NOTICE TO MARINERS.

(No. 196.)—UNITED STATES—DELAWARE RIVER.

THE United States Government has given notice, that on 1st October, 1884, the following alterations would be made in the undermentioned lights, Delaware River:—

(1.) Cape Henlopen Principal Lighthouse—Sector of Red Light.

A sector of red light is shown from Cape Henlopen principal lighthouse through an arc of 45°, formed by a line joining the lighthouse and Brandywine Shoal Lighthouse (passing through Cape Henlopen Front Beacon and eastward of the Shears and Brown Shoal), and a line extending from the lighthouse and just clearing the north-west end of the ice-breaker part of Delaware Breakwater. The eastern edge of this sector marks the line of direction previously existing between Cape Henlopen principal lighthouse and the front beacon.

NOTE.—With Cape Henlopen white light in sight, vessels between that Cape and Brandywine Shoal are clear of all shoals to the westward. When faintly tinged with red, it indicates proximity to the old line of direction above-mentioned, and when bright red, that it is dangerous to proceed farther westward until above Brown Shoal, when the course may be altered up the river. Vessels about to anchor above or inside the breakwater (using the northern entrance), will be clear of the ice-breaker when the light changes from red to white.

The Front Beacon Light on Cape Henlopen is discontinued, as the eastern edge of the red sector of the principal light indicates the same line of direction.

(3.) Delaware Breakwater Range, Western Light—Alteration in Colour.

The western light of Delaware Breakwater range is changed from fixed red to fixed white.

(4.) Reedy Island Lighthouse—Sector of Red Light.

A sector of red light is shown from Reedy Island Lighthouse through the quadrant between north and east. To vessels proceeding up the river with Port Penn leading lights in line, or down the river with Finn Point leading lights in line, the change in this light from white to red indicates that the turning point, the intersection of these two ranges, has been reached.

(5.) Finn Point Northern Leading Lighthouse—Sector of Red Light.

A sector of red light is shown from Finn Point Northern Leading Lighthouse to mark the Bulkhead Shoals, and to assist mariners in judging of the proper point at which to commence the turn in this locality.

Mariners proceeding on the light ranges in this locality, when nearing the buoys next above or below the turning-buoy, will see a faint reddish light; when abreast either of these buoys, the light will appear bright red. The red light indicates the points at which the turn should commence.
