewed soon after midnight, and maintained till daylight.

At daylight more shell and machine guns were fired, this had the effect of silencing the enemy till eight a.m. The force advanced from the zeriba at eight a.m., the Naval Brigade being attached to the 2nd Brigade in the form of square, the front of which was formed by half battalions of 42nd and 65th, the left flank by a half battalion of the 42nd, the right flank by a half battalion of the 65th, the rear brought up by the Royal Marines, the Naval Brigade in rear of the 42nd Regiment in columns of half batteries.

* 1 Commander, 5 Lieutenants, 1 Sub-Lieutenants, 1 Gunner, 2 Midshipmen, 1 Surgeon, 1 Chaplain, 166 Petty Officers and Seamen; 3 Gardner Guns 45", 3 Gatling Guns 45".

4. At twenty minutes past eight the square advanced, and at half-past eight the order was given to charge. The front of the square and the guns advanced at the double till within five yards of a steep nullah, the right half battery was then brought into action on the right of the Black Watch, the left half battery filling up the angle of the square between the half battalions of the 42nd Regiment.

5. Firing was at once commenced, but the wind being from the north the smoke from the guns and rifles prevented us, in a great measure, from seeing the enemy who appeared to charge the right half battery in large force which we seemed to be able easily to keep in check, but shortly afterwards a large body of the enemy charged our right flank and drove the whole force back to the left rear.

6. At this time it is with deep regret that I have to report that Lieutenants Almack, Houston Stewart, and Montrésor, as also seven men, were killed while gallantly defending their guns. Lieutenant Conybeare also received a heavy blow from a club at the same time. After falling back about 200 yards the force formed up, and advancing, re-captured the guns which were immediately again placed in action. The enemy then retreated apparently completely routed and the force proceeded down the right edge of a nullah to the wells at Temanhib, where we remained for dinner, returning to the zeriba in the evening.

7. All the wounded were placed under medical care, the dead being buried with funeral rites by the Reverend C. J. Todd, M.A., General Sir Gerald Graham, General Davis, and many officers and soldiers of the force attending. The brigade bivouacked at the zeriba for the night.

8. Next morning Lieutenants E. C. Moore and J. Brant joined in place of Lieutenants Almack and Montrésor.

A reconnaissance in force was made, the magazines of the enemy were destroyed, and the village burnt, the troops remaining at the hills of Temanhib for dinner, returning to the first zeriba in the evening, and to Suakin on the following day.

9. Lieutenant Graham, who acted as my second in command, commanded the right half battery, and rendered me able assistance. He also acted in the same capacity at the Battle of El Teb.

I cannot represent the conduct of this officer too highly on both these occasions.

10. I wish specially to bring to your notice the conduct of Mr. Edward Tyndale Biscoe and Mr. Edward Matson Hewett, midshipmen of the "Euryalus," who, in a critical moment, when three lieutenants were killed, took command of the sub-divisions, and acted with great coolness and gallantry. I consider these young officers showed a readiness of resource in a moment of danger which I trust may receive some mark of your approval.

11. The Reverend C. J. Todd, M.A., accompanied the force; and I consider that the gallantry shown by him in action, when unarmed, and his kindness to the wounded are beyond praise.

12. Doctor Gimlette acted as Medical Officer to the force at both actions. I have already expressed my opinion of this officer's conduct in the first engagement, and need only now say that it was equally meritorious on the second occasion.

I have, &c.,

E. ROLFE, Commander, R.N.
Rear-Admiral Sir W. N. W. Hewett,
K.C.B., K.C.S.I., V.C., Commander-in-Chief.

SUBMITTED for information, while deeply regretting the loss the Naval Brigade sustained, especially in Lieutenants Almack, Houston Stewart, and Montrésor, by whose death the Navy have lost the services of three most promising officers, I have great pleasure in forwarding the accompanying report from Commander Rolfe of my flagship, who was in command of the Brigade, and would most strongly bring that officer's name for the very favourable consideration of their Lordships; also that of my Flag Lieutenant, W. H. B. Graham; the other officers mentioned in the Despatch appear to well deserve their Lordships consideration.

Captain Baldwin, commanding the Royal Marines on board the "Euryalus," also did good service as Adjutant of the Marine Battalion.

W. HEWETT, Rear-Admiral.

The Secretary of the Admiralty.
